WALMART INC.

By: /s/ M. Brett Biggs
Name: M. Brett Biggs
Title: Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer

Walmart U.S. grew comp sales¹ 3.0% and gained market share in grocery
Q1 FY23 GAAP EPS of $0.74; Adjusted EPS² of $1.30
Company provides updated outlook for Q2 and full year

First-quarter highlights

- ✦ Company delivered strong top-line growth globally. Total revenue was $141.6 billion, up 2.4%, or 2.6% in constant currency². Growth negatively affected by $5.0 billion due to divestitures³ and $0.4 billion from currency.
- ✦ Walmart U.S. comp sales¹ grew 3.0% and 9.0% on a two-year stack. eCommerce growth was 1%, or 38% on a two-year stack.
- ✦ Sam's Club comp sales¹ increased 10.2%, and 17.4% on a two-year stack. Membership income increased 10.5%.
- ✦ Walmart International net sales were $23.8 billion, a decrease of $3.5 billion, or 13.0%, negatively affected by $5.0 billion due to divestitures, and $0.4 billion from currency fluctuations. Positive comps across all markets.
- ✦ Global advertising business⁴ grew more than 30%.
- ✦ Consolidated gross profit rate declined 87 basis points, primarily due to Sam's Club and 38 basis points in Walmart U.S. on elevated supply chain costs and product mix.
- ✦ Consolidated operating expenses as a percentage of net sales increased 45 basis points, primarily due to increased wage costs in Walmart U.S.
- ✦ Consolidated operating income was $5.3 billion, a decrease of 23.0%, negatively affected by $0.3 billion from divestitures.

"Across our businesses, we had a strong top-line quarter. We're grateful to our associates for their hard work and creativity. Bottom-line results were unexpected and reflect the unusual environment. U.S. inflation levels, particularly in food and fuel, created more pressure on margin mix and operating costs than we expected. We're adjusting and will balance the needs of our customers for value with the need to deliver profit growth for our future."

Doug McMillon
President and CEO, Walmart

¹ Comp sales for the 13-week period ended April 29, 2022 compared to the 13-week period ended April 30, 2021, and excludes fuel. See Supplemental Financial Information for additional information.

² See additional information at the end of this release regarding non-GAAP financial measures.

³ We completed the sale of our operations in the U.K. and Japan in the first quarter of fiscal 2022.

⁴ Our global advertising business is recorded either in net sales or as a reduction to cost of sales, depending on the nature of the advertising arrangement.

Fiscal 2023 Q2 and full year guidance

The following guidance reflects the Company's updated expectations for Q2 and fiscal year 2023 and is provided on a non-GAAP basis as the Company cannot predict certain elements which are included in reported GAAP results, including the effects of foreign exchange translation and the changes in fair value of the Company's equity investments. Growth rates reflect an adjusted basis for prior year results. The company's guidance assumes a generally stable consumer in the U.S., higher supply chain costs, continued pressure from inflation, and mix of products and formats globally.

Comparable sales is a metric that indicates the performance of our existing stores and clubs and it is important to review in conjunction with the company's financial results reported in accordance with GAAP. Comparable sales excluding fuel is also an important, separate metric that indicates the performance of our existing stores and clubs without considering fuel, which is volatile and unpredictable. Other companies in our industry may calculate comparable sales differently, limiting the comparability of the metric.

Reconciliations of and Other Information Regarding Non-GAAP Financial Measures
(Unaudited)

The following information provides reconciliations of certain non-GAAP financial measures presented in the press release to which this reconciliation is attached to the most directly comparable financial measures calculated and presented in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). The company has provided the non-GAAP financial information presented in the press release, which is not calculated or presented in accordance with GAAP, as information supplemental and in addition to the financial measures presented in the press release that are calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP. Such non-GAAP financial measures should not be considered superior to, as a substitute for or alternative to, and should be considered in conjunction with, the GAAP financial measures presented in the press release. The non-GAAP financial measures in the press release may differ from similar measures used by other companies.

Constant Currency

In discussing our operating results, the term currency exchange rates refers to the currency exchange rates we use to convert the operating results for countries where the functional currency is not the U.S. dollar into U.S. dollars. We calculate the effect of changes in currency exchange rates as the difference between current period activity translated using the current period's currency exchange rates and the comparable prior year period's currency exchange rates. Additionally, no currency exchange rate fluctuations are calculated for non-USD acquisitions until owned for 12 months.

Throughout our discussion, we refer to the results of this calculation as the impact of currency exchange rate fluctuations. When we refer to constant currency operating results, this means operating results without the impact of the currency exchange rate fluctuations. The disclosure of constant currency amounts or results permits investors to better understand Walmart's underlying performance without the effects of currency exchange rate fluctuations.

The table below reflects the calculation of constant currency for total revenues, net sales and operating income for the three months ended April 30, 2022.

Free Cash Flow

We define free cash flow as net cash used in or provided by operating activities in a period minus payments for property and equipment made in that period. Net cash used in operating activities was $3.8 billion for the three months ended April 30, 2022, which represents a decline of $6.6 billion when compared to the same period in the prior year. The decline is primarily due to an increase in inventory costs and purchases to support strong sales, lower operating income and the timing of certain payments. Free cash flow for the three months ended April 30, 2022 was negative $7.3 billion, which represents a decline of $7.9 billion when compared to the same period in the prior year. The decline in free cash flow is due to the reduction in operating cash flows described above, as well as an increase of $1.3 billion in capital expenditures to support our investment strategy.

Free cash flow is considered a non-GAAP financial measure. Management believes, however, that free cash flow, which measures our ability to generate additional cash from our business operations, is an important financial measure for use in evaluating the Company's financial performance. Free cash flow should be considered in addition to, rather than as a substitute for, consolidated net income as a measure of our performance and net cash provided by operating activities as a measure of our liquidity.

Additionally, Walmart's definition of free cash flow is limited, in that it does not represent residual cash flows available for discretionary expenditures, due to the fact that the measure does not deduct the payments required for debt service and other contractual obligations or payments made for business acquisitions. Therefore, we believe it is important to view free cash flow as a measure that provides supplemental information to our Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows.

Although other companies report their free cash flow, numerous methods may exist for calculating a company's free cash flow. As a result, the method used by Walmart's management to calculate our free cash flow may differ from the methods used by other companies to calculate their free cash flow.

The following table sets forth a reconciliation of free cash flow, a non-GAAP financial measure, to net cash provided by operating activities, which we believe to be the GAAP financial measure most directly comparable to free cash flow, as well as information regarding net cash used in investing activities and net cash used in financing activities.

	Three Months Ended

(Dollars in millions)
Net cash provided by (used in) operating activities	$ (3,758)	$ 2,858

Free cash flow	$ (7,297)	$ 644
Net cash provided by (used in) investing activities ¹	$ (4,558)	$ 5,850
Net cash provided by (used in) financing activities	5,315	(5,399)

¹ "Net cash provided by (used in) investing activities" includes payments for property and equipment, which is also included in our computation of free cash flow.

Adjusted EPS

Adjusted diluted earnings per share attributable to Walmart (Adjusted EPS) is considered a non-GAAP financial measure under the SEC's rules because it excludes certain amounts included in the diluted earnings per share attributable to Walmart calculated in accordance with GAAP (EPS), the most directly comparable financial measure calculated in accordance with GAAP. Management believes that Adjusted EPS is a meaningful measure to share with investors because it best allows comparison of the performance with that of the comparable period. In addition, Adjusted EPS affords investors a view of what management considers Walmart's core earnings performance and the ability to make a more informed assessment of such core earnings performance with that of the prior year.

We adjust for the unrealized and realized gains and losses on our equity investments each quarter because although the investments are strategic decisions for the company's retail operations, management's measurement of each strategy is primarily focused on the operational results rather than the fair value of such investments. Additionally, management does not forecast changes in the fair value of its equity investments. Accordingly, management adjusts EPS each quarter for the realized and unrealized gains and losses related to those equity investments.

We have calculated Adjusted EPS for the three months ended April 30, 2022 by adjusting EPS for unrealized and realized gains and losses on the company's equity investments.

					Three Months Ended April 30, 2022
Diluted earnings per share:
Reported EPS								$	0.74
Adjustments:					Pre-Tax Impact		Tax Impact^{1, 2}		Net Impact
Unrealized and realized (gains) and losses on equity investments					$	0.71	$	(0.15)	$ 0.56
Net adjustments								$	0.56
Adjusted EPS								$	1.30

¹ Calculated based on nature of item, including any realizable deductions, and statutory rate in effect for relevant jurisdictions.

² The reported effective tax rate was 27.5% for the three months ended April 30, 2022. Adjusted for the above item, the effective tax rate was 24.9% for the three months ended April 30, 2022.

As previously disclosed in our first quarter ended April 30, 2021 press release, we have calculated Adjusted EPS for the three months ended April 30, 2021 by adjusting EPS for the following: (1) the incremental loss on sale of our operations in the U.K. and Japan during the first quarter of fiscal 2022; and (2) unrealized and realized gains and losses on the company's equity investments.

					Three Months Ended April 30, 2021
Diluted earnings per share:
Reported EPS								$	0.97
Adjustments:					Pre-Tax Impact		Tax Impact^{1, 2}		Net Impact
Unrealized and realized (gains) and losses on equity investments					$	0.74	$	(0.17)	$ 0.57
Incremental loss on sale of our operations in the U.K. and Japan						0.15		—	0.15
Net adjustments								$	0.72
Adjusted EPS								$	1.69

¹ Calculated based on nature of item, including any realizable deductions, and statutory rate in effect for relevant jurisdictions. Minimal realizable tax benefit was provided in connection with the incremental loss on sale.

² The reported effective tax rate was 26.9% for the three months ended April 30, 2021. Adjusted for the above items, the effective tax rate was 23.3% for the three months ended April 30, 2021.

Fiscal 2023 Q2 and full-year guidance

The following guidance reflects the Company's updated expectations for Q2 and fiscal year 2023 and is provided on a non-GAAP basis as the Company cannot predict certain elements which are included in reported GAAP results, including the effects of foreign exchange translation and the changes in fair value of the Company's equity investments. Growth rates reflect an adjusted basis for prior year results. The company's guidance assumes a generally stable consumer in the U.S., higher supply chain costs, continued pressure from inflation, and mix of products and formats globally.

Non-GAAP measures - ROI

We include Return on Assets ("ROA"), which is calculated in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") as well as Return on Investment ("ROI") as measures to assess returns on assets. Management believes ROI is a meaningful measure to share with investors because it helps investors assess how effectively Walmart is deploying its assets. Trends in ROI can fluctuate over time as management balances long-term strategic initiatives with possible short-term impacts. We consider ROA to be the financial measure computed in accordance with GAAP that is the most directly comparable financial measure to our calculation of ROI.

ROA was 5.5 percent and 5.3 percent for the trailing 12 months ended April 30, 2022 and 2021, respectively. The increase in ROA was primarily due to the increase in net income. ROI was 13.9 percent and 14.4 percent for the trailing 12 months ended April 30, 2022 and 2021, respectively. The decrease in ROI was primarily due to the increase in average total assets driven by higher inventories.

We define ROI as adjusted operating income (operating income plus interest income, depreciation and amortization, and rent expense) for the trailing twelve months divided by average invested capital during that period. We consider average invested capital to be the average of our beginning and ending total assets, plus average accumulated depreciation and average amortization, less average accounts payable and average accrued liabilities for that period.

Our calculation of ROI is considered a non-GAAP financial measure because we calculate ROI using financial measures that exclude and include amounts that are included and excluded in the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure. For example, we exclude the impact of depreciation and amortization from our reported operating income in calculating the numerator of our calculation of ROI. As mentioned above, we consider ROA to be the financial measure computed in accordance with GAAP most directly comparable to our calculation of ROI. ROI differs from ROA (which is consolidated net income for the period divided by average total assets for the period) because ROI: adjusts operating income to exclude certain expense items and adds interest income; and adjusts total assets for the impact of accumulated depreciation and amortization, accounts payable and accrued liabilities to arrive at total invested capital. Because of the adjustments mentioned above, we believe ROI more accurately measures how we are deploying our key assets and is more meaningful to investors than ROA. Although ROI is a standard financial measure, numerous methods exist for calculating a company's ROI. As a result, the method used by management to calculate our ROI may differ from the methods used by other companies to calculate their ROI.

The calculation of ROA and ROI, along with a reconciliation of ROI to the calculation of ROA, is as follows:

Non-GAAP measures - free cash flow

We define free cash flow as net cash used in or provided by operating activities in a period minus payments for property and equipment made in that period. Net cash used in operating activities was $3.8 billion for the three months ended April 30, 2022, which represents a decline of $6.6 billion when compared to the same period in the prior year. The decline is primarily due to an increase in inventory costs and purchases to support strong sales, lower operating income and the timing of certain payments. Free cash flow for the three months ended April 30, 2022 was negative $7.3 billion, which represents a decline of $7.9 billion when compared to the same period in the prior year. The decline in free cash flow is due to the reduction in operating cash flows described above, as well as an increase of $1.3 billion in capital expenditures to support our investment strategy.

Free cash flow is considered a non-GAAP financial measure. Management believes, however, that free cash flow, which measures our ability to generate additional cash from our business operations, is an important financial measure for use in evaluating the Company's financial performance. Free cash flow should be considered in addition to, rather than as a substitute for, consolidated net income as a measure of our performance and net cash provided by operating activities as a measure of our liquidity. Additionally, Walmart's definition of free cash flow is limited, in that it does not represent residual cash flows available for discretionary expenditures, due to the fact that the measure does not deduct the payments required for debt service and other contractual obligations or payments made for business acquisitions. Therefore, we believe it is important to view free cash flow as a measure that provides supplemental information to our Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows. Although other companies report their free cash flow, numerous methods may exist for calculating a company's free cash flow. As a result, the method used by Walmart's management to calculate our free cash flow may differ from the methods used by other companies to calculate their free cash flow.

The following table sets forth a reconciliation of free cash flow, a non-GAAP financial measure, to net cash provided by operating activities, which we believe to be the GAAP financial measure most directly comparable to free cash flow, as well as information regarding net cash used in investing activities and net cash used in financing activities.

(Dollars in millions)	Three Months Ended April 30,
	2022	2021
Net cash provided by (used in) operating activities	$ (3,758)	$ 2,858
Payments for property and equipment (capital expenditures)	(3,539)	(2,214)
Free cash flow	$ (7,297)	$ 644
Net cash provided by (used in) investing activities ¹	$ (4,558)	$ 5,850
Net cash provided by (used in) financing activities	5,315	(5,399)

¹ "Net cash provided by (used in) investing activities" includes payments for property and equipment, which is also included in our computation of free cash flow.

Non-GAAP measures - constant currency

In discussing our operating results, the term currency exchange rates refers to the currency exchange rates we use to convert the operating results for countries where the functional currency is not the U.S. dollar into U.S. dollars. We calculate the effect of changes in currency exchange rates as the difference between current period activity translated using the current period's currency exchange rates and the comparable prior year period's currency exchange rates. Additionally, no currency exchange rate fluctuations are calculated for non-USD acquisitions until owned for 12 months. Throughout our discussion, we refer to the results of this calculation as the impact of currency exchange rate fluctuations. When we refer to constant currency operating results, this means operating results without the impact of the currency exchange rate fluctuations. The disclosure of constant currency amounts or results permits investors to better understand Walmart's underlying performance without the effects of currency exchange rate fluctuations. The table below reflects the calculation of constant currency for total revenues, net sales and operating income for the three months ended April 30, 2022.

(Dollars in millions)	Three Months Ended April 30, 2022

¹ Change versus prior year comparable period.

² Walmart International eCommerce net sales were $4.3 billion for the three months ended April 30, 2022, which was negatively impacted by $54 million of currency exchange rate fluctuations.

³ Walmart International eCommerce net sales were flat on a reported basis and increased 1% in constant currency for the three months ended April 30, 2022.

Non-GAAP measures - adjusted EPS

Adjusted diluted earnings per share attributable to Walmart (Adjusted EPS) is considered a non-GAAP financial measure under the SEC's rules because it excludes certain amounts included in the diluted earnings per share attributable to Walmart calculated in accordance with GAAP (EPS), the most directly comparable financial measure calculated in accordance with GAAP. Management believes that Adjusted EPS is a meaningful measure to share with investors because it best allows comparison of the performance with that of the comparable period. In addition, Adjusted EPS affords investors a view of what management considers Walmart's core earnings performance and the ability to make a more informed assessment of such core earnings performance with that of the prior year.

We adjust for the unrealized and realized gains and losses on our equity investments each quarter because although the investments are strategic decisions for the company's retail operations, management's measurement of each strategy is primarily focused on the operational results rather than the fair value of such investments. Additionally, management does not forecast changes in the fair value of its equity investments. Accordingly, management adjusts EPS each quarter for the realized and unrealized gains and losses related to those equity investments.

We have calculated Adjusted EPS for the three months ended April 30, 2022 by adjusting EPS for unrealized and realized gains and losses on the company's equity investments.

	Three Months Ended April 30, 2022			Percent Change ¹
	Pre-Tax Impact	Tax Impact ^{2,3}	Net Impact

² Calculated based on nature of item, including any realizable deductions, and statutory rate in effect for relevant jurisdictions.

³ The reported effective tax rate was 27.5% for the three months ended April 30, 2022. Adjusted for the above item, the effective tax rate was 24.9% for the three months ended April 30, 2022.

As previously disclosed in our first quarter ended April 30, 2021 press release, we have calculated Adjusted EPS for the three months ended April 30, 2021 by adjusting EPS for the following: (1) the incremental loss on sale of our operations in the U.K. and Japan during the first quarter of fiscal 2022; and (2) unrealized and realized gains and losses on the company's equity investments.

	Three Months Ended April 30, 2021
Diluted earnings per share:
Reported EPS			$ 0.97
Adjustments:	Pre-Tax Impact	Tax Impact^{1,2}	Net Impact
Unrealized and realized (gains) and losses on equity investments	0.74	(0.17)	0.57
Incremental loss on sale of our operations in the U.K. and Japan	0.15	—	0.15
Net adjustments			$ 0.72
Adjusted EPS			$ 1.69

¹ Calculated based on nature of item, including any realizable deductions, and statutory rate in effect for relevant jurisdictions. Minimal realizable tax benefit was provided in connection with the incremental loss on sale.

² The reported effective tax rate was 26.9% for the three months ended April 30, 2021. Adjusted for the above items, the effective tax rate was 23.3% for the three months ended April 30, 2021.
