Good Morning:

This morning Connecticut Water announced a change to the financial terms of the agreement with SJW Group that would combine the two companies, and you’ll likely see this covered in the media. We want to assure you that the original commitments we made about the benefits to customers, communities and employees remain unchanged and are just as compelling as when we announced the combination with SJW a few months ago.

Specifically, you should know:

- there will be no change in customer rates as a result of the merger;
- we will retain our company names, local offices and employee teams to serve our customers and communities;
- there will be no merger related job losses, layoffs or significant changes to benefits or compensation;
- there will be a New England headquarters in Clinton, CT with leadership and decision makers available here; and
- we will continue to support current community involvement and giving.

The SJW Group is very similar to Connecticut Water:

- it is solely focused on delivering water/wastewater service,;
- has a strong record of customer satisfaction;
- is a leader in water conservation, protecting lands and water resources; and
- maintains robust, reliable water systems.

While we work through the process to combine our companies, Connecticut Water Company’s Board, management team and employees remain focused on delivering a reliable supply of safe drinking water and service, ensuring for public safety through robust public fire protection and being a trusted partner in economic development.
