

The following is an announcement regarding the proposed transaction made by Twilio Inc. via various social media outlets on October 15, 2018.

Twilio Social Media Post

If you've been at a hackathon, conference or meetup in the past 10 years you may have seen someone in a red Twilio track jacket and someone in a blue SendGrid hoodie serving developers side-by-side. We're excited about the opportunity to continue that journey of serving you, the developers in our community, as one unified platform. (link to press release/blog post)
