Item 5.02. Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

(b), (c), (e) On March 6, 2018, CenturyLink, Inc. (the “Company”) issued a press release announcing that Glen F. Post, III, Chief Executive Officer of the Company (“CEO”), will be retiring from the CEO role effective on May 23, 2018, the date of the Company’s 2018 annual meeting of shareholders (the “Annual Meeting”). As contemplated by the Company’s previously-announced CEO succession plan, Jeffrey K. Storey, who currently serves as the Company’s President and Chief Operating Officer, will serve as President and CEO effective upon Mr. Post’s retirement. The Company has no immediate plans to appoint a new chief operating officer.

Currently, both Messrs. Post and Storey serve on the board of directors of the Company (the “Board”) and each has been nominated for reelection at the Annual Meeting to a new one-year term as director. Mr. Harvey P. Perry will continue to serve as chairman of the Board and, effective February 22, 2018, Mr. Bruce W. Hanks has been appointed to serve as the Board’s lead independent director.

In connection with Mr. Post’s retirement from employment, our Human Resources and Compensation Committee (the “Committee”) approved certain changes to his outstanding equity awards in consideration of his 42 years of service to the Company and his role in transforming the Company into the second largest domestic provider of communications services to enterprise customers. Specifically, vesting of all outstanding time-based restricted shares granted to Mr. Post before 2018 and one-half of such shares granted to him in fiscal 2018 will accelerate as of the retirement date, with the remaining one-half of his fiscal 2018 time-based restricted shares forfeited as of the same date. In addition, Mr. Post will be permitted to retain all outstanding performance-based restricted shares granted to him prior to 2018 and one-half of such shares granted to him in fiscal 2018, all of which will remain subject to their original performance conditions. The remaining one-half of Mr. Post’s fiscal 2018 performance-based restricted shares will be forfeited as of his retirement date. Finally, with respect to the equity portion of the special integration award granted to Mr. Post in June 2017, the Committee approved a 100% payout of those shares, which will vest on Mr. Post’s retirement date.

Assuming his reelection as a director at the Annual Meeting, Mr. Post will begin to receive compensation as a non-employee director effective on that date.

CenturyLink CEO Glen Post to retire in May effective on date of CenturyLink's 2018 Annual Shareholders' Meeting
Jeff Storey to become CenturyLink CEO and President

MONROE, La., March 6, 2018 — CenturyLink, Inc. (NYSE: CTL) today announced that Chief Executive Officer Glen F. Post, III intends to retire from the company effective the day of CenturyLink's 2018 Annual Shareholder Meeting in May. Post had previously announced his intention to retire effective Jan. 1, 2019. President and Chief Operating Officer Jeff Storey will become CenturyLink's CEO and President effective at the time of Post's retirement.

"After serving as CenturyLink's CEO for more than 26 years, I have decided to retire effective at this year's shareholders' meeting," Post said. "While my original plan was to stay in my role through the end of 2018, Jeff has more than demonstrated his ability to assume this leadership role and I believe we should make this change sooner than originally planned. Also, while I will continue to serve the company as a board member, I will not assume the role of chairman of the board in order to ensure there is clarity that Jeff will be CenturyLink's new leader," Post added.

"Through our employees' hard work and commitment and by the grace of God, CenturyLink has achieved remarkable success during my 42 years of service. Retiring after so many years is bittersweet, but I leave the company in great hands and I am confident in our future. I am grateful for the support I have enjoyed and I look forward to supporting Jeff as he leads CenturyLink in the years to come," Post concluded.

"Glen has done a tremendous job leading CenturyLink. His vision has equipped CenturyLink with the capabilities to meet the ever-increasing demand for bandwidth, provide the digitalization of life for our consumer customers and address the evolving complexity for our enterprise customers," said Storey. "We have great opportunities ahead and I am excited to be part of the team that is carrying this legacy forward."

The company also announced that Harvey Perry will remain in his role as chairman of the board of directors and Bruce Hanks has been appointed as lead independent director.

"Glen has led CenturyLink's impressive rise to be one of the world's premier communications companies," Perry said. "Under his leadership, CenturyLink's annual revenues have grown from $281 million in 1991 to approximately $24 billion, on a pro forma basis, in 2017 and total assets have increased from nearly $765 million in 1991 to over $75 billion at year end 2017. It's a remarkable track record. But just as impressive is the steady example of selfless leadership, concern for others and doing the right thing that Glen has exhibited during his more than 40 years of service. He has left an indelible impression on the culture and history of our company," added Perry. "And we are fortunate to have Jeff following in his footsteps. Jeff has worked tirelessly to make the integration a success. He has a proven track record and we are highly confident in his ability to take the reins from Glen and push our vision forward."
