Dear Valued Customer,

Specifically, by combining the best capabilities, talent, and resources from our two companies we will be even better equipped to deliver superior service and expanded value to our customers. We will immediately broaden our product portfolio, bringing additional brands and product lines to our combined customer base. And, Nexeo brings capabilities in several end markets such as personal care, household and industrial care, and lubricants, where, together, we can deliver the expertise our customers are looking for.

Integrating Univar's leading e-commerce and digital capabilities across Nexeo's financial systems and centralized ERP platform is anticipated to accelerate Univar's digital transformation already under way, making us even easier to do business with, enhancing service levels, and improving our speed and efficiency.

The combined company is also expected to offer an expanded suite of capabilities including a broader Private Transportation Fleet, greater sales force coverage, and an improved customer service infrastructure.

We will continue to provide top quality products and services for our customers, and until closing, it is business as usual. Your current points of contact at Univar will remain the same. Over the coming months, planning will take place to assure that in every phase of this transaction, your needs are always met and we continue to deliver the high quality products and services you have come to expect from Univar.
