Item 8.01 Other Events.Netherlands Matter

The Netherlands Gaming Authority (“NGA”) has taken the position that the randomized selection of virtual items in the FIFA Ultimate Team mode of EA’s FIFA franchise contravenes the Dutch Betting and Gaming Act. On June 4, 2020, the District Court of the Hague suspended the NGA’s decision, which involves a novel application of Dutch law, while the court considers the merits of the NGA’s position. The District Court has set a date for a hearing on the merits later this Fall. EA does not believe that its products and services violate applicable gambling laws and seeks to bring choice, fairness, value and fun to our players in all of our games. EA does not believe that liability from these proceedings would have a material adverse effect on its consolidated financial statements.

10b5-1 Plan

On August 5, 2020, Andrew Wilson, EA’s Chief Executive Officer, established a pre-arranged stock trading plan as part of managing his EA equity holdings and this plan supersedes any prior plan. Sales under Mr. Wilson’s 10b5-1 plan may take place periodically from September 7, 2020 through September 30, 2021. This plan accords with the guidelines of Rule 10b5-1 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and with EA’s policies regarding stock transactions by directors, executive officers and other employees. Transactions under Mr. Wilson’s 10b5-1 plan will be disclosed publicly through appropriate filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
