Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States ("GAAP") for interim financial information, and instructions to the Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q and Rule 10-01 of Regulation S-X. In the opinion of management, these unaudited financial statements include all adjustments considered necessary for a fair statement of the results of operations and financial condition for interim periods for Ford Motor Credit Company LLC, its consolidated subsidiaries, and its consolidated VIEs in which Ford Motor Credit Company LLC is the primary beneficiary (collectively referred to herein as "Ford Credit," "we," "our," or "us"). Results for interim periods should not be considered indicative of results for any other interim period or for the full year. Reference should be made to the financial statements contained in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2020 ("2020 Form 10-K Report"). We are an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of Ford Motor Company ("Ford"). We reclassify certain prior period amounts in our consolidated financial statements to conform to current year presentation.

NOTE 2. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Adoption of New Accounting Standards

ASU 2019-12 - Simplifying the Accounting for Income Taxes. Effective January 1, 2021, we adopted the amendments in this ASU to simplify the accounting for income taxes. The only amendment that had a material effect on our financial statements clarified that an entity may elect to, but is not required to, reflect an allocation of consolidated current and deferred tax expense for non-taxable legal entities that are treated as disregarded by taxing authorities in their separately issued financial statements.

With the adoption of the amendments, our financial statements no longer reflect an allocation of the Ford Motor Company consolidated United States current and deferred tax expense to us and certain of our United States subsidiaries that are treated as disregarded entities for United States tax purposes. These amendments reduce complexity in accounting for income taxes and better reflect our external obligations to tax authorities. Following the adoption, in April 2021, we entered into a Second Amended and Restated Tax Sharing Agreement with Ford.

(a) Change reflects a reduction in U.S. deferred tax liabilities of $3.4 billion (primarily leasing transactions of $2.8 billion) and a reduction of U.S. deferred tax assets of $1.0 billion (primarily associated with foreign tax credit carryforwards of $0.7 billion).

Adoption of ASU 2019-12 also resulted in a revised impact of the cumulative effect of initially applying ASU 2016-13, Credit Losses – Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments. The adjustment to the January 1, 2020 opening balance of Retained earnings for the adoption of ASU 2016-13 was previously reported as $202 million, and adjustments due to ASU 2019-12 were $40 million. Accordingly, the revised amount is $242 million.

We also adopted the following ASUs during 2021, none of which had a material impact to our consolidated financial statements or financial statement disclosures:

| ASU     |  | Effective Date  |
|---------|--|-----------------|
| 2020-06 | Accounting for Convertible Instruments and Contracts in an Entity's Own Equity | January 1, 2021 |
| 2021-01 | Reference Rate Reform  | January 1, 2021 |

Accounting Standards Issued But Not Yet Adopted

The Company considers the applicability and impacts of all ASUs. ASUs were assessed and determined to be either not applicable or are expected to have minimal impact on our consolidated financial statements.

Provision for Income Taxes

For interim tax reporting, we estimate one single effective tax rate for subsidiaries that are subject to tax, which is applied to the year-to-date ordinary income / (loss). Tax effects of significant unusual or infrequently occurring items are excluded from the estimated annual effective tax rate calculation and recognized in the interim period in which they occur.

With the adoption of ASU 2019-12, the effective tax rate at December 31, 2020 has changed retrospectively from 26.2% to 9.7% reflecting income tax no longer allocated to disregarded entities.

Restricted cash does not include required minimum balances or cash securing debt issued through securitization transactions.

NOTE 4. FINANCE RECEIVABLES AND ALLOWANCE FOR CREDIT LOSSES

We manage finance receivables as "consumer" and "non-consumer" portfolios. The receivables are generally secured by the vehicles, inventory, or other property being financed.

Finance receivables are recorded at the time of origination or purchase at fair value and are subsequently reported at amortized cost, net of any allowance for credit losses.

For all finance receivables, we define "past due" as any payment, including principal and interest, that is at least 31 days past the contractual due date.

Finance leases are comprised of sales-type and direct financing leases. Financing revenue from finance leases for the first quarter of 2020 and 2021 was $95 million and $90 million, respectively, and is included in Retail financing on the consolidated income statements.

At December 31, 2020 and March 31, 2021, accrued interest was $181 million and $164 million, respectively, which we report in Other assets on the consolidated balance sheets.

Included in the recorded investment in finance receivables were consumer and non-consumer receivables that have been sold for legal purposes in securitization transactions but continue to be reported in our consolidated financial statements. See Note 6 for additional information.

(b) The fair value of finance receivables is categorized within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy.

Credit Quality

Consumer Portfolio. Credit quality ratings for consumer receivables are based on our aging analysis. Consumer receivables credit quality ratings are as follows:

- Pass current to 60 days past due;
- Special Mention 61 to 120 days past due and in intensified collection status; and
- Substandard greater than 120 days past due and for which the uncollectible portion of the receivables has already been charged off, as measured using the fair value of collateral less costs to sell.

Non-Consumer Portfolio. The credit quality of dealer financing receivables is evaluated based on our internal dealer risk rating analysis. We use a proprietary model to assign each dealer a risk rating. This model uses historical dealer performance data to identify key factors about a dealer that we consider most significant in predicting a dealer's ability to meet its financial obligations. We also consider numerous other financial and qualitative factors of the dealer's operations, including capitalization and leverage, liquidity and cash flow, profitability, and credit history with ourselves and other creditors.

Dealers are assigned to one of four groups according to risk ratings as follows:

- Group I strong to superior financial metrics;
- Group II fair to favorable financial metrics;
- Group III marginal to weak financial metrics; and
- Group IV poor financial metrics, including dealers classified as uncollectible.

Non-Accrual of Revenue. The accrual of financing revenue is discontinued at the time a receivable is determined to be uncollectible or when it is 90 days past due. Accounts may be restored to accrual status only when a customer settles all past-due deficiency balances and future payments are reasonably assured. For receivables in non-accrual status, subsequent financing revenue is recognized only to the extent a payment is received. Payments are generally applied first to outstanding interest and then to the unpaid principal balance.

NOTE 4. FINANCE RECEIVABLES AND ALLOWANCE FOR CREDIT LOSSES (Continued)

Troubled Debt Restructuring ("TDR"). A restructuring of debt constitutes a TDR if we grant a concession to a debtor for economic or legal reasons related to the debtor's financial difficulties that we otherwise would not consider. Consumer and non-consumer receivables that have a modified interest rate below market rate or that were modified in reorganization proceedings pursuant to the United States Bankruptcy Code, except non-consumer receivables that are current with minimal risk of loss, are considered to be TDRs. We do not grant concessions on the principal balance of our receivables. If a receivable is modified in a reorganization proceeding, all payment requirements of the reorganization plan need to be met before remaining balances are forgiven.

Allowance for Credit Losses

The allowance for credit losses represents our estimate of the lifetime expected credit losses inherent in finance receivables as of the balance sheet date.

Adjustments to the allowance for credit losses are made by recording charges to the Provision for credit losses on our consolidated income statements. The uncollectible portion of a finance receivable is charged to the allowance for credit losses at the earlier of when an account is deemed to be uncollectible or when an account is 120 days delinquent, taking into consideration the financial condition of the customer or borrower, the value of the collateral, recourse to guarantors, and other factors.

Charge-offs on finance receivables include uncollected amounts related to principal, interest, late fees, and other allowable charges. Recoveries on finance receivables previously charged off as uncollectible are credited to the allowance for credit losses. In the event we repossess the collateral, the receivable is charged off and we record the collateral at its estimated fair value less costs to sell and report it in Other assets on the consolidated balance sheets.

An analysis of the allowance for credit losses related to finance receivables for the periods ended March 31 was as follows (in millions):

NOTE 4. FINANCE RECEIVABLES AND ALLOWANCE FOR CREDIT LOSSES (Continued)

The allowance for credit losses considers the economic conditions attributable to the COVID-19 pandemic. The allowance reflects economic uncertainty and an expectation of continued higher unemployment which increase the probability of default and loss given default rates used in our estimate of the lifetime expected credit losses for our consumer portfolio, especially in the United States.

During the first quarter of 2021, the allowance for credit losses decreased $82 million primarily reflecting improvement in the economic outlook that caused us to lower our expectation of lifetime losses attributable to COVID-19. The full impact of COVID-19 on our credit losses depends on future developments, such as the ultimate duration and scope of the outbreak (including any potential future waves and the success of vaccination programs), resolution of macroeconomic uncertainty, and the extent to which our customers and dealers are able to utilize government relief and payment deferral programs. Although net charge-offs remained low in the quarter ended March 31, 2021, the future impact of COVID-19 on credit losses remains uncertain. We will continue to monitor economic trends and conditions and portfolio performance and will adjust the reserve accordingly.

NOTE 5. NET INVESTMENT IN OPERATING LEASES

Net investment in operating leases consists primarily of lease contracts for vehicles with individuals, daily rental companies, and fleet customers with terms of 60 months or less. Included in Net investment in operating leases are net investment in operating leases that have been sold for legal purposes in securitization transactions but continue to be reported in our consolidated financial statements. See Note 6 for additional information.

NOTE 6. TRANSFERS OF RECEIVABLES AND VARIABLE INTEREST ENTITIES

We securitize finance receivables and net investment in operating leases through a variety of programs using amortizing, variable funding, and revolving structures. We also sell finance receivables in structured financing transactions. Due to the similarities between securitization and structured financing, we refer to structured financings as securitization transactions. Our securitization programs are targeted to institutional investors in both public and private transactions in capital markets primarily in the United States, Canada, the United Kingdom, Germany, and China

The finance receivables sold for legal purposes and net investment in operating leases included in securitization transactions are available only for payment of the debt issued by, and other obligations of, the securitization entities that are parties to those securitization transactions. They are not available to pay our other obligations or the claims of our other creditors. The debt is the obligation of our consolidated securitization entities and not the obligation of Ford Credit or our other subsidiaries.

We use special purpose entities ("SPEs") to issue asset-backed securities in our securitization transactions. We have deemed most of these special purpose entities to be VIEs of which we are the primary beneficiary, and therefore, are consolidated. The SPEs are established for the sole purpose of financing the securitized financial assets. The SPEs are generally financed through the issuance of notes or commercial paper into the public or private markets or directly with conduits.

We continue to recognize our financial assets related to our sales of receivables when the financial assets are sold to a consolidated VIE or a consolidated voting interest entity. We derecognize our financial assets when the financial assets are sold to a non-consolidated entity and we do not maintain control over the financial assets.

We have the power to direct significant activities of our special purpose entities when we have the ability to exercise discretion in the servicing of financial assets, issue additional debt, exercise a unilateral call option, add assets to revolving structures, or control investment decisions. We generally retain economic interests in the asset-backed securitization transactions, which are retained in the form of senior or subordinated interests, cash reserve accounts, residual interests, and servicing rights. For accounting purposes, we are precluded from recording the transfers of assets in securitization transactions as sales.

We have no obligation to repurchase or replace any securitized asset that subsequently becomes delinquent in payment or otherwise is in default, except when representations and warranties about the eligibility of the securitized assets are breached, or when certain changes are made to the underlying asset contracts. Securitization investors have no recourse to us or our other assets and have no right to require us to repurchase the investments. We generally have no obligation to provide liquidity or contribute cash or additional assets to the VIEs and do not guarantee any asset-backed securities. We may be required to support the performance of certain securitization transactions, however, by increasing cash reserves.

Certain of our securitization entities may enter into derivative transactions to mitigate interest rate exposure, primarily resulting from fixed-rate assets securing floating-rate debt. In certain instances, the counterparty enters into offsetting derivative transactions with us to mitigate its interest rate risk resulting from derivatives with our securitization entities. These related derivatives are not the obligations of our securitization entities. See Note 7 for additional information regarding derivatives.

Most of these securitization transactions utilize VIEs. The following tables show the assets and debt related to our securitization transactions that were included in our consolidated financial statements (in billions):

NOTE 7. DERIVATIVE FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS AND HEDGING ACTIVITIES

In the normal course of business, our operations are exposed to global market risks, including the effect of changes in interest rates and foreign currency exchange rates. To manage these risks, we enter into highly effective derivative contracts. We have elected to apply hedge accounting to certain derivatives. Derivatives that are designated in hedging relationships are evaluated for effectiveness using regression analysis at the time they are designated and throughout the hedge period. Some derivatives do not qualify for hedge accounting; for others, we elect not to apply hedge accounting.

Balance Sheet Effect of Derivative Financial Instruments

Derivative assets and liabilities are reported on the balance sheets at fair value and are presented on a gross basis. The notional amounts of the derivative instruments do not necessarily represent amounts exchanged by the parties and are not a direct measure of our financial exposure. We also enter into master agreements with counterparties that may allow for netting of exposures in the event of default or breach of the counterparty agreement. Collateral represents cash received or paid under reciprocal arrangements that we have entered into with our derivative counterparties, which we do not use to offset our derivative assets and liabilities.

The fair value of our derivative instruments and the associated notional amounts were as follows (in millions):

(c) At December 31, 2020 and March 31, 2021, the fair value of debt includes $10.4 billion and $10.8 billion of short-term debt, respectively, carried at cost, which approximates fair value. All other debt is categorized within Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

NOTE 11. SEGMENT INFORMATION

We conduct our financing operations directly and indirectly through our subsidiaries and affiliates. We offer substantially similar products and services throughout many different regions, subject to local legal restrictions and market conditions. In our consolidated financial statements, we have three reportable segments based on geographic regions: the United States and Canada, Europe, and All Other. Our All Other segment includes China, India, Mexico, Brazil, Argentina, and our joint venture in South Africa. Items excluded in assessing segment performance because they are managed at the corporate level, including market valuation adjustments to derivatives and exchange-rate fluctuations on foreign currency-denominated transactions, are reflected in Unallocated Other.

NOTE 12. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Commitments and contingencies primarily consist of guarantees and indemnifications, and litigation and claims.

Guarantees and Indemnifications

Guarantees and indemnifications are recorded at fair value at their inception. For financial guarantees, subsequent to initial recognition, the guarantee liability is adjusted at each reporting period to reflect the current estimate of expected payments resulting from possible default events over the remaining life of the guarantee. The probability of default is applied to the expected exposure at the time of default less recoveries to determine the expected payments. Factors to consider when estimating the probability of default include the obligor's financial position, forecasted economic environment, historical loss rates, and other communications. For non-financial guarantees, we regularly review our performance risk under these arrangements, and in the event it becomes probable we will be required to perform under a guarantee or indemnity, the amount of probable payment is recorded.

The maximum potential payments under these guarantees and limited indemnities totaled $153 million and $137 million at December 31, 2020 and March 31, 2021, respectively. Of these values, $62 million and $51 million at December 31, 2020 and March 31, 2021, respectively, were counter-guaranteed by Ford to us. There were no recorded liabilities related to guarantees and limited indemnities at December 31, 2020 or March 31, 2021.

In some cases, we have guaranteed debt and other financial obligations of outside third parties and unconsolidated affiliates, including Ford. Expiration dates vary, and guarantees will terminate on payment and / or cancellation of the underlying obligation. A payment by us would be triggered by the failure of the third party to fulfill its obligation covered by the guarantee. In some circumstances, we are entitled to recover from a third party amounts paid by us under the guarantee. However, our ability to enforce these rights is sometimes stayed until the guaranteed party is paid in full and may be limited in the event of insolvency of the third party or other circumstances.

In the ordinary course of business, we execute contracts involving indemnifications standard in the industry and indemnifications specific to a transaction. These indemnifications might include and are not limited to claims relating to any of the following: environmental, tax, and shareholder matters; intellectual property rights; governmental regulations and employment-related matters; dealer and other commercial contractual relationships; and financial matters, such as securitizations. Performance under these indemnities generally would be triggered by a breach of the contract brought by a counterparty or a third-party claim. While some of these indemnifications are limited in nature, many of them do not limit potential payment. Therefore, we are unable to estimate a maximum amount of future payments that could result from claims made under these unlimited indemnifies.

Litigation and Claims

Various legal actions, proceedings, and claims (generally, "matters") are pending or may be instituted or asserted against us. These include, but are not limited to, matters arising out of governmental regulations; tax matters; alleged illegal acts resulting in fines or penalties; financial services; employment-related matters; dealer and other contractual relationships; personal injury matters; investor matters; and financial reporting matters. Certain of the pending legal actions are, or purport to be, class actions. Some of the matters involve or may involve claims for compensatory, punitive, or antitrust or other treble damages in very large amounts, sanctions, assessments, or other relief, which, if granted, would require very large expenditures.

The extent of our financial exposure to these matters is difficult to estimate. Many matters do not specify a dollar amount for damages, and many others specify only a jurisdictional minimum. To the extent an amount is asserted, our historical experience suggests that in most instances the amount asserted is not a reliable indicator of the ultimate outcome.

We accrue for matters when losses are deemed probable and reasonably estimable. In evaluating matters for accrual and disclosure purposes, we take into consideration factors such as our historical experience with matters of a similar nature, the specific facts and circumstances asserted, the likelihood that we will prevail, and the severity of any potential loss. We reevaluate and update our accruals as matters progress over time.

For nearly all matters where our historical experience with similar matters is of limited value (i.e., "non-pattern matters"), we evaluate the matters primarily based on the individual facts and circumstances. For non-pattern matters, we evaluate whether there is a reasonable possibility of a material loss in excess of any accrual that can be estimated. It is reasonably possible that some of the matters for which accruals have not been established could be decided unfavorably and could require us to pay damages or make other expenditures. On January 9, 2019, FCE received a decision from the Italian Competition Authority ("ICA"), which included an assessment of a fine against FCE in the amount of €42 million (equivalent to $50 million at March 31, 2021). On March 8, 2019, FCE appealed the decision and the fine to the Italian administrative court, and on November 24, 2020, the Italian administrative court ruled in favor of FCE. On December 23, 2020, the ICA filed an appeal of the Italian administrative court's decision to the Italian Council of State. While we have determined that an adverse outcome is not probable, the reasonably possible loss could be up to the fine amount.

As noted, the litigation process is subject to many uncertainties, and the outcome of individual matters is not predictable with assurance. Our assessments are based on our knowledge and experience, but the ultimate outcome of any matter could require payment substantially in excess of the amount that we have accrued and / or disclosed.

ITEM 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

Recent Developments

Semiconductor Chip Shortage

The automotive industry continues to face a significant shortage of semiconductors, which has presented challenges and production disruptions globally, including at Ford's assembly plants. This shortage has led to lower dealer inventories of both new and used vehicles, resulting in lower non-consumer receivables and higher residual values, as discussed in more detail in the Financial Condition and Residual Risk sections in Item 2 of this Report. Based on the overall recovery rate we are seeing for the industry, we believe the automotive semiconductor shortage may not be fully resolved until 2022. For additional information regarding the semiconductor shortage, see the "Recent Developments" section in Item 2 of Ford Motor Company's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2021.

Adoption of New Accounting Standards

Effective January 1, 2021, we adopted Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") 2019-12, which allows for the simplification of accounting for income taxes. This amendment will reduce our U.S. tax allocation and as a result we expect our net income and ROE to increase allowing us to support additional distributions to Ford. Also, as a result of the adoption, our leverage is lower this quarter. We continue to target managed leverage in the range of 8:1 to 9:1 and expect our managed leverage to return to this range later this year. For additional information on the tax accounting change, see Note 2 of our Notes to the Financial Statements.

Definitions and Information Regarding Causal Factors

In general, we measure year-over-year changes in EBT using the causal factors listed below:

- Volume and Mix Volume and Mix are primarily reflected within Net financing margin on the consolidated income statements.
  - Volume primarily measures changes in net financing margin driven by changes in average managed receivables at prior period financing margin yield (defined below in financing margin) at prior period exchange rates. Volume changes are primarily driven by the volume of new and used vehicles sold and leased, the extent to which we purchase retail financing and operating lease contracts, the extent to which we provide wholesale financing, the sales price of the vehicles financed, the level of dealer inventories, Ford-sponsored special financing programs available exclusively through us, and the availability of cost-effective funding.
  - Mix primarily measures changes in net financing margin driven by period-over-period changes in the composition of our average managed receivables by product within each region.
- Financing Margin Financing Margin is reflected within Net financing margin on the consolidated income statements.
  - Financing margin variance is the period-to-period change in financing margin yield multiplied by the present period average managed receivables at prior period exchange rates. This calculation is performed at the product and country level and then aggregated. Financing margin yield equals revenue, less interest expense and scheduled depreciation for the period, divided by average managed receivables for the same period.
  - Financing margin changes are driven by changes in revenue and interest expense. Changes in revenue are primarily driven by the level of market interest rates, cost assumptions in pricing, mix of business, and competitive environment. Changes in interest expense are primarily driven by the level of market interest rates, borrowing spreads, and asset-liability management.
- Credit Loss Credit Loss is reflected within Provision for credit losses on the consolidated income statements.
  - Credit loss is the change in the provision for credit losses at prior period exchange rates. For analysis purposes, management splits the provision for credit losses into net charge-offs and the change in the allowance for credit losses.
  - Net charge-off changes are primarily driven by the number of repossessions, severity per repossession, and recoveries. Changes in the allowance for credit losses are primarily driven by changes in historical trends in credit losses and recoveries, changes in the composition and size of our present portfolio, changes in trends in historical used vehicle values, and changes in forward looking macroeconomic conditions. For additional information, refer to the "Critical Accounting Estimates Allowance for Credit Losses" section of Item 7 of Part II of our 2020 Form 10-K Report.
- Lease Residual Lease Residual is reflected within Depreciation on vehicles subject to operating leases on the consolidated income statements.
  - Lease residual measures changes to residual performance at prior period exchange rates. For analysis purposes, management splits residual performance primarily into residual gains and losses, and the change in accumulated supplemental depreciation.
  - Residual gain and loss changes are primarily driven by the number of vehicles returned to us and sold, and the difference between the auction value and the depreciated value (which includes both base and accumulated supplemental depreciation) of the vehicles sold. Changes in accumulated supplemental depreciation are primarily driven by changes in our estimate of the expected auction value at the end of the lease term and changes in our estimate of the number of vehicles that will be returned to us and sold. Depreciation on vehicles subject to operating leases reflects early termination losses on operating leases due to customer default events. For additional information, refer to the "Critical Accounting Estimates Accumulated Depreciation on Vehicles Subject to Operating Leases" section of Item 7 of Part II of our 2020 Form 10-K Report.
- Exchange Reflects changes in EBT driven by the effects of converting functional currency income to U.S. dollars.
- Other Primarily includes Operating expenses, Other revenue, Insurance expenses, and Other income / (Loss), net on the consolidated income statements at prior period exchange rates.
  - Changes in operating expenses are primarily driven by salaried personnel costs, facilities costs, and costs associated with the origination and servicing of customer contracts.
  - In general, other income / (loss) changes are primarily driven by changes in earnings related to market valuation adjustments to derivatives (primarily related to movements in interest rates), which are included in unallocated risk management, and other miscellaneous items.

In addition, the following definitions and calculations apply to the tables contained in Item 2 of this report:

- Cash (as shown in the Funding and Liquidity and Leverage sections) Cash and cash equivalents and Marketable securities reported on Ford Credit's balance sheets, excluding amounts related to insurance activities.
- Debt (as shown in the Key Metrics and Leverage tables) Debt on Ford Credit's balance sheets. Includes debt issued in securitizations and payable only out of collections on the underlying securitized assets and related enhancements. Ford Credit holds the right to receive the excess cash flows not needed to pay the debt issued by, and other obligations of, the securitization entities that are parties to those securitization transactions.
- Earnings Before Taxes ("EBT") Reflects Income before income taxes as reported on our consolidated income statements.
- Return on Equity ("ROE") (as shown in the Key Metrics table) Reflects return on equity calculated by annualizing net income for the period and dividing by monthly average equity for the period.
- Securitization and Restricted Cash (as shown in the Liquidity table) Securitization cash is held for the benefit of the securitization investors (for example, a reserve fund). Restricted cash is primarily held to meet certain local governmental and regulatory reserve requirements and cash held under the terms of certain contractual agreements.
- Securitizations (as shown in the Public Term Funding Plan table) Public securitization transactions, Rule 144A offerings sponsored by Ford Credit, and widely distributed offerings by Ford Credit Canada.
- Term Asset-Backed Securities (as shown in the Funding Structure table) Obligations issued in securitization transactions that are payable only out of collections on the underlying securitized assets and related enhancements.
- Total Net Receivables (as shown in the Key Metrics and Financial Condition tables) Includes finance receivables (retail financing and wholesale) sold for legal purposes and net investment in operating leases included in securitization transactions that do not satisfy the requirements for accounting sale treatment. These receivables and operating leases are reported on Ford Credit's balance sheets and are available only for payment of the debt issued by, and other obligations of, the securitization entities that are parties to those securitization transactions; they are not available to pay the other obligations of Ford Credit or the claims of Ford Credit's other creditors.
- Unallocated Other (as shown in the Segment Results table) Items excluded in assessing segment performance because they are managed at the corporate level, including market valuation adjustments to derivatives and exchange-rate fluctuations on foreign currency-denominated transactions.

First Quarter 2021 Compared with First Quarter 2020

The following table shows the factors that contributed to the first quarter 2021 EBT (in millions):

Change in EBT by Causal Factor

| First quarter 2021 EBT                        | $ | 962   |
|---|-----------|-------|
| Other   |           | (107) |
| Exchange                                      |           | 17    |
| Lease residual                                |           | 448   |
| Credit loss                                   |           | 625   |
| Financing margin                              |           | (3)   |
| Volume / Mix                                  |           | (48)  |
| First quarter 2020 EBT                        | $        | 30    |
| g- ··· == - · · · / - · · · · · · · · · · · · |           |       |

Our first quarter 2021 EBT was $962 million, $932 million higher than a year ago, primarily reflecting the non-recurrence of the first quarter 2020 increase to the credit loss reserve due to COVID-19 as well as favorable auction performance on off-lease vehicles, partially offset by unfavorable performance in market valuation adjustments to derivatives due to rising interest rates. ROE was 22%, 22 percentage points higher than a year ago as a result of higher EBT. Total net receivables were $10.7 billion lower than a year ago, an 8% decline. The loss-to-receivables ratio remained at a low level in the first quarter, at 0.22%, 40 basis points lower than a year ago. First quarter 2021 United States auction values were 14% higher than a year ago.

Our balance sheet is strong and inherently liquid reflecting cumulative debt maturities having a longer tenor than asset maturities. This means we generate liquidity as our balance sheet size declines because of lower Ford volume. Managed receivables of $135.2 billion at quarter end were $11.2 billion lower year-over-year. At the end of the first quarter, we had $33.7 billion in net liquidity.

United States and Canada Segment

The United States and Canada segment first quarter 2021 EBT of $996 million was $974 million higher than first quarter 2020, explained primarily by non-recurrence of the first quarter 2020 increase to the credit loss reserve due to COVID-19 as well as favorable auction performance on off-lease vehicles.

Europe Segment

The Europe segment first quarter 2021 EBT of $66 million was $49 million higher than first quarter 2020, explained primarily by non-recurrence of the first quarter 2020 increase to the credit loss reserve due to COVID-19, partially offset by lower volume driven by the impact of COVID-19 and global semiconductor shortage impacting receivables.

All Other Segment

The All Other segment first quarter 2021 loss of $15 million was $22 million lower than first quarter 2020, explained primarily by restructuring.

Unallocated Other

Unallocated Other was a $85 million loss for first quarter 2021, a $69 million higher loss than first quarter 2020, reflecting unfavorable performance in market valuation adjustments to derivatives due to rising interest rates.

Financing Shares and Contract Placement Volume

Our focus is on supporting Ford and Lincoln dealers and customers. This includes going to market with Ford and our dealers to support vehicle sales with financing products and marketing programs. Ford's marketing programs may encourage or require Ford Credit financing and influence the financing choices customers make. As a result, our financing share, volume, and contract characteristics vary from period to period as Ford's marketing programs change.

The following table shows our retail financing and operating lease share of new Ford and Lincoln brand sales, wholesale financing share of new Ford and Lincoln brand vehicles acquired by dealers (in percent), and contract placement volume for new and used vehicles (in thousands) in several key markets:

|  | First Quarter |      |  |

In addition, at March 31, 2020, December 31, 2020, and March 31, 2021, total net receivables includes net investment in operating leases of $14.4 billion, $12.8 billion, and $10.0 billion, respectively, that have been included in securitization transactions but continue to be reported in our consolidated financial statements. The receivables and net investment in operating leases are available only for payment of the debt issued by, and other obligations of, the securitization entities that are parties to those securitization transactions; they are not available to pay the other obligations of the claims of our other creditors. We hold the right to receive the excess cash flows not needed to pay the debt issued by, and other obligations of, the securitization entities that are parties to those securitization transactions. For additional information on our securitization transactions, refer to the "Securitization Transactions" and "On-Balance Sheet Arrangements" sections of Item 7 of Part II of our 2020 Form 10-K Report and Note 6 of our Notes to the Financial Statements for the period ended March 31, 2021.

Total net receivables at March 31, 2021 were $10.7 billion lower compared with March 31, 2020 and $4.6 billion lower compared with December 31, 2020, primarily reflecting lower wholesale receivables due to the semiconductor shortage.

Our operating lease portfolio was 21% of total net receivables at March 31, 2021. Leasing is an important product, and our leasing strategy balances sales, share, residuals, and long-term profitability. Operating leases in the United States and Canada represent 99% of our total operating lease portfolio.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the possibility of loss from a customer's or dealer's failure to make payments according to contract terms. Credit losses are a normal part of a lending business, and credit risk has a significant impact on our business. We manage the credit risk of our consumer (retail financing) and non-consumer (dealer financing) receivables to balance our level of risk and return using our consistent underwriting standards, effective proprietary scoring system (discussed below), and world-class servicing. The allowance for credit losses (also referred to as the credit loss reserve) represents our estimate of the expected credit losses inherent in our finance receivables for the lifetime of those receivables as of the balance sheet date. The allowance for credit losses is estimated using a combination of models and management judgment and is based on such factors as historical loss performance, portfolio quality, receivable levels, and forward-looking macroeconomic scenarios. The adequacy of our allowance for credit losses is assessed quarterly and the assumptions and models used in establishing the allowance are evaluated regularly.

Most of our charge-offs are related to retail financing. Charge-offs are affected by the number of vehicle repossessions, the unpaid balance outstanding at the time of repossession, the auction price of repossessed vehicles, and other amounts owed. We also incur credit losses on our dealer financing, but default rates for these receivables historically have been substantially lower than those for retail financing.

In purchasing retail financing contracts, we use a proprietary scoring system that measures credit quality using information in the credit application, proposed contract terms, credit bureau data, and other information. After a proprietary risk score is generated, we decide whether to purchase a contract using a decision process based on a judgmental evaluation of the applicant, the credit application, the proposed contract terms, credit bureau information (e.g., FICO score), proprietary risk score, and other information. Our evaluation emphasizes the applicant's ability to pay and creditworthiness focusing on payment, affordability, applicant credit history, and stability as key considerations. While FICO is a part of our scoring system, our models enable us to more effectively determine the probability that a customer will pay than using credit scores alone. When we originate business, our models project expected losses and we price accordingly. We ensure the business fits our risk appetite.

For additional information on the quality of our receivables, and COVID-19 impacts, see Note 4 of our Notes to the Financial Statements.

United States Origination Metrics

The following table shows United States retail financing and operating lease average placement FICO and higher risk portfolio mix metrics. Also shown are extended term mix and United States retail financing average placement terms.

|  | First Qua | rter |
|--|-----------|------|
|  | 2020      | 2021 |
| Origination Metrics                              |           |      |
| Average placement FICO                           | 739       | 748  |
| Higher risk portfolio mix                        | 6 %       | 6 %  |
| Greater than or equal to 84 months placement mix | 7 %       | 4 %  |
| Average placement term (months)                  | 66        | 64   |

Our first quarter 2021 average placement FICO score increased compared with the same period a year ago, and remained strong. We support customers across the credit spectrum. Our higher risk business, as classified at contract inception, consistently represents 6% of our portfolio and has been stable for over 15 years.

During the first quarter of 2021, our average retail financing placement term decreased by two months from a year ago, and retail financing contracts of 84 months and longer decreased from a year ago, and have returned to normal levels and continue to be a small part of our business. We remain focused on managing the trade cycle—building customer relationships and loyalty while offering financing products and terms customers want. Our origination and risk management processes deliver robust portfolio performance.

United States Retail Financing Credit Losses

The following table shows the primary drivers of credit losses in the United States retail financing business, which comprised 64% of our worldwide consumer finance receivables at March 31, 2021.

|  | First Quarter |    |        |

| LTR ratio (%) (b)                              | 0.62 %            |    | 0.22 % |

(a) The expected difference between the amount a customer owes when the finance contract is charged off and the amount received, net of expenses, from selling the repossessed vehicle.

Delinquencies and charge-offs remained at low levels in the quarter. The first quarter 2021 repossession ratio and LTR ratio were lower than a year ago. Our favorable LTR ratio and charge-offs in the first quarter of 2021 reflect government relief programs and changes in consumer spending behavior. The impact of COVID-19 has created significant volatility in the economy and the full impact of COVID-19 on our retail customers is uncertain.

Worldwide Credit Losses

The following table shows key metrics related to worldwide credit losses:

|   | First Quarter |        |  |  |
|---|-------------------|--------|--|--|
|   | 2020 2021     |        |  |  |
| Charge-offs ($M)                             | $101 $      | 41     |  |  |
| LTR ratio (%)                                 | 0.35 %            | 0.16 % |  |  |
| Credit loss reserve ($M)                     | $1,231 $    | 1,223  |  |  |
| Reserve as percent of EOP Managed Receivables | 1.07 %            | 1.17 % |  |  |

Our worldwide credit loss metrics remain strong. The worldwide LTR ratio in the first quarter of 2021 improved from a year ago reflecting government stimulus in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. Our credit loss reserve is based on such factors as historical loss performance, portfolio quality, receivables level, and forward-looking macroeconomic scenarios. The credit loss reserve was lower than a year ago, but the reserve as a percent of managed receivables was higher than a year ago reflecting portfolio mix of lower wholesale receivables. The credit loss reserve at March 31, 2021 considers the economic conditions attributable to COVID-19 and assumes that higher levels of retail delinquencies and charge-offs will occur in future periods as economic stimulus ends and rent and mortgage forbearance programs expire. The full impact of COVID-19 on our worldwide credit losses depends on future developments, such as the ultimate duration and scope of the outbreak (including any potential future waves and the success of vaccination programs), resolution of macroeconomic uncertainty, and the extent to which our customers and dealers are able to utilize government relief and payment deferral programs. Our credit loss reserve reflects lifetime expected losses as of the balance sheet date and is adjusted accordingly based on our assessment of the portfolio and economic trends and conditions. During the first quarter 2021 we reduced our reserve primarily due to improvements in the economic outlook that caused us to lower our expectation of lifetime losses attributable to COVID-19. See Note 4 of our Notes to the Financial Statements for more information.

Residual Risk

Leasing is an important product that many customers want and value, and operating lease customers also are more likely to buy or lease another Ford or Lincoln vehicle. We manage our lease share with an enterprise view to support sales, protect residual values, and manage the trade cycle. Ford Credit and Ford work together under a leasing strategy that considers share, term, model mix, geography, and other factors.

We are exposed to residual risk on operating leases and similar balloon payment products where the customer may return the financed vehicle to us. Residual risk is the possibility that the amount we obtain from returned vehicles will be less than our estimate of the expected residual value for the vehicle. We estimate the expected residual value by evaluating recent auction values, return volumes for our leased vehicles, industry wide used vehicle prices, marketing incentive plans, and vehicle quality data. For operating leases, changes in expected residual values impact depreciation expense, which is recognized on a straight-line basis over the life of the lease.

For additional information on our residual risk on operating leases, refer to the "Critical Accounting Estimates – Accumulated Depreciation on Vehicles Subject to Operating Leases" section of Item 7 of Part II of our 2020 Form 10-K Report.

United States Ford and Lincoln Brand Operating Leases

First Quarter

Our United States operating lease share of retail sales in the first quarter of 2021 was lower compared with a year ago and remains well below the industry average, reflecting the Ford sales mix. Our first quarter 2021 total lease placement volume was down compared with a year ago, primarily reflecting lower lease share and lower Ford share, partially offset by higher industry volume.

Lease return volume and return rate in the first quarter of 2021 were down from a year ago, reflecting improved auction values, as a result of lower dealer inventories due to the semiconductor shortage. Our first quarter 2021 36-month off-lease auction values were up 14% year-over-year, and up 7% compared with fourth quarter 2020, performing better than expected. We are now forecasting 2021 full-year 36-month off-lease auction values to be higher than 2020, consistent with third party estimates.

Credit Ratings

Our short-term and long-term debt is rated by four credit rating agencies designated as nationally recognized statistical rating organizations ("NRSROs") by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission: DBRS, Fitch, Moody's, and S&P.

In several markets, locally recognized rating agencies also rate us. A credit rating reflects an assessment by the rating agency of the credit risk associated with a corporate entity or particular securities issued by that entity. Rating agencies' ratings of us are based on information provided by us and other sources. Credit ratings assigned to us from all of the NRSROs are closely associated with their opinions on Ford. Credit ratings are not recommendations to buy, sell, or hold securities and are subject to revision or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating agency. Each rating agency may have different criteria for evaluating company risk and, therefore, ratings should be evaluated independently for each rating agency.

The following rating actions were taken by these NRSROs since the filing of our 2020 Form 10-K Report:

On March 29, 2021, Moody's affirmed the credit rating for Ford Credit at Ba2 and revised the outlook to stable, from negative.

The following table summarizes certain of the credit ratings and outlook presently assigned by these four NRSROs:

Funding and Liquidity

We ended the first quarter of 2021 with $33.7 billion of liquidity. During the quarter, we completed $5 billion of public term funding.

Key elements of our funding strategy include:

- Maintain strong liquidity; continue to renew and expand committed ABS capacity
- Prudently access public markets
- Flexibility to increase ABS mix as needed; preserving assets and committed capacity
- · Target managed leverage of 8:1 to 9:1
- Maintain self-liquidating balance sheet

Our liquidity profile continues to be diverse, robust, and focused on maintaining liquidity levels that meet our business and funding requirements. We regularly stress test our balance sheet and liquidity to ensure that we continue to meet our financial obligations through economic cycles.

The following table shows funding for our managed receivables (in billions):

Managed receivables of $135.2 billion as of March 31, 2021, were funded primarily with term unsecured debt and term asset-backed securities. Securitized funding as a percent of managed receivables was 37.1% at the end of the first quarter. The calendarization of the funding plan will result in quarterly fluctuations of the securitized funding percentage.

Public Term Funding Plan

The following table shows our issuances for full year 2019 and 2020, planned issuances for full year 2021, and our global public term funding issuances through April 27, 2021, excluding short-term funding programs (in billions):

For 2021, we now project full year public term funding in the range of $12 billion to $19 billion. Through April 27, 2021, we have completed $6 billion of public term issuances.

Liquidity

We define gross liquidity as cash, cash equivalents, and marketable securities (excluding amounts related to insurance activities) and committed capacity (which includes our asset-backed facilities and unsecured credit facilities), less utilization of liquidity. Utilization of liquidity is the amount funded under our liquidity sources and also includes the cash required to support securitization transactions and restricted cash. Net liquidity available for use is defined as gross liquidity less certain adjustments as described below. While not included in available liquidity, these adjustments represent additional funding sources for future originations.

Liquidity (Continued)

Our net liquidity available for use will fluctuate quarterly based on factors including near-term debt maturities, receivable growth and decline, and timing of funding transactions. At March 31, 2021, our net liquidity available for use was $33.7 billion, $1.7 billion lower than year-end 2020. At March 31, 2021, our liquidity sources including cash totaled $54.8 billion, down $4.3 billion from year-end 2020.

Cash. At March 31, 2021, our Cash totaled $14.1 billion, compared with $18.5 billion at year-end 2020. In the normal course of our funding activities, we may generate more proceeds than are required for our immediate funding needs. These excess amounts are held primarily in highly liquid investments, which provide liquidity for our anticipated and unanticipated cash needs and give us flexibility in the use of our other funding programs. Our Cash primarily includes United States Department of Treasury obligations, federal agency securities, bank time deposits with investment-grade institutions, investment-grade commercial paper, debt obligations of a select group of non-U.S. governments, non-U.S. governmental agencies, supranational institutions, non-U.S. central banks, and money market funds that carry the highest possible ratings.

The average maturity of these investments ranges from approximately three to six months and is adjusted based on market conditions and liquidity needs. We monitor our cash levels and average maturity on a daily basis. Cash includes restricted cash and amounts to be used only to support our securitization transactions of $3.9 billion and $5.4 billion at December 31, 2020 and March 31, 2021, respectively. The increase is primarily due to cash required to support our United States wholesale trust as a result of the decline in the receivable balance.

Committed Capacity. At March 31, 2021, our committed capacity totaled $40.7 billion, compared with $40.6 billion at December 31, 2020. Our committed capacity is primarily comprised of committed ABS facilities from bank-sponsored commercial paper conduits and other financial institutions and committed unsecured credit facilities with financial institutions.

Committed Asset-Backed Facilities. We and our subsidiaries have entered into agreements with a number of bank-sponsored asset-backed commercial paper conduits and other financial institutions. Such counterparties are contractually committed, at our option, to purchase from us eligible retail financing receivables or to purchase or make advances under asset-backed securities backed by retail financing or wholesale finance receivables or operating leases for proceeds of up to $38.2 billion ($22.0 billion of retail financing, $4.8 billion of wholesale financing, and $11.4 billion of operating leases) at March 31, 2021. In the United States, we are able to obtain funding within two days of our unutilized capacity in some of our committed asset-backed facilities. These committed facilities have varying maturity dates, with $14.2 billion having maturities within the next twelve months and the remaining balance having maturities through first quarter 2023. We plan capacity renewals to protect our global funding needs and to optimize capacity utilization.

Our ability to obtain funding under these facilities is subject to having a sufficient amount of eligible assets as well as our ability to obtain interest rate hedging arrangements for certain facilities. At March 31, 2021, $11.9 billion of these commitments were in use and we had $3.9 billion of asset-backed capacity that was in excess of eligible receivables primarily due to the decline in wholesale asset balances. These facilities are free of material adverse change clauses, restrictive financial covenants (for example, debt-to-equity limitations and minimum net worth requirements), and generally, credit rating triggers that could limit our ability to obtain funding. However, the unused portion of these commitments may be terminated if the performance of the underlying assets deteriorates beyond specified levels. Based on our experience and knowledge as servicer of the related assets, we do not expect any of these commitments to be terminated due to such events.

As of March 31, 2021, Ford Bank GmbH ("Ford Bank") had liquidity in the form of €123 million (equivalent to $144 million) of senior ABS notes eligible for collateral in the European Central Bank's monetary policy programs.

Unsecured Credit Facilities. At March 31, 2021, we and our majority-owned subsidiaries had $2.5 billion of contractually committed unsecured credit facilities with financial institutions, including the FCE Credit Agreement and the Ford Bank Credit Agreement. At March 31, 2021, $1.9 billion was available for use.

Liquidity (Continued)

FCE's £780 million (equivalent to $1,074 million at March 31, 2021) syndicated credit facility (the "FCE Credit Agreement") and Ford Bank's €240 million (equivalent to $282 million at March 31, 2021) syndicated credit facility (the "Ford Bank Credit Agreement") both mature in 2023, except for £95 million of the FCE Credit Agreement that matures in 2022. At March 31, 2021, all £780 million under the FCE Credit Agreement and all €240 million under the Ford Bank Credit Agreement were available for use.

Both the FCE Credit Agreement and Ford Bank Credit Agreement contain certain covenants, including an obligation for FCE and Ford Bank to maintain their ratio of regulatory capital to risk-weighted assets at no less than the applicable regulatory minimum. The FCE Credit Agreement requires the support agreement between FCE and Ford Credit to remain in effect (and enforced by FCE to ensure that its net worth is maintained at no less than $500 million). The Ford Bank Credit Agreement requires a guarantee of Ford Bank's obligations under the agreement, provided by Ford Credit, to remain in effect.

Balance Sheet Liquidity Profile

We define our balance sheet liquidity profile as the cumulative maturities, including the impact of expected prepayments and allowance for credit losses, of our finance receivables, investment in operating leases, and cash, less the cumulative debt maturities over upcoming annual periods. Our balance sheet is inherently liquid because of the short-term nature of our finance receivables, investment in operating leases, and cash. We ensure our cumulative debt maturities have a longer tenor than our cumulative asset maturities. This positive maturity profile is intended to provide additional liquidity after all of our assets have been funded and is in addition to our liquidity stress test.

The following table shows our cumulative maturities for assets and total debt for the periods presented and unsecured long-term debt maturities in the individual periods presented (in billions):

|   | April - D | ecember 2021 | 2022     | 2023      | 2024 & Beyond |
|---|-----------|--------------|----------|-----------|---------------|
| Balance Sheet Liquidity Profile           |           |              |          |           |               |
| Assets (a)                                | $        | 64           | $95 | $120 | $147     |
| Total debt (b)                            |           | 46           | 74       | 92        | 126           |
| Memo: Unsecured long-term debt maturities |           | 10           | 14       | 11        | 30            |

(a) Includes gross finance receivables less the allowance for credit losses, investment in operating leases net of accumulated depreciation, and cash. Amounts shown include the impact of expected prepayments.

Maturities of investment in operating leases consist primarily of the portion of rental payments attributable to depreciation over the remaining life of the lease and the expected residual value at lease termination. Maturities of finance receivables and investment in operating leases in the table above include expected prepayments for our retail installment sale contracts and investment in operating leases. The table above also reflects adjustments to debt maturities to match the asset-backed debt maturities with the underlying asset maturities.

All wholesale securitization transactions and wholesale receivables are shown maturing in the next 12 months, even if the maturities extend beyond first quarter 2022. The retail securitization transactions under certain committed asset-backed facilities are assumed to amortize immediately rather than amortizing after the expiration of the commitment period. As of March 31, 2021, we had $147 billion of assets, $76 billion of which were unencumbered. For additional information on finance receivables, investment in operating leases, and debt, see Notes 4, 5, and 9 of our Notes to the Financial Statements.

Funding and Liquidity Risks

Our funding plan is subject to risks and uncertainties, many of which are beyond our control, including disruption in the capital markets, that could impact both unsecured debt and asset-backed securities issuance and the effects of regulatory changes on the financial markets. Refer to the "Funding and Liquidity Risks" section of Item 7 of Part II of our 2020 Form 10-K Report for more information.

Leverage

We use leverage, or the debt-to-equity ratio, to make various business decisions, including evaluating and establishing pricing for finance receivable and operating lease financing, and assessing our capital structure. We refer to our shareholder's interest as equity.

The following table shows the calculation of our financial statement leverage and managed leverage (in billions):

(a) Prior period amounts have been updated as a result of our adoption of ASU 2019-12, Simplifying the Accounting for Income Taxes. See Note 2 of our Notes to the Financial Statements for additional information.

Note: Numbers may not sum due to rounding.

We plan our managed leverage by considering market conditions and the risk characteristics of our business. At March 31, 2021, our financial statement leverage was 8.3:1, and managed leverage was 7.3:1. We target managed leverage in the range of 8:1 to 9:1 and expect our managed leverage to return to our target range later in 2021.

Outlook

We continue to expect full-year 2021 EBT to be improved compared to 2020.

Accounting Standards Issued But Not Yet Adopted

None.

ITEM 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk.

In our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2020, we discuss in greater detail our market risk, counterparty risk, credit risk, residual risk, liquidity risk, and operating risk.

To provide a quantitative measure of the sensitivity of our pre-tax cash flow to changes in interest rates, we use interest rate scenarios that assume a hypothetical, instantaneous increase or decrease of one percentage point in all interest rates across all maturities (a "parallel shift"), as well as a base case that assumes that all interest rates remain constant at existing levels. The differences in pre-tax cash flow between these scenarios and the base case over a 12 month period represent an estimate of the sensitivity of our pre-tax cash flow. Under this model, we estimate that at March 31, 2021, all else constant, such an increase in interest rates would increase our pre-tax cash flow by $1 million over the next 12 months, compared with a decrease of $3 million at December 31, 2020. In reality, interest rate changes are rarely instantaneous or parallel and rates could move more or less than the one percentage point assumed in our analysis. As a result, the actual impact to pre-tax cash flow could be higher or lower than the results detailed above.

Transition from LIBOR to Alternative Reference Rates

We have been working to transition from the London Interbank Offered Rate ("LIBOR") to alternative reference rates. We have developed a total company inventory of affected financial instruments and contracts, have been working to transition legacy contracts linked to LIBOR to alternative reference rates, and intend to rely exclusively on alternative reference rates for new contracts after 2021.

ITEM 4. Controls and Procedures.

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures. Marion B. Harris, our President and Chief Executive Officer ("CEO"), and Brian E. Schaaf, our Chief Financial Officer ("CFO") and Treasurer, have performed an evaluation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures, as that term is defined in Rule 13a-15(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended ("Exchange Act"), as of March 31, 2021, and each has concluded that such disclosure controls and procedures are effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed in our periodic reports filed under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized, and reported within the time periods specified by SEC rules and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to the CEO and CFO to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosures.

Changes in Internal Control Over Financial Reporting. There were no changes in internal control over financial reporting during the quarter ended March 31, 2021 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.
