Volaris Reports August 2019 Traffic Results: 21% Passenger Growth and 83% Load Factor

Mexico City, Mexico. September 3, 2019 – Volaris* (NYSE: VLRS and BMV: VOLAR), the ultra-low-cost airline serving Mexico, the United States and Central America, reported August 2019 and preliminary year to date traffic results.

In August 2019, capacity measured by ASMs (Available Seat Miles) increased by 15.2% vs last year, with demand measured by RPMs (Revenue Passenger Miles) showing a significant increase of 19.8%. Volaris carried 1.9 M passengers in total (21.0% increase vs last year), with load factor increasing 3.1 pp to 83.4%.

During the month, Volaris started operations on two international routes from El Salvador, San Salvador to Mexico City and Guadalajara, Jalisco, respectively; and launched for sale one international route from Leon, Guanajuato to Fresno, California.

Volaris' President and Chief Executive Officer, Enrique Beltranena, commenting on the traffic results for August: "The significant healthy capacity growth in terms of ASMs was driven by better aircraft utilization and solid passenger demand in domestic and international markets. On the fleet side, we received two new A320neo aircraft. One of them at the end of July and the other one, on the first days of September. We will end this quarter with a total of 80 aircraft, two more than the previous quarter".

The following table summarizes Volaris' traffic results for the month and year to date.
