The Company intends to furnish to its stockholders annual reports containing financial statements audited by an independent public accounting firm and quarterly reports for the first three quarters of each year containing unaudited interim financial information.

NVIDIA is a registered trademark of the Company and the Company has filed for trademark protection for the NVIDIA logo. The Company and ST Microelectronics, Inc. have filed jointly for trademark protection for RIVA128. All other trademarks or service marks appearing in this Prospectus are the property of their respective owners.

Except as set forth in the financial statements or as otherwise indicated herein, information in this Prospectus (i) gives effect to the reincorporation of the Company from California to Delaware to be effected prior to the closing of this offering, (ii) gives effect to the conversion of all of the Company's outstanding shares of Preferred Stock into shares of Common Stock, which will occur automatically upon the closing of this offering, and (iii) assumes that the Underwriters' over-allotment option is not exercised. See "Description of Capital Stock" and "Underwriters." The Company's fiscal years ended on December 31 from 1993 to 1997. Effective January 1, 1998, the Company changed its fiscal year end from December 31 to a 52- or 53-week year ending on the last Sunday in December. All general references to years relate to the above fiscal years unless otherwise noted.
THE COMPANY

NVIDIA designs, develops and markets 3D graphics processors and related software that provide high performance interactive 3D graphics to the mainstream PC market. The Company's RIVA128 graphics processor incorporates a "fast-and-wide" 100 megahertz, 128-bit graphics and memory interface that is designed to deliver a highly immersive, interactive 3D experience with realistic imaging and stunning effects. The RIVA128 graphics processor provides superior processing power at competitive prices and is architected to take advantage of mainstream industry standards such as Microsoft Corporation's ("Microsoft") Direct3D application programming interface ("API"). The highly integrated design of the RIVA128 graphics processor combines high performance 3D and 2D graphics on a single chip and provides a simpler and lower cost graphics solution relative to competing solutions, including multi-chip or multi-board 2D/3D graphics subsystems.

Interactive 3D graphics technology is emerging as one of the most significant new computing developments since the introduction of the graphical user interface. The visually engaging and interactive nature of 3D graphics responds to consumers' demands for a convincing simulation of reality beyond what is possible with traditional 2D graphics. The fundamental interactive capability of 3D graphics is expected to make it a natural and compelling medium for existing and emerging applications for entertainment, Internet, business and education.

The Company believes that a PC's interactive 3D graphics capability represents one of the primary means by which users differentiate among various systems. PC users today can easily differentiate the quality of graphics and prefer personal computers that provide a superior visual experience. These factors have dramatically increased demand for 3D graphics processors; Mercury Research estimates that 3D graphics will be standard in every PC unit shipped by 2001. Mercury Research also estimates that 8.6 million 3D graphics processors were sold in 1997 and 180 million will be sold in 2001.

The Company's products allow users to enjoy a highly immersive, interactive 3D experience with compelling visual quality, realistic motion and complex object and scene interaction at real-time frame rates. By providing this level of performance at an affordable price to OEMs and end users, the Company believes that it will accelerate the adoption of interactive 3D graphics throughout the mainstream PC market. The Company's objective is to be the leading supplier of high performance 3D graphics processors for PCs. The Company's strategy to achieve this objective includes focusing on the mainstream PC market, targeting leading OEM customers, extending its technological leadership in 3D graphics and increasing its market share by leveraging strategic alliances.

NVIDIA's products are used by five of the top ten PC OEMs in the United States--Compaq Computer Corporation ("Compaq"), Dell Computer Corporation ("Dell"), Gateway 2000, Inc. ("Gateway 2000"), Micron Technology, Inc. ("Micron") and Packard Bell NEC, Inc. ("Packard Bell NEC")--and leading add-in board manufacturers such as Diamond Multimedia Systems, Inc. ("Diamond") and STB Systems, Inc. ("STB"). The Company's products have received significant industry validation and have enabled the Company's customers to receive over 40 awards from recognized industry publications, including PC Magazine, PC Computing, PC World, Computer Gaming World, PC Games and CNET.

NVIDIA was incorporated in California in April 1993 and intends to reincorporate in Delaware prior to the closing of this offering. The Company's executive offices are located at 1226 Tiros Way, Sunnyvale, California 94086, and its telephone number is (408) 617-4000.
RISK FACTORS

In addition to the other information in this Prospectus, the following factors should be considered carefully in evaluating an investment in the shares of Common Stock offered hereby. This Prospectus contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. The Company's actual results may differ materially from the results discussed in such forward-looking statements. Factors that may cause such a difference include, but are not limited to, those discussed below, in the sections entitled "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" and "Business" and elsewhere in this Prospectus.

Unpredictable and Fluctuating Operating Results. Many of the Company's revenue components fluctuate and are difficult to predict, and its operating expenses are largely independent of revenue in any particular period. It is therefore difficult for the Company to accurately forecast revenue and profits or losses. The Company believes that, even if it does achieve significant sales of its products, quarterly and annual results of operations will be affected by a variety of factors that could materially adversely affect revenue, gross profit and results of operations. Factors that have affected the Company's results of operations in the past, and are likely to affect the Company's results of operations in the future, include, among others, demand and market acceptance for the Company's products; the successful development of next-generation products; unanticipated delays or problems in the introduction or performance of next-generation products; market acceptance of the products of the Company's customers; new product announcements or product introductions by the Company's competitors; the Company's ability to introduce new products in accordance with OEM design requirements and design cycles; changes in the timing of product orders due to unexpected delays in the introduction of products of the Company's customers or due to the life cycles of such customers' products ending earlier than anticipated; fluctuations in the availability of manufacturing capacity or manufacturing yields; competitive pressures resulting in lower than expected average selling prices; the volume of orders that are received and that can be fulfilled in a quarter; the rescheduling or cancellation of customer orders; the unanticipated termination of a strategic relationship; seasonal fluctuations associated with the tendency of PC sales to increase in the second half of each calendar year; and the level of expenditures for research and development and sales, general and administrative functions of the Company. In addition, the Company believes that quarterly and annual results of operations could be affected in the future by other factors, including changes in the relative volume of sales of the Company's products; seasonality in the PC market; the ability of the Company to reduce the process geometry of its products; supply constraints for the other components incorporated into its customers' products; the loss of a key customer; a reduction in the amount of royalties received from ST Microelectronics, Inc. ("ST"); costs associated with protecting the Company's intellectual property; inventory write-downs; and foreign exchange rate fluctuations. Any one or more of these factors could result in the Company failing to achieve its expectations as to future revenue or net income.

Because most operating expenses are relatively fixed in the short term, the Company may be unable to adjust spending sufficiently in a timely manner to compensate for any unexpected sales shortfall, which could materially adversely affect quarterly results of operations. The Company will be required to reduce prices in response to competition or to pursue new market opportunities. If new competitors, technological advances by existing competitors or other competitive factors require the Company to invest significantly greater resources than anticipated in research and development or sales and marketing efforts, the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially adversely affected. Accordingly, the Company believes that period-to-period comparisons of its results of operations should not be relied upon as an indication of future performance. In addition, the results of any quarterly period are not indicative of results to be expected for a full fiscal year. As a result of fluctuating operating results or other factors discussed below, in certain future quarters the Company's results of operations may be below the expectations of public market analysts or investors. In such event, the market price of the Company's Common Stock would be materially adversely affected. See "--Absence of Prior Trading Market; Potential Volatility of Stock Price" and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations."

Limited Operating History; History of Losses; No Assurance of Profitability. The Company has a limited operating history upon which investors may evaluate the Company and its prospects. The Company's recent revenue growth may not be sustainable and should not be considered indicative of future revenue growth, if any. As of December 31, 1997, the Company's accumulated deficit was approximately $14.0 million. Although the Company generated net income in the quarter ended December 31, 1997, it incurred significant losses in each other quarter of fiscal 1997 and in each quarter of its prior fiscal years. There can be no assurance that in the future the Company will be profitable on a quarterly or annual basis. The Company's prospects must be considered in light of the significant risks, challenges and difficulties frequently encountered by companies in their early stage of development, particularly companies in intensely competitive and rapidly evolving markets such as the 3D graphics processor market and semiconductor industry. To address these risks, the Company must, among other things, successfully increase the scope of its operations, respond to competitive and technological developments, continue to attract, retain and motivate qualified personnel and continue to commercialize products incorporating innovative technologies. There can be no assurance that the Company will be successful in addressing these risks and challenges. See "--Highly Competitive Environment; Intel's Entry into the Market," "--Dependence on New Product Development; Need to Manage Product Transitions," "--Management of Growth," "--Dependence on Key Personnel" and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations."

Dependence on Emerging Mainstream PC 3D Graphics Market. The Company's success will depend in part upon the demand for 3D graphics for mainstream PC applications. The market for 3D graphics on mainstream PCs has only recently begun to emerge and is dependent on the future development of, and substantial end-user and OEM demand for, 3D graphics functionality. As a result, there can be no assurance that the market for mainstream PC 3D graphics computing will continue to develop or grow at a rate sufficient to support the Company's business. The development of the market for 3D graphics on mainstream PCs will in turn depend on the development and availability of a large number of mainstream PC software applications that support or take advantage of 3D graphics capabilities. Currently there are only a limited number of such software applications, most of which are games, and there can be no assurance that a broader base of software applications will develop in the near term or at all. Until very recently, the majority of multimedia PCs incorporated only 2D graphics acceleration technology, and as a result, the majority of graphics applications currently available for mainstream PCs are written for 2D acceleration technology. Consequently, there can be no assurance that a broad market for full function 3D graphics on mainstream PCs will develop. If the market for mainstream PC 3D graphics fails to develop or develops more slowly than expected, the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations would be materially adversely affected. See "--Dependence on the PC Market."

Dependence upon Acceptance of the Company's 3D Graphics Solution for the Mainstream PC Market. The Company's success will depend in part upon broad adoption of its 3D graphics processors for high performance 3D graphics in mainstream PC applications. The market for 3D graphics processors has been characterized by unpredictable and sometimes rapid shifts in the popularity of products, often caused by the publication of competitive industry benchmark results, as well as by severe price competition and by frequent new technology and product introductions. Only a small number of products have achieved broad market acceptance and such market acceptance, if achieved, is difficult to sustain due to intense competition. Since the Company has no other product line, the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations would be materially adversely affected if for any reason its current or future 3D graphics processors do not achieve widespread acceptance in the mainstream PC market. If the Company is unable to complete the timely development of or successfully and cost-effectively manufacture and deliver products that meet the requirements of the mainstream PC market, the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations would be materially adversely affected. In addition, the PC industry is seasonal, and the Company expects that its financial results in the future will be affected by such seasonality.

The sub-$1,000 segment of the mainstream PC market has grown rapidly in recent quarters. The Company currently does not have a product offering to address this market segment. If the Company is unable to introduce a product that addresses this market segment and the sub-$1,000 segment continues to account for an increasing percentage of the units sold in the mainstream PC market, the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations could be materially adversely affected.
Highly Competitive Environment; Intel's Entry into the Market. The market for 3D graphics processors for mainstream PCs in which the Company competes is intensely competitive and is characterized by rapid technological change, evolving industry standards and declining average selling prices. NVIDIA believes that the principal factors of competition in this market are performance, conformity to industry-standard APIs, software support, access to customers and distribution channels, manufacturing capabilities and price. The Company expects competition to increase both from existing competitors and new market entrants with products that may be less costly than the Company's 3D graphics processors or may provide better performance or additional features not provided by the Company's products. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to compete successfully in the emerging mainstream PC 3D graphics market.

NVIDIA's primary source of competition is from companies that provide or intend to provide 3D graphics solutions for the mainstream PC market. These include (i) new entrants in the 3D graphics processor market with existing presence in the PC market, such as Intel Corporation ("Intel"), (ii) suppliers of graphics add-in boards that utilize their internally developed graphics chips, such as ATI Technologies, Inc. ("ATI") and Matrox Electronic Systems Ltd. ("Matrox"), (iii) suppliers of 2D graphics chips that are introducing 3D functionality as part of their existing solutions, such as S3 Incorporated ("S3") and Trident Microsystems, Inc. ("Trident"), (iv) companies that have traditionally focused on the professional market and provide high end 3D solutions for PCs and workstations, including 3Dlabs Inc., Ltd. ("3Dlabs") and Real3D, and (v) companies with strength in the interactive entertainment market, such as Chromatic Research, Inc. ("Chromatic"), 3Dfx Interactive, Inc. ("3Dfx") and Rendition, Inc. ("Rendition").

In February 1998, Intel announced the introduction of the i740, a 3D graphics accelerator that is targeted at the mainstream PC market. Intel has significantly greater resources than the Company, and there can be no assurance that the Company's products will compete effectively against the i740 or any future products introduced by Intel, that the Company will be able to compete effectively against Intel or that Intel will not introduce additional products that are competitive with the Company's products in either performance or price or both. NVIDIA expects Intel to continue to invest heavily in research and development and new manufacturing facilities, to maintain its position as the largest manufacturer of PC microprocessors and one of the largest manufacturers of motherboards, to increasingly dominate the PC platform and to promote its product offerings through advertising campaigns designed to engender brand loyalty among PC users. Intel may in the future develop graphics add-in cards or graphics-enabled motherboards using its i740 3D graphics accelerators or other graphics accelerators, which could directly compete with graphics add-in cards or graphics-enabled motherboards that the Company's customers may develop. In addition, due to the widespread industry acceptance of Intel's microprocessor architecture and interface architecture, including its Accelerated Graphics Port ("AGP"), Intel exercises significant influence over the PC industry generally, and any significant modifications by Intel to the AGP, the microprocessor or other aspects of the PC microprocessor architecture could result in incompatibility with the Company's technology, which would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, any delay in the public release of information relating to such modifications could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations.

In addition to Intel, the Company competes with suppliers of graphics add-in boards that utilize their internally developed graphics chips, such as ATI and Matrox. NVIDIA also competes with companies that typically have operated in the PC 2D graphics market and that now offer 3D graphics capability as an enhancement to their 2D graphics solutions, such as S3 and Trident. Many of these competitors have introduced 3D graphics functionality on new versions of existing graphics chips. In addition, NVIDIA's competitors include companies that traditionally have focused on the production of high end 3D graphics systems targeted at the professional market, such as 3Dlabs and Real3D. While these companies produce high performance 3D graphics systems, they historically have done so at a significantly higher price point than the Company and have focused on the professional and engineering market. Some of these companies are developing lower cost versions of their 3D graphics technology to bring workstation-like 3D graphics to mainstream PCs, and there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to compete successfully against them. For example, 3Dlabs markets the PERMEDIA 2, a graphics accelerator designed for the mainstream PC market. NVIDIA also competes with companies that have recently entered or are expected to enter the market with an integrated 3D/2D graphics solution, but which have not traditionally manufactured 2D graphics solutions, such as Chromatic, 3Dfx and Rendition. In addition to the Company's known competitors, the Company anticipates that there will be new entrants in the graphics processor market, and there can be no assurance that the Company will compete effectively against any such new competitors.

Several of the Company's current and potential competitors have substantially greater financial, technical, manufacturing, marketing, distribution and other resources, greater name recognition and market presence, broader product lines for the PC market, longer operating histories, lower cost structures and larger customer bases than the Company. As a result, they may be able to adapt more quickly to new or emerging technologies and changes in customer requirements. Regardless of the relative qualities of the Company's products, the market power, product breadth and customer relationships of its larger competitors, particularly Intel, can be expected to provide such competitors with substantial competitive advantages. The Company does not seek to compete on the basis of price alone, but may be forced to lower prices to compete effectively. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to compete successfully in the emerging mainstream PC 3D graphics market.

Dependence on New Product Development; Need to Manage Product Transitions. The Company's business, financial condition and results of operations will depend to a significant extent on its ability to successfully develop new products for the 3D graphics market. The Company must anticipate the features and functionality that consumers will demand, incorporate those features and functionality into products that meet the exacting design requirements of PC OEMs and add-in board manufacturers, price its products competitively and introduce the products to the market within the limited window for PC OEM and add-in board manufacturer design cycles. As a result, the Company believes that significant expenditures for research and development will continue to be required in the future. The success of new product introductions will depend on several factors, including proper new product definition, timely completion and introduction of new product designs, the ability of ST, Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Co. ("TSMC") and any additional manufacturers to effectively manufacture new products, the ability of the Company to design products that effectively utilize the process technologies of ST, TSMC or any other third-party manufacturers, the quality of any new products, differentiation of new products from those of the Company's competitors and market acceptance of the Company's and its customers' products. There can be no assurance that any new products the Company expects to introduce will incorporate the features and functionality demanded by PC OEMs, add-in board manufacturers and consumers of 3D graphics, will be successfully developed or will be introduced within the appropriate time to meet both the PC OEMs' design cycles and market demand. The failure by the Company to successfully develop, introduce or achieve market acceptance for new 3D graphics products would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations.

As markets for the Company's 3D graphics processors develop and competition increases, the Company anticipates that product life cycles will remain short and average selling prices ("ASPs") will continue to decline. In particular, ASPs and gross margins for the Company's 3D graphics processors are expected to decline as each product matures and as per order unit volumes increase. As a result, the Company will need to introduce new products and enhancements to existing products to maintain overall average selling prices and gross margins. In order for the Company's 3D graphics processors to achieve high volumes, leading PC OEMs and add-in board manufacturers must select the Company's 3D graphics processor for design into their products, and then successfully complete the designs of their products and sell them. There can be no assurance that the Company will successfully identify new product opportunities, develop and bring to market in a timely fashion such new products, that any such new products will be selected for design into PC OEMs' and add-in board manufacturers' products, that such designs will be successfully completed or that such products will be sold. In particular, the Company expects to begin shipping the RIVA128ZX graphics processor in the second quarter of 1998, and there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to successfully manage the production transition risks with respect to that product. Failure to achieve any of the foregoing with respect to the RIVA128ZX graphics processor, future products or product enhancements could result in rapidly declining ASPs, reduced margins, reduced demand for products or loss of market share, any of which could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations. In addition, there can be no assurance that technologies developed by others will not render the Company's 3D graphics products non-competitive or obsolete, which would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Importance of Design Wins. The Company's future success will depend in large part on achieving design wins, which entails having its existing and future products chosen as the 3D graphics processors for hardware components or subassemblies designed by PC OEMs and add-in board manufacturers. In particular, the Company's upcoming RIVA128ZX graphics processor must be designed into PC OEMs' and add-in board manufacturers' products in order for the Company to achieve any significant revenue from such product. PC OEMs typically go through two design win cycles each year, and if the Company is unable to develop products in accordance with OEMs' cycles, its business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially adversely affected. The failure to achieve one or more design wins would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations. The process of being qualified for inclusion in a PC OEM's product can be lengthy and could cause the Company to miss a cycle in the demand of end users for a particular product feature, which also could materially adversely affect the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations.

The Company's ability to achieve design wins will depend in part on its ability to identify and ensure compliance with evolving industry standards. Unanticipated changes in industry standards could render the Company's products incompatible with products developed by major hardware manufacturers and software developers, including Intel and Microsoft, which would require the Company to invest significant time and resources to redesign its products to ensure compliance with relevant standards. If the Company's products are not in compliance with prevailing industry standards for a significant period of time, the Company's ability to achieve design wins could be materially adversely affected. The failure to achieve design wins, due to any of the foregoing factors or otherwise, would result in the loss of any potential sales volume that could be generated by such newly designed PC hardware component or board subassembly and would give a competitive advantage to the 3D graphics processor manufacturer that achieved such design win.

Dependence on the PC Market. In 1997, the Company derived all of its revenue from the sale or license of products for use in PCs, and the Company expects to continue to derive substantially all of its revenue from the sale or license of products for use in PCs. The PC market is characterized by rapidly changing technology, evolving industry standards, frequent new product introductions and significant price competition, resulting in short product life cycles and regular reductions of average selling prices over the life of a specific product. Although the PC market has grown substantially in recent years, there can be no assurance that such growth will continue. A reduction in sales of PCs, or a reduction in the growth rate of such sales, would likely reduce demand for the Company's products. Moreover, such changes in demand could be large and sudden. Since PC manufacturers often build inventories during periods of anticipated growth, they may be left with excess inventories if growth slows or if they have incorrectly forecast product transitions. In such cases, PC manufacturers may abruptly suspend substantially all purchases of additional inventory from suppliers such as the Company until the excess inventory has been absorbed. Any reduction in the demand for PCs generally, or for a particular product that incorporates the Company's 3D graphic processors, could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations.

Customer Concentration; Risks of Order and Shipment Uncertainties. The Company has only a limited number of customers and its sales are highly concentrated. The Company primarily sells its products to add-in board manufacturers, which incorporate graphics products in the boards they sell to PC OEMs. Sales to STB and Diamond accounted for 63% and 31%, respectively, of the Company's total revenue in 1997. Sales to add-in board manufacturers primarily are dependent on achieving design wins with leading PC OEMs, and the Company believes that the large majority of its revenue in the last two quarters was attributable to products that ultimately were incorporated into PCs sold by Compaq, Dell, Gateway 2000, Micron and Packard Bell NEC. The number of add-in board manufacturers and leading PC OEMs is limited, and the Company expects that a small number of add-in board manufacturers directly, and a small number of PC OEMs indirectly, will continue to account for a substantial portion of its revenue for the foreseeable future. In particular, the Company expects that sales to STB and Diamond will continue to account for a substantial portion of its revenue for the foreseeable future. As a result, the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially adversely affected by the decision of a single PC OEM or add-in board manufacturer to cease using the Company's products or by a decline in the number of products sold by a single PC OEM or add-in board manufacturer or by a small number of customers. In addition, there can be no assurance that revenue from add-in board manufacturers or PC OEMs that have directly or indirectly accounted for significant revenue in past periods, individually or as a group, will continue, or if continued, will reach or exceed historical levels in any future period.

Substantially all of the Company's sales are made on the basis of purchase orders rather than long-term agreements. As a result, the Company may commit resources to the production of products without having received advance purchase commitments from customers. Any inability to sell products to which the Company has devoted significant resources could have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition or results of operations of the Company. In addition, cancellation or deferral of product orders could result in the Company holding excess inventory, which could have a material adverse effect on the Company's profit margins and restrict its ability to fund its operations. The Company recognizes revenue upon shipment of products to the customer. Refusal by customers to accept shipped products, or delays or difficulties in collecting accounts receivable could result in significant charges against income, which could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations."

Management of Growth. The Company's rapid growth has placed, and is expected to continue to place, a significant strain on the Company's managerial, operational and financial resources. As of December 31, 1997, the Company had 92 employees as compared to 42 employees as of December 31, 1996, and the Company expects that the number of its employees will increase substantially over the next 12 months. The Company's financial and management controls, reporting systems and procedures are very limited and will need to be upgraded significantly. Although some new controls, systems and procedures have been implemented, the Company's future growth, if any, will depend on its ability to continue to implement and improve operational, financial and management information and control systems on a timely basis, as well as its ability to maintain effective cost controls, and any failure to do so effectively could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations. Further, the Company will be required to manage multiple relationships with various customers and other third parties. There can be no assurance that the Company's systems, procedures or controls will be adequate to support the Company's operations or that the Company's management will be able to achieve the rapid execution necessary to successfully implement its strategy. The Company's inability to effectively manage any future growth would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, the Company's lease for its facilities will expire in August 1998, and the Company will be required to secure larger facilities in order to accommodate its growth. An inability of the Company to secure adequate facilities on reasonable terms, or an inability to effectively manage the transition to larger facilities, could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations. See "Business--Employees," "--Facilities" and "Management."

Dependence on Third-Party Manufacturers; Absence of Manufacturing Capacity; Manufacturing Risks. The Company does not manufacture the semiconductor wafers used for its products and does not own or operate a wafer fabrication facility. The Company's products require wafers manufactured with state-of-the-art fabrication equipment and techniques. Substantially all of the Company's products currently are manufactured by ST in Crolles, France pursuant to a strategic collaboration agreement (the "ST Agreement"), and the Company has recently established a relationship with TSMC as a second semiconductor manufacturer. The Company obtains manufacturing services from both ST and TSMC on a purchase order basis, and neither ST nor TSMC has any obligation to provide the Company with any specified minimum quantities of product. Because the lead time needed to establish a strategic relationship with a new manufacturing partner could be several months, there is no readily available alternative source of supply for any specific product. A manufacturing disruption experienced by ST or TSMC would impact the production of the Company's products for a substantial period of time, which would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations. For example, in December 1997, the Company experienced low manufacturing yields at ST. The Company believes that long-term market acceptance for the Company's products will depend on reliable relationships with ST, TSMC and any other manufacturers used by the Company to ensure adequate product supply to respond to customer demand. ST currently is capacity constrained with respect to the manufacture of the Company's products. ST has only recently begun to manufacture the Company's products in commercial quantities, and there can be no assurance that ST will be able to meet the Company's near-term or long-term manufacturing requirements. In addition, the Company's relationship with TSMC has only recently been established, and there can be no assurance that this relationship will meet the business objectives of the Company. Both ST and TSMC fabricate wafers for other companies, including certain competitors of the Company, and ST also manufactures wafers for its own needs, and either could choose to prioritize capacity for other uses or reduce or eliminate deliveries to the Company on short notice.

There are many other risks associated with the Company's dependence upon third-party manufacturers, including reduced control over delivery schedules, quality assurance, manufacturing yields and cost; risks associated with international operations; the potential lack of adequate capacity during periods of excess demand; limited warranties on wafers supplied to the Company; and potential misappropriation of the Company's intellectual property. The Company is dependent primarily on ST and, to a lesser extent, TSMC, and expects in the future to continue to be dependent upon third-party manufacturers to produce wafers of acceptable quality and with acceptable manufacturing yields, to deliver those wafers to the Company and its independent assembly and testing subcontractors on a timely basis and to allocate to the Company a portion of their manufacturing capacity sufficient to meet the Company's needs. The Company's wafer requirements represent a very small portion of the total production capacity of ST. Although the Company's products are designed using ST's process design rules, there can be no assurance that ST will be able to achieve or maintain acceptable yields or deliver sufficient quantities of wafers on a timely basis or at an acceptable cost. Additionally, there can be no assurance that ST will continue to devote resources to the production of the Company's products or continue to advance the process design technologies on which the manufacturing of the Company's products are based. Any such difficulties would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations. See "--Dependence on Third-Party Subcontractors for Assembly and Testing," "-- Risks Associated with International Operations" and "Business--Manufacturing."

Dependence on ST Microelectronics. In addition to the Company's reliance on ST to manufacture the Company's products, the Company licenses certain technology on a non-exclusive basis from ST for use with the Company's products. The inability of the Company to continue to license this technology could result in delays or cancellations in product shipments until equivalent technology can be identified, licensed or developed, and integrated with the Company's products. The ST Agreement also grants ST a worldwide license to sell the RIVA128 and RIVA128ZX graphics processors. Royalty revenue from sales of the RIVA128 graphics processor by ST represented 6% of the Company's total revenue in 1997. There can be no assurance that ST will continue to sell the Company's current or future products at historical levels, or at all. If ST ceases selling the Company's products or there is a material decline in the number of units sold by ST in the future, the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations could be materially adversely affected. In February 1998, ST and 3Dlabs established a supply relationship for the manufacture by ST of 3Dlabs' PERMEDIA 2 3D graphics accelerator. There can be no assurance that ST will not establish similar relationships with other competitors of the Company or that sales of the Company's products by ST will not be adversely affected by ST's relationship with 3Dlabs or any other competitor of the Company. Sales by ST of products similar to the Company's products could result in a decrease in the Company's revenue, which would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations. See "--Dependence on Third-Party Manufacturers; Absence of Manufacturing Capacity; Manufacturing Risks," "--Dependence on Third-Party Subcontractors for Assembly and Testing" and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations."
Under the ST Agreement, ST also has a worldwide license to incorporate the technology underlying the RIVA128 and RIVA128ZX graphics processors (including the source code and architecture) (the "RIVA Technology") in its own products, subject to certain limitations on the modification of such technology, and a right to receive software engineering and quality support from the Company for the RIVA Technology through December 31, 1998. There can be no assurance that ST will not develop and market products competitive with those of the Company that contain additional features, better functionality and lower pricing. Because ST has substantially greater financial, technical, manufacturing, marketing, distribution and other resources than the Company, there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to compete successfully against any such ST product. The failure of the Company to successfully compete against any such ST product could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations.

Dependence on Key Personnel. The Company's performance will be substantially dependent on the performance of its executive officers and key employees, many of whom have worked together for only a short period of time. In particular, each of the Company's Chief Financial Officer, Vice President, Product Marketing and Vice President, Corporate Marketing joined the Company in December 1997. None of the Company's officers or employees is bound by an employment agreement, and the relationships of such officers and employees with the Company are, therefore, at will. The Company does not have "key person" life insurance policies on any of its employees. The loss of the services of any of its executive officers, technical personnel or other key employees, particularly Jen-Hsun Huang, the Company's President and Chief Executive Officer, would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations. The Company's success will depend on its ability to identify, hire, train and retain highly qualified technical and managerial personnel.

Manufacturing Yields. The fabrication of semiconductors is a complex process. Contaminants, defects in masks used to print circuits on wafers, difficulties in the fabrication process and other factors can cause a substantial percentage of wafers to be rejected or a significant number of die on each wafer to be nonfunctional. These problems are difficult to diagnose and time-consuming and expensive to remedy. As a result, semiconductor companies frequently encounter difficulties in achieving acceptable product yields. When production of a new product begins, as will be the case with the RIVA128ZX graphics processor, the Company typically pays for wafers, which may or may not have any functional products. Accordingly, the Company bears the financial risk until production is stabilized. Once production is stabilized, the Company pays for functional die only. The Company typically begins wafer production in advance of stabilized yields. Failure to stabilize yields or failure to achieve acceptable yields would materially adversely affect the Company's revenue, gross profit and results of operations. For example, in December 1997, the Company experienced low manufacturing yields at ST. Any similar occurrences in the future could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations.

Semiconductor manufacturing yields are a function both of product design, which is developed largely by the Company, and process technology, which is typically proprietary to the manufacturer. Since low yields may result from either design or process technology failures, yield problems may not be effectively determined or resolved until an actual product exists that can be analyzed and tested to identify process sensitivities relating to the design rules that are used. As a result, yield problems may not be identified until well into the production process, and resolution of yield problems would require cooperation by and communication between the Company and the manufacturer. This risk is compounded by the offshore location of the Company's manufacturers, increasing the effort and time required to identify, communicate and resolve manufacturing yield problems. As the Company's relationships with ST, TSMC and any additional manufacturing partners develop, yields or product performance could be adversely affected due to difficulties associated with adapting the Company's technology and product design to the proprietary process technology and design rules of each
Because of the Company's potentially limited access to wafer fabrication capacity from its manufacturers, any decrease in manufacturing yields could result in an increase in the Company's per unit costs and force the Company to allocate its available product supply among its customers, thus potentially adversely impacting customer relationships as well as revenue and gross profit. There can be no assurance that the Company's wafer manufacturers will achieve or maintain acceptable manufacturing yields in the future. The inability of the Company to achieve planned yields from its wafer manufacturers could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations. The Company also faces the risk of product recalls resulting from design or manufacturing defects that are not discovered during the manufacturing and testing process. In the event of a significant number of product returns due to a defect or recall, the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations could be materially adversely affected. See "--Risks Associated with International Operations."

Transition to New Manufacturing Process Technologies. The Company's future success will depend in part upon its ability to develop products that utilize new manufacturing process technologies. Manufacturing process technologies are subject to rapid change and require significant expenditures for research and development. The Company continuously evaluates the benefits of migrating to smaller geometry process technologies in order to improve performance and reduce costs. The Company believes that the transition of its products to increasingly smaller geometries will be important to its competitive position. Other companies in the industry have experienced difficulty in migrating to new manufacturing processes and, consequently, have suffered reduced yields, delays in product deliveries and increased expense levels. Moreover, the Company is dependent on its relationships with its third-party manufacturers to migrate to smaller geometry processes successfully. No assurance can be given that the Company will be able to migrate to new manufacturing process technologies successfully or on a timely basis. Any such failure by the Company could have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition or results of operations.

Dependence on Third-Party Subcontractors for Assembly and Testing. Substantially all of the Company's products currently are manufactured by ST in France and assembled and tested by ST in Malta. The Company is in the process of qualifying Anam Semiconductor ("Anam"), which is located in Korea, to assemble and test the Company's RIVA128ZX graphics processor. The Company does not have long-term agreements with either of these suppliers. As a result of its dependence on third-party subcontractors for assembly and testing of its products, the Company does not directly control product delivery schedules or product quality. Any product shortages or quality assurance problems could increase the costs of manufacture, assembly or testing of the Company's products and could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operation. Due to the amount of time typically required to qualify assemblers and testers, the Company could experience significant delays in the shipment of its products if it is required to find alternative third parties to assemble or test the Company's products or components. Any delays in delivery of the Company's products could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations. See "Business--Manufacturing."

Risks Relating to Intellectual Property. The Company relies primarily on a combination of patent, mask work protection, trademarks, copyrights, trade secret laws, employee and third-party nondisclosure agreements and licensing arrangements to protect its intellectual property. The Company has 11 patents issued and 16 patent applications pending in the United States. The Company has no foreign patents or patent applications. There can be no assurance that the Company's pending patent applications or any future applications will be approved, or that any issued patents will provide the Company with competitive advantages or will not be challenged by third parties, or that the enforcement of patents of others will not have an adverse effect on the Company's ability to do business. In addition, there can be no assurance that others will not independently develop substantially equivalent intellectual property or otherwise gain access to the Company's trade secrets or intellectual property, or disclose such intellectual property or trade secrets, or that the Company can meaningfully protect its intellectual property. A failure by the Company to effectively protect its intellectual property could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations.
The Company attempts to protect its trade secrets and other proprietary information through confidentiality agreements with manufacturers and other partners, proprietary information agreements with employees and consultants and other security measures. The Company also relies on trademarks and trade secret laws to protect its intellectual property. Despite these efforts, there can be no assurance that others will not gain access to the Company's trade secrets, or that the Company can meaningfully protect its intellectual property. In addition, effective trade secret protection may be unavailable or limited in certain foreign countries. Although the Company intends to protect its rights vigorously, there can be no assurance that such measures will be successful.

The semiconductor industry is characterized by vigorous protection and pursuit of intellectual property rights or positions, which has resulted in significant and often protracted and expensive litigation. The 3D graphics market in particular has been characterized recently by the aggressive pursuit of intellectual property positions, and the Company expects its competitors to continue to pursue aggressive intellectual property positions. There currently is no pending intellectual property litigation against the Company. However, the Company from time to time has received notices alleging that the Company has infringed patents or other intellectual property rights owned by third parties. ST has certain patent licenses that in some cases may allow ST to manufacture the Company's products without infringing third-party patents. As the Company's products are manufactured by TSMC or other manufacturers, such licenses will no longer benefit the Company and therefore the risk of a third-party claim of patent infringement against the Company will increase. In the event infringement claims are made against the Company, the Company may seek licenses under such patents or other intellectual property rights. However, there can be no assurance that licenses will be offered or that the terms of any offered licenses will be acceptable to the Company. The failure to obtain a license from a third party for technology used by the Company could cause the Company to incur substantial liabilities and to suspend the manufacture of products. Furthermore, the Company may initiate claims or litigation against third parties for infringement of the Company's proprietary rights or to establish the validity of the Company's proprietary rights. The Company has agreed to indemnify certain customers for claims of infringement arising out of sale of the Company's product. Litigation by or against the Company or such customers concerning infringement would likely result in significant expense to the Company and divert the efforts of the Company's technical and management personnel, whether or not such litigation results in a favorable determination for the Company. In the event of an adverse result in any such litigation, the Company could be required to pay substantial damages (which could include treble damages), cease the manufacture, use and sale of infringing products, expend significant resources to develop non-infringing technology, discontinue the use of certain processes or obtain licenses for the infringing technology. There can be no assurance that the Company would be successful in such development or that such licenses would be available on reasonable terms, or at all, and any such development or license could require expenditures by the Company of substantial time and other resources. Although patent disputes in the semiconductor industry have often been settled through cross-licensing arrangements, there can be no assurance that, in the event that any third party makes a successful claim against the Company or its customers, a cross-licensing arrangement could be reached. If a license is not made available to the Company on commercially reasonable terms, the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations could be materially adversely affected.

There can be no assurance that infringement claims by third parties or claims for indemnification by customers or end users of the Company's products resulting from infringement claims will not be asserted in the future or that such assertions, if proven to be true, will not materially adversely affect the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations. Any limitations on the Company's ability to market its products, or delays and costs associated with redesigning its products or payments of license fees to third parties, or any failure by the Company to develop or license a substitute technology on commercially reasonable terms, could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations. See "Business--Patents and Proprietary Rights."

Risk of Product Defects and Incompatibilities; Product Liability. Products as complex as those offered by the Company may contain defects or failures when introduced or when new versions or enhancements to existing products are released. The Company has in the past discovered software defects and incompatibilities with customers' hardware in certain of its products and may experience delays or lost revenue to correct any new defects in the future. Although the Company has not experienced material adverse effects resulting from any such bugs, defects, failures or incompatibilities to date, there can be no assurance that, despite testing by the Company, errors will not be found in new products or releases after commencement of commercial shipments in the future, which could result in loss of market share or failure to achieve market acceptance. In addition, the Company's products typically go through only one verification cycle prior to beginning volume production and distribution of such products. As a result, the Company's products may contain defects or flaws that are undetected prior to volume production and distribution. The widespread production and distribution of defective products could have a material adverse impact on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations. See "Business-NVIDIA Architecture, Products and Products under Development."

The Company's products are an integrated component of both PCs and business workstations. Although the Company has not experienced any product liability claims to date, the sale and support of products by the Company may entail the risk of such claims. In addition, any failure by the Company's products or software to properly perform could result in claims against the Company by its customers. The Company maintains insurance to protect against certain claims associated with the use of its products, but there can be no assurance that its insurance coverage would adequately cover any claim asserted against the Company. A successful claim brought against the Company that is in excess of, or excluded from, its insurance coverage, could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations. In addition, even claims that are ultimately unsuccessful could result in the Company's expenditure of funds in litigation and management time and resources. The Company has agreed to indemnify certain of its customers against patent infringement, warranty and certain product defect claims. There can be no assurance that the Company will not be subject to material claims in the future, that such claims will not result in liability in excess of its insurance coverage, that the Company's insurance will cover such claims or that appropriate insurance will continue to be available to the Company in the future at commercially reasonable rates.

Erosion of Average Selling Prices. The semiconductor industry, including the 3D graphics processor industry, has been characterized, and is likely to continue to be characterized by, rapid erosion of average selling prices due to a number of factors, including rapid technological change, price/performance enhancements and product obsolescence. The Company anticipates that ASPs and gross margins for its products will decrease over product life cycles, due to competitive pressures and volume pricing agreements. Decreasing ASPs could cause the Company to experience decreased revenue even though the number of units sold is increasing. As a result, the Company may experience substantial period-to-period fluctuations in future operating results due to ASP erosion. Therefore, the Company must continue to develop and introduce on a timely basis next-generation products and enhancements to existing new products that incorporate additional or new features and functionalities and that can be sold at higher ASPs. Failure to achieve the foregoing could cause the Company's revenue and gross margins to decline, which would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations."

Risks Associated with International Operations. The Company's reliance on foreign third-party manufacturing, assembly and testing operations subjects it to a number of risks associated with conducting business outside of the United States. These risks include unexpected changes in, or impositions of, legislative or regulatory requirements, delays resulting from difficulty in obtaining export licenses for certain technology, tariffs, quotas and other trade barriers and restrictions, longer payment cycles, potentially adverse taxes, the burdens of complying with a variety of foreign laws and other factors beyond the Company's control. The Company also is subject to general political risks in connection with its international trade relationships. Although the Company has not to date experienced any material adverse effect on its business, financial condition or results of operations as a result of such regulatory, political and other factors, there can be no assurance that such factors will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations in the future or require the Company to modify its current business practices. In addition, the laws of certain foreign countries in which the Company's products are or may be manufactured or sold, including various countries in Asia, may not protect the Company's products or intellectual property rights to the same extent as do the laws of the United States and thus make the possibility of piracy of the Company's technology and products more likely. Currently, all of the Company's arrangements with third-party manufacturers provide for pricing and payment in U.S. dollars, and to date the Company has not engaged in any currency hedging activities, although it may do so in the future. Although currency fluctuations have been insignificant to date, there can be no assurance that fluctuations in currency exchange rates will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations in the future.

Cyclical Nature of the Semiconductor Industry. The semiconductor industry historically has been characterized by rapid technological change, cyclical market patterns, significant ASP erosion, fluctuating inventory levels, alternating periods of overcapacity and capacity constraints, variations in manufacturing costs and yields and significant expenditures for capital equipment and product development. In addition, the industry has experienced significant economic downturns at various times, characterized by diminished product demand and accelerated erosion of ASPs. The Company may experience substantial period-to-period fluctuations in results of operations due to general semiconductor industry conditions.

Future Capital Needs; Uncertainty of Additional Funding. If the Company continues to increase production of its products, it will be required to invest significant working capital in inventory and accounts receivable. The Company also intends to continue to invest heavily in research and development for its existing products and for new product development. The Company's future liquidity and capital requirements will depend upon numerous factors, including the costs and timing of expansion of research and product development efforts and the success of these development efforts, the costs and timing of expansion of sales and marketing activities, the extent to which the Company's existing and new products gain market acceptance, competing technological and market developments, the costs involved in maintaining and enforcing patent claims and other intellectual property rights, available borrowings under line of credit arrangements and other factors. The Company believes that the proceeds from this offering, together with the Company's current cash balances and cash generated from operations, will be sufficient to meet the Company's operating and capital requirements for at least the next 12 months. However, there can be no assurance that the Company will not require additional financing within this time frame. The Company may be required to raise additional funds through public or private financing, strategic relationships or other arrangements. There can be no assurance that such additional funding, if needed, will be available on terms attractive to the Company, or at all. Furthermore, any additional equity financing may be dilutive to stockholders, and debt financing, if available, may involve restrictive covenants. Strategic arrangements, if necessary to raise additional funds, may require the Company to relinquish its rights to certain of its technologies or products. The failure of the Company to raise capital when needed could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations. See "—Unpredictable and Fluctuating Operating Results," "—Limited Operating History; History of Losses; No Assurance of Profitability," "Use of Proceeds" and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations."

Year 2000 Compliance. Many existing computer systems and applications and other control devices use only two digits to identify a year in the date field, without considering the impact of the upcoming change in the century. As a result, in less than two years, computer systems and applications used by many companies may need to be upgraded to comply with "Year 2000" requirements. Significant uncertainty exists in the computer industry concerning the potential effects associated with such compliance. The Company relies on its systems in operating and monitoring many significant aspects of its business, including financial systems (such as general ledger, accounts payable, accounts receivable, inventory and order management), customer services, infrastructure and network and telecommunications equipment. The Company also relies directly and indirectly on the systems of external business enterprises such as customers, suppliers, creditors, financial organizations and domestic and international governments. The Company currently estimates that its costs associated with Year 2000 compliance, including any costs associated with the consequences of incomplete or untimely resolution of Year 2000 compliance issues, will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations in any given year. However, the Company has not extensively investigated and does not believe that it has fully identified such impact and has not concluded that it can resolve it without disruption of its business or without incurring significant expense. In addition, even if the Company's internal systems are not materially affected by Year 2000 compliance issues, the Company could be affected through disruption in the operation of the enterprises with which the Company interacts.

There can be no assurance that the Company's products will be Year 2000 compliant, that third-party products with which the Company's products interface will be Year 2000 compliant or that any changes to third-party products made in response to Year 2000 compliance issues will not render the Company's products incompatible with such third-party products.

Concentration of Stock Ownership. Upon completion of this offering, the Company's executive officers and directors, together with entities affiliated with such individuals, will beneficially own approximately % of the Company's Common Stock (approximately % if the Underwriters' over-allotment option is exercised in full). Accordingly, these stockholders will be able to exercise control over matters requiring stockholder approval, including the election of directors and approval of significant corporate transactions. These transactions include proxy contests, mergers involving the Company, tender offers, open market purchase programs or other purchases of Common Stock that could give stockholders of the Company the opportunity to realize a premium over the then-prevailing market price for their shares of Common Stock. See "Principal Stockholders."

Absence of Prior Trading Market; Potential Volatility of Stock Price. Prior to this offering, there has been no public market for the Common Stock. There can be no assurance that an active trading market will develop or, if one develops, that it will be maintained. The initial public offering price of the Common Stock will be established by negotiation among the Company and the Underwriters. See "Underwriters" for factors to be considered in determining the initial public offering price. The market price of the shares of Common Stock could be subject to significant fluctuations in response to the Company's operating results, announcements of new products by the Company or its competitors, and other factors, including general economic and market conditions. In addition, the stock market in recent years has experienced and continues to experience extreme price and volume fluctuations, which have affected the market price of the stock of many companies, and particularly technology companies, and which have often been unrelated or disproportionate to the operating performance of these companies. These fluctuations, as well as a shortfall in sales or earnings compared to securities analysts expectations, changes in analysts recommendations or projections or general economic and market conditions, may adversely affect the market price of the Common Stock. In the past, securities class action litigation has often been instituted following periods of volatility in the market price for a company's securities. Such litigation could result in substantial costs and a diversion of management attention and resources, which could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations.

Anti-Takeover Provisions. The Company's Certificate of Incorporation (the "Certificate") authorizes the Board of Directors to issue up to 2,000,000 shares of Preferred Stock and to determine the powers, designations, preferences, rights, qualifications, limitations and restrictions, including voting rights, of those shares without any further vote or action by the stockholders. The rights of the holders of Common Stock will be subject to, and may be adversely affected by, the rights of the holders of any Preferred Stock that may be issued in the future. The Certificate and Bylaws, among other things, provide for a classified Board of Directors, require that stockholder actions occur at duly called meetings of the stockholders, limit who may call special meetings of stockholders and require advance notice of stockholder proposals and director nominations. These and other provisions could have the effect of making it more difficult for a third party to acquire a majority of the outstanding voting stock of the Company, discourage a hostile bid or delay, prevent or deter a merger, acquisition or tender offer in which the Company's stockholders could receive a premium for their shares, or a proxy contest for control of the Company or other change in the Company's management. See "Management" and "Description of Capital Stock."

Shares Eligible for Future Sale. The sale of a substantial number of shares of Common Stock in the public market following this offering could adversely affect the market price of the Common Stock. Upon the closing of this offering, the Company will have outstanding an aggregate of shares of Common Stock, assuming no exercise of outstanding options and warrants, of which 23,468,797 shares of Common Stock are "Restricted Shares" subject to restrictions under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). Restricted Shares may be sold in the public market only if registered or if they qualify for an exemption from registration under Rules 144, 144(k) or 701 promulgated under the Securities Act. Holders of certain shares of the Company's Common Stock, including all officers and directors, have agreed with the representatives of the Underwriters (the "Lock-Up Agreements"), subject to certain exceptions, not to offer, pledge, sell, contract to sell, sell any option or contract to purchase, purchase any option or contract to sell, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase, or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of Common Stock or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for Common Stock (whether such shares or any such securities are then owned by such person or are thereafter acquired directly from the Company), or to enter into any swap or similar arrangement that transfers, in whole or in part, the economic risks of ownership of the Common Stock (a "disposition"), without the prior written consent of Morgan Stanley & Co. Incorporated for a period of 180 days after the date of this Prospectus. As a result of such contractual restrictions and the provisions of Rule 144 and 701, the Restricted Shares will be available for sale in the public market as follows: (i) 113,558 shares will be eligible for immediate sale on the date of this Prospectus; (ii) 4,886,442 shares will be eligible for sale 90 days after the date of this Prospectus; (iii) 22,129,653 shares will be eligible for sale upon expiration of lock-up agreements 180 days after the date of this Prospectus and (iv) the remaining shares will be eligible for sale from time to time thereafter upon expiration of the Company's right to repurchase such shares. In addition, certain stockholders of the Company have the right to register shares of Common Stock for sale in the public market, and the Company intends to register shares of Common Stock authorized for issuance under the Company's equity incentive plans shortly following the closing of this offering. See "Description of Capital Stock" and "Shares Eligible for Future Sale."

Dilution; Absence of Cash Dividends. Purchasers of the shares of Common Stock offered hereby will experience immediate and substantial dilution in the net tangible book value of their investment from the initial public offering price. Additional dilution will occur upon exercise of outstanding options and warrants. See "Dilution" and "Shares Eligible for Future Sale." The Company has never paid any dividends and does not anticipate paying dividends in the foreseeable future. See "Dividend Policy."
USE OF PROCEEDS

The net proceeds to the Company from the sale of the shares of Common Stock offered by the Company hereby are estimated to be approximately $ ($ if the Underwriters' over-allotment option is exercised in full), at an assumed initial public offering price of $ per share and after deducting estimated underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses payable by the Company. The Company intends to use approximately $ million of the net proceeds to repay certain accounts payable. The balance of the net proceeds will be used for general corporate purposes, including capital expenditures and working capital. The Company expects to spend approximately $10.0 million for capital expenditures in 1998. The amounts and timing of the Company's actual expenditures will depend upon numerous factors, including the status of the Company's research and development efforts, the amount of cash generated by the Company's operations, the level of the Company's sales and marketing activities and the impact of competition. Pending such uses, the Company intends to invest the net proceeds of this offering in short-term, investment-grade, interest-bearing securities.

DIVIDEND POLICY

The Company has never paid any cash dividends on its capital stock and does not anticipate paying cash dividends for the foreseeable future.
The following table sets forth the capitalization of the Company as of December 31, 1997 (i) on an actual basis, (ii) on a pro forma basis giving effect to the conversion of all outstanding shares of Preferred Stock into shares of Common Stock upon the closing of this offering and (iii) on a pro forma as adjusted basis to reflect the receipt by the Company of the estimated net proceeds from the sale of the shares of Common Stock offered by the Company hereby at an assumed initial public offering price of $ per share and after deducting estimated underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses payable by the Company.

DILUTION

The pro forma net tangible book value of the Company as of December 31, 1997 was approximately $6.9 million or $.29 per share of Common Stock. Pro forma net tangible book value per share is equal to the Company's total tangible assets less its total liabilities divided by the number of shares of Common Stock outstanding (assuming the conversion of all outstanding shares of Preferred Stock into Common Stock). After giving effect to the sale by the Company of the shares of Common Stock offered hereby (at an assumed initial public offering price of $ per share and after deducting estimated underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses payable by the Company), the as adjusted net tangible book value of the Company as of December 31, 1997 would have been $, or $ per share. This represents an immediate increase in pro forma net tangible book value of $ per share to existing stockholders and an immediate dilution of $ per share to new public investors. The following table illustrates this per share dilution:

| Assumed initial public offering price per share | $ |
| Pro forma net tangible book value per share as of December 31, 1997 | $.29 |
| Increase in pro forma net tangible book value per share attributable to new public investors | ---- |
| As adjusted net tangible book value per share after the offering | $ |
| Dilution per share to new public investors | $ |

The following table summarizes, on a pro forma basis as of December 31, 1997, the difference between the number of shares of Common Stock purchased from the Company (assuming the conversion of all outstanding shares of Preferred Stock into Common Stock), the total cash consideration paid and the average price per share paid by the existing stockholders and by the new public investors (at an assumed initial public offering price of $ per share and before deducting estimated underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses payable by the Company):

The foregoing assumes no exercise of outstanding stock options or warrants. As of February 28, 1998, (i) options to purchase 5,531,833 shares of Common Stock at a weighted average exercise price of $3.30 per share were outstanding, of which options to purchase 2,239,648 of such shares were immediately exercisable, and (ii) warrants to purchase 158,806 shares of Common Stock at a weighted average exercise price of $2.10 per share were outstanding. To the extent that outstanding options or warrants are exercised, there will be further dilution to new investors. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following discussion and analysis should be read in conjunction with the Company's financial statements and notes thereto and the other financial information included elsewhere in this Prospectus. Except for the historical information contained herein, the discussions in this Prospectus contain forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. The Company's actual results could differ materially from those discussed herein. Factors that could cause or contribute to such differences include, but are not limited to, those discussed below and in the section entitled "Risk Factors," as well as those discussed elsewhere in this Prospectus.

OVERVIEW

NVIDIA designs, develops and markets 3D graphics processors that provide high performance interactive 3D graphics to the mainstream PC market. The Company incurred losses in each quarter from inception through the third quarter of 1997 and in each year. As of December 31, 1997, the Company had an accumulated deficit of approximately $14.0 million. Since its inception in April 1993 through the end of 1994, NVIDIA was in the development stage and was primarily engaged in product development and product testing. The Company introduced its first product, the NV1, in May 1995. The NV1 was a multimedia accelerator that provided 3D graphics, video and audio for interactive multimedia, and was targeted primarily to the game console market. The NV1 was developed in the absence of industry standards with the goal of establishing the Company's proprietary NV technology as a 3D graphics standard. By the end of 1996, the PC industry had broadly adopted Microsoft's Direct3D and Silicon Graphics Inc.'s ("SGI's") OpenGL 3D APIs. As a result, the Company experienced a significant reduction in revenue from sales of the NV1 and stopped selling the NV1 in the first quarter of 1996. The Company also ceased development of the NV2, a product designed for a game console platform, and began developing the RIVA128 graphics processor. In August 1997, the Company introduced the RIVA128 graphics processor, which is designed to be compatible with Microsoft's Direct3D and is the first in a family of high performance graphics products targeted at the mainstream PC market.

All of the Company's revenue in 1995 and 1996 was derived from the sale and license of the NV1, and substantially all of the Company's revenue in 1997 was derived from the sale and license of the RIVA128 graphics processor. The Company expects that substantially all of its revenue for the foreseeable future will be derived from the sale and license of its 3D graphics processors in the mainstream PC market. The Company recognizes product sales revenue upon shipment, net of allowances and recognizes royalty revenue upon shipment of product to the licensee's customers. Since the Company has no other product line, the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations would be materially adversely affected if for any reason its graphics processors do not achieve widespread acceptance in the mainstream PC market.

A majority of the Company's sales have been to a limited number of customers and its sales are highly concentrated. The Company sells its graphics processors to add-in board manufacturers such as Diamond and STB, which incorporate these processors in the boards they sell to PC OEMs, retail outlets and systems integrators. The average selling prices for the Company's products, as well as its customers' products, vary by distribution channel. All of the Company's sales are made on the basis of purchase orders rather than long-term agreements. Diamond accounted for 86% and 82% of the Company's total revenue in 1995 and 1996, respectively. STB and Diamond accounted for 63% and 31%, respectively, of the Company's total revenue in 1997. The number of potential customers for the Company's products is limited, and the Company expects that sales to STB and Diamond will continue to account for a substantial portion of its revenue for the foreseeable future. Currently, all of the Company's product sales and its arrangements with its third-party manufacturers provide for pricing and payment in U.S. dollars, and the Company has not engaged in any foreign currency hedging activities, although it may do so in the future.

As markets for the Company's 3D graphics processors develop and competition increases, the Company anticipates that product life cycles will remain short and ASPs will continue to decline. In particular, ASPs and gross margins for the Company's 3D graphics processors are expected to decline as each product matures and as per unit volumes increase. Thus, the Company will need to introduce new products and enhancements to existing products to maintain overall average selling prices and gross margins. Furthermore, in order for the Company's 3D graphics processors to achieve high volumes, leading PC OEMs and add-in board manufacturers must select the Company's 3D graphics processor for design into their products, and then successfully complete the designs of their products and sell them. In particular, the Company expects to begin shipping the RIVA128ZX graphics processor in 1998, and there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to successfully manage the production transition risks with respect to that product. Failure to achieve any of the foregoing with respect to the RIVA128ZX graphics processor, future products or product enhancements could result in rapidly declining ASPs, reduced margins, reduced demand for products or loss of market share, any of which could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations.

The Company utilizes ST and TSMC to produce the Company's semiconductor wafers and independent contractors to perform assembly, test and packaging. The Company depends on these suppliers to allocate to the Company a portion of their manufacturing capacity sufficient to meet the Company's needs, to produce products of acceptable quality and at acceptable manufacturing yields and to deliver those products to the Company on a timely basis. ST currently is capacity constrained with respect to the manufacture of the Company's products. ST has only recently begun to manufacture the Company's products in commercial quantities, and there can be no assurance that ST will be able to meet the Company's near-term or long-term manufacturing requirements. In addition, the Company's relationship with TSMC has only recently been established, and there can be no assurance that this relationship will meet the business objectives of the Company. As the Company's relationships with ST, TSMC and any additional manufacturing partners develop, yields or product performance could be adversely affected due to difficulties associated with adapting the Company's technology and product design to the proprietary process technology and design rules of each manufacturer. A manufacturing disruption experienced by either of these manufacturers would impact the production of the Company's products, which would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations. The Company obtains manufacturing services from both ST and TSMC on a purchase order basis, and neither ST nor TSMC has any obligation to provide the Company with any specified minimum quantities of product. Both ST and TSMC fabricate wafers for other companies, including certain competitors of the Company, and ST also manufactures wafers for its own needs, and either could choose to prioritize capacity for other uses or reduce or eliminate deliveries to the Company on short notice. In addition, the Company purchases wafers and dies and pays an agreed price for wafers meeting certain acceptance criteria only after the production yields for a product stabilize. Once production is stabilized, the Company will pay for functional die only. Accordingly, because TSMC has only recently begun to manufacture products for the Company, until the production yields of its product at TSMC stabilize, the Company must pay an agreed price for wafers regardless of yield.

The Company has in the past entered into contractual agreements with third parties to provide design, development and support services on a best efforts basis. All amounts funded to the Company under these agreements were non-refundable once paid. The Company recorded reductions to research and development expense based on the percentage-of-completion method, limited by the amounts funded, and recorded primarily as a reduction to research and development expenses. The Company developed the NV2 under contract with a third party and recorded a credit to research and development of $2.0 million in 1995 and $3.0 million in 1996. Also, as part of a strategic collaboration agreement with ST, the Company received contract funding in support of research and development and marketing efforts for the RIVA128 and RIVA128ZX graphics processors. Accordingly, the Company recorded $2.0 million in 1996 and approximately $2.3 million in 1997 as a reduction primarily to research and development, and, to a lesser extent to sales, general and administrative expenses. The Company is obligated to provide continued development and support to ST through the end of 1998 and expects to record contract funding of approximately $2.5 million in 1998. The Company does not have any plans to enter into contractual development arrangements and does not expect contract funding in the future.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Company first generated revenue from sales of its current 3D graphics processor product in the third quarter of 1997, when the Company began commercial shipment of the RIVA128 graphics processor.
that time, the Company's revenue was derived from the sale of products that were targeted at the game console market. These products were discontinued in 1996 due to their proprietary standards and market changes. Moreover, expenses prior to the third quarter of 1997 related primarily to product development and product testing. As a result, the Company believes that period-to-period comparisons of annual operating results are less meaningful than an analysis of recent quarterly operating results. Accordingly, the Company is providing a discussion and analysis of its results of operations that is primarily focused upon the four quarters ended December 31, 1997.

The following table presents certain quarterly statement of operations data for the four quarters ended December 31, 1997. This quarterly information is unaudited, but has been prepared on the same basis as the audited annual financial statements, and in the opinion of the Company’s management includes all adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring adjustments, necessary for a fair presentation of the information for the periods presented. The unaudited quarterly information should be read in conjunction with the Company’s audited financial statements and the notes thereto included elsewhere herein. The growth in revenue and improvement in results of operations experienced by the Company in recent quarters are not necessarily indicative of future results. In addition, in light of its significant growth in the recent year, the Company believes that period-to-period comparisons of its financial results should not be relied upon as an indication of future performance.

REVENUE

Product Revenue. Product revenue increased from less than $100,000 in the first two quarters of 1997 to $5.2 million and $22.1 million in the third and fourth quarters of 1997, respectively. This increase was due to sales from the RIVA128 graphics processor, which was introduced in August 1997. Unit shipments increased in the fourth quarter compared to the third quarter due to the shipment of product over an entire quarter as well as increased market acceptance of the RIVA128 graphics processor, while average selling prices declined slightly in the fourth quarter. In December 1997, the Company's sales of the RIVA128 graphics processor were negatively affected due to low manufacturing yields at ST, the Company's sole manufacturer. Any similar manufacturing difficulties with ST or other third-party manufacturers in the future could have a material adverse impact on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations. In addition, there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to increase or maintain its market share or that declines in ASPs for 3D graphics processors will not accelerate as the market develops and competition increases. See "Risk Factors--Erosion of Average Selling Prices" and "Dependence on Third-Party Manufacturers; Absence of Manufacturing Capacity; Manufacturing Risks."

Royalty Revenue. The Company has granted ST a license to sell the RIVA128 and the RIVA128ZX graphics processors. Royalty revenue from ST's sales of the RIVA128 graphics processor was $312,000 and $1.5 million in the third and fourth quarters of 1997, respectively. If ST were to stop selling the Company's products or if there were a material decline in the number of units sold by ST in the future, the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations would be materially adversely affected. See "Risk Factors--Dependence on ST Microelectronics."

GROSS PROFIT (LOSS)

Gross profit consists of total revenue less cost of revenue. Cost of revenue consists primarily of the costs of semiconductors purchased from the Company's contract manufacturers, manufacturing support costs (labor and overhead associated with such purchases) and shipping costs. Substantially all of the gross loss in the first two quarters of 1997 was attributable to increases in fixed manufacturing support costs. Introduction in August 1997 and subsequent sales of the RIVA128 graphics processor contributed to gross profit in the third quarter of 1997. Gross profit increased in the fourth quarter of 1997 due primarily to increased sales of the RIVA128 graphics processor, which were partially offset by lower average selling prices. Gross profit also increased in the third and fourth quarters of 1997 due to increases in royalty revenue from ST's sales of the RIVA128 graphics processor. Excluding royalty revenue, gross margin on product revenue was 11.8% and 26.0% in the third and fourth quarters of 1997, respectively. The increase in gross margin on product revenue in the fourth quarter of 1997 was primarily due to lower per unit production costs. The Company has been capacity constrained since the introduction of the RIVA128 graphics processor and has not experienced any material inventory build up. Gross profit and gross margin could be affected in the future by various factors, including changes in the volume of the Company's products, competitive pressures resulting in lower than expected ASPs, reduction in the amount of royalty revenue received from ST and inventory write-downs.

OPERATING EXPENSES

Research and Development. Research and development expenses consist primarily of salaries and benefits, cost of development tools and software, and consultant costs, net of contract funding from ST. Research and development expenses before adjustments for contract funding were $1.4 million, $1.7 million, $2.3 million and $3.2 million in the first, second, third and fourth quarters, respectively. Research and development expenses generally increased during the period, primarily due to additional personnel and related costs. The Company anticipates that it will continue to devote substantial resources to research and development and that these expenses will increase in absolute dollars in 1998.

Sales, General and Administrative. Sales, general and administrative expenses consist primarily of salaries, commissions and bonuses earned by sales, marketing and administrative personnel, promotional expenses and travel and entertainment, net of contract funding received from ST. Sales, general and administrative expenses increased in each of the four quarters ended December 31, 1997, primarily due to incremental promotional expenses, additional personnel and, in the third and fourth quarters of 1997, commissions and bonuses on sales of the RIVA128 graphics processor. The Company expects that sales and marketing expenses will continue to increase in absolute dollars as the Company expands its sales and marketing efforts and increases promotional activities, and that general and administrative expenses will increase in connection with expenses associated with being a public company and the Company's expected move to a larger facility in the third quarter of 1998.
STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION

With respect to certain stock options granted to employees in 1997, the Company recorded deferred compensation of $2.1 million. The Company amortized approximately $62,000 of the deferred compensation in the fourth quarter of 1997 and will amortize the remainder over the four-year vesting periods of the options. The Company expects to record an additional $2.1 million of deferred compensation for options granted to employees in the first quarter of 1998, which also will be amortized over the four-year vesting periods of the options. See Note 3 of Notes to Financial Statements.

INTEREST AND OTHER INCOME (EXPENSE), NET

Interest expense primarily comprises interest incurred as a result of capital lease obligations. Interest expense generally increased during the period as a result of additional equipment leased in support of the Company's increased development activities. The increases in interest expense were offset by increased interest income during the period. Interest income primarily comprises interest earned on the Company's cash and cash equivalents. Interest income increased in the third and fourth quarters as a result of increased cash balances resulting from proceeds from the sale of preferred stock in the third quarter of 1997.

DEFERRED TAX ASSETS

The Company had deferred tax assets for federal income tax purposes of approximately $6.3 million as of December 31, 1997, consisting primarily of net operating loss carryforwards that can be used to offset taxable income in future years. The deferred tax assets are fully offset by a valuation allowance. Future equity offerings combined with sales of the Company's equity during the preceding three years may constitute changes in ownership under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, and could limit the use of the Company's net operating loss carryforwards existing as of the date of the ownership change. Realization of the deferred tax assets also will depend on future taxable income.

FACTORS AFFECTING OPERATING RESULTS

The Company's quarterly and annual results of operations will be affected by a variety of factors that could materially adversely affect revenue, gross profit and results of operations. Factors that have affected the Company's results of operations in the past, and are likely to affect the Company's results of operations in the future, include, among others, demand and market acceptance of the Company's products; the successful development of next-generation products; unanticipated delays or problems in the introduction or performance of next-generation products; market acceptance of the products of the Company's customers; new product announcements or product introductions by the Company's competitors; the Company's ability to introduce new products in accordance with OEM design requirements and design cycles; changes in the timing of product orders due to unexpected delays in the introduction of products of the Company's customers or due to the life cycles of such customers' products ending earlier than anticipated; fluctuations in the availability of manufacturing capacity or manufacturing yields; competitive pressures resulting in lower than expected average selling prices; the volume of orders that are received and that can be fulfilled in a quarter; the rescheduling or cancellation of customer orders; the unanticipated termination of a strategic relationship; seasonal fluctuations associated with the tendency of PC sales to increase in the second half of each calendar year; and the level of expenditures for research and development of sales, general and administrative functions of the Company. In addition, the Company believes that quarterly and annual results of operations could be affected in the future by other factors, including changes in the relative volume of sales of the Company's products; seasonality in the PC market; the ability of the Company to reduce the process geometry of its products; supply constraints for the other components incorporated into its customers' products; the loss of a key customer; a reduction in the amount of royalties received from ST; costs associated with protecting the Company's intellectual property; inventory write-downs and foreign exchange rate fluctuations. Any one or more of these factors could result in the Company failing to achieve its expectations as to future revenue or net income.

Because most operating expenses are relatively fixed in the short term, the Company may be unable to adjust spending sufficiently in a timely manner to compensate for any unexpected sales shortfall, which could materially adversely affect quarterly results of operations. The Company will be required to reduce prices in response to competition or to pursue new market opportunities. If new competitors, technological advances by existing competitors or other competitive factors require the Company to invest significantly greater resources than anticipated in research and development or sales and marketing efforts, the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially adversely affected. Accordingly, the Company believes that period-to-period comparisons of its results of operations should not be relied upon as an indication of future performance. In addition, the results of any quarterly period are not indicative of results to be expected for a full fiscal year. As a result of fluctuating operating results or other factors discussed above, in certain future quarters the Company's results of operations may be below the expectations of public market analysts or investors. In such event, the market price of the Company's Common Stock would be materially adversely affected.

In 1997, the Company derived all of its revenue from the sale or license of products for use in PCs, and the Company expects to continue to derive substantially all of its revenue from the sale or license of products for use in PCs. As a result, failure of the demand for 3D graphics in the mainstream PC market to increase, or reductions or fluctuations in the demand for PCs, would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations. The PC industry is seasonal, and the Company expects that its financial results in the future will be affected by such seasonality.

YEAR 2000 COMPLIANCE

Many existing computer systems and applications and other control devices use only two digits to identify a year in the date field, without considering the impact of the upcoming change in the century. As a result, in less than two years, computer systems and applications used by many companies may need to be upgraded to comply with "Year 2000" requirements. The Company relies on its systems in operating and monitoring many significant aspects of its business, including financial systems (such as general ledger, accounts payable, accounts receivable, inventory and order management), customer services, infrastructure and network and telecommunications equipment. The Company also relies directly and indirectly on the systems of external business enterprises such as customers, suppliers, creditors, financial organizations and domestic and international governments. The Company currently estimates that its costs associated with Year 2000 compliance, including any costs associated with the consequences of incomplete or untimely resolution of Year 2000 compliance issues, will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations. However, the Company has not extensively investigated and does not believe it has fully identified such impact and has not concluded that it can resolve it without disruption of its business or without incurring significant expense. In addition, even if the Company's internal systems are not materially affected by Year 2000 compliance issues, the Company could be affected through disruption in the operation of the enterprises with which the Company interacts.
LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Since inception, the Company has financed its operations primarily through private sales of convertible preferred stock totaling $19.7 million and, to a lesser extent, equipment lease financing and proceeds received from the exercise of employee stock options. As of December 31, 1997, the Company had $6.5 million in cash and cash equivalents and no outstanding bank indebtedness. The Company has historically held its cash balances in cash equivalents such as money market funds or as cash. The Company places its money market funds with high credit quality financial institutions and limits the amount of exposure with any one financial institution.

Net cash used in operating activities was $6.1 million in 1995, $300,000 in 1996 and $1.2 million in 1997. The decrease from 1995 to 1996 was a result of a smaller operating loss and higher deferred contract funding in 1996, and the increase from 1996 to 1997 was a result of substantial increases in accounts receivable in 1997, partially offset by an increase in accounts payable. The Company's accounts receivable are highly concentrated and three customers accounted for all accounts receivable in 1997. Although the Company has not experienced any bad debt write-offs to date, there can be no assurance that the Company will not be required to write off bad debt in the future, which would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations.

To date, the Company's investing activities have consisted primarily of purchases of property and equipment. As of December 31, 1997, the Company did not have any material commitments other than commitments under operating and capital leases. See Note 4 of Notes to Financial Statements. The Company's capital expenditures, including capital leases, increased from $1.4 million in 1995 to $5.8 million in 1997, due to additional capital leases and purchases of computer equipment, including workstations and servers to support the Company's increased research and development activities. The Company expects its capital expenditures to increase as the Company further expands its research and development initiatives and as its employee base grows. The timing and amount of future capital expenditures will depend primarily on the Company's future growth. The Company expects to spend approximately $10.0 million for capital expenditures in 1998.

The Company believes that the net proceeds from this offering, together with its existing cash balances and anticipated cash flows from operations, will be sufficient to meet the Company's operating and capital requirements for at least the next 12 months, although the Company could be required, or could elect, to raise additional funds during such period. The Company's future liquidity and capital requirements will depend upon numerous factors, including the costs and timing of expansion of research and product development efforts and the success of these development efforts, the costs and timing of expansion of sales and marketing activities, the extent to which the Company's existing and new products gain market acceptance, competing technological and market developments, the costs involved in maintaining and enforcing patent claims and other intellectual property rights, available borrowings under line of credit arrangements and other factors. The Company expects that it may need to raise additional equity or debt financing in the future. There can be no assurance that such additional financing will be available at all, or that such financing, if available will be obtainable on terms favorable to the Company and will not be dilutive to the Company's then-current stockholders.

INDUSTRY BACKGROUND

Interactive 3D graphics technology is emerging as one of the most significant new computing developments since the introduction of the graphical user interface. The visually engaging and interactive nature of 3D graphics responds to consumers' demands for a convincing simulation of reality beyond what is possible with traditional 2D graphics. The fundamental interactive capability of 3D graphics is expected to make it a natural and compelling medium for existing and emerging applications for entertainment, Internet, business and education.

Interactive 3D graphics is required across various computing and entertainment platforms, such as workstations, specialized arcade systems and home gaming consoles. However, the mainstream PC market has only recently begun to transition from traditional 2D graphics to high quality, interactive 3D graphics. Continuing advancements in semiconductor manufacturing have made available more powerful and affordable microprocessors and 3D graphics processors, both of which are essential to deliver interactive 3D graphics to the mainstream PC market. Additionally, the industry has broadly adopted Microsoft's 3D application programming interface (“API”), Direct3D, which serves as a common and standard language between software applications and 3D graphics processors. This has spurred the development of numerous compelling 3D titles, and subsequently strong consumer demand.

The Company believes that a PC's interactive 3D graphics capability represents one of the primary means by which users differentiate among various systems. PC users today can easily differentiate the quality of graphics and prefer personal computers that provide a superior visual experience. These factors have dramatically increased demand for 3D graphics processors. Mercury Research estimates that 3D graphics will be standard in every PC unit shipped by 2001. Mercury Research also estimates 8.6 million 3D graphics processors were sold in 1997 and 180 million will be sold in 2001.

The technology required to create interactive and visually engaging 3D graphics is algorithmically complex and computationally intensive. To deliver high quality interactive 3D graphics, advanced 3D graphics processors require millions of transistors to process billions of arithmetic operations per second. Current 3D graphics processors are over ten times more complex than 2D accelerators and comparable to the complexity of the Pentium microprocessor. Yet despite recent advances, PC 3D graphics available today cannot deliver in real time the quality of graphics seen in the film "Toy Story." Such 3D graphics required over 100 powerful workstations and over 800,000 computer hours to render the film's 114,000 frames, with each frame requiring an average of seven hours to render. For mainstream PCs to provide this level of 3D graphics capability, the performance of 3D graphics processors will need to be improved by several more orders of magnitude. To approach "real world" graphics performance even beyond that seen in "Toy Story," graphics processors would require significant further improvement in performance.

The demanding requirements of high performance 3D graphics present significant new challenges for semiconductor graphics companies in the mainstream PC market. Certain suppliers offer 3D graphics solutions that only address specific niches of the market, such as the gaming or CAD/CAM markets. These solutions typically have been relatively expensive, in some cases involving multiple chips on an add-in card, with separate chips for 2D graphics and 3D graphics processing. Furthermore, these niche 3D solutions often require content providers to develop to proprietary APIs other than Microsoft's Direct3D in order to achieve the necessary performance. The higher product costs and API limitations have made it difficult for such targeted 3D graphics solutions to achieve widespread acceptance in the mainstream PC market. On the other end of the spectrum, traditional 2D graphics suppliers have attempted to leverage their installed base by adding 3D graphics functionality to their 2D graphics architectures. However, 3D graphics algorithms and architectures are significantly more complex than those of 2D graphics, and the traditional 2D graphics suppliers face many challenges to develop and provide cost-effective high performance 3D graphics.

The Company believes that a substantial market opportunity exists for providers of high performance 3D graphics products for the mainstream PC market, particularly as high performance 3D graphics have become an increasingly important requirement and point of differentiation for PC OEMs. Consumer PC users demand a compelling visual experience and compatibility with existing and next-generation 3D graphics. Application developers require high performance, standards-based 3D architectures with broad market penetration. Since graphics is a key point of differentiation, PC OEMs continually seek to incorporate leading-edge cost-effective 3D graphics solutions to build award-winning products. The Company believes that providers of interactive 3D graphics solutions will compete based on their ability to leverage their technology expertise to simultaneously meet the needs of end users, application developers and OEMs.

THE NVIDIA SOLUTION

NVIDIA has developed a family of 3D graphics processors and related software that provides high performance interactive 3D graphics to the mainstream PC market. The Company's products allow users to enjoy a highly immersive, interactive 3D experience with compelling visual quality, realistic motion and complex object and scene interaction at real-time frame rates. By providing this level of performance at an affordable price to OEMs and end users, the Company believes that it will accelerate the adoption of interactive 3D graphics throughout the mainstream PC market. The Company's products are used by leading PC OEMs, such as Compaq, Dell, Gateway 2000, Micron and Packard Bell NEC, and leading add-in board manufacturers, such as Diamond and STB. The Company's products have received significant industry validation and have enabled the Company's customers to receive over 40 industry awards.

The key features and benefits of the Company's solution are as follows:

High Performance. The RIVA128 graphics processor's 128-bit architecture combined with a proprietary texture cache can process 1.5 million polygons per second and maintain a fill rate of 100 million texture mapped pixels per second. This performance is driven by the processing power of its 5 GFLOPS (billions of floating point operations per second) floating point polygon setup engine and its 15 BOPS (billions of operations per second) integer pixel processing engine. The RIVA128 graphics processor also includes an extensive set of reference drivers that translate between the software API and hardware. The software driver is designed to maximize performance of the graphics processor and maintain compatibility with each successive generation of the Company's products. The software drivers have the flexibility to be continually enhanced in order to further improve the performance of the processors. The Company believes that the high performance of the RIVA128 graphics processor provides a competitive advantage to the Company's OEM customers, enabling them to differentiate their systems from those of other PC vendors.

Standards-Based. The RIVA128 products are architected to take full advantage of industry standards such as Microsoft's Direct3D. The standards-compliant design of the RIVA128 graphics processor provides OEMs maximum flexibility in the design and use of the system. In particular, the Company believes that its focus on the Microsoft Direct3D API positions it well in the mainstream PC market as this standard proliferates and supports more advanced 3D visuals. Microsoft's Direct3D API has gained broad developer support, with numerous 3D titles currently using this API.

Integrated Design. The RIVA128 graphics processor is a highly integrated single-chip processor that supports high performance interactive 3D graphics applications while simultaneously optimizing 2D graphics and providing VGA compatibility and DVD playback. By integrating 2D graphics and 3D graphics on one chip, the Company believes that it has standardized the platform for developers and provided a graphics solution that is simpler and lower cost relative to competing solutions, including multi-chip or multi-board 2D/3D graphics subsystems.

128-bit Architecture. The Company's 128-bit product architecture and leading technology enable it to provide products with state-of-the-art interactive 3D graphics performance and superior processing power. With its "fast-and-wide" 100 megahertz, 128-bit graphics and memory interface, the RIVA128 graphics processor delivers 3D graphics with great detail, smooth shading, high frame rates and overall stunning effects, while maintaining volume pricing for multimedia and entertainment applications.

STRATEGY

The Company's objective is to be the leading supplier of high performance 3D graphics processors for PCs. The Company's strategy to achieve this objective includes the following key elements:

Focus on the Mainstream PC Market. The Company's strategy is to achieve market leadership in the high volume mainstream PC market by providing award-winning performance at competitive prices. By developing 3D graphics solutions that provide superior performance and address the key requirements of the mainstream PC market, NVIDIA believes that it will accelerate the adoption of 3D graphics throughout the mainstream PC market. As part of its strategy to address the broadest segment of the PC market, the Company has closely aligned its product development with Microsoft's Direct3D API, rather than creating and promoting a proprietary API. The Company believes this alignment with Direct3D maximizes third-party software support.

Target Leading OEMs. The Company's strategy is to enable its leading OEM customers to differentiate their products in a highly competitive marketplace by using NVIDIA's high performance 3D graphics processors. NVIDIA believes that design wins with these industry leaders provide market validation of its products, increase brand awareness and enhance the Company's ability to penetrate additional leading customer accounts. In addition, the Company believes that close relationships with OEMs will allow the Company to better anticipate and address customer needs with its future generation of products. NVIDIA's products currently are designed into products offered by five of the top ten PC OEMs in the United States--Compaq, Dell, Gateway 2000, Micron and Packard Bell NEC--and by leading add-in board manufacturers such as Diamond and STB.

Extend Technological Leadership in 3D Graphics. NVIDIA believes that its products provide superior interactive 3D graphics to the mainstream PC market. The Company is focused on leveraging its advanced engineering capabilities to accelerate the quality and performance of 3D graphics in PCs. A fundamental aspect of NVIDIA's strategy is to actively recruit the best 3D graphics engineers in the industry, and NVIDIA believes that it has assembled an exceptionally experienced and talented engineering team. The Company intends to leverage this advantage to achieve new levels of graphics features and performance, enabling customers to achieve award-winning performance in their products.
Increase Market Share by Leveraging Strategic Alliances. The Company believes that substantial market share will be important to achieving success in the 3D graphics business. The Company intends to achieve a leading share of the market by devoting substantial resources towards establishing NVIDIA’s brand and leading product capabilities as the de facto graphics standard for end users, application developers and OEMs. The Company has leveraged the RIVA128 graphics processor architecture to achieve broader market penetration by forming a strategic alliance with ST that gives ST the right to manufacture products for sale.

NVIDIA ARCHITECTURE, PRODUCTS AND PRODUCTS UNDER DEVELOPMENT

3D PROCESSING TECHNOLOGY BACKGROUND

3D graphics processors create two-dimensional images, which can be displayed on computer monitors or other output devices, from computer specifications of three-dimensional objects or “models.” These two-dimensional images are typically the perspective view of the objects from an eye-point that changes with time, and as such are computationally very intensive. The 3D effect arises from a variety of visual cues, such as perspective, occlusion, surface shading, shadows, focus and motion. Convincing realism arises from precise calculation of these and other effects, and these calculations require dedicated processors, which provide far more power and bandwidth than microprocessors can deliver.

The 3D graphics process is a series of specialized steps, often referred to as the 3D graphics pipeline. Typically, the microprocessor chooses an eye-point and decides which objects should be displayed. These are commonly communicated to the graphics subsystem via a software interface, such as Microsoft’s Direct3D or SGI’s OpenGL. The processing itself occurs in several steps, as depicted and described below:

GEOMETRY POLYGON
MODEL -- PROCESSING -- SETUP -- RASTERIZATION -- DISPLAY

Model. The model typically is expressed as a set of polygons, such as triangles, that form the basic shape of a three-dimensional object and have attributes such as position and color at each vertex.

Geometry processing. Geometry processing transforms the original position and orientation of the polygons to their new position on the screen. Based on their position and orientation, some aspects of their surface color and lighting can be computed. The 3D visual cues of perspective and motion are handled during this stage. These calculations require very high floating-point computation power and are performed by the host microprocessor.

Polygon setup. Polygon setup calculates the slopes of the polygon sides and various other derivatives that greatly accelerate the rasterization process. Although early graphics devices performed these calculations in the host microprocessor, today’s 3D graphics processor perform these calculations, permitting significantly higher performance.

Rasterization. Rasterization computes the color and other information for every pixel (dot on the screen) that a transformed polygon touches. A number of complex algorithms compute the color uniquely for each pixel, as well as perform the remaining visual cues, such as shading, shadows, focus and occlusion. This is the most computationally intensive step of the graphics pipeline and the processors are required to perform up to 1,000 calculations per pixel, with this number increasing rapidly.

Display. Display consists of sequentially reading out the color of each pixel at a rate matched to the monitor. Unlike the other stages in the 3D graphics pipeline, which are purely digital, the signals to the monitor are analog, and the frequencies are far higher.
The complexity of the different steps in the 3D graphics pipeline requires billions of floating-point and integer operations in real time to deliver a realistic and interactive experience. Image quality determines whether 3D computer representation looks realistic, and 3D performance determines whether a 3D system conveys a sense of fluid motion in real time. If the performance is below a certain threshold, a 3D system can in fact reduce the productivity or the enjoyment of the user, even if the image quality is high. The challenge with high quality 3D is to deliver the processing power required to perform these computations without creating bottlenecks in the 3D graphics pipeline.

NVIDIA PROCESSOR ARCHITECTURE

The RIVA128 graphics processor is highly integrated and delivers high frame rate 3D graphics, as well as 2D graphics, VGA and video processing in a single processor. The primary functional units of the RIVA128 graphics processor are the 3D geometry processing unit, the 2D engine, the 3D pixel processor, the texture cache and the Palette-DAC and video processor. The following illustrates the primary components of the RIVA128 graphics processor:

![Description of illustration: Depiction of RIVA128 3D graphics processor, with the following functional areas labelled: 3D Geometry Processing Unit, Texture Cache, Video Port, 2D Engine, 3D Pixel Processor, Palette-DAC and Video Processor, VGA, Internal Bus, Memory Controller, PCI/AGP Interface.]

The RIVA128 3D Graphics Processor

3D Geometry Processing Unit. This engine performs the polygon setup and lighting calculations and prepares data for pixel processing. This 5 GFLOPs floating point engine processes up to five million triangles per second.

2D Engine. The 2D rendering engine provides high performance for 2D applications. The 2D engine is necessary for applications such as those used in a business environment where 2D objects are drawn to and moved around on the computer monitor. Examples include Windows-based applications such as Microsoft Word, Powerpoint or Excel. The presence of high performance 2D graphics is a critical function for 3D graphics processors targeted for the mainstream PC market.

3D Pixel Processor. The 3D pixel processor calculates pixel colors and other attributes to be rendered to the computer screen. It includes advanced rendering capabilities, such as 32-bit RGB Gouraud shading, alpha blending, perspective correct per pixel fog and perspective correct specular highlights.

Texture Cache. The texture cache provides high performance, local texture storage for the pixel processing engine.

Palette-DAC and Video Processor. The RIVA128 graphics processor Palette-DAC pipeline accelerates full-motion video playback, sustaining 30 frames per second while retaining high quality color resolution, implementing true bilinear filtering for scaled video, and compensating for filtering losses using edge enhancement algorithms.

The RIVA128 graphics processor breaks through bottlenecks created by the computationally intensive requirements of 3D graphics by providing superior processing power.

The highly integrated RIVA128 graphics processor delivers high frame rate 3D graphics, as well as 2D graphics, VGA and video processing in a single processor. The RIVA128 graphics processor also includes a rich set of reference drivers and tools that translate between software API and hardware. These drivers also provide the ability to connect to and process data from external video devices. The software driver is designed to maximize performance of the graphics processor and to maintain compatibility with each successive generation of the Company's products. The software drivers have the flexibility to be continually enhanced in order to further improve the performance of the processors. The RIVA128 graphics processor has received significant industry validation and has enabled the Company's customers to receive over 40 industry awards. Key features of the RIVA128 graphics processor include the following:

Standard API Compatibility. The RIVA128 graphics processor supports applications written for the two most widely accepted industry standard graphics APIs, Microsoft's Direct3D and SGI's OpenGL.

5 GFLOPs Polygon Setup Engine. Polygon setup minimizes the number of format conversions and other calculations performed by the host microprocessor. The polygon setup engine can operate at a sustained rate of 1.5 million triangles per second or a peak rate of five million triangles per second.

Full 3D Feature Set. The full 3D feature set includes perspective correct texturing, bi-linear filtering, Z-buffer, LOD MIP-mapping, lighting and alpha blending.

128-bit Graphics Engine and Memory Interface. The "fast and wide" 128-bit memory interface provides 1.6 gigabytes per second bandwidth to local frame buffer memory, which results in industry-leading performance and graphics realism.

230 MHz Integrated RAMDAC. The 230 MHz integrated RAMDAC allows for high resolution, high refresh rate output to computer monitors.

NTSC/PAL TV Output. NTSC/PAL television output allows connections to television monitors.

Media Port. The media port allows direct input from television signals and MPEG2/DVD devices.

The RIVA128 graphics processor is produced using a .35 micron manufacturing process. The Company introduced the RIVA128 graphics processor in April 1997 and began shipping in volume in August 1997.
The RIVA128ZX graphics processor extends the functionality and performance of the RIVA128 graphics processor and includes two additional design features, AGP 2X and an 8MB (megabyte) frame buffer. The AGP 2X, Intel's newest graphics bus, doubles the available bandwidth between the microprocessor and the graphics engine. With AGP 2X support, the RIVA128ZX graphics processor is designed to process more complex 3D computer representations more efficiently. Doubling the size of the frame buffer to 8MB provides the RIVA128ZX graphics processor with the ability to support higher resolution displays with more colors, resulting in a richer real-time experience.

The RIVA128ZX graphics processor is produced using a .35 micron manufacturing process and is scheduled for shipment in 1998.

SALES AND MARKETING

NVIDIA's sales strategy is a key part of its objective to become the leading supplier of high performance 3D graphics processors for PCs. In order to meet customer and end-user requirements and achieve design wins, the Company's sales team works closely with PC OEMs, add-in board manufacturers and industry trend setters to define product features, performance, price and timing of new products. Members of the Company's sales team have a high level of technical expertise and product and industry knowledge to support a competitive and complex design win process. NVIDIA also employs a highly skilled team of application engineers to assist PC OEMs and add-in board manufacturers in designing, testing and qualifying system designs that incorporate NVIDIA products. The Company believes that the depth and quality of this design support are key to improving PC OEMs' and add-in board manufacturers' time-to-market, maintaining a high level of customer satisfaction among PC OEMs and add-in board manufacturers and fostering relationships that encourage its customers to use the next-generation of NVIDIA's products.

In the 3D graphics market, the sales process involves influencing leading PC OEMs' and add-in board manufacturers' graphics processor purchasing decisions, achieving key design wins and supporting the product design into high volume production. These design wins in turn influence the retail and system integrator channel that is serviced by add-in board manufacturers. The Company's distribution strategy is to work with a relatively small number of leading add-in board manufacturers that have relationships with a broad range of major PC OEMs and/or strong brand name recognition in the retail channel. Currently, the Company sells the RIVA128 3D graphics processor directly to add-in board manufacturers, such as Diamond and STB, which in turn sell boards with the RIVA128 graphics processor to leading OEMs, such as Compaq, Dell, Gateway, Micron and Packard Bell NEC, to retail outlets, such as BestBuy and CompUSA, and to a large number of system integrators. In 1997, sales to STB and Diamond accounted for 63% and 31%, respectively, of the Company's total revenue.

The Company also has a strategic collaboration agreement with ST (the "ST Agreement"), pursuant to which ST manufactures the RIVA128 graphics processor, sells it to the Company and distributes the RIVA128 graphics processor on the Company's behalf. ST is entitled under the ST Agreement to sell the RIVA128 graphics processor in consideration for a royalty payment to the Company. ST also is entitled under this agreement to manufacture and sell the RIVA128ZX graphics processor. Under the ST Agreement ST also has a worldwide license to incorporate the technology underlying the RIVA128 and RIVA128ZX graphics processors (including the source code and architecture) (the "RIVA Technology") in its own products, subject to certain limitations on the modification of such technology, and a right to receive software engineering and quality assurance support from the Company for the RIVA Technology through December 31, 1998. The Company believes that its relationship with ST allows it to realize broad market penetration, increase sales leverage and achieve greater brand awareness. Royalty revenue received from ST pursuant to the ST Agreement represented 6% of the Company's total revenue in 1997.

The NVIDIA sales effort is accompanied by a variety of product and corporate marketing activities, including technical support and product launches. As part of the product launch effort, the Company demonstrates new products to highlight their capabilities. NVIDIA believes these demonstrations help position its products favorably relative to products of its competitors. The Company also maintains close relationships with key industry analysts and trade press, conducts frequent press tours and participates, with its add-in board manufacturers and OEM customers, in benchmark tests executed by key trade publications. In addition, the Company sponsors and participates in industry tradeshows, marketing communications and market development activities designed to generate awareness of the Company and its products. The Company intends to continue to devote significant resources toward establishing brand recognition, including advertising in key newspapers and trade magazines and participation in graphics newsgroups and web sites. The Company also uses its corporate web site to promote the Company and its products.

To encourage software title developers and publishers to develop games optimized for platforms utilizing the Company's products, the Company seeks to establish and maintain strong relationships in the software development community. Engineering and marketing personnel interact with and visit key software developers to promote and discuss the Company's products, seeking product requirements and solving technical problems. The Company's developer program makes products available to partners prior to volume availability to encourage the development of software titles that are optimized for the Company's products.

MANUFACTURING

The Company has a "fabless" manufacturing strategy whereby the Company employs world class suppliers for all phases of the manufacturing process, including fabrication, assembly and testing. This strategy leverages the expertise of industry-leading, ISO-certified suppliers in such areas as fabrication, assembly, quality control and assurance, reliability and testing, and allows the Company to avoid the significant costs and risks associated with owning and operating such manufacturing operations. These suppliers also are responsible for procurement of raw materials used in the production of the Company's products. As a result, the Company can focus its resources on product design, quality assurance, marketing and customer support.

The RIVA128 graphics processor is currently fabricated for the Company by ST, which is one of the ten largest semiconductor manufacturers in the world. ST currently produces the semiconductor die for the Company using a .35 micron Complementary Metal-Oxide Semiconductor (CMOS) process technology. ST then assembles and packages the semiconductor die, tests the finished product, and ships the finished product to the Company. ST has fabrication operations located in Crolles, France and assembly and testing operations located in Malta. The Company has recently begun using TSMC to manufacture the RIVA128ZX graphics processor, although it has not yet received volume quantities of any products from TSMC. The products manufactured by TSMC will be assembled in Korea by Anam and initially tested in California by Digital Testing Service, although the Company intends to have volume testing performed by Anam in the future. The Company currently is seeking an additional source of supply for both assembly and test.

The fabrication of semiconductors is a complex process. Contaminants, defects in masks used to print circuits on wafers, difficulties in the fabrication process and other factors can cause a substantial percentage of wafers to be rejected or a significant number of die on each wafer to be nonfunctional. These problems are difficult to diagnose and time-consuming and expensive to remedy. As a result, semiconductor companies frequently encounter difficulties in achieving acceptable product yields. When production of a new product begins, as will be the case with the RIVA128ZX graphics processor, the Company typically pays for wafers, which may or may not have any functional products. Accordingly, the Company bears the financial risk until production is stabilized. Once production is stabilized, the Company pays for functional die only. Because TSMC has only recently begun to manufacture products for the Company, until the production yields of its product at TSMC stabilize, the Company must pay an agreed price for wafers regardless of yield. Failure to stabilize yields or failure to achieve acceptable yields from any current or future third-party manufacturer would materially adversely affect the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations. For example, in December 1997, the Company experienced low manufacturing yields at ST.

The Company receives semiconductor products from its subcontractors, performs incoming quality assurance and ships them to its add-in board manufacturer customers, such as Diamond and STB, from its
In the event of production difficulties, shortages or delays experienced by any one of its suppliers, the Company's business, financial condition or results of operation may be adversely impacted. Furthermore, although quality assurance measures have been taken, there can be no guarantee against defects affecting the quality, performance or reliability of the Company's products. Any such defects could require costly product recalls or cessation of shipments, adversely affecting the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations, and resulting in a decline of revenues, increased costs (associated with return, repair, replacement and shrinkage associated with such defects), cancellations or rescheduling of customer orders and shipments. See "Risk Factors--Dependence on Third-Party Manufacturers; Absence of Manufacturing Capacity; Manufacturing Risks," "--Dependence on ST Microelectronics," "--Manufacturing Yields," "--Transition to New Manufacturing Process Technologies," "--Dependence on Third-Party Subcontractors for Assembly and Testing" and "--Risks of Product Defects and Incompatibilities; Product Liability."

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

The Company believes that the continued introduction of new and enhanced products designed to deliver leading 3D graphics performance will be essential to its future success. NVIDIA's research and development strategy is to focus on concurrently developing multiple generations of devices using independent design teams. The Company's research and development team has enabled NVIDIA to deliver award-winning products to its OEM customers. The Company's products have enabled its customers to win over 40 awards from recognized industry publications, including PC Magazine, PC Computing, PC World, Computer Gaming World, PC Games and CNET.

NVIDIA's research and development efforts are performed within specialized groups consisting of software engineering, hardware engineering, VLSI design engineering, process engineering, and architecture and algorithms. These groups act as a pipeline designed to allow the efficient simultaneous development of new products. The software engineering group is responsible for the development of drivers for the various software APIs. The hardware engineering group designs and develops new product hardware. The VLSI design engineering group maps the Company's design ideas to specific silicon structures, and the process engineering group determines how these devices will be fabricated and communicates with the Company's manufacturers. The architecture and algorithms group is responsible for maintaining and further developing what the Company believes is an extensible product architecture, allowing the Company to continually add features to its products without sacrificing compatibility or incurring significant redesign costs.

A critical component of the Company's product development effort is its partnerships with leaders in the CAD industry. The Company has invested significant resources to develop relationships with industry leaders, including Avant! Corporation, Cadence Design Systems, Inc. and Synopsys, Inc. The Company believes that by forming these relationships, and utilizing next-generation development tools to design, simulate and verify its products, NVIDIA will be able to remain at the forefront of the 3D graphics market and to continue to develop products on a rapid basis that utilize leading-edge technology.

The Company has substantially increased its engineering and technical resources and has over 60 full-time employees engaged in research and development. Expenditures for research and development before adjustments for contract funding were $2.4 million, $1.2 million and $6.6 million in 1995, 1996 and 1997, respectively.

COMPETITION

The market for 3D graphics processors for mainstream PCs in which the Company competes is intensely competitive and is characterized by rapid technological change, evolving industry standards and declining average selling prices. NVIDIA believes that the principal factors of competition in this market are performance, conformity to industry-standard APIs, software support, access to customers and distribution channels, manufacturing capabilities and price. The Company expects competition to increase both from existing competitors and new market entrants with products that may be less costly than the Company’s 3D graphics processors or may provide better performance or additional features not provided by the Company’s products. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to compete successfully in the emerging mainstream PC graphics market.

NVIDIA’s primary source of competition is from companies that provide or intend to provide 3D graphics solutions for the mainstream PC market. These include (i) new entrants in the 3D graphics processor market with existing presence in the PC market, such as Intel, (ii) suppliers of graphics add-in boards that utilize their internally developed graphics chips, such as ATI and Matrox, (iii) suppliers of 2D graphics chips that are introducing 3D functionality as part of their existing solutions, such as S3 and Trident, (iv) companies that have traditionally focused on the professional market and provide high end 3D solutions for PCs and workstations, including 3DLabs and Real3D, and (v) companies with strength in the interactive entertainment market, such as Chromatic, 3DFx and Rendition.

In February 1998, Intel announced the introduction of the i740, a 3D graphics accelerator that is targeted at the mainstream PC market. Intel has significantly greater resources than the Company, and there can be no assurance that the Company’s products will compete effectively against the i740 or any future products introduced by Intel, that the Company will be able to compete effectively against Intel or that Intel will not introduce additional products that are competitive with the Company’s products in either performance or price or both. NVIDIA expects Intel to continue to invest heavily in research and development and new manufacturing facilities, to maintain its position as the largest manufacturer of PC microprocessors and one of the largest manufacturers of motherboards, to increasingly dominate the PC platform and to promote its product offerings through advertising campaigns designed to engender brand loyalty among PC users. Intel may in the future develop graphics add-in cards or graphics-enabled motherboards using its i740 3D graphics accelerators or other graphics accelerators, which could directly compete with graphics add-in cards or graphics-enabled motherboards that the Company’s customers may develop. In addition, due to the widespread industry acceptance of Intel’s microprocessor architecture and interface architecture, including its AGP, Intel exercises significant influence over the PC industry generally, and any significant modifications by Intel to the AGP, the microprocessor or other aspects of the PC microprocessor architecture could result in incompatibility with the Company’s technology, which would have a material adverse effect on the Company’s business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, any delay in the public release of information relating to such modifications could have a material adverse effect on the Company’s business, financial condition or results of operations.

In addition to Intel, the Company competes with suppliers of graphics add-in boards that utilize their internally developed graphics chips, such as ATI and Matrox. NVIDIA also competes with companies that typically have operated in the PC 2D graphics market and that now offer 3D graphics capability as an enhancement to their 2D graphics solutions, such as S3 and Trident. Many of these competitors have introduced 3D graphics functionality on new versions of existing graphics chips. In addition, the Company’s competitors include companies that traditionally have focused on the production of high-end 3D graphics systems targeted at the professional market, such as 3DLabs, Intergraph, Real3D and SGI. While these companies produce high performance 3D graphics systems, they historically have done so at a significantly higher price point than the Company and have focused on the professional and engineering market. Some of these companies are developing lower cost versions of their 3D graphics technology to bring workstation-like 3D graphics to mainstream PCs, and there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to compete successfully against them. For example, 3DLabs markets the PERMEDIA 2, a graphics accelerator designed for the mainstream PC market. NVIDIA also competes with companies that have recently entered or are expected to enter the market with an integrated 3D/2D graphics solution, but which have not traditionally manufactured 2D graphics solutions, such as Chromatic, 3DFx and Rendition. In addition to the Company’s known competitors, the Company anticipates that there will be new entrants in the graphics processor market, and there can be no assurance that the Company will compete effectively against any such new competitors.
Several of the Company's current and potential competitors have substantially greater financial, technical, manufacturing, marketing, distribution and other resources, greater name recognition and market presence, broader product lines for the PC market, longer operating histories, lower cost structures and larger customer bases than the Company. As a result, they may be able to adapt more quickly to new or emerging technologies and changes in customer requirements. Regardless of the relative qualities of the Company's products, the market power, product breadth and customer relationships of its larger competitors, particularly Intel, can be expected to provide such competitors with substantial competitive advantages. The Company does not seek to compete on the basis of price alone, but may be forced to lower prices to compete effectively. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to compete successfully in the emerging mainstream PC 3D graphics market.

PATENTS AND PROPRIETARY RIGHTS

The Company relies primarily on a combination of patent, mask-work protection, trademarks, copyrights, trade secret laws, employee and third-party nondisclosure agreements and licensing arrangements to protect its intellectual property. The Company has 11 issued patents and 16 patent applications pending in the United States. The Company has no foreign patents or patent applications. There can be no assurance that the Company's pending patent application or any future applications will be approved, that any issued patents will provide the Company with competitive advantages or will not be challenged by third parties, or that the patents of others will not have an adverse effect on the Company's ability to do business. In addition, there can be no assurance that others will not independently develop substantially equivalent intellectual property or otherwise gain access to the Company's trade secrets or intellectual property, or disclose such intellectual property or trade secrets, or that the Company can effectively protect its intellectual property. A failure by the Company to meaningfully protect its intellectual property could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations.

The Company attempts to protect its trade secrets and other proprietary information through confidentiality agreements with manufacturers and other partners, proprietary information agreements with employees and consultants and other security measures. The Company also relies on trademarks and trade secret laws to protect its intellectual property. Despite these efforts, there can be no assurance that others will not gain access to the Company's trade secrets, or that the Company can meaningfully protect its intellectual property. In addition, effective trade secret protection may be unavailable or limited in certain foreign countries. Although the Company intends to protect its rights vigorously, there can be no assurance that such measures will be successful.

The semiconductor industry is characterized by vigorous protection and pursuit of intellectual property rights or positions, which has resulted in significant and often protracted and expensive litigation. The 3D graphics market in particular has been characterized recently by the aggressive pursuit of intellectual property positions, and the Company expects its competitors to continue to pursue aggressive intellectual property positions. There is currently no pending intellectual property litigation against the Company. However, the Company from time to time has received notices alleging that the Company has infringed patents or other intellectual property rights owned by third parties. ST has certain patent licenses that in some cases may allow ST to manufacture the Company's products without infringing third-party patents. As the Company's products are manufactured by TSMC or other manufacturers, such licenses will no longer benefit the Company and therefore the risk of a third-party claim of patent infringement against the Company will increase. In the event infringement claims are made against the Company, the Company may seek licenses under such patents or other intellectual property rights. However, there can be no assurance that licenses will be offered or that the terms of any offered licenses will be acceptable to the Company. The failure to obtain a license from a third party for technology used by the Company could cause the Company to incur substantial liabilities and to suspend the manufacture of products. Furthermore, the Company may initiate claims or litigation against third parties for infringement of the Company's proprietary rights or to establish the validity of the Company's proprietary rights. The Company has agreed to indemnify certain customers for claims of infringement arising out of sale of the Company's product. Litigation by or against the Company or such customers concerning infringement would likely result in significant expense to the Company and divert the efforts of the Company's technical and management personnel, whether or not such litigation results in a favorable determination for the Company. In the event of an adverse result in any such litigation, the Company could be required to pay substantial damages, (which could include treble damages) cease the manufacture, use and sale of infringing products, expend significant resources to develop non-infringing technology, discontinue the use of certain processes or obtain licenses for the infringing technology. There can be no assurance that the Company would be successful in such development or that such licenses would be available on reasonable terms, or at all, and any such development or license could require expenditures by the Company of substantial time and other resources. Although patent disputes in the semiconductor industry have often been settled through cross-licensing arrangements, there can be no assurance that, in the event that any third party makes a successful claim against the Company or its customers, a cross-licensing arrangement could be reached. If a license is not made available to the Company on commercially reasonable terms, the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations could be materially adversely affected.

There can be no assurance that infringement claims by third parties or claims for indemnification by other customers or end users of the Company's products resulting from infringement claims will not be asserted in the future or that such assertions, if proven to be true, will not materially adversely affect the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations. Any limitations on the Company's ability to market its products, or delays and costs associated with redesigning its products or payments of license fees to third parties, or any failure by the Company to develop or license a substitute technology on commercially reasonable terms could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations.

EMPLOYEES

As of December 31, 1997, the Company had 92 employees, 62 of whom were engaged in engineering and 30 of whom were engaged in sales, marketing, operations and administrative positions. No employee of the Company is covered by collective bargaining agreements, and the Company believes that its relationship with its employees is good.

The Company's ability to operate successfully will depend in significant part upon the continued service of certain key technical and managerial personnel, and its continuing ability to attract and retain additional highly qualified technical and managerial personnel. Competition for such personnel is intense, and there can be no assurance that the Company can retain such personnel or that it can attract or retain other highly qualified technical and managerial personnel in the future, including key sales and marketing personnel. The loss of key personnel or the inability to hire and retain qualified personnel could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations. See "Risk Factors-- Dependence on Key Personnel."

FACILITIES

The Company leases approximately 34,000 square feet in one building in Sunnyvale, California, pursuant to a lease that expires in August 1998. Although, the Company believes that it will be able to secure facilities adequate to meet its needs for the foreseeable future, an inability of the Company to timely secure adequate facilities on reasonable terms, or an inability to effectively manage the transition to larger facilities, could have a material adverse effect on the Company’s business, financial condition or results of operations.

(1) Options generally vest at a rate of 25% on the first anniversary of the vesting commencement date and 6.25% each quarter thereafter and have a term of 10 years. Options are immediately exercisable; however, the shares purchasable under such options are subject to repurchase by the Company at the original exercise price paid per share upon the optionee's cessation of service prior to the vesting of such shares.

(2) Based on an aggregate of 4,841,232 shares subject to options granted to persons who were employees of the Company in the fiscal year ended December 31, 1997, including the Named Executive Officers.

(3) The potential realizable value is calculated based on the term of the option at the time of grant (10 years) and an assumed initial public offering price of $ per share. Stock price appreciation of 5% and 10% is assumed pursuant to rules promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission and does not represent the Company's prediction of its stock price performance. The potential realizable value is calculated based on the deemed value at the date of grant and assumes that the deemed value appreciates from the date of grant at the indicated annual rate compounded annually for the entire term of the option and that the option is exercised at the exercise price and sold on the last day of its term at the appreciated price.

EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLANS

1998 EQUITY INCENTIVE PLAN

The Company's 1998 Equity Incentive Plan (the "Incentive Plan") was adopted in February 1998 and replaces the Company's Equity Incentive Plan adopted in May 1993 (as amended in March 1995, January 1996 and December 1997). An aggregate of 15,000,000 shares of Common Stock currently are authorized for issuance under the Incentive Plan. However, each year on January 1, starting with January 1, 1999, the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock that are available for issuance under the Incentive Plan will automatically be increased by a number of shares equal to 5% of the Company's outstanding shares of Common Stock on such date.

The Incentive Plan provides for the grant of incentive stock options, as defined under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), to employees (including officers and employee directors) and nonstatutory stock options, restricted stock purchase awards and stock bonuses to employees (including officers and employee directors), directors and consultants of the Company and its affiliates. The Incentive Plan is administered by the Compensation Committee, which determines the recipients and types of awards to be granted, including the exercise price, number of shares subject to the award and the exercisability thereof.

The terms of options granted under the Incentive Plan may not exceed 10 years. The Compensation Committee determines the exercise price of options granted under the Incentive Plan. However, the exercise price for an incentive stock option cannot be less than 100% of the fair market value of the Common Stock on the date of the option grant, and the exercise price for a nonstatutory stock option cannot be less than 85% of the fair market value of the Common Stock on the date of the option grant. Options granted under the Incentive Plan vest at the rate specified in the option agreement. Generally, the optionee may not transfer a stock option other than by will or the laws of descent or distribution. However, an optionee may designate a beneficiary who may exercise the option following the optionee's death. An optionee whose service relationship with the Company or any affiliate ceases for any reason may exercise vested options for the term provided in the option agreement.

No incentive stock option (and prior to the Company's stock being publicly traded, no nonstatutory stock option) may be granted to any person who, at the time of the grant, owns (or is deemed to own) stock possessing more than 10% of the total combined voting power of the Company or any affiliate of the Company, unless the option exercise price is at least 110% of the fair market value of the stock subject to the option on the date of grant and the term of the option does not exceed five years from the date of grant. In addition, the aggregate fair market value, determined at the time of grant, of the shares of Common Stock with respect to which incentive stock options are exercisable for the first time by an optionee during any calendar year (under the Incentive Plan and all other stock plans of the Company and its affiliates) may not exceed $100,000.

When the Company becomes subject to Section 162(m) of the Code (which denies a deduction to publicly held corporations for certain compensation paid to specified employees in a taxable year to the extent that the compensation exceeds $1,000,000), no person may be granted options under the Incentive Plan covering more than 1,000,000 shares of Common Stock in any calendar year.

Shares subject to stock awards that have expired or otherwise terminated without having been exercised in full again become available for the grant of awards under the Incentive Plan. The Compensation Committee has the authority to reprice outstanding options or to offer optionees the opportunity to replace outstanding options with new options for the same or a different number of shares. Both the original and new options will count toward the Code Section 162(m) limitation set forth above.

Restricted stock purchase awards granted under the Incentive Plan may be granted pursuant to a repurchase option in favor of the Company in accordance with a vesting schedule and at a price determined by the Compensation Committee. Stock bonuses may be awarded in consideration of past services without a purchase payment. Rights under a stock bonus or restricted stock bonus agreement generally may not be transferred other than by will or the laws of descent and distribution during such period as the stock awarded pursuant to such an agreement remains subject to the agreement.
If there is any sale of substantially all of the Company's assets, any merger or any consolidation in which the Company is not the surviving corporation, all outstanding awards under the Incentive Plan either will be assumed or substituted for by any surviving entity. If the surviving entity determines not to assume or substitute for such awards, the time during which awards held by persons still serving the Company or an affiliate may be exercised will be accelerated and the awards terminated if not exercised prior to the sale of assets, merger or consolidation.

As of February 28, 1998, 4,682,110 shares of Common Stock had been issued upon the exercise of options granted under the Incentive Plan, options to purchase 5,481,833 shares of Common Stock were outstanding and 4,426,457 shares remained available for future grant. The Incentive Plan will terminate in February 2008 unless terminated by the Board before then. As of February 28, 1998, stock awards or restricted stock covering 647,932 shares of the Company's Common Stock had been granted under the Incentive Plan.

1998 NON-EMPLOYEE DIRECTORS' STOCK OPTION PLAN

In February 1998, the Board adopted the 1998 Non-Employee Directors' Stock Option Plan (the "Directors' Plan") to provide for the automatic grant of options to purchase shares of Common Stock to non-employee directors of the Company who are not employees of or consultants to the Company or an affiliate of the Company (a "Non-Employee Director"). The Compensation Committee administers the Directors' Plan. The aggregate number of shares of Common Stock that may be issued pursuant to options granted under the Directors' Plan is 300,000 shares.

Pursuant to the terms of the Directors' Plan, after the effective date of the initial public offering of the Company's Common Stock, each person who is elected or appointed for the first time to be a Non-Employee Director automatically shall, upon the date of his or her initial election or appointment to be a Non-Employee Director by the Board or stockholders of the Company, be granted an option to purchase Fifty Thousand (50,000) shares of Common Stock (an "Initial Grant").

On March 30, 1998 and on the day following each Annual Meeting of Shareholders of the Company ("Annual Meeting"), commencing with the Annual Meeting in 1999, each person who is then a Non-Employee Director automatically shall be granted one or more options to purchase shares of Common Stock (individually, an "Annual Grant") as follows: (i) Each Non-Employee Director who has attended at least seventy-five percent (75%) of the regularly scheduled meetings of the Board held during such person's tenure as a Non-Employee Director since the preceding Annual Meeting (or since March 30, 1997 for the grant on March 30, 1998) shall be granted an option to purchase Twenty Thousand (20,000) shares of Common Stock of the Company; provided, however, that if the person has not been serving as a Non-Employee Director for the entire period since the prior Annual Meeting, then the number of shares granted shall be reduced pro rata for each full quarter prior to the date of grant during which such person did not serve as a Non-Employee Director; and (ii) each Non-Employee Director who is a member of a committee of the Board and who has attended at least seventy-five percent (75%) of the regularly scheduled meetings of such committee held during such person's tenure as a Non-Employee Director since the preceding Annual Meeting (or since March 30, 1997 for the grant on March 30, 1998) shall be granted an option to purchase Five Thousand (5,000) shares of Common Stock of the Company for each such committee; provided, however, that if the person has not been serving on such committee since the prior Annual Meeting, then the number of shares granted shall be reduced pro rata for each full quarter prior to the date of grant during which such person did not serve as a Non-Employee Director. Initial Grants will vest monthly over the four-year period following the date of grant such that the entire Initial Grant shall become exercisable on the fourth anniversary of the date of grant. Annual Grants made pursuant to the Directors' Plan will vest monthly over the one-year period following the date of grant such that the entire grant shall become exercisable on the one-year anniversary of the date of grant.

The exercise price of the options granted under the Directors' Plan will be equal to the fair market value of the Common Stock on the date of grant. No option granted under the Directors' Plan may be exercised after the expiration of 10 years from the date it was granted. Options granted under the Directors' Plan generally are non-transferable except to family members, a family trust, a family partnership or a family limited liability company. However, an optionee may designate a beneficiary who may exercise the option following the optionee's death. An optionee whose service relationship with the Company or any affiliate (whether as a Non-Employee Director of the Company or subsequently as an employee, director or consultant of either the Company or an affiliate) ceases for any reason may exercise vested options for the term provided in the option agreement (12 months generally, 18 months in the event of death).

If there is any sale of substantially all of the Company's assets, any merger or any consolidation in which the Company is not the surviving corporation or other change in control of the Company, all outstanding awards under the Directors' Plan either will be assumed or substituted for by any surviving entity. If the surviving entity determines not to assume or substitute for such awards, the awards shall terminate if not exercised prior to such sale of assets, merger or consolidation.

EMPLOYEE STOCK PURCHASE PLAN

In February 1998, the Board approved the Employee Stock Purchase Plan (the "Purchase Plan"), covering an aggregate of 500,000 shares of Common Stock. The Purchase Plan is intended to qualify as an "employee stock purchase plan" within the meaning of Section 423 of the Code. Under the Purchase Plan, the Board may authorize participation by eligible employees, including officers, in periodic offerings following the adoption of the Purchase Plan. The offering period for any offering will be no longer than 27 months.

Employees are eligible to participate if they are employed by the Company or an affiliate of the Company designated by the Board. Employees who participate in an offering generally can have up to 10% of their earnings withheld pursuant to the Purchase Plan and applied, on specified dates determined by the Board, to the purchase of shares of Common Stock. The Board may increase this percentage in its discretion, up to 15%. The price of Common Stock purchased under the Purchase Plan will be equal to 85% of the lower of the fair market value of the Common Stock on the commencement date of each offering period or the relevant purchase date. Employees may end their participation in the offering at any time during the offering period, and participation ends automatically on termination of employment with the Company.

In the event of certain changes of control, the Board has discretion to provide that each right to purchase Common Stock will be assumed or an equivalent right substituted by the successor corporation, or the Board may shorten the offering period and provide for all sums collected by payroll deductions to be applied to purchase stock immediately prior to the change in control. The Purchase Plan will terminate at the Board's direction or when all of the shares reserved for issuance under the Purchase Plan have been issued.

401(K) PLAN

The Company maintains the NVIDIA Corporation 401(k) Retirement Plan (the "401(k) Plan") for eligible employees ("Participants"). A Participant may contribute up to 20% of his or her total annual compensation to the 401(k) Plan, up to a statutorily prescribed annual limit. The annual limit for 1998 is $10,000. Each Participant is fully vested in his or her deferred salary contributions. Participant contributions are held and invested by the 401(k) Plan's trustee. The Company may make discretionary contributions as a percentage of Participant contributions, subject to established limits. To date, the Company has made no contributions to the 401(k) Plan on behalf of the Participants. The 401(k) Plan is intended to qualify under Section 401 of the Code, so that contributions by employees or by the Company to the 401(k) Plan, and income earned on the 401(k) Plan contributions, are not taxable to employees until withdrawn from the 401(k) Plan, and so that contributions by the Company, if any, will be deductible by the Company when made.
CERTAIN TRANSACTIONS

In August 1997, Harvey C. Jones, Jr., a director of the Company, purchased 24,334 shares of the Company's Series D Preferred Stock for an aggregate purchase price of $127,997. The Company sold these securities pursuant to a preferred stock purchase agreement and an investors' rights agreement on substantially the same terms as the other investors of Series D Preferred Stock, including registration rights, information rights and a right of first refusal, among other provisions standard in venture capital financings.

INDEMNIFICATION AND LIMITATION OF DIRECTOR AND OFFICER LIABILITY

In February 1998, the Board authorized the Company to enter into indemnity agreements with each of the Company's directors and executive officers. The form of indemnity agreement provides that the Company will indemnify against any and all expenses of the director or executive officer who incurred such expenses because of his or her status as a director or executive officer, to the fullest extent permitted by the Company's Bylaws and Delaware law. In addition, as permitted by Section 145 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, the Bylaws of the Company provide that (i) the Company is required to indemnify its directors and executive officers to the fullest extent permitted by the Delaware General Corporation Law, (ii) the Company may, in its discretion, indemnify other officers, employees and agents as set forth in the Delaware General Corporation Law, (iii) to the fullest extent permitted by the Delaware General Corporation Law, the Company is required to advance all expenses incurred by its directors and executive officers in connection with a legal proceeding (subject to certain exceptions), (iv) the rights conferred in the Bylaws are not exclusive, (v) the Company is authorized to enter into indemnification agreements with its directors, officers, employees and agents and (vi) the Company may not retroactively amend the Bylaws provisions relating to indemnity.
The following table sets forth certain information with respect to the beneficial ownership of the Company’s Common Stock as of February 28, 1998, and as adjusted to reflect the sale of the shares of Common Stock offered hereby by (i) each of the Company’s Named Executive Officers, (ii) each of the Company’s directors, (iii) each holder of more than 5% of the Company’s Common Stock and (iv) all current directors and executive officers as a group.

DESCRIPTION OF CAPITAL STOCK

Upon the closing of this offering, the authorized capital stock of the Company will consist of 200,000,000 shares of Common Stock, par value $.001 per share, and 2,000,000 shares of Preferred Stock, par value $.001 per share ("Preferred Stock").

COMMON STOCK

As of December 31, 1997, there were 23,467,672 shares of Common Stock (including shares of Preferred Stock that will be converted into Common Stock upon completion of this offering) outstanding held of record by 182 stockholders.

The holders of Common Stock are entitled to one vote for each share held of record on all matters submitted to a vote of the stockholders. Subject to preferences that may be applicable to any outstanding shares of the Preferred Stock, the holders of Common Stock are entitled to receive ratably such dividends as may be declared by the Board of Directors out of funds legally available therefor. See "Dividend Policy." In the event of a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Company, holders of the Common Stock are entitled to share ratably in all assets remaining after payment of liabilities and the liquidation preferences of any outstanding shares of Preferred Stock. Holders of Common Stock have no preemptive rights and no right to convert their Common Stock into any other securities. There are no redemption or sinking fund provisions applicable to the Common Stock. All outstanding shares of Common Stock are, and all shares of Common Stock to be outstanding upon the completion of this offering will be, fully paid and non-assessable.

PREFERRED STOCK

Pursuant to the Restated Certificate the Board of Directors has the authority, without further action by the stockholders, to issue up to 2,000,000 shares of Preferred Stock in one or more series and to fix the designations, powers, preferences, privileges, and relative participating, optional, or special rights and the qualifications, limitations, or restrictions thereof, including dividend rights, conversion rights, voting rights, terms of redemption and liquidation preferences, any or all of which may be greater than the rights of the Common Stock. The Board of Directors, without stockholder approval, can issue Preferred Stock with voting, conversion, or other rights that could adversely affect the voting power and other rights of the holders of Common Stock. Preferred Stock could thus be issued quickly with terms calculated to delay or prevent a change in control of the Company or make removal of management more difficult. Additionally, the issuance of Preferred Stock may have the effect of decreasing the market price of the Common Stock, and may adversely affect the voting and other rights of the holders of Common Stock. Upon the completion of this offering, there will be no shares of Preferred Stock outstanding and the Company has no current plans to issue any of the authorized Preferred Stock.

REGISTRATION RIGHTS

Pursuant to an agreement between the Company and the holders (or their permitted transferees) ("Holders") of approximately 9,327,087 shares of Common Stock (assuming the conversion of all outstanding Preferred Stock upon the completion of this offering) and warrants to purchase 29,706 shares of Common Stock, the Holders are entitled to certain rights with respect to the registration of such shares under the Securities Act. If the Company proposes to register its Common Stock, subject to certain exceptions, under the Securities Act, the Holders are entitled to notice of the registration and are entitled at the Company's expense to include such shares therein, provided that the managing underwriters have the right to limit the number of such shares included in the registration. The registration rights with respect to this offering have been waived. In addition, certain of the Holders may require the Company, at its expense, on no more than one occasion, to file a registration statement under the Securities Act with respect to their shares of Common Stock. Such rights may not be exercised until 60 days after the completion of this offering. Further, certain Holders may require the Company, once every 12 months and, on no more than two occasions, at the Company's expense to register the shares on Form S-3 when such form becomes available to the Company, subject to certain conditions and limitations. Such right expires on the fifth anniversary of completion of this offering.

ANTI-TAKEOVER EFFECTS OF PROVISIONS OF CHARTER DOCUMENTS AND DELAWARE LAW

CHARTER DOCUMENTS

The Company's Certificate of Incorporation (the "Certificate") and Bylaws include a number of provisions that may have the effect of deterring hostile takeovers or delaying or preventing changes in control or management of the Company. First, the Certificate provides that all stockholder action must be effected at a duly called meeting of holders and not by a consent in writing. Second, the Bylaws provide that special meetings of the holders may be called only by (i) the Chairman of the Board of Directors, (ii) the Chief Executive Officer, or (iii) the Board of Directors pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Board of Directors. Third, the Certificate and the Bylaws provide for a classified Board of Directors. The Certificate includes a provision requiring cumulative voting for directors only if required by applicable California law. Under cumulative voting, a minority stockholder holding a sufficient percentage of a class of shares may be able to ensure the election of one or more directors. As a result of the provisions of the Certificate and applicable California and Delaware law, at any annual meeting whereby the Company had at least 800 stockholders as of the end of the fiscal year prior to the record date for such annual meeting, stockholders will not be able to cumulate votes for directors. Finally, the Bylaws establish procedures, including advance notice procedures with regard to the nomination of candidates for election as directors and stockholder proposals. These provisions of the Certificate and Bylaws could discourage potential acquisition proposals and could delay or prevent a change in control or management of the Company. Such provisions also may have the effect of preventing changes in the management of the Company. See "Management", "Risk Factors--Effects of Certain Charter and Bylaw Provisions."

DELAWARE TAKEOVER STATUTE

The Company is subject to the provisions of Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law ("Section 203"). In general, Section 203 prohibits a publicly held Delaware corporation, such as the Company shall become upon the completion of this offering from engaging in a "business combination" with a person characterized as an "interested stockholder" for a period of three years after the date of the transaction pursuant to which such person became an interested stockholder, unless the business combination is approved in a manner prescribed by Delaware law. For purposes of Section 203, a business combination includes a merger, asset sale or other transaction resulting in a financial benefit to the interested stockholder, and an "interested stockholder" is a person who, together with affiliates and associates, owns (or within three years prior, did own) 15% or more of the Company's voting stock.

TRANSFER AGENT AND REGISTRAR

has been appointed as the transfer agent and registrar for the Company's Common Stock.
SHARES ELIGIBLE FOR FUTURE SALE

Prior to this offering, there has been no public market for the Common Stock of the Company. Future sales of substantial amounts of Common Stock in the public market could adversely affect prevailing market prices from time to time. Furthermore, since only a limited number of shares will be available for sale following this offering as a result of certain contractual and legal restrictions on resale (as described below), sales of substantial amounts of Common Stock of the Company in the public market after these restrictions lapse could adversely affect the prevailing market price and the ability of the Company to raise equity capital in the future.

Upon the completion of this offering, the Company will have outstanding an aggregate of shares of Common Stock, assuming no exercise of the Underwriters' over-allotment option and no exercise of outstanding options and warrants. Of these shares, all of the shares sold in this offering will be freely tradable without restrictions or further registration under the Securities Act, unless such shares are purchased by "affiliates" of the Company as that term is defined in Rule 144 under the Securities Act (the "Affiliates"). The remaining 23,468,797 shares of Common Stock held by existing stockholders are "restricted securities" as that term is defined in Rule 144 under the Securities Act ("Restricted Shares"). Restricted Shares may be sold in the public market only if registered or if they qualify for an exemption from registration pursuant to Rules 144, 144(k) or 701 promulgated under the Securities Act, which are summarized below. All officers and directors and certain stockholders holding an aggregate of 23,257,211 shares of the Company's Common Stock have agreed, subject to certain exceptions, not to offer, pledge, sell, contract to sell, sell any option or contract to purchase, purchase any option or contract to sell, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase, or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly (or enter into any swap or other arrangement that transfers to another, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of), any shares of Common Stock or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for shares of Common Stock, for a period of 180 days after the date of this Prospectus, without the prior written consent of Morgan Stanley & Co. Incorporated. Morgan Stanley & Co. Incorporated may in its sole discretion choose to release a certain number of these shares from such restrictions prior to the expiration of such 180-day period. Approximately 5,000,000 shares of Common Stock of the Company (less shares available for sale within 90 days following the date of this Prospectus), which does not include any shares held by officers and directors, may be released from such contractual restrictions following 90 days after the date of this Prospectus at the discretion of the Company. As a result of such contractual restrictions and the provisions of Rule 144 and 701, the Restricted Shares will be available for sale in the public market as follows:

(i) 113,558 shares will be eligible for immediate sale on the date of this Prospectus; (ii) 4,886,442 shares will be eligible for sale 90 days after the date of this Prospectus; (iii) 22,129,653 shares will be eligible for sale upon expiration of lock-up agreements 180 days after the date of this Prospectus and (iv) the remaining shares will be eligible for sale from time to time thereafter upon expiration of the Company's right to repurchase such shares.

In general, under Rule 144 as currently in effect, beginning 90 days after the date of this Prospectus, a person (or persons whose shares are aggregated) who has beneficially owned Restricted Shares for at least one year (including the holding period of any prior owner except an Affiliate) would be entitled to sell within any three-month period a number of shares that does not exceed the greater of: (i) 1% of the number of shares of Common Stock then outstanding (which will equal approximately shares immediately after this offering); or (ii) the average weekly trading volume of the Common Stock on the Nasdaq National Market during the four calendar weeks preceding the filing of a notice on Form 144 with respect to such sale. Sales under Rule 144 are also subject to certain manner of sale provisions and notice requirements and to the availability of current public information about the Company. Under Rule 144(k), a person who is not deemed to have been an Affiliate of the Company at any time during the 90 days preceding a sale, and who has beneficially owned the shares proposed to be sold for at least two years (including the holding period of any prior owner except an Affiliate), is entitled to sell such shares without complying with the manner of sale, public information, volume limitation or notice provisions of Rule 144; therefore, unless otherwise contractually restricted, shares which qualify as "144(k) shares" on the date of this Prospectus may be sold immediately upon the completion of this offering. Subject to certain limitations on the aggregate offering price of a transaction and other conditions, employees, directors, officers, consultants or advisors may rely on Rule 701 with respect to the resale of securities originally purchased from the Company prior to the date the issuer becomes subject to the reporting requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), pursuant to written compensatory benefit plans or written contracts relating to the compensation of such persons. In addition, the Securities and Exchange Commission has indicated that Rule 701 will apply to typical stock options granted by an issuer before it becomes subject to the reporting requirements of the Exchange Act, along with the shares acquired upon exercise of such options (including exercises after the date of this Prospectus). Securities issued in reliance on Rule 701 are restricted securities and, subject to the contractual restrictions described above, beginning 90 days after the date of this Prospectus, may be sold by persons other than Affiliates subject only to the manner of sale provisions of Rule 144, and by Affiliates under Rule 144 without compliance with its holding period requirements.

Upon completion of this offering, the holders of approximately 9,356,793 shares of Common Stock currently outstanding or issuable upon conversion of Preferred Stock, or their transferees, will be entitled to certain rights with respect to the registration of such shares under the Securities Act. See "Description of Capital Stock--Registration Rights." Registration of such shares under the Securities Act would result in such shares becoming freely tradable without restriction under the Securities Act (except for share purchases by affiliates) immediately upon the effectiveness of such registration.

The Company intends to file a registration statement under the Securities Act covering 10,708,290 shares of Common Stock reserved or to be reserved for issuance under the Equity Incentive Plan, the Purchase Plan and the Directors' Plan. See "Management--Employee Benefit Plans." Such registration statement is expected to be filed and become effective as soon as practicable after the effective date of this offering. Accordingly, shares registered under such registration statement will, subject to Rule 144 volume limitations applicable to Affiliates, be available for sale in the open market, beginning 180 days after the date of the Prospectus, unless such shares are subject to vesting restrictions with the Company.
Under the terms and subject to the conditions contained in an Underwriting Agreement (the "Underwriting Agreement"), the Underwriters named below (the "Underwriters"), for whom Morgan Stanley & Co. Incorporated, Hambrecht & Quist LLC and CIBC Oppenheimer Corp. are acting as representatives (the "Representatives"), have agreed severally to purchase, and the Company has agreed to sell to them, severally, the respective number of shares of Common Stock set forth opposite their respective names below:

The Underwriting Agreement provides that the obligations of the several Underwriters to pay for and accept delivery of the shares of Common Stock offered hereby are subject to the approval of certain legal matters by their counsel and to certain other conditions. The Underwriters are obligated to take and pay for all of the shares of Common Stock offered hereby (other than those covered by the over-allotment option described below) if any such shares are taken.

The Underwriters initially propose to offer part of the shares of Common Stock directly to the public at the initial public offering price set forth on the cover page hereof and part to certain dealers at a price that represents a concession not in excess of $ per share under the public offering price. Any Underwriter may allow, and such dealers may realow, a concession not in excess of $ per share to other Underwriters or to certain dealers. After the initial offering of the shares of Common Stock, the offering price and other selling terms may from time to time be varied by the Representatives.

The Company has granted to the Underwriters an option, exercisable for 30 days from the date of this Prospectus, to purchase up to an aggregate of additional shares of Common Stock at the initial public offering price set forth on the cover page hereof, less underwriting discounts and commissions. The Underwriters may exercise such option solely for the purpose of covering over-allotments, if any, made in connection with the offering of the shares of Common Stock offered hereby. To the extent such option is exercised, each Underwriter will become obligated, subject to certain conditions, to purchase approximately the same percentage of such additional shares of Common Stock as the number set forth next to such Underwriter’s name in the preceding table bears to the total number of shares of Common Stock set forth next to the names of all Underwriters in the preceding table.

The Underwriters have informed the Company that they do not intend sales to discretionary accounts to exceed five percent of the total number of shares of Common Stock offered by them.

Each of the Company and the directors, executive officers, certain other stockholders and option holders of the Company has agreed, subject to certain exceptions that, without the prior written consent of Morgan Stanley & Co. Incorporated on behalf of the Underwriters, it will not during the period ending 180 days after the date of this Prospectus (i) offer, pledge, sell, contract to sell, sell any option or contract to purchase, purchase any option or contract to sell, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase or otherwise transfer, lend or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of Common Stock or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for Common Stock or (ii) enter into any swap or other arrangement that transfers to another, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of the Common Stock, whether any such transaction described in clause (i) or (ii) above is to be settled by delivery of Common Stock or such other securities, in cash or otherwise, except under certain limited circumstances. The restrictions described in this paragraph do not apply to (a) the sale of Shares to the Underwriters, (b) the issuance by the Company of shares of Common Stock upon exercise of an option or a warrant outstanding on the date of this Prospectus and described as such in the Prospectus, (c) the issuance by the Company of shares of Common Stock under the Equity Incentive Plan, the Directors' Plan and the Purchase Plan or (d) transactions by any person other than the Company relating to shares of Common Stock or other securities acquired in open market transactions after the completion of the offering of the Shares. See "Shares Eligible for Future Sale."

In order to facilitate the offering of the Common Stock, the Underwriters may engage in transactions that stabilize, maintain or otherwise affect the price of the Common Stock. Specifically, the Underwriters may over-allot in connection with the offering, creating a short position in the Common Stock for their own account. In addition, to cover over-allotments or to stabilize the price of the Common Stock, the Underwriters may bid for, and purchase, shares of Common Stock in the open market. Finally, the underwriting syndicate may reclaim selling concessions allowed to an Underwriter or a dealer for distributing the Common Stock in the offering, if the syndicate repurchases previously distributed Common Stock in transactions to cover syndicate short positions, in stabilization transactions or otherwise. Any of these activities may stabilize or maintain the market price of the Common Stock above independent market levels. The Underwriters are not required to engage in these activities, and may end any of these activities at any time.

The Company and the Underwriters have agreed to indemnify each other against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act.

PRICING OF THE OFFERING

Prior to this offering, there has been no public market for the Common Stock or any other securities of the Company. The initial public offering price for the Common Stock will be determined by negotiations among the Company and the Representatives. Among the factors to be considered in determining the initial public offering price will be the future prospects of the Company and its industry in general, sales, earnings and certain other financial and operating information of the Company in recent periods, and the price-earnings ratios, price-sales ratios, market prices of securities and certain financial and operating information of companies engaged in activities similar to those of the Company. The estimated initial public offering price range set forth on the cover page of this Preliminary Prospectus is subject to change as a result of market conditions and other factors.

LEGAL MATTERS

The validity of the Common Stock offered hereby will be passed upon for the Company by Cooley Godward llp ("Cooley Godward"), San Francisco, California. Certain legal matters related to the offering will be passed upon for the Underwriters by Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, Professional Corporation, Palo Alto, California. As of the date of this Prospectus, certain partners and associates of Cooley Godward own through investment partnerships an aggregate of 124,591 shares of Common Stock of the Company. James C. Gaither, a partner of Cooley Godward, owns 44,289 of Common Stock of the Company and has an option to purchase 50,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock.

KPMG Peat Marwick LLP

The Board of Directors and Stockholders
NVIDIA Corporation:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of NVIDIA Corporation (the Company) as of December 31, 1996 and 1997, and the related statements of operations, stockholders' equity and cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 1997. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of NVIDIA Corporation as of December 31, 1996 and 1997, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 1997, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

(1) ORGANIZATION AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Organization

NVIDIA Corporation (the "Company") designs, develops and markets 3D interactive graphics processors and related software for the mainstream PC market. The Company operates primarily in one business segment in the United States.

Fiscal Year

The Company's fiscal years ended on December 31 prior to December 31, 1997. Effective January 1, 1998, the Company changed its fiscal year end from December 31 to a 52- or 53-week year ending on the last Sunday in December.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid investments purchased with a maturity of three months or less at the time of purchase to be cash equivalents.

Inventories

Inventories consist of finished goods that are stated at the lower of first-in, first-out cost or market. Inventories were immaterial as of December 31, 1996 and 1997.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method based on estimated useful lives, generally three to four years. Depreciation expense includes the amortization of assets recorded under capital leases. Leasehold improvements and assets recorded under capital leases are amortized over the shorter of the lease term or the estimated useful life of the asset.

Software Development Costs

Software development costs are expensed as incurred until the technological feasibility of the related product has been established. After technological feasibility is established, any additional software development costs would be capitalized in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 86, Capitalization of Software Development Costs. Through December 31, 1997, the Company's process for developing software was essentially completed concurrently with the establishment of technological feasibility, and, accordingly, no software costs have been capitalized to date. Software development costs incurred prior to achieving technological feasibility are charged to research and development expense as incurred.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue from product sales to original equipment manufacturers are recognized upon shipment, net of any allowances for returns. While the Company has not yet sold products through distributors, the Company's policy on sales to distributors will be to defer recognition of sales and related gross profit until the distributors resell the product. Royalty revenue is recognized upon shipment of product by the licensee to its customers.
Research and Development Arrangements

The Company enters into contractual agreements to provide design, development and support services on a best efforts basis. All amounts funded to the Company under these agreements are non-refundable once paid. The Company recorded reductions to research and development expense based on the percentage-of-completion method, limited by the amounts funded.

Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation

The Company uses the intrinsic value method to account for its stock-based employee compensation plans.

Income Taxes

The Company records income taxes using the asset and liability method. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the estimated future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates in effect for the year in which those temporary differences are expected to be recorded or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date.

Net Loss Per Share

Basic net loss per share is computed using the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted net loss per share is computed using the weighted average number of common and dilutive common equivalent shares outstanding during the period, using either the as-if-converted method for convertible preferred stock or the treasury stock method for options and warrants. The effect of including convertible preferred stock, options and warrants would have been antidilutive during all periods presented and, as a result, such effect has been excluded from the computation of diluted net loss per share. See Note 3 for information regarding potentially dilutive outstanding shares of, and warrants to purchase, convertible preferred stock and outstanding options to purchase common stock. Pursuant to SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 98, common stock and convertible preferred stock issued for nominal consideration and options and warrants granted for nominal consideration prior to the anticipated effective date of the initial public offering (IPO) are included in the calculation of basic and diluted net loss per share, as if they were outstanding for all periods presented. To date, the Company has not had any issuances or grants for nominal consideration.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying value of cash, cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximate fair value due to the short maturity of those instruments.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the recorded amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

(3) STOCKHOLDERS' EQUITY

Convertible Preferred Stock

In 1993, the Company sold 4,303,000 shares of Series A preferred stock at $0.50 per share, net of $22,000 of issuance costs. In 1994, the Company sold 2,390,831 shares of Series B preferred stock at $1.80 per share, net of $57,000 of issuance costs. In 1995, the Company sold 416,667 shares of Series B preferred stock at $1.80 per share. In 1995, the Company sold 750,000 shares of Series C preferred stock at $6.67 per share, net of $14,000 of issuance costs. On August 19 and September 12, 1997, the Company sold an aggregate of 1,438,812 shares of Series D preferred stock at $5.26 per share, net of $30,000 of issuance costs.

The rights, preferences, and privileges of the holders of Series A, B, C and D convertible preferred stock are as follows:

. Dividends are noncumulative and payable only upon declaration by the Board of Directors at a rate of $.04, $.144, $.533 and $.42 per share for Series A, B, C and D preferred stock, respectively.

. Holders of Series A, B, C and D preferred stock have a liquidation preference of $.50, $1.80, $6.67, and $5.26 per share, respectively, plus any declared but unpaid dividends over holders of common stock.

. Each holder of preferred stock has voting rights equal to common stock on an "as-if-converted" basis.

. Each share of preferred stock may be converted into common stock at the option of the holder on a one-for-one basis, subject to adjustment to protect against dilution. Automatic conversion will occur upon the earlier of a vote of holders of at least two-thirds of the shares of preferred stock then outstanding or upon the closing of an initial public offering of common stock in which the aggregate proceeds exceed $15,000,000 and the offering price equals or exceeds $10.00 per share.
Warrants

During the period 1993 through 1997, the Company granted warrants to purchase 80,000; 66,877; 10,000 and 29,706 of Series A, B, C and D preferred stock, respectively, in connection with lease financing and services. These warrants are exercisable at $.50, $1.80, $6.67 and $5.26 for shares of Series A, B, C and D preferred stock, respectively, and expire from 2003 to 2007. At December 31, 1997, warrants to purchase 80,000, 39,100, 10,000 and 29,706 shares of Series A, B, C and D preferred stock, respectively, were outstanding.

The fair value of all warrant issuances calculated using the Black-Scholes option pricing model was not material, using the following assumptions:
dividend yield - none; expected life - contractual term; risk free interest rates - 6.0% to 6.5%; volatility - 60%.

Options

The Equity Incentive Plan (the "Plan"), as amended and restated on February 17, 1998, provides for the issuance of up to 15,000,000 shares of the Company's common stock to directors, employees and consultants. The Plan provides for the issuance of stock bonuses, restricted stock purchase rights, incentive stock options or nonstatutory stock options.

Pursuant to the Plan, the exercise price for incentive stock options is at least 100% of the fair market value on the date of grant or for employees owning in excess of 10% of the voting power of all classes of stock, 110% of the fair market value on the date of grant. For nonstatutory stock options, the exercise price is no less than 85% of the fair market value on the date of grant.

Options generally expire in 10 years. Vesting periods are determined by the Board of Directors; however, options generally vest ratably over four years beginning one year after the date of grant. Options may be exercised prior to full vesting. Any unvested shares so purchased are subject to a repurchase right in favor of the Company with the repurchase price to be equal to the original purchase price of the stock. The right to repurchase at the original price shall lapse at a minimum rate of 20% per year over five years from the date the option was granted. As of December 31, 1997, there were 1,942,897 such shares subject to repurchase.

The Company accounts for the plan using the intrinsic value method. As such, compensation expense is recorded if on the date of grant the current fair value per share of the underlying stock exceeds the exercise price per share. With respect to certain options granted during 1997, the Company has recorded deferred compensation of $2,100,000 for the difference at the grant date between the exercise price per share and the fair value per share, based upon independent valuations and management's estimate of the fair value of the Company's stock on the various grant dates of the common stock underlying the options. This amount is being amortized on a straight line basis over the vesting period of the individual options, generally four years.

Had compensation cost for the Company's stock-based compensation plan been determined consistent with SFAS No. 123, the Company's net loss would have increased to the pro forma amounts indicated below:

<tr>
<td>Pro forma....................................</td>
<td>6,389</td>
<td>3,109</td>
<td>2,796</td>
</tr>

The fair value of each option grant is estimated on the date of grant using the minimum value method with the following weighted-average assumptions: no dividend yield; risk free interest rate of 6.5%; and expected life for the option of five years.

During 1997, the Company granted Common Stock options within the Plan to consultants for services rendered. The fair value of all option grants to non-employees calculated using the Black-Scholes option pricing model was $120,000, using the following assumptions: dividend yield--none; expected life--contractual term; risk free interest rates--6.0% to 6.5%; volatility--60%. Options to purchase 50,000 shares of Common Stock were granted to an outside investor during the Series D preferred stock offering.

The weighted-average fair value of options granted during 1995, 1996 and 1997 was $.05, $.08 and $.79, respectively. At December 31, 1997, 2,230,458 shares were exercisable.

(4) COMMITMENTS

The Company leases a facility in Sunnyvale, California under operating lease agreements that expire in August 1998. The Company is committed to pay approximately $499,000 of future minimum lease payments under this agreement during 1998. Rent expense for 1995, 1996 and 1997 was approximately $325,000, $408,000 and $426,000, respectively.

In addition to the facility lease, the Company also leases certain computers and equipment under capital leases with the option to purchase the assets upon termination of the leases. As of December 31, 1997, future minimum lease payments, including costs to exercise buyout options under capital leases, were as follows:

Assets recorded under capital leases included in property and equipment were $2,314,000 and $4,765,000 as of December 31, 1996 and 1997, respectively. Accumulated amortization thereon was $1,233,000 and $2,137,000 as of December 31, 1996 and 1997, respectively.

(5) INCOME TAXES

The tax effects of temporary differences that give rise to significant portions of the deferred tax assets and liabilities are presented below:

The net increase in the valuation allowance was approximately $1,800,000 and $1,050,000 for the years ended December 31, 1996 and 1997, respectively. The Company believes that sufficient uncertainty exists with respect to future realization of these deferred tax assets; therefore, it has established a valuation allowance against all net deferred tax assets.
The Company has net operating loss carryforwards for federal income tax return purposes of approximately $10,000,000, which can be used to reduce future taxable income. These carryforwards expire in 2008 through 2012. As of December 31, 1997, the Company had California operating loss carryforwards of approximately $5,000,000 available to offset future income subject to California franchise tax. The difference between the federal loss carryforwards and the California loss carryforwards results primarily from a 50% limitation on California loss carryforwards, and certain research and development costs that were deferred for California tax purposes. The California net operating loss carryforwards expire in various amounts from 1998 through 2002. The Company also has federal and California tax credit carryforwards of approximately $600,000 and $450,000, respectively, as of December 31, 1997. These tax credits expire through 2012.

Under the Tax Reform Act of 1986, the amounts of any benefit from net operating losses and credits that can be carried forward may be limited in the event of an ownership change as defined in the Internal Revenue Code, Section 382.

(6) DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENTS

The Company has a strategic collaboration agreement with ST Microelectronics, Inc. ("ST") for the manufacture, marketing, and sale of certain of the Company's products. In 1996, ST paid the Company $2,500,000 for advanced royalty payments and agreed to partially support the research and development and marketing efforts for certain of the Company's products. The Company recorded a reduction to research and development cost of $1,580,000 and $1,936,000 in 1996 and 1997, respectively, and a reduction to sales, general and administrative expense of $495,000 and $420,000 in 1996 and 1997, respectively. In January of 1998, ST agreed to forgive the $2,500,000 in advanced royalty payments in exchange for the Company's obligation to provide ST continued development and support on certain products developed through the end of 1998. Accordingly, $2,500,000 is included in accrued liabilities at December 31, 1996 and 1997.

In May 1995, the Company entered into a five year strategic alliance agreement (the "Agreement") with a third party to develop a product, the NV2, using the Company's technology with the purpose of incorporating the NV2 into such third party's products. The third party made nonrefundable payments to the Company to develop the NV2. The Company recorded a reduction to research and development of $2,000,000 in 1995 and $3,000,000 in 1996. As part of this agreement, the third party also purchased in July 1995, 750,000 shares of Series C convertible preferred stock for $5,000,000. The third party revised its product development plans, and the Company terminated the development of this particular technology in 1996.

(7) RISK AND UNCERTAINTIES

Product Concentration. The Company designs, develops and markets 3D graphics processors for the mainstream PC market. Substantially all of the Company's revenue from product sales in 1997 was derived from sales of one product, the RIVA128 graphics processor. Since the Company has no other product line, the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations would be materially adversely affected if for any reason its current or future 3D graphics processors do not achieve widespread acceptance in the mainstream PC market.

Customer Concentration. The Company has only a limited number of customers and its sales are highly concentrated. The Company primarily sells its products to add-in board manufacturers, which incorporate graphics products in the boards they sell to PC OEMs. Product revenue from STB Systems, Inc. ("STB") and Diamond Multimedia Systems, Inc. ("Diamond") accounted for 63% and 31%, respectively, of the Company's 1997 revenue and in 1996 and 1995 Diamond accounted for 82% and 86%, respectively, of revenue. Sales to add-in board manufacturers are primarily dependent on achieving design wins with leading PC OEMs, and the Company believes that the large majority of its 1997 revenue was attributable to products that ultimately were incorporated into PCs sold by Compaq, Dell, Gateway, Micron and Packard Bell NEC. As a result, the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially adversely affected by the decision of a single PC OEM or add-in board manufacturer to cease using the Company's products or by a decline in the number of PCs or boards sold by a single PC OEM or add-in board manufacturers or by a small number of customers.

Accounts receivable as of December 31, 1997 were $6,261,000 and $5,768,000 from STB and Diamond, respectively.

Markets. In 1997, the Company derived all of its revenue from the sale or license of products for use in PCs. The PC market is characterized by rapidly changing technology, evolving industry standards, frequent new product introductions and significant price competition, resulting in short product life cycles and regular reductions in average selling prices over the life of a specific product. In addition, the Company’s success will depend in part upon the emerging mainstream PC 3D graphics market. This market has only recently begun to emerge and is dependent on future development of a substantial customer and computer manufacturer demand for 3D graphics functionality. If the market for mainstream PC 3D graphics fails to develop or develops more slowly than expected, the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially adversely affected.

Intellectual Property. The Company relies primarily on a combination of patent, mask work protection, trademarks, copyrights, trade secret laws, employee and third-party nondisclosure agreements and licensing arrangements to protect its intellectual property. Vigorous protection and pursuit of intellectual property rights or positions characterize the semiconductor industry, which in turn has resulted in significant and often protracted and expensive litigation. The 3D graphics market in particular has been characterized recently by the aggressive pursuit of intellectual property positions. Infringement claims by third parties or claims for indemnification by customers or end users of the Company's products resulting from infringement claims could be asserted in the future and such assertions, if proven to be true, could materially adversely affect the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations. Any limitations on the Company's ability to market its products, or delays and costs associated with redesigning its products or payments of license fees to third parties, or any failure by the Company to develop or license a substitute technology on commercially reasonable terms, could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations.

(8) SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Reincorporation

On February 17, 1998, the Board of Directors approved the Company's reincorporation in the state of Delaware. Following shareholder approval, the Certificate of Incorporation of the Delaware successor corporation will authorize 200,000,000 shares of common stock, $.001 par value per share, and 10,000,000 shares of preferred stock, $.001 par value per share. The accompanying financial statements have been retroactively restated to give effect to the reincorporation.

Employee Stock Purchase Plan.

In February 1998, the Board approved the 1998 Employee Stock Purchase Plan (the "Purchase Plan"), covering an aggregate of 500,000 shares of Common Stock. The Purchase Plan is intended to qualify as an "employee stock purchase plan" within the meaning of Section 423 of the Code. Under the Purchase Plan, the Board may authorize participation by eligible employees, including officers, in periodic offerings following the adoption of the Purchase Plan. The offering period for any offering will be no longer than 27 months.
Employees are eligible to participate if they are employed by the Company or an affiliate of the Company designated by the Board. Employees who participate in an offering generally can have up to 10% of their earnings withheld pursuant to the Purchase Plan and applied, on specified dates determined by the Board, to the purchase of shares of Common Stock. The Board may increase this percentage in its discretion, up to 15%. The price of Common Stock purchased under the Purchase Plan will be equal to 85% of the lower of the fair market value of the Common Stock on the commencement date of each offering period or the relevant purchase date. Employees may end their participation in the offering at any time during the offering period, and participation ends automatically on termination of employment with the Company.

Non-Employee Directors’ Stock Option Plan In February 1998, the Board adopted the 1998 Non-Employee Directors’ Stock Option Plan (the “Directors’ Plan”) to provide for the automatic grant of options to purchase shares of Common Stock to non-employee directors of the Company who are not employees of or consultants to the Company or an affiliate of the Company (a “Non-Employee Director”). The Compensation Committee administers the Directors’ Plan. The aggregate number of shares of Common Stock that may be issued pursuant to options granted under the Directors’ Plan is 300,000 shares.

ITEM 14. INDEMNIFICATION OF OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS.

As permitted by Section 145 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, the Bylaws of the Company provide that (i) the Company is required to indemnify its directors and executive officers to the fullest extent permitted by the Delaware General Corporation Law, (ii) the Company may, in its discretion, indemnify other officers, employees and agents as set forth in the Delaware General Corporation Law, (iii) to the fullest extent not prohibited by the Delaware General Corporation Law, the Company is required to advance all expenses incurred by its directors and executive officers in connection with a legal proceeding (subject to certain exceptions), (iv) the rights conferred in the Bylaws are not exclusive, (v) the Company is authorized to enter into indemnification agreements with its directors, officers, employees and agents and (vi) the Company may not retroactively amend the Bylaws provisions relating to indemnity.

The Company has entered into agreements with its directors and executive officers that require the Company to indemnify such persons against expenses, judgments, fines, settlements and other amounts that such person becomes legally obligated to pay (including expenses of a derivative action) in connection with any proceeding, whether actual or threatened, to which any such person may be made a party by reason of the fact that such person is or was a director or officer of the Company or any of its affiliated enterprises, provided such person acted in good faith and in a manner such person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company. The indemnification agreements also set forth certain procedures that will apply in the event of a claim for indemnification thereunder.

The Underwriting Agreement filed as Exhibit 1.1 to this Registration Statement provides for indemnification by the Underwriters of the Registrant and its officers and directors for certain liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), or otherwise.

The Company claimed exemptions under the Securities Act from registration under the Securities Act for the sale and issuance of securities in the transaction described in paragraphs (1) through (7) by virtue of Section 4(2) or Regulation D promulgated thereunder as transactions not involving public offering. The purchasers in each case represented their intention to acquire the securities for investment only and not with a view to the distribution thereof. All recipients either received adequate information about the Registrant or had access, through employment or other relationships, to such information.

ITEM 17. UNDERTAKINGS.

The undersigned Registrant hereby undertakes to provide the Underwriters at the closing specified in the Underwriting Agreement certificates in such denominations and registered in such names as required by the Underwriters to permit prompt delivery to each purchaser.

Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 (the "Act") may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the Registrant pursuant to the provisions described in Item 14, or otherwise, the Registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Act and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the Registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer, or controlling person of the Registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the Registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Act and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

*To be filed by amendment.

The undersigned Registrant hereby undertakes that: (1) for purposes of determining any liability under the Act, the information omitted from the form of prospectus as filed as part of the registration statement in reliance upon Rule 430A and contained in the form of prospectus filed by the Registrant pursuant to Rule 424(b)(1) or (4) or 497(h) under the Act shall be deemed to be part of the registration statement as of the time it was declared effective, (2) for the purpose of determining any liability under the Act, each post-effective amendment that contains a form of prospectus shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and this offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof, and (3) to remove from registration by means of a post-effective amendment any of the securities being registered which remain unsold at the termination of the offering.

*To be filed by amendment.
The undersigned, a natural person (the "Sole Incorporator"), for the purpose of organizing a corporation to conduct the business and promote the purposes hereinafter stated, under the provisions and subject to the requirements of the laws of the State of Delaware hereby certifies that:

I.

The name of this corporation is NVIDIA Delaware Corporation.

II.

The address of the registered office of the corporation in the State of Delaware is 15 East North Street, City of Dover, County of Kent, and the name of the registered agent of the corporation in the State of Delaware at such address is the Incorporting Services.

III.

The purpose of this corporation is to engage in any lawful act or activity for which a corporation may be organized under the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware.

IV.

A. This corporation is authorized to issue two classes of stock to be designated, respectively, "Common Stock" and "Preferred Stock." The total number of shares which the corporation is authorized to issue is Two Hundred Ten Million shares (210,000,000). Two Hundred Million (200,000,000) shares shall be Common Stock, each having a par value of one-tenth of one cent ($0.01). Ten Million (10,000,000) shares shall be Preferred Stock, each having a par value of one-tenth of one cent ($0.01).

B. The Preferred Stock may be divided into such number of series as the Board of Directors may determine. Subject to the provisions of paragraph 6, the Board of Directors is authorized to determine and alter the rights, preferences, privileges and restrictions granted to and imposed upon the Preferred Stock or any series thereof with respect to any wholly unissued class or series of Preferred Stock, and to fix the number of shares of any series of Preferred Stock and the designation of any such series of Preferred Stock. The Board of Directors, within the limits and restrictions stated in any resolution or resolutions of the Board of Directors originally fixing the number of shares constituting any series, may increase or decrease (but not below the number of shares of such series then outstanding) the number of shares of any series subsequent to the issue of shares of that series.

C. The Preferred Stock shall be divided into series and shall consist of Series A Preferred Stock, of which the corporation is authorized to issue Four Million Three Hundred

Eighty-Three Thousand Shares (4,383,000), Series B Preferred Stock, of which the corporation is authorized to issue Two Million Eight Hundred Seventy-Nine Thousand Seven Hundred Nineteen (2,879,719) shares, Series C Preferred Stock, of which the corporation is authorized to issue Seven Hundred Sixty Thousand (760,000) shares, and Series D Preferred Stock, of which the corporation is authorized to issue One Million Eight Hundred Thousand (1,800,000) shares.

D. The relative rights, preferences, privileges and restrictions of the Common Stock, the Series B Preferred Stock, the Series C Preferred Stock, and the Series D Preferred Stock shall be in all respects identical, except for and subject to the following provisions:

1. DIVIDENDS. The holders of the then outstanding Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive on a pari passu basis, out of assets legally available therefor, dividends at the rate of Four Cents ($0.04) per annum for each share of Series A Preferred Stock (as adjusted for any stock dividends, combinations or splits with respect to such shares), Fourteen and Four-Tenths Cents ($0.144) per annum for each share of Series B Preferred Stock (as adjusted for any stock dividends, combinations or splits with respect to such shares), Fifty-Three and Three-Tenths Cents ($0.533) per annum for each share of Series C Preferred Stock (as adjusted for any stock dividends, combinations or splits with respect to such shares) and Forty-Two Cents ($0.42) per annum for each share of Series D Preferred Stock (as adjusted for any stock dividends, combinations or splits with respect to such shares) when, as and if declared by the board of directors. The right to such dividends shall be noncumulative. No dividends (other than those payable solely in the Common Stock of the corporation) shall be paid on any Common Stock of the corporation during any fiscal year of the corporation until dividends in the total amount of Four Cents ($0.04) per share on the Series A Preferred Stock, Fourteen and Four-Tenths Cents ($0.144) per share on the Series B Preferred Stock, Fifty-Three and Three-Tenths Cents ($0.533) per share on the Series C Preferred Stock and Forty-Two Cents ($0.42) per share on the Series D Preferred Stock shall have been paid or declared and set apart during that fiscal year. No right shall accrue to holders of shares of Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock or Series D Preferred Stock by reason of the fact that dividends on said shares are not declared in any prior year, nor shall any undeclared or unpaid dividend bear or accrue any interest.

2. LIQUIDATION PREFERENCE.

(A) In the event of any liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, the holders of the Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive on a pari passu basis, prior and in preference to any distribution of any of the assets or surplus funds of the corporation to the holders of the Common Stock by reason of their ownership thereof, (i) an amount equal to the sum of Fifty Cents ($0.50) per share, One Dollar Eighty Cents per share ($1.80), Six Dollars Sixty-Six and 6,667/10,000ths Cents ($6.666667), Five Dollars and Twenty-Six Cents ($5.26) per share for each share, respectively, of Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock and Series D Preferred Stock then held by them, and (ii) an amount equal to any dividends declared but unpaid on the Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock and Series D Preferred Stock then held by them. If, upon the occurrence of such event, the assets and funds thus distributed among the holders of the Preferred Stock shall be insufficient to permit the payment to such holders of the full aforesaid preferential amount, then the entire assets and funds of the corporation legally available for distribution shall be distributed ratably among the holders of the Preferred Stock in proportion to the preferential amount each such holder is otherwise entitled to receive.

(B) After payment to the holders of the Preferred Stock of the amount set forth in Section 2(a) above, the entire remaining assets and funds of the corporation legally available for distribution shall be distributed among the holders of the Common Stock in proportion to the shares of Common Stock then held by them.

(C) For purposes of Section 2(a), (i) any acquisition of the corporation by means of a merger or other form of corporate reorganization in which outstanding shares of the corporation are exchanged for securities or other consideration issued, or caused to be issued, by the acquiring corporation or its subsidiary (other than a mere reincorporation transaction) or (ii) a sale of all or substantially all of the assets of the corporation or (iii) any transaction or series of related transactions by the corporation in which in excess of fifty percent (50%) of the corporation's voting power is transferred, shall be treated as a liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the corporation and shall entitle the holders of Preferred Stock to receive at the closing in cash, securities or other property an amount as specified in Section 2(a).

3. CONVERSION. The holders of the Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock and Series D Preferred Stock shall have conversion rights as follows:

(A) RIGHT TO CONVERT.

(I) Each share of Series A Preferred Stock shall be convertible, at the option of the holder thereof, at the office of the corporation or any transfer agent for such stock, into such number of fully paid and nonassessable shares of Common Stock as is determined by dividing Fifty Cents ($0.50) by the Conversion Price applicable to such share, determined as hereinafter provided, in effect on the date the certificate is surrendered for conversion. The price at which shares of Common Stock shall be deliverable upon conversion of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock (the "Series A Conversion Price") shall initially be Fifty Cents ($0.50) per share of Common Stock. Such initial Series A Conversion Price shall be adjusted as hereinafter provided.

(II) Each share of Series B Preferred Stock shall be convertible, at the option of the holder thereof, at the office of the corporation or any transfer agent for such stock, into such number of fully paid and nonassessable shares of Common Stock as is determined by dividing One Dollar Eighty Cents ($1.80) by the Conversion Price applicable to such share, determined as hereinafter provided, in effect on the date the certificate is surrendered for conversion. The price at which shares of Common Stock shall be deliverable upon conversion of shares of the Series B Preferred Stock (the "Series B Conversion Price") shall initially be One Dollar Eighty Cents ($1.80) per share of Common Stock. Such initial Series B Conversion Price shall be adjusted as hereinafter provided.

(III) Each share of Series C Preferred Stock shall be convertible, at the option of the holder thereof, at the office of the corporation or any transfer agent for such stock, into such number of fully paid and nonassessable shares of Common Stock as is determined by dividing Six Dollars Sixty-Six and 6,667/10,000ths Cents ($6.666667) by the Conversion Price applicable to such share, determined as hereinafter provided, in effect on the date the certificate is surrendered for conversion. The price at which shares of Common Stock shall be deliverable upon conversion of shares of the Series C Preferred Stock (the "Series C Conversion Price") shall initially be Six Dollars Sixty-Six and 6,667/10,000ths Cents ($6.666667) per share of Common Stock. Such initial Series C Conversion Price shall be adjusted as hereinafter provided.

(IV) Each share of Series D Preferred Stock shall be convertible, at the option of the holder thereof, at the office of the corporation or any transfer agent for such stock, into such number of fully paid and nonassessable shares of Common Stock as is determined by dividing Five Dollars and Twenty-Six Cents ($5.26) by the Conversion Price applicable to such share, determined as hereinafter provided, in effect on the date the certificate is surrendered for conversion. The price at which shares of Common Stock shall be deliverable upon conversion of shares of the Series D Preferred Stock (the "Series D Conversion Price") shall initially be Five Dollars and Twenty-Six Cents ($5.26) per share of Common Stock. Such initial Series D Conversion Price shall be adjusted as hereinafter provided.

(B) AUTOMATIC CONVERSION. Each share of Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock and Series D Preferred Stock shall automatically be converted into shares of Common Stock at the then- Series A Conversion Price, Series B Conversion Price, Series C Conversion Price or Series D Conversion Price, as applicable, upon the earlier of (i) the date specified by vote or written consent or agreement of holders of at least two-thirds of the shares of Preferred Stock then outstanding, or (ii) immediately upon the closing of the sale of the corporation's Common Stock in a firm commitment, underwritten public offering registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") other than a registration relating solely to a transaction under Rule 145 under such Act (or any successor thereto) or to an employee benefit plan of the corporation; provided, that such shares of Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock and Series D Preferred Stock shall only be automatically converted if the public offering price (prior to underwriters' discounts and expenses) of such offering is equal to or exceeds Ten Dollars ($10.00) per share of Common Stock (as adjusted for any stock dividends, combinations or splits with respect to such shares) and the aggregate proceeds to the corporation and/or any selling stockholders (after deduction for underwriting discounts, commissions and expenses) exceed Fifteen Million Dollars ($15,000,000).

(C) MECHANICS OF CONVERSION. Before any holder of Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock or Series D Preferred Stock shall be entitled to convert the same into shares of Common Stock, such holder shall surrender the certificate or certificates therefor, duly endorsed, at the office of the corporation or any transfer agent for such stock, and shall give written notice to the corporation at such office that such holder elects to convert the same and shall state therein the name or names in which he wishes the certificate or certificates for shares of Common Stock to be issued (except that no such notice of intent to convert shall be necessary in the event of an automatic conversion pursuant to Section 3(b) above). The corporation shall, as soon as practicable thereafter, issue and deliver at such office to such holder of Preferred Stock, a certificate or certificates for the number of shares of Common Stock to which he shall be entitled as aforesaid. Such conversion shall be deemed to have been made immediately prior to the close of business on the date of surrender of the shares of Preferred Stock to be converted, and the person or persons entitled to receive the shares of Common Stock issuable upon such conversion shall be treated for all purposes as the record holder or holders of such shares of Common Stock on such date.

(D) ADJUSTMENTS TO CONVERSION PRICES FOR COMMON STOCK DIVIDENDS AND FOR COMBINATIONS OR SUBDIVISIONS OF COMMON STOCK. In the event that this corporation shall declare or pay, without consideration, any dividend or other distribution on the then outstanding shares of Common Stock payable in Common Stock or in any right to acquire Common Stock for no consideration, or shall effect a subdivision of the outstanding shares of Common Stock into a greater number of shares of Common Stock (by stock split, reclassification or otherwise than by payment of a dividend in Common Stock or in any right to acquire Common Stock), or in the event that the then outstanding shares of Common Stock shall be combined or consolidated, by reclassification or otherwise, into a lesser number of shares of Common Stock, then the applicable Conversion Price for a series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately prior to such event shall, concurrently with the effectiveness of such event, be proportionately decreased or increased, as appropriate. In the event that this corporation shall declare or pay, without consideration, any dividend on the then outstanding shares of Common Stock payable in any right to acquire Common Stock for no consideration, then the corporation shall be deemed to have made a dividend payable in Common Stock in an amount of shares equal to the maximum number of shares issuable upon exercise of such rights to acquire Common Stock.

(E) DIVIDENDS AND DISTRIBUTIONS PAYABLE IN SECURITIES OTHER THAN COMMON STOCK. In the event that this corporation shall declare or pay, without consideration, any dividend or other distribution on the then outstanding shares of Common Stock payable in securities of the corporation other than Common Stock or in any right to acquire securities of the corporation other than Common Stock for no consideration and other than as otherwise adjusted in this Section 3, then in each such event provision shall be made so that the holders of each then outstanding series of Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive a proportionate share of any such dividend or distribution as though they were the holders of the number of shares of Common Stock of the corporation into which their shares of Preferred Stock are convertible as of the record date fixed for the determination of the holders of Common Stock of the corporation entitled to receive such dividend or other distribution.

(F) ADJUSTMENTS FOR RECLASSIFICATION AND REORGANIZATION. If the Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock or Series D Preferred Stock shall be changed into the same or a different number of shares of any other class or classes of stock, whether by capital reorganization, reclassification or otherwise (other than a subdivision or combination of shares provided for in Section 3(d) above or a merger or other reorganization referred to in Section 2(c) above), the Series A Conversion Price, Series B Conversion Price, Series C Conversion Price and Series D Conversion Price then in effect shall, concurrently with the effectiveness of such reorganization or reclassification, be proportionately adjusted so that the Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock and Series D Preferred Stock shall be convertible into, in lieu of the number of shares of Common Stock which the holders would otherwise have been entitled to receive, a number of shares of such other class or classes of stock equivalent to the number of shares of Common Stock that would have been subject to receipt by the holders upon conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock and Series D Preferred Stock immediately before that change. In any such case, appropriate adjustment shall be made in the application of the provisions of this Section 3 with respect to the rights of the holders of Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock and Series D Preferred Stock after the capital reorganization, reclassification or other action to the end that the provisions of this Section 3 (including adjustment of the Series A Conversion Price, Series B Conversion Price, Series C Conversion Price and Series D Conversion Price then in effect and the number of shares issuable upon conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock and Series D Preferred Stock) shall be applicable after such action and be as nearly equivalent as possible.

(G) ADJUSTMENTS TO CONVERSION PRICES FOR DILUTIVE ISSUANCES.

(I) If at any time or from time to time after the effective date of this amended and restated certificate of incorporation, the corporation issues or sells, or is deemed by the express provisions of this subsection (g) to have issued or sold, Additional Shares of Common Stock (as hereinafter defined), other than pursuant to an adjustment or dividend provided for under Sections 3(d), 3(e) or 3(f) hereof, for an Effective Price (as hereinafter defined) less than the then effective Series A Conversion Price, Series B Conversion Price or Series D Conversion Price, then and in each such case the then existing Series A Conversion Price, Series B Conversion Price and/or Series D Conversion Price shall be reduced, as of the opening of business on the date of such issue or sale, to a price determined by multiplying the Series A Conversion Price, Series B Conversion Price or Series D Conversion Price, as applicable, by a fraction, (x) the numerator of which shall be (A) the number of shares of Common Stock deemed outstanding (as defined below) immediately prior to such issue or sale, plus (B) the number of shares of Common Stock which the aggregate consideration received (as defined in subsection (g)(ii)) by the corporation for the total number of Additional Shares of Common Stock so issued would purchase at such Series A Conversion Price, Series B Conversion Price or Series D Conversion Price, and (y) the denominator of which shall be the number of shares of Common Stock deemed outstanding (as defined below) immediately prior to such issue or sale plus the total number of Additional Shares of Common Stock so issued. For the purposes of the preceding sentence, the number of shares of Common Stock deemed to be outstanding as of a given date shall be the sum of (1) the number of shares of Common Stock actually outstanding, (2) the number of shares of Common Stock into which the then outstanding shares of Preferred Stock could be converted if fully converted on the day immediately preceding the given date, and (3) the number of shares of Common Stock which could be obtained through the exercise or conversion of all other rights, options and convertible securities on the day immediately preceding the given date.

(II) For the purpose of making any adjustment required under this Section 3(g), the consideration received by the corporation for any issue or sale of securities shall (A) to the extent it consists of cash, be computed at the net amount of cash received by the corporation after deduction of any underwriting or similar commissions, compensation or concessions paid or allowed by the corporation in connection with such issue or sale but without deduction of any expenses payable by the corporation, (B) to the extent it consists of property other than cash, be computed at the fair value of that property as determined in good faith by the board of directors, and (C) if Additional Shares of Common Stock, Convertible Securities (as hereinafter defined) or rights or options to purchase either Additional Shares of Common Stock or Convertible Securities are issued or sold together with other stock or securities or other assets of the corporation for a consideration which covers both, be computed as the portion of the consideration so received that may be reasonably determined in good faith by the board of directors to be allocable to such Additional Shares of Common Stock, Convertible Securities or rights or options.

(III) For the purpose of the adjustment required under this Section 3(g), if the corporation issues or sells any rights or options for the purchase of, or stock or other securities convertible into, Additional Shares of Common Stock (such convertible stock or securities being herein referred to as "Convertible Securities") and if the Effective Price of such Additional Shares of Common Stock is less than the Series A Conversion Price, Series B Conversion Price or Series D Conversion Price, then and in each such case the corporation shall be deemed to have issued at the time of the issuance of such rights or options or Convertible Securities the maximum number of Additional Shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise or conversion thereof and to have received as consideration for the issuance of such shares an amount equal to the total amount of the consideration, if any, received by the corporation for the issuance of such rights or options or Convertible Securities, plus, in the case of such rights or options, the minimum amounts of consideration, if any, payable to the corporation upon the exercise or conversion of such rights or options, plus, in the case of Convertible Securities, the minimum amounts of consideration, if any, payable to the corporation (other than by cancellation of liabilities or obligations evidenced by such Convertible Securities) upon the conversion thereof; provided that if in the case of Convertible Securities the minimum amounts of such consideration cannot be ascertained, but are a function of antidilution or similar protective clauses, the corporation shall be deemed to have received the minimum amounts of consideration without reference to such clauses; provided further that if the minimum amount of consideration payable to the corporation upon the exercise or conversion of rights, options or Convertible Securities is reduced over time or on the occurrence or non-occurrence of specified events other than by reason of antidilution adjustments, the Effective Price shall be recalculated using the figure to which such minimum amount of consideration is reduced; and provided further that if the minimum amount of consideration payable to the corporation upon the exercise or conversion of such rights, options or Convertible Securities is subsequently increased, the Effective Price shall be again recalculated using the increased minimum amount of consideration payable to the corporation upon the exercise or conversion of such rights, options or Convertible Securities.

No further adjustment of the Series A Conversion Price, Series B Conversion Price or Series D Conversion Price, as adjusted upon the issuance of such rights, options or Convertible Securities, shall be made as a result of the actual issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock on the exercise of any such rights or options or the conversion of any such Convertible Securities. If any such rights or options or the conversion privilege represented by any such Convertible Securities shall expire without having been exercised, the Series A Conversion Price, Series B Conversion Price and/or Series D Conversion Price, as adjusted upon the issuance of such rights, options or Convertible Securities, shall be readjusted to the Series A Conversion Price, Series B Conversion Price or Series D Conversion Price, as applicable, which would have been in effect had an adjustment been made on the basis that the only Additional Shares of Common Stock so issued were the Additional Shares of Common Stock, if any, actually issued or sold on the exercise of such rights or options or rights of conversion of such Convertible Securities, and such Additional Shares of Common Stock, if any, were issued or sold for the consideration actually received by the corporation upon such exercise, plus the consideration, if any, actually received by the corporation for the granting of all such rights or options, whether or not exercised, plus the consideration received for issuing or selling the Convertible Securities actually converted, plus the consideration, if any, actually received by the corporation (other than by cancellation of liabilities or obligations evidenced by such Convertible Securities) on the conversion of such Convertible Securities, provided that such readjustment shall not apply to prior conversions of Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock or Series D Preferred Stock.

(IV) "Additional Shares of Common Stock" shall mean all shares of Common Stock issued by the corporation or deemed to be issued pursuant to this Section 3(g), whether or not subsequently reacquired or retired by the corporation other than:

(A) any shares of Common Stock issuable pursuant to an adjustment or dividend provided for under Sections 3(d), 3(e) or 3(f) hereof;

(B) any shares of Common Stock issued upon conversion of the Preferred Stock;

(C) any options or warrants to purchase Common Stock or Preferred Stock and any shares of Common Stock or Preferred Stock issued or issuable upon conversion or exercise of any options or warrants outstanding on the effective date of this amended and restated certificate of incorporation;

(D) any shares of Common Stock issued pursuant to the exchange, conversion or exercise of any options, warrants or other rights which have previously been incorporated into computations hereunder on the date such options, warrants or rights were issued; and

(E) any shares of Common Stock (and/or options, warrants or other Common Stock purchase rights, and the Common Stock issued pursuant to such options, warrants or purchase rights), as adjusted for splits, stock dividends, reorganizations and the like, issued or issuable (but excluding shares issued upon the exercise of options outstanding on the effective date of this amended and certificate of incorporation) to employees, officers, directors or consultants of the corporation with the approval of the board of directors of the corporation pursuant to any stock option plan, stock incentive or purchase plan or agreement of the corporation.

(V) The "Effective Price" of Additional Shares of Common Stock shall mean the quotient determined by dividing the total number of Additional Shares of Common Stock issued or sold, or deemed to have been issued or sold by the corporation under this Section 3(g), into the aggregate consideration received, or deemed to have been received by the corporation for such issue under this Section 3(g), for such Additional Shares of Common Stock.

(H) NO IMPAIRMENT. The corporation will not, by amendment of its certificate of incorporation or through any reorganization, transfer of assets, consolidation, merger, dissolution, issue or sale of securities or any other voluntary action, avoid or seek to avoid the observance or performance of any of the terms to be observed or performed hereunder by the corporation, but will at all times in good faith assist in the carrying out of all the provisions of this Section 3 and in the taking of all such action as may be necessary or appropriate in order to protect the conversion rights of the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock and Series D Preferred Stock against impairment.

(I) CERTIFICATES AS TO ADJUSTMENTS. Upon the occurrence of each adjustment or readjustment of any Conversion Price pursuant to this Section 3, the corporation at its expense shall promptly compute such adjustment or readjustment in accordance with the terms hereof and prepare and furnish to each holder of Series A Preferred Stock, each holder of Series B Preferred Stock, each holder of Series C Preferred Stock and each holder of Series D Preferred Stock a certificate executed by the corporation's chief financial officer setting forth such adjustment or readjustment and showing in detail the facts upon which such adjustment or readjustment is based. The corporation shall, upon the written request at any time of any holder of Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock or Series D Preferred Stock, furnish or cause to be furnished to such holder a like certificate setting forth:

(i) such adjustments and readjustments, (ii) the applicable Conversion Prices for the Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock and Series D Preferred Stock at the time in effect, and (iii) the number of shares of Common Stock and the amount, if any, of other property which at the time would be received upon the conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock or Series D Preferred Stock.

(J) NOTICES OF RECORD DATE. In the event that the corporation shall propose at any time: (i) to declare any dividend or distribution upon its Common Stock, whether in cash, property, stock or other securities, whether or not a regular cash dividend and whether or not out of earnings or earned surplus; (ii) to offer for subscription pro rata to the holders of any class or series of its stock any additional shares of stock of any class or series or other rights; (iii) to effect any reclassification or recapitalization of its capital stock outstanding involving a change in the capital stock; or (iv) to merge or consolidate with or into any other corporation, or sell, lease or convey all or substantially all of its assets, or to voluntarily or involuntarily liquidate, dissolve or wind up; then, in connection with each such event, the corporation shall send to the holders of Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock and Series D Preferred Stock:

(A) at least twenty (20) days’ prior written notice of the date on which a record shall be taken for such dividend, distribution or subscription rights (and specifying the date on which the holders of Common Stock (or other securities) shall be entitled thereto) or for determining rights to vote, if any, in respect of the matters referred to in (iii) and (iv) above; and

(B) in the case of the matters referred to in (iii) and (iv) above, at least twenty (20) days’ prior written notice of the date when the same shall take place (and specifying the date on which the holders of Common Stock (or other securities) shall be entitled to exchange their Common Stock (or other securities) for securities or other property deliverable upon the occurrence of such event).

(K) ISSUE TAXES. The corporation shall pay any and all issue and other taxes that may be payable in respect of any issue or delivery of shares of Common Stock on conversion of Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock or Series D Preferred Stock pursuant hereto; provided, however, that the corporation shall not be obligated to pay any transfer taxes resulting from any transfer requested by any holder in connection with any such conversion.

(L) RESERVATION OF STOCK ISSUABLE UPON CONVERSION. The corporation shall at all times reserve and keep available out of its authorized but unissued shares of Common Stock, solely for the purpose of effecting the conversion of the shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock and Series D Preferred Stock, such number of its shares of Common Stock as shall from time to time be sufficient to effect the conversion of all outstanding shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock and Series D Preferred Stock; and if at any time the number of authorized but unissued shares of Common Stock shall not be sufficient to effect the conversion of all then outstanding shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock and Series D Preferred Stock, the corporation will take such corporate action as may, in the opinion of its counsel, be necessary to increase its authorized but unissued shares of Common Stock to such number of shares as shall be sufficient for such purpose, including, without limitation, engaging in best efforts to obtain the requisite stockholder approval of any necessary amendment to this certificate of incorporation.

(M) FRACTIONAL SHARES. No fractional share shall be issued upon the conversion of any share or shares of Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock or Series D Preferred Stock. All shares of Common Stock (including fractions thereof) issuable upon conversion of more than one share of Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock or Series D Preferred Stock by a holder thereof shall be aggregated for purposes of determining whether the conversion would result in the issuance of any fractional share. If, after the aforementioned aggregation, the conversion would result in the issuance of a fraction of a share of Common Stock, the corporation shall, in lieu of issuing any fractional share, pay the holder otherwise entitled to such fraction a sum in cash equal to the fair market value of such fraction on the date of conversion (as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors).

(N) NOTICES. Any notice required by the provisions of this Section 3 to be given to the holder of shares of Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock or Series D Preferred Stock shall be deemed given if deposited in the United States mail, postage prepaid, and addressed to each holder of record at his address appearing on the books of the corporation.

4. VOTING RIGHTS. Each holder of issued and outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock, each holder of issued and outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock, each holder of issued and outstanding shares of Series C Preferred Stock and each holder of issued and outstanding shares of Series D Preferred Stock shall be entitled to the number of votes equal to the number of shares of Common Stock into which such shares of Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock or Series D Preferred Stock could be converted pursuant to Section 3 hereof and shall have voting rights and powers equal to the voting rights and powers of the Common Stock (except as otherwise expressly provided herein or as required by law, voting together with the Common Stock as a single class) and shall be entitled to notice of any stockholders’ meeting in accordance with the Bylaws of the corporation. Fractional votes shall not, however, be permitted and any fractional voting rights resulting from the above formula (after aggregating all shares into which shares of Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Series C Preferred Stock and Series D Preferred Stock held by each holder could be converted) shall be rounded to the nearest whole number (with one-half being rounded upward). Each holder of Common Stock shall be entitled to one (1) vote for each share of Common Stock held.

5. PROTECTIVE PROVISIONS.

(A) PREFERRED STOCK. So long as shares of Preferred Stock are outstanding, the corporation shall not, without first obtaining the approval (by vote or written approval, as provided by law) of the holders of more that fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding shares of Preferred Stock voting as a single class on an as-converted basis:

(I) effect the issuance or create any new class of shares senior to the Preferred Stock with respect to dividends or other distributions or liquidations;

(II) effect any merger of the corporation with or into another entity (other than a wholly owned subsidiary corporation) or sale of all or substantially all of the corporation's assets; or

(III) effect any dividend or other distribution on the corporation's capital stock.

(B) SERIES B PREFERRED STOCK. So long as shares of Series B Preferred Stock are outstanding, the corporation shall not, without first obtaining the approval (by vote or written approval, as provided by law) of the holders of more that fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock voting as a series:

(I) alter or change the rights, preferences or privileges of the Series B Preferred Stock materially and adversely;

(II) increase the number of shares of Series B Preferred Stock designated pursuant to the certificate of incorporation; or

(III) amend the corporation's certificate of incorporation or bylaws materially and adversely to the Series B Preferred Stock.

(C) SERIES C PREFERRED STOCK. So long as shares of Series C Preferred Stock are outstanding, the corporation shall not, without first obtaining the approval (by vote or written approval, as provided by law) of the holders of more that fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding shares of Series C Preferred Stock voting as a series:

(I) alter or change the rights, preferences or privileges of the Series C Preferred Stock materially and adversely;

(II) increase the number of shares of Series C Preferred Stock designated pursuant to the certificate of incorporation; or

(III) amend the corporation's certificate of incorporation or bylaws materially and adversely to the Series C Preferred Stock.

(D) SERIES D PREFERRED STOCK. So long as shares of Series D Preferred Stock are outstanding, the corporation shall not, without first obtaining the approval (by vote or written approval, as provided by law) of the holders of more than fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding shares of Series D Preferred Stock voting as a series:

(I) alter or change the rights, preferences or privileges of the Series D Preferred Stock materially and adversely;

(II) increase the number of shares of Series D Preferred Stock designated pursuant to the certificate of incorporation; or

(III) amend the corporation's certificate of incorporation or bylaws materially and adversely to the Series D Preferred Stock.

6. NO REISSUANCE OF PREFERRED STOCK.

(A) No share or shares of Series A Preferred Stock acquired by the corporation by reason of redemption, purchase, conversion or otherwise shall be reissued, and all such shares shall be canceled, retired and eliminated from the shares which the corporation shall be authorized to issue.

(B) No share or shares of Series B Preferred Stock acquired by the corporation by reason of redemption, purchase, conversion or otherwise shall be reissued, and all such shares shall be canceled, retired and eliminated from the shares which the corporation shall be authorized to issue.

(C) No share or shares of Series C Preferred Stock acquired by the corporation by reason of redemption, purchase, conversion or otherwise shall be reissued, and all such shares shall be canceled, retired and eliminated from the shares which the corporation shall be authorized to issue.

(D) No share or shares of Series D Preferred Stock acquired by the corporation by reason of redemption, purchase, conversion or otherwise shall be reissued, and all such shares shall be canceled, retired and eliminated from the shares which the corporation shall be authorized to issue.

V.
For the management of the business and for the conduct of the affairs of the corporation, and in further definition, limitation and regulation of the powers of the corporation, of its directors and of its stockholders or any class thereof, as the case may be, it is further provided that:

A. 1. The management of the business and the conduct of the affairs of the corporation shall be vested in its Board of Directors. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole Board of Directors shall be fixed exclusively by one or more resolutions adopted by the Board of Directors.

2. Subject to the rights of the holders of any series of Preferred Stock to elect additional directors under specified circumstances, following the closing of the initial public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "1933 Act"), covering the offer and sale of Common Stock to the public (the "Initial Public Offering"), the directors shall be divided into two classes designated as Class I and Class II, respectively. Directors shall be assigned to each class in accordance with a resolution or resolutions adopted by the Board of Directors. At the first annual meeting of stockholders following the closing of the Initial Public Offering, the term of office of the Class I directors shall expire and Class I directors shall be elected for a full term of two years. At the second annual meeting of stockholders following the Closing of the Initial Public Offering, the term of office of the Class II directors shall expire and Class II directors shall be elected for a full term of two years. At each succeeding annual meeting of stockholders, directors shall be elected for a full term of two years to succeed the directors of the class whose terms expire at such annual meeting.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Article, each director shall serve until his successor is duly elected and qualified or until his death, resignation or removal. No decrease in the number of directors constituting the Board of Directors shall shorten the term of any incumbent director.

3. Subject to the rights of the holders of any series of Preferred Stock, the Board of Directors or any individual director may be removed from office at any time (i) with cause by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the voting power of all of the then outstanding stock of voting stock of the Corporation, entitled to vote at an election of directors (the "Voting Stock") or (ii) without cause by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least sixty-six and two thirds (66-2/3%) of the voting power of all the then outstanding shares of Voting Stock.

4. Subject to the rights of the holders of any series of Preferred Stock, any vacancies on the Board of Directors resulting from death, resignation, disqualification, removal or other causes and any newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the number of directors, shall, unless the Board of Directors determines by resolution that any such vacancies or newly created directorships shall be filled by the stockholders, except as otherwise provided by law, be filled only by the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors then in office, even though less than a quorum of the Board of Directors, and not by the stockholders. Any director elected in accordance with the preceding sentence shall hold office for the remainder of the full term of the director for which the vacancy was created or occurred and until such director's successor shall have been elected and qualified.

5. In the event that Section 2115(a) of the California Corporations Code is applicable to this corporation, then the following shall apply:

(A) Every stockholder entitled to vote in any election of directors of this corporation may cumulate such stockholder's votes and give one candidate a number of votes equal to the number of directors to be elected multiplied by the number of votes to which the stockholder's shares are otherwise entitled, or distribute the stockholder's votes on the same principle among as many candidates as such stockholder thinks fit;

(B) No stockholder, however, may cumulate such stockholder's votes for one or more candidates unless (i) the names of such candidates have been properly placed in nomination, in accordance with the Bylaws of the corporation, prior to the voting, (ii) the stockholder has given advance notice to the corporation of the intention to cumulative votes pursuant to the Bylaws, and (iii) the stockholder has given proper notice to the other stockholders at the meeting, prior to voting, of such stockholder's intention to cumulative such stockholder's votes; and

(C) If any stockholder has given proper notice, all stockholders may cumulate their votes for any candidates who have been properly placed in nomination. The candidates receiving the highest number of votes of the shares entitled to be voted for them up to the number of directors to be elected by such shares shall be declared elected.

B. 1. Subject to paragraph (h) of Section 43 of the Bylaws, the Bylaws may be altered or amended or new Bylaws adopted by the affirmative vote of at least sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the voting power of all of the then-outstanding shares of the Voting Stock. The Board of Directors shall also have the power to adopt, amend or repeal Bylaws.

2. The directors of the corporation need not be elected by written ballot unless the Bylaws so provide.

3. No action shall be taken by the stockholders of the corporation except at an annual or special meeting of stockholders called in accordance with the Bylaws.

4. Advance notice of stockholder nominations for the election of directors and of business to be brought by stockholders before any meeting of the stockholders of the corporation shall be given in the manner provided in the Bylaws of the corporation.

VI.

A. A director of the corporation shall not be personally liable to the corporation or its stockholders for monetary damages for any breach of fiduciary duty as a director, except for liability (i) for any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the corporation or its stockholders, (ii) for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law (iii) under Section 174 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, or (iv) for any transaction from which the director derived an improper personal benefit. If the Delaware
General Corporation Law is amended after approval by the stockholders of this Article to authorize corporate action further eliminating or limiting the personal liability of directors, then the liability of a director shall be eliminated or limited to the fullest extent permitted by the Delaware General corporation Law, as so amended.

B. Any repeal or modification of this Article VI shall be prospective and shall not affect the rights under this Article VI in effect at the time of the alleged occurrence of any act or omission to act giving rise to liability or indemnification.

A. The corporation reserves the right to amend, alter, change or repeal any provision contained in this Certificate of Incorporation, in the manner now or hereafter prescribed by statute, except as provided in paragraph B. of this Article VII, and all rights conferred upon the stockholders herein are granted subject to this reservation.

B. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Certificate of Incorporation or any provision of law which might otherwise permit a lesser vote or no vote, but in addition to any affirmative vote of the holders of any particular class or series of the Voting Stock required by law, this Certificate of Incorporation or any Preferred Stock Designation, the affirmative vote of the holders of at least sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the voting power of all of the then-outstanding shares of the Voting Stock, voting together as a single class, shall be required to alter, amend or repeal Articles V, VI and VII.

SECTION 3. CORPORATE SEAL. The corporate seal shall consist of a die bearing the name of the corporation and the inscription, "Corporate Seal- Delaware." Said seal may be used by causing it or a facsimile thereof to be impressed or affixed or reproduced or otherwise.

ARTICLE III

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETINGS

SECTION 4. PLACE OF MEETINGS. Meetings of the stockholders of the corporation shall be held at such place, either within or without the State of Delaware, as may be designated from time to time by the Board of Directors, or, if not so designated, then at the office of the corporation required to be maintained pursuant to Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 5. ANNUAL MEETINGS.

(A) The annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation, for the purpose of election of directors and for such other business as may lawfully come before it, shall be held on such date and at such time as may be designated from time to time by the Board of Directors.

(B) At an annual meeting of the stockholders, only such business shall be conducted as shall have been properly brought before the meeting. To be properly brought before an annual meeting, business must be: (A) specified in the notice of meeting (or any supplement thereto) given by or at the direction of the Board of Directors, (B) otherwise properly brought before the meeting by or at the direction of the Board of Directors, or (C) otherwise properly brought before the meeting by a stockholder. For business to be properly brought before an annual meeting by a stockholder, the stockholder must have given timely notice thereof in writing to the Secretary of the corporation.

To be timely, a stockholder's notice must be delivered to or mailed and received at the principal executive offices of the corporation not later than the close of business on the sixtieth (60th) day nor earlier than the close of business on the ninetieth (90th) day prior to the first anniversary of the preceding year's annual meeting; provided, however, that in the event that no annual meeting was held in the previous year or the date of the annual meeting has been changed by more than thirty (30) days from the date contemplated at the time of the previous year's proxy statement, notice by the stockholder to be timely must be so received not earlier than the close of business on the ninetieth (90th) day prior to such annual meeting and not later than the close of business on the later of the sixtieth (60th) day prior to such annual meeting or, in the event public announcement of the date of such annual meeting is first made by the corporation fewer than seventy (70) days prior to the date of such annual meeting, the close of business on the tenth (10th) day following the day on which public announcement of the date of such meeting is first made by the corporation. A stockholder's notice to the Secretary shall set forth as to each matter the stockholder proposes to bring before the annual meeting: (i) a brief description of the business desired to be brought before the annual meeting and the reasons for conducting such business at the annual meeting, (ii) the name and address, as they appear on the corporation's books, of the stockholder proposing such business, (iii) the class and number of shares of the corporation which are beneficially owned by the stockholder, (iv) any material interest of the stockholder in such business and
(v) any other information that is required to be provided by the stockholder pursuant to Regulation 14A under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "1934 Act"), in his capacity as a proponent to a stockholder proposal. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in order to include information with respect to a stockholder proposal in the proxy statement and form of proxy for a stockholder's meeting, stockholders must provide notice as required by the regulations promulgated under the 1934 Act. Notwithstanding anything in these Bylaws to the contrary, no business shall be conducted at any annual meeting except in accordance with the procedures set forth in this paragraph (b). The chairman of the annual meeting shall, if the facts warrant, determine and declare at the meeting that business was not properly brought before the meeting and in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph (b), and, if he should so determine, he shall so declare at the meeting that any such business not properly brought before the meeting shall not be transacted.

(C) Only persons who are nominated in accordance with the procedures set forth in this paragraph (c) shall be eligible for election as directors.
Nominations of persons for election to the Board of Directors of the corporation may be made at a meeting of stockholders by or at the direction of the Board of Directors or by any stockholder of the corporation entitled to vote in the election of directors at the meeting who complies with the notice procedures set forth in this paragraph (c). Such nominations, other than those made by or at the direction of the Board of Directors, shall be made pursuant to timely notice in writing to the Secretary of the corporation in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) of this Section 5. Such stockholder's notice shall set forth
(i) as to each person, if any, whom the stockholder proposes to nominate for election or re-election as a director: (A) the name, age, business address and residence address of such person, (B) the principal occupation or employment of such person, (C) the class and number of shares of the corporation which are beneficially owned by such person, (D) a description of all arrangements or understandings between the stockholder and each nominee and any other person or persons (naming such person or persons) pursuant to which the nominations are to be made by the stockholder, and (E) any other information relating to such person that is required to be disclosed in solicitations of proxies for election of directors, or is otherwise required, in each case pursuant to Regulation 14A under the 1934 Act (including without limitation such person's written consent to being named in the proxy statement, if any, as a nominee and to serving as a director if elected); and (ii) as to such stockholder giving notice, the information required to be provided pursuant to paragraph (b) of this Section 5. At the request of the Board of Directors, any person nominated by a stockholder for election as a director shall furnish to the Secretary of the corporation that information required to be set forth in the stockholder's notice of nomination which pertains to the nominee. No person shall be eligible for election as a director of the corporation unless nominated in accordance with the procedures set forth in this paragraph (c). The chairman of the meeting shall, if the facts warrant, determine and declare at the meeting that a nomination was not made in accordance with the procedures prescribed by these Bylaws, and if he should so determine, he shall so declare at the meeting, and the defective nomination shall be disregarded.

(D) For purposes of this Section 5, "public announcement" shall mean disclosure in a press release reported by the Dow Jones News Service, Associated Press or comparable national news service or in a document publicly filed by the corporation with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to Section 13, 14 or 15(d) of the 1934 Act.

SECTION 6. SPECIAL MEETINGS.

(A) Special meetings of the stockholders of the corporation may be called, for any purpose or purposes, by (i) the Chairman of the Board of Directors, (ii) the Chief Executive Officer, or (iii) the Board of Directors pursuant to a resolution adopted by a majority of the total number of authorized directors (whether or not there exist any vacancies in previously authorized directorships at the time any such resolution is presented to the Board of Directors for adoption), and shall be held at such place, on such date, and at such time as the Board of Directors, shall fix.

(B) If a special meeting is called by any person or persons other than the Board of Directors, the request shall be in writing, specifying the general nature of the business proposed to be transacted, and shall be delivered personally or sent by registered mail or by telegraphic or other facsimile transmission to the Chairman of the Board of Directors, the Chief Executive Officer, or the Secretary of the corporation. No business may be transacted at such special meeting otherwise than specified in such notice. The Board of Directors shall determine the time and place of such special meeting, which shall be held not less than thirty-five (35) nor more than one hundred twenty (120) days after the date of the receipt of the request. Upon determination of the time and place of the meeting, the officer receiving the request shall cause notice to be given to the stockholders entitled to vote, in accordance with the provisions of Section 7 of these Bylaws. If the notice is not given within sixty (60) days after the receipt of the request, the person or persons requesting the meeting may set the time and place of the meeting and give the notice. Nothing contained in this paragraph (b) shall be construed as limiting, fixing, or affecting the time when a meeting of stockholders called by action of the Board of Directors may be held.

Section 7. NOTICE OF MEETINGS. Except as otherwise provided by law or the Certificate of Incorporation, written notice of each meeting of stockholders shall be given not less than ten (10) nor more than sixty (60) days before the date of the meeting to each stockholder entitled to vote at such meeting, such notice to specify the place, date and hour and purpose or purposes of the meeting. Notice of the time, place and purpose of any meeting of stockholders may be waived in writing, signed by the person entitled to notice thereof, either before or after such meeting, and will be waived by any stockholder by his attendance thereat in person or by proxy, except when the stockholder attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting, at the beginning of the meeting, to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened. Any stockholder so waiving notice of such meeting shall be bound by the proceedings of any such meeting in all respects as if due notice thereof had been given.

SECTION 8. QUORUM. At all meetings of stockholders, except where otherwise provided by statute or by the Certificate of Incorporation, or by these Bylaws, the presence, in person or by proxy duly authorized, of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, any meeting of stockholders may be adjourned, from time to time, either by the chairman of the meeting or by vote of the holders of a majority of the shares represented thereat, but no other business shall be transacted at such meeting. The stockholders present at a duly called or convened meeting, at which a quorum is present, may continue to transact business until adjournment, notwithstanding the withdrawal of enough stockholders to leave less than a quorum. Except as otherwise provided by law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws, all action taken by the holders of a majority of the vote cast, excluding abstentions, at any meeting at which a quorum is present shall be valid and binding upon the corporation; provided, however, that directors shall be elected by a plurality of the votes of the shares present in person or represented by proxy at the meeting and entitled to vote on the election of directors. Where a separate vote by a class or classes or series is required, except where otherwise provided by the statute or by the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws, a majority of the outstanding shares of such class or classes or series, present in person or represented by proxy, shall constitute a quorum entitled to take action with respect to that vote on that matter and, except where otherwise provided by the statute or by the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws, the affirmative vote of the majority (plurality, in the case of the election of directors) of the votes cast, including abstentions, by the holders of shares of such class or classes or series shall be the act of such class or classes or series.

SECTION 9. ADJOURNMENT AND NOTICE OF ADJOURNED MEETINGS. Any meeting of stockholders, whether annual or special, may be adjourned from time to time either by the chairman of the meeting or by the vote of a majority of the shares casting votes, excluding abstentions. When a meeting is adjourned to another time or place, notice need not be given of the adjourned meeting if the time and place thereof are announced at the meeting at which the adjournment is taken. At the adjourned meeting, the corporation may transact any business which might have been transacted at the original meeting. If the adjournment is for more than thirty (30) days or if after the adjournment a new record date is fixed for the adjourned meeting, a notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each stockholder of record entitled to vote at the meeting.

SECTION 10. VOTING RIGHTS. For the purpose of determining those stockholders entitled to vote at any meeting of the stockholders, except as otherwise provided by law, only persons in whose names shares stand on the stock records of the corporation on the record date, as provided in Section 12 of these Bylaws, shall be entitled to vote at any meeting of stockholders. Every person entitled to vote shall have the right to do so either in person or by an agent or agents authorized by a proxy granted in accordance with Delaware law. An agent so appointed need not be a stockholder. No proxy shall be voted after three (3) years from its date of creation unless the proxy provides for a longer period.

SECTION 11. JOINT OWNERS OF STOCK. If shares or other securities having voting power stand of record in the names of two (2) or more persons, whether fiduciaries, members of a partnership, joint tenants, tenants in common, tenants by the entirety, or otherwise, or if two (2) or more persons have the same fiduciary relationship respecting the same shares, unless the Secretary is given written notice to the contrary and is furnished with a copy of the instrument or order appointing them or creating the relationship wherein it is so provided, their acts with respect to voting shall have the following effect: (a) if only one (1) votes, his act binds all; (b) if more than one (1) votes, the act of the majority so voting binds all; (c) if more than one (1) votes, but the vote is evenly split on any particular matter, each faction may vote the securities in question proportionally, or may apply to the Delaware Court of Chancery for relief as provided in the General Corporation Law of Delaware, Section 217(b). If the instrument filed with the Secretary shows that any such tenancy is held in unequal interests, a majority or even-split for the purpose of subsection (c) shall be a majority or even-split in interest.

SECTION 12. LIST OF STOCKHOLDERS. The Secretary shall prepare and make, at least ten (10) days before every meeting of stockholders, a complete list of the stockholders entitled to vote at said meeting, arranged in alphabetical order, showing the address of each stockholder and the number of shares registered in the name of each stockholder. Such list shall be open to the examination of any stockholder, for any purpose germane to the meeting, during ordinary business hours, for a period of at least ten (10) days prior to the meeting, either at a place within the city where the meeting is to be held, which place shall be specified in the notice of the meeting, or, if not specified, at the place where the meeting is to be held. The list shall be produced and kept at the time and place of meeting during the whole time thereof and may be inspected by any stockholder who is present.

SECTION 13. ACTION WITHOUT MEETING.

(A) Unless otherwise provided in the Certificate of Incorporation, any action required by statute to be taken at any annual or special meeting of the stockholders, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of the stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by the holders of outstanding stock having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote thereon were present and voted.

(B) Every written consent shall bear the date of signature of each stockholder who signs the consent, and no written consent shall be effective to take the corporate action referred to therein unless, within sixty (60) days of the earliest dated consent delivered to the corporation in the manner herein required, written consents signed by a sufficient number of stockholders to take action are delivered to the corporation by delivery to its registered office in the State of Delaware, its principal place of business or an officer or agent of the corporation having custody of the book in which proceedings of meetings of stockholders are recorded. Delivery made to a corporation's registered office shall be by hand or by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested.

(C) Prompt notice of the taking of the corporate action without a meeting by less than unanimous written consent shall be given to those stockholders who have not consented in writing. If the action which is consented to is such as would have required the filing of a certificate under any section of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware if such action had been voted on by stockholders at a meeting thereof, then the certificate filed under such section shall state, in lieu of any statement required by such section concerning any vote of stockholders, that written consent has been given in accordance with Section 228 of the General Corporation Law of Delaware.

(D) Notwithstanding the foregoing, no such action by written consent may be taken following the closing of the initial public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "1933 Act"), covering the offer and sale of Common Stock of the corporation (the "Initial Public Offering").

SECTION 14. ORGANIZATION.

(A) At every meeting of stockholders, the Chairman of the Board of Directors, or, if a Chairman has not been appointed or is absent, the President, or, if the President is absent, a chairman of the meeting chosen by a majority in interest of the stockholders entitled to vote, present in person or by proxy, shall act as chairman. The Secretary, or, in his absence, an Assistant Secretary directed to do so by the President, shall act as secretary of the meeting.

(B) The Board of Directors of the corporation shall be entitled to make such rules or regulations for the conduct of meetings of stockholders as it shall deem necessary, appropriate or convenient. Subject to such rules and regulations of the Board of Directors, if any, the chairman of the meeting shall have the right and authority to prescribe such rules, regulations and procedures and to do all such acts as, in the judgment of such chairman, are necessary, appropriate or convenient for the proper conduct of the meeting, including, without limitation, establishing an agenda or order of business for the meeting, rules and procedures for maintaining order at the meeting and the safety of those present, limitations on participation in such meeting to stockholders of record of the corporation and their duly authorized and constituted proxies and such other persons as the chairman shall permit, restrictions on entry to the meeting after the time fixed for the commencement thereof, limitations on the time allotted to questions or comments by participants and regulation of the opening and closing of the polls for balloting on matters which are to be voted on by ballot. Unless and to the extent determined by the Board of Directors or the chairman of the meeting, meetings of stockholders shall not be required to be held in accordance with rules of parliamentary procedure.

ARTICLE IV

DIRECTORS

SECTION 15. NUMBER AND TERM OF OFFICE. The authorized number of directors of the corporation shall be fixed in accordance with the Certificate of Incorporation. Directors need not be stockholders unless so required by the Certificate of Incorporation. If for any cause, the directors shall not have been elected at an annual meeting, they may be elected as soon thereafter as convenient at a special meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose in the manner provided in these Bylaws.

SECTION 16. POWERS. The powers of the corporation shall be exercised, its business conducted and its property controlled by the Board of Directors, except as may be otherwise provided by statute or by the Certificate of Incorporation.

Section 17. CLASSES OF DIRECTORS. Subject to the rights of the holders of any series of Preferred Stock to elect additional directors under specified circumstances, following the closing of the Initial Public Offering, the directors shall be divided into three classes designated as Class I and Class II. Directors shall be assigned to each class in accordance with a resolution or resolutions adopted by the Board of Directors. At the first annual meeting of stockholders following the closing of the Initial Public Offering, the term of office of the Class I directors shall expire and Class I directors shall be elected for a full term of two years. At the second annual meeting of stockholders following the Closing of the Initial Public Offering, the term of office of the Class II directors shall expire and Class II directors shall be elected for a full term of two years. At each succeeding annual meeting of stockholders, directors shall be elected for a full term of two years to succeed the directors of the class whose terms expire at such annual meeting.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Article, each director shall serve until his successor is duly elected and qualified or until his death, resignation or removal. No decrease in the number of directors constituting the Board of Directors shall shorten the term of any incumbent director.

SECTION 18. VACANCIES. Unless otherwise provided in the Certificate of Incorporation, any vacancies on the Board of Directors resulting from death, resignation, disqualification, removal or other causes and any newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the number of directors shall, unless the Board of Directors determines by resolution that any such vacancies or newly created directorships shall be filled by stockholders, be filled only by the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors then in office, even though less than a quorum of the Board of Directors. Any director elected in accordance with the preceding sentence shall hold office for the remainder of the full term of the director for which the vacancy was created or occurred and until such director's successor shall have been elected and qualified. A vacancy in the Board of Directors shall be deemed to exist under this Bylaw in the case of the death, removal or resignation of any director.

SECTION 19. RESIGNATION. Any director may resign at any time by delivering his written resignation to the Secretary, such resignation to specify whether it will be effective at a particular time, upon receipt by the Secretary or at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. If no such specification is made, it shall be deemed effective at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. When one or more directors shall resign from the Board of Directors, effective at a future date, a majority of the directors then in office, including those who have so resigned, shall have power to fill such vacancy or vacancies, the vote thereon to take effect when such resignation or resignations shall become effective, and each Director so chosen shall hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacated and until his successor shall have been duly elected and qualified.

SECTION 20. REMOVAL. Subject to the rights of the holders of any series of Preferred Stock, the Board of Directors or any individual director may be removed from office at any time (i) with cause by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the voting power of all the then-outstanding shares of voting stock of the corporation entitled to vote at an election of directors (the “Voting Stock”) or (ii) without cause by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the voting power of all the then-outstanding shares of the Voting Stock.

SECTION 21. MEETINGS.

(A) ANNUAL MEETINGS. The annual meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately before or after the annual meeting of stockholders and at the place where such meeting is held. No notice of an annual meeting of the Board of Directors shall be necessary and such meeting shall be held for the purpose of electing officers and transacting such other business as may lawfully come before it.

(B) REGULAR MEETINGS. Except as hereinafter otherwise provided, regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held in the office of the corporation required to be maintained pursuant to Section 2 hereof. Unless otherwise restricted by the Certificate of Incorporation, regular meetings of the Board of Directors may also be held at any place within or without the State of Delaware which has been designated by resolution of the Board of Directors or the written consent of all directors.

(C) SPECIAL MEETINGS. Unless otherwise restricted by the Certificate of Incorporation, special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held at any time and place within or without the State of Delaware whenever called by the Chairman of the Board, the President or any two of the directors.
(D) TELEPHONE MEETINGS. Any member of the Board of Directors, or of any committee thereof, may participate in a meeting by means of conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other, and participation in a meeting by such means shall constitute presence in person at such meeting.

(E) NOTICE OF MEETINGS. Notice of the time and place of all special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be orally or in writing, by telephone, including a voice messaging system or other system or technology designed to record and communicate messages, facsimile, telegraph or telex, or by electronic mail or other electronic means, during normal business hours, at least twenty-four (24) hours before the date and time of the meeting, or sent in writing to each director by first class mail, charges prepaid, at least three (3) days before the date of the meeting. Notice of any meeting may be waived in writing at any time before or after the meeting and will be waived by any director by attendance thereat, except when the director attends the meeting for the express purpose of objecting, at the beginning of the meeting, to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened.

(F) WAIVER OF NOTICE. The transaction of all business at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any committee thereof, however called or noticed, or wherever held, shall be as valid as though had at a meeting duly held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the directors not present shall sign a written waiver of notice. All such waivers shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

SECTION 22. QUORUM AND VOTING.

(A) Unless the Certificate of Incorporation requires a greater number and except with respect to indemnification questions arising under Section 43 hereof, for which a quorum shall be one-third of the exact number of directors fixed from time to time in accordance with the Certificate of Incorporation, a quorum of the Board of Directors shall consist of a majority of the exact number of directors fixed from time to time by the Board of Directors in accordance with the Certificate of Incorporation; provided, however, at any meeting whether a quorum be present or otherwise, a majority of the directors present may adjourn from time to time until the time fixed for the next regular meeting of the Board of Directors, without notice other than by announcement at the meeting.

(B) At each meeting of the Board of Directors at which a quorum is present, all questions and business shall be determined by the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors present, unless a different vote be required by law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws.

SECTION 23. ACTION WITHOUT MEETING. Unless otherwise restricted by the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors or of any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting, if all members of the Board of Directors or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing. and such writing or writings are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the Board of Directors or committee.

SECTION 24. FEES AND COMPENSATION. Directors shall be entitled to such compensation for their services as may be approved by the Board of Directors, including, if so approved, by resolution of the Board of Directors, a fixed sum and expenses of attendance, if any, for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board of Directors and at any meeting of a committee of the Board of Directors. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity as an officer, agent, employee, or otherwise and receiving compensation therefor.

SECTION 25. COMMITTEES.

(A) EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE. The Board of Directors may appoint an Executive Committee to consist of one (1) or more members of the Board of Directors. The Executive Committee, to the extent permitted by law and provided in the resolution of the Board of Directors shall have and may exercise all the powers and authority of the Board of Directors in the management of the business and affairs of the corporation, and may authorize the seal of the corporation to be affixed to all papers which may require it; but no such committee shall have the power or authority in reference to (i) approving or adopting, or recommending to the stockholders, any action or matter expressly required by Delaware the General Corporation Law to be submitted to stockholders for approval, or (ii) adopting, amending or repealing any bylaw of the corporation.

(B) OTHER COMMITTEES. The Board of Directors may, from time to time, appoint such other committees as may be permitted by law. Such other committees appointed by the Board of Directors shall consist of one (1) or more members of the Board of Directors and shall have such powers and perform such duties as may be prescribed by the resolution or resolutions creating such committees, but in no event shall any such committee have the powers denied to the Executive Committee in these Bylaws.

The Board of Directors, subject to the provisions of subsections (a) or (b) of this Bylaw may at any time increase or decrease the number of members of a committee or terminate the existence of a committee. (D) MEETINGS. Unless the Board of Directors shall otherwise provide, regular meetings of the Executive Committee or any other committee appointed pursuant to this Section 25 shall be held at such times and places as are determined by the Board of Directors, or by any such committee, and when notice thereof has been given to each member of such committee, no further notice of such regular meetings need be given thereafter. Special meetings of any such committee may be held at any place which has been determined from time to time by such committee, and may be called by any director who is a member of such committee, upon written notice to the members of such committee of the time and place of such special meeting given in the manner provided for the giving of written notice to members of the Board of Directors of the time and place of special meetings of the Board of Directors. Notice of any special meeting of any committee may be waived in writing at any time before or after the meeting and will be waived by any director by attendance thereat, except when the director attends such special meeting for the express purpose of objecting, at the beginning of the meeting, to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened. A majority of the authorized number of members of any such committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and the act of a majority of those present at any meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of such committee.

Any or all of the signatures on the certificate may be facsimiles. In case any officer, transfer agent, or registrar who has signed or whose facsimile signature has been placed upon a certificate shall have ceased to be such officer, transfer agent, or registrar before such certificate is issued, it may be issued with the same effect as if he were such officer, transfer agent, or registrar at the date of issue. Each certificate shall state upon the face or back thereof, in full or in summary, all of the powers, designations, preferences, and rights, and the limitations or restrictions of the shares authorized to be issued or shall, except as otherwise required by law, set forth on the face or back a statement that the corporation will furnish without charge to each stockholder who so requests the powers, designations, preferences and relative, participating, optional, or other special rights of each class of stock or series thereof and the qualifications, limitations or restrictions of such preferences and/or rights. designations, preferences and relative participating, optional or other special rights of each class of stock or series thereof and the qualifications, limitations or restrictions of such preferences and/or rights. Except as otherwise expressly provided by law, the rights and obligations of the holders of certificates representing stock of the same class and series shall be identical.

SECTION 35. LOST CERTIFICATES. A new certificate or certificates shall be issued in place of any certificate or certificates theretofore issued by the corporation alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, upon the making of an affidavit of that fact by the person claiming the certificate of stock to be lost, stolen, or destroyed. The corporation may require, as a condition precedent to the issuance of a new certificate or certificates, the owner of such lost, stolen, or destroyed certificate or certificates, or his legal representative, to advertise the same in such manner as it shall require or to give the corporation a surety bond in such form and amount as it may direct as indemnity against any claim that may be made against the corporation with respect to the certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed.

SECTION 36. TRANSFERS.

(A) Transfers of record of shares of stock of the corporation shall be made only upon its books by the holders thereof, in person or by attorney duly authorized, and upon the surrender of a properly endorsed certificate or certificates for a like number of shares.

SECTION 37. FIXING RECORD DATES.

(A) In order that the corporation may determine the stockholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of stockholders or any adjudgment thereof, the Board of Directors may fix, in advance, a record date, which record date shall not precede the date upon which the resolution fixing the record date is adopted by the Board of Directors, and which record date shall not be more than sixty (60) nor less than ten
(10) days before the date of such meeting. If no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date for determining stockholders however, that the Board of Directors may fix a new record date for the adjourned meeting.

SECTION 38. REGISTERED STOCKHOLDERS. The corporation shall be entitled to recognize the exclusive right of a person registered on its books as the owner of shares to receive dividends, and to vote as such owner, and shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in such share or shares on the part of any other person whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by the laws of Delaware.
ARTICLE VIII

Interest coupons appertaining to any such bond, debenture or other corporate security, authenticated by a trustee as aforesaid, shall be signed by the Treasurer or an Assistant Treasurer of the corporation or such other person as may be authorized by the Board of Directors, or bear imprinted thereon the facsimile signature of such person. In case any officer who shall have signed or attested any bond, debenture or other corporate security, or whose facsimile signature shall appear thereon or on any such interest coupon, shall have ceased to be such officer before the bond, debenture or other corporate security so signed or attested shall have been delivered, such bond, debenture or other corporate security nevertheless may be adopted by the corporation and issued and delivered as though the person who signed the same or whose facsimile signature shall have been used thereon had not ceased to be such officer of the corporation.

SECTION 41. DIVIDEND RESERVE. Before payment of any dividend, there may be set aside out of any funds of the corporation available for dividends such sum or sums as the Board of Directors from time to time, in their absolute discretion, think proper as a reserve or reserves to meet contingencies, or for equalizing dividends, or for repairing or maintaining any property of the corporation, or for such other purpose as the Board of Directors shall think conducive to the interests of the corporation, and the Board of Directors may modify or abolish any such reserve in the manner in which it was created.
ARTICLE X

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 42. FISCAL YEAR. The fiscal year of the corporation shall be fixed by resolution of the Board of Directors.

INDEMNIFICATION

SECTION 43. INDEMNIFICATION OF DIRECTORS, EXECUTIVE OFFICERS, OTHER OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES AND OTHER AGENTS.

(A) DIRECTORS AND EXECUTIVE OFFICERS. The corporation shall indemnify its directors and executive officers (for the purposes of this Article XI, "executive officers" shall have the meaning defined in Rule 3b-7 promulgated under the 1934 Act) to the fullest extent not prohibited by the Delaware General Corporation Law; provided, however, that the corporation may modify the extent of such indemnification by individual contracts with its directors and executive officers; and, provided, further, that the corporation shall not be required to indemnify any director or executive officer in connection with any proceeding (or part thereof) initiated by such person unless (i) such indemnification is expressly required to be made by law, (ii) the proceeding was authorized by the Board of Directors of the corporation, (iii) such indemnification is provided by the corporation, in its sole discretion, pursuant to the powers vested in the corporation under the Delaware General Corporation Law or (iv) such indemnification is required to be made under subsection (d).

(B) OTHER OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES AND OTHER AGENTS. The corporation shall have power to indemnify its other officers, employees and other agents as set forth in the Delaware General Corporation Law.

(C) EXPENSES. The corporation shall advance to any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, by reason of the fact that he is or was a director or executive officer, of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director or executive officer of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, prior to the final disposition of the proceeding, promptly following request therefor, all expenses incurred by any director or executive officer in connection with such proceeding upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of such person to repay said amounts if it should be determined ultimately that such person is not entitled to be indemnified under this Bylaw or otherwise.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, unless otherwise determined pursuant to paragraph (e) of this Bylaw, no advance shall be made by the corporation to an executive officer of the corporation (except by reason of the fact that such executive officer is or was a director of the corporation in which event this paragraph shall not apply) in any action, suit or proceeding.

whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigatory, if a determination is reasonably and promptly made (i) by the Board of Directors by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of directors who were not parties to the proceeding, or (ii) if such quorum is not obtainable, or, even if obtainable, a quorum of disinterested directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion, that the facts known to the decision-making party at the time such determination is made demonstrate clearly and convincingly that such person acted in bad faith or in a manner that such person did not believe to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation.

(D) ENFORCEMENT. Without the necessity of entering into an express contract, all rights to indemnification and advances to directors and executive officers under this Bylaw shall be deemed to be contractual rights and be effective to the same extent and as if provided for in a contract between the corporation and the director or executive officer. Any right to indemnification or advances granted by this Bylaw to a director or executive officer shall be enforceable by or on behalf of the person holding such right in any court of competent jurisdiction if (i) the claim for indemnification or advances is denied, in whole or in part, or (ii) no disposition of such claim is made within ninety (90) days of request therefor. The claimant in such enforcement action, if successful in whole or in part, shall be entitled to be paid also the expense of prosecuting his claim. In connection with any claim for indemnification, the corporation shall be entitled to raise as a defense to any such action that the claimant has not met the standards of conduct that make it permissible under the Delaware General Corporation Law for the corporation to indemnify the claimant for the amount claimed. In connection with any claim by an executive officer of the corporation (except in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, by reason of the fact that such executive officer is or was a director of the corporation) for advances, the corporation shall be entitled to raise a defense as to any such action clear and convincing evidence that such person acted in bad faith or in a manner that such person did not believe to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation, or with respect to any criminal action or proceeding that such person acted without reasonable cause to believe that his conduct was lawful. Neither the failure of the corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel or its stockholders) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such action that indemnification of the claimant is proper in the circumstances because he has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Delaware General Corporation Law, nor an actual determination by the corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel or its stockholders) that the claimant has not met such applicable standard of conduct, shall be a defense to the action or create a presumption that claimant has not met the applicable standard of conduct.

(E) NON-EXCLUSIVITY OF RIGHTS. The rights conferred on any person by this Bylaw shall not be exclusive of any other right which such person may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, provision of the Certificate of Incorporation, Bylaws, agreement, vote of stockholders or disinterested directors or otherwise, both as to action in his official capacity and as to action in another capacity while holding office. The corporation is specifically authorized to enter into individual contracts with any or all of its directors, officers, employees or agents respecting indemnification and advances, to the fullest extent not prohibited by the Delaware General Corporation Law.
(F) SURVIVAL OF RIGHTS. The rights conferred on any person by this Bylaw shall continue as to a person who has ceased to be a director, officer, employee or other agent and shall inure to the benefit of the heirs, executors and administrators of such a person.

(G) INSURANCE. To the fullest extent permitted by the Delaware General Corporation Law, the corporation, upon approval by the Board of Directors, may purchase insurance on behalf of any person required or permitted to be indemnified pursuant to this Bylaw.

(H) AMENDMENTS. Any repeal or modification of this Bylaw shall only be prospective and shall not affect the rights under this Bylaw in effect at the time of the alleged occurrence of any action or omission to act that is the cause of any proceeding against any agent of the corporation.

(I) SAVING CLAUSE. If this Bylaw or any portion hereof shall be invalidated on any ground by any court of competent jurisdiction, then the corporation shall nevertheless indemnify each director and executive officer to the full extent not prohibited by any applicable portion of this Bylaw that shall not have been invalidated, or by any other applicable law.

(J) CERTAIN DEFINITIONS. For the purposes of this Bylaw, the following definitions shall apply:

1. The term "proceeding" shall be broadly construed and shall include, without limitation, the investigation, preparation, prosecution, defense, settlement, arbitration and appeal of, and the giving of testimony in, any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative.

2. The term "expenses" shall be broadly construed and shall include, without limitation, court costs, attorneys' fees, witness fees, fines, amounts paid in settlement or judgment and any other costs and expenses of any nature or kind incurred in connection with any proceeding.

3. The term the "corporation" shall include, in addition to the resulting corporation, any constituent corporation (including any constituent of a constituent) absorbed in a consolidation or merger which, if its separate existence had continued, would have had power and authority to indemnify its directors, officers, and employees or agents, so that any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of such constituent corporation, or is or was serving at the request of such constituent corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, shall stand in the same position under the provisions of this Bylaw with respect to the resulting or surviving corporation as he would have with respect to such constituent corporation if its separate existence had continued.

4. References to a "director," "executive officer," "officer," "employee," or "agent" of the corporation shall include, without limitation, situations where such person is serving at the request of the corporation as, respectively, a director, executive officer, officer, employee, trustee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise.

(5) References to "other enterprises" shall include employee benefit plans; references to "fines" shall include any excise taxes assessed on a person with respect to an employee benefit plan; and references to "serving at the request of the corporation" shall include any service as a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation which imposes duties on, or involves services by, such director, officer, employee, or agent with respect to an employee benefit plan, its participants, or beneficiaries; and a person who acted in good faith and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in the interest of the participants and beneficiaries of an employee benefit plan shall be deemed to have acted in a manner "not opposed to the best interests of the corporation" as referred to in this Bylaw.

NOTICES

SECTION 44. NOTICES.

(A) NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS. Whenever, under any provisions of these Bylaws, notice is required to be given to any stockholder, it shall be given in writing, timely and duly deposited in the United States mail, postage prepaid, and addressed to his last known post office address as shown by the stock record of the corporation or its transfer agent.

(B) NOTICE TO DIRECTORS. Any notice required to be given to any director may be given by the method stated in subsection (a), or by facsimile, telex or telegram, except that such notice other than one which is delivered personally shall be sent to such address as such director shall have filed in writing with the Secretary, or, in the absence of such filing, to the last known post office address of such director.

(C) AFFIDAVIT OF MAILING. An affidavit of mailing, executed by a duly authorized and competent employee of the corporation or its transfer agent appointed with respect to the class of stock affected, specifying the name and address or the names and addresses of the stockholder or stockholders, or director or directors, to whom any such notice or notices was or were given, and the time and method of giving the same, shall in the absence of fraud, be prima facie evidence of the facts therein contained.

(D) TIME NOTICES DEEMED GIVEN. All notices given by mail, as above provided, shall be deemed to have been given as at the time of mailing, and all notices given by facsimile, telex or telegram shall be deemed to have been given as of the sending time recorded at time of transmission.

(E) METHODS OF NOTICE. It shall not be necessary that the same method of giving notice be employed in respect of all directors, but one permissible method may be employed in respect of any one or more, and any other permissible method or methods may be employed in respect of any other or others.

(F) FAILURE TO RECEIVE NOTICE. The period or limitation of time within which any stockholder may exercise any option or right, or enjoy any privilege or benefit, or be required to act, or within which any director may exercise any power or right, or enjoy any privilege, pursuant to any notice sent him in the manner above provided, shall not be affected or extended in any manner by the failure of such stockholder or such director to receive such notice.

(G) NOTICE TO PERSON WITH WHOM COMMUNICATION IS UNLAWFUL. Whenever notice is required to be given, under any provision of law or of the Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws of the corporation, to any person with whom communication is unlawful, the giving of such notice to such person shall not be required and there shall be no duty to apply to any governmental authority or agency for a license or permit to give such notice to such person. Any action or meeting which shall be taken or held without notice to any such person with whom communication is unlawful shall have the same force and effect as if such notice had been duly given. In the event that the action taken by the corporation is such as to require the filing of a certificate under any provision of the Delaware General Corporation Law, the certificate shall state, if such is the fact and if notice is required, that notice was given to all persons entitled to receive notice except such persons with whom communication is unlawful.

(H) NOTICE TO PERSON WITH UNDELIVERABLE ADDRESS. Whenever notice is required to be given, under any provision of law or the Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws of the corporation, to any stockholder to whom (i) notice of two consecutive annual meetings, and all notices of meetings or of the taking of action by written consent without a meeting to such person during the period between such two consecutive annual meetings, or (ii) all, and at least two, payments (if sent by first class mail) of dividends or interest on securities during a twelve-month period, have been mailed addressed to such person at his address as shown on the records of the corporation and have been returned undeliverable, the giving of such notice to such person shall not be required. Any action or meeting which shall be taken or held without notice to such person shall have the same force and effect as if such notice had been duly given. If any such person shall deliver to the corporation a written notice setting forth his then current address, the requirement that notice be given to such person shall be reinstated. In the event that the action taken by the corporation is such as to require the filing of a certificate under any provision of the Delaware General Corporation Law, the certificate need not state that notice was not given to persons to whom notice was not required to be given pursuant to this paragraph.

ARTICLE XIII

RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL

SECTION 46. RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL. No stockholder shall sell, assign, pledge, or in any manner transfer any of the shares of stock of the corporation or any right or interest therein, whether voluntarily or by operation of law, or by gift or otherwise, except by a transfer which meets the requirements hereinafter set forth in this bylaw:

(A) If the stockholder desires to sell or otherwise transfer any of his shares of stock, then the stockholder shall first give written notice thereof to the corporation. The notice shall name the proposed transferee and state the number of shares to be transferred, the proposed consideration, and all other terms and conditions of the proposed transfer.

(B) For thirty (30) days following receipt of such notice, the corporation shall have the option to purchase all (but not less than all) of the shares specified in the notice at the price and upon the terms set forth in such notice; provided, however, that, with the consent of the stockholder, the corporation shall have the option to purchase a lesser portion of the shares specified in said notice at the price and upon the terms set forth therein. In the event of a gift, property settlement or other transfer in which the proposed transferee is not paying the full price for the shares, and that is not otherwise exempted from the provisions of this Section 46, the price shall be deemed to be the fair market value of the stock at such time as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors. In the event the corporation elects to purchase all of the shares or, with consent of the stockholder, a lesser portion of the shares, it shall give written notice to the transferring stockholder of its election and settlement for said shares shall be made as provided below in paragraph (d).

(C) The corporation may assign its rights hereunder.

(D) In the event the corporation and/or its assignee(s) elect to acquire any of the shares of the transferring stockholder as specified in said transferring stockholder's notice, the Secretary of the corporation shall so notify the transferring stockholder and settlement thereof shall be made in cash within thirty (30) days after the Secretary of the corporation receives said transferring stockholder's notice; provided that if the terms of payment set forth in said transferring stockholder's notice were other than cash against delivery, the corporation and/or its assignee(s) shall pay for said shares on the same terms and conditions set forth in said transferring stockholder's notice.

(E) In the event the corporation and/or its assignees(s) do not elect to acquire all of the shares specified in the transferring stockholder's notice, said transferring stockholder may, within the sixty-day period following the expiration of the option rights granted to the corporation and/or its assignee(s) herein, transfer the shares specified in said transferring stockholder's notice which were not acquired by the corporation and/or its assignee(s) as specified in said transferring stockholder's notice. All shares so sold by said transferring stockholder shall continue to be subject to the provisions of this bylaw in the same manner as before said transfer.
(F) Anything to the contrary contained herein notwithstanding, the following transactions shall be exempt from the provisions of this bylaw:

(1) A stockholder's transfer of any or all shares held either during such stockholder's lifetime or on death by will or intestacy to such stockholder's immediate family or to any custodian or trustee for the account of such stockholder or such stockholder's immediate family or to any limited partnership of which the shareholder, members of such shareholder's immediate family or any trust for the account of such shareholder or such shareholder's immediate family will be the general of limited partner(s) of such partnership. "Immediate family" as used herein shall mean spouse, lineal descendant, father, mother, brother, or sister of the stockholder making such transfer.

(2) A stockholder's bona fide pledge or mortgage of any shares with a commercial lending institution, provided that any subsequent transfer of said shares by said institution shall be conducted in the manner set forth in this bylaw.

(3) A stockholder's transfer of any or all of such stockholder's shares to the corporation or to any other stockholder of the corporation.

(4) A stockholder's transfer of any or all of such stockholder's shares to a person who, at the time of such transfer, is an officer or director of the corporation.

(5) A corporate stockholder's transfer of any or all of its shares pursuant to and in accordance with the terms of any merger, consolidation, reclassification of shares or capital reorganization of the corporate stockholder, or pursuant to a sale of all or substantially all of the stock or assets of a corporate stockholder.

(6) A corporate stockholder's transfer of any or all of its shares to any or all of its stockholders.

(7) A transfer by a stockholder which is a limited or general partnership to any or all of its partners or former partners.

In any such case, the transferee, assignee, or other recipient shall receive and hold such stock subject to the provisions of this bylaw, and there shall be no further transfer of such stock except in accord with this bylaw.

(G) The provisions of this bylaw may be waived with respect to any transfer either by the corporation, upon duly authorized action of its Board of Directors, or by the stockholders, upon the express written consent of the owners of a majority of the voting power of the corporation (excluding the votes represented by those shares to be transferred by the transferring stockholder). This bylaw may be amended or repealed either by a duly authorized action of the Board of Directors or by the stockholders, upon the express written consent of the owners of a majority of the voting power of the corporation.

Any sale or transfer, or purported sale or transfer, of securities of the corporation shall be null and void unless the terms, conditions, and provisions of this bylaw are strictly observed and followed.

The foregoing right of first refusal shall terminate on either of the following dates, whichever shall first occur:

(1) On February 16, 2008; or

(2) Upon the date securities of the corporation are first offered to the public pursuant to a registration statement filed with, and declared effective by, the United States Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

The certificates representing shares of stock of the corporation shall bear on their face the following legend so long as the foregoing right of first refusal remains in effect:

"THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE ARE SUBJECT TO A RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL OPTION IN FAVOR OF THE CORPORATION AND/OR ITS ASSIGNEE(S), AS PROVIDED IN THE BYLAWS OF THE CORPORATION."

The loan, guarantee or other assistance may be with or without interest and may be unsecured, or secured in such manner as the Board of Directors shall approve, including, without limitation, a pledge of shares of stock of the corporation. ATTEST:

GEOFFREY RIBAR
Secretary
The name of this corporation is NVIDIA Corporation.

The address of the registered office of the corporation in the State of Delaware is 15 East North Street, City of Dover, County of Kent, and the name of the registered agent of the corporation in the State of Delaware at such address is Incorporating Services.

The purpose of this corporation is to engage in any lawful act or activity for which a corporation may be organized under the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware.

IV.

A. This corporation is authorized to issue two classes of stock to be designated, respectively, "Common Stock" and "Preferred Stock." The total number of shares which the corporation is authorized to issue is Two Hundred Two Million (202,000,000) shares. Two Hundred Million (200,000,000) shares shall be Common Stock, each having a par value of one-tenth of one cent ($0.001). Two Million (2,000,000) shares shall be Preferred Stock, each having a par value of one-tenth of one cent ($0.001).

The Preferred Stock may be issued from time to time in one or more series. The Board of Directors is hereby authorized, by filing a certificate (a "Preferred Stock Designation") pursuant to the Delaware General Corporation Law, to fix or alter from time to time the designation, powers, preferences and rights of the shares of each such series and the qualifications, limitations or restrictions of any wholly unissued series of Preferred Stock, and to establish from time to time the number of shares constituting any such series or any of them; and to increase or decrease the number of shares of any series subsequent to the issuance of shares of that series, but not below the number of shares of such series then outstanding. In case the number of shares of any series shall be decreased in accordance with the foregoing sentence, the shares constituting such decrease shall resume the status that they had prior to the adoption of the resolution originally fixing the number of shares of such series.

V.

For the management of the business and for the conduct of the affairs of the Corporation, and in further definition, limitation and regulation of the powers of the Corporation, of its directors and of its stockholders or any class thereof, as the case may be, it is further provided that:

A. 1. The management of the business and the conduct of the affairs of the Corporation shall be vested in its Board of Directors. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole Board of Directors shall be fixed exclusively by one or more resolutions adopted by the Board of Directors.

2. Subject to the rights of the holders of any series of Preferred Stock to elect additional directors under specified circumstances, and to any restrictions or limitations of applicable law following the closing of the initial public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "1933 Act"), covering the offer and sale of Common Stock to the public (the "Initial Public Offering"), the directors shall be divided into two classes designated as Class I and Class II. Directors shall be assigned to each class in accordance with a resolution or resolutions adopted by the Board of Directors. At the first annual meeting of stockholders following the closing of the Initial Public Offering, the term of office of the Class I directors shall expire and Class I directors shall be elected for a full term of two years. At the second annual meeting of stockholders following the closing of the Initial Public Offering, the term of office of the Class II directors shall expire and Class II directors shall be elected for a full term of two years. At each succeeding annual meeting of stockholders, directors shall be elected for a full term of two years to succeed the directors of the class whose terms expire at such annual meeting.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Article, each director shall serve until his successor is duly elected and qualified or until his death, resignation or removal. No decrease in the number of directors constituting the Board of Directors shall shorten the term of any incumbent director.

3. Subject to the rights of the holders of any series of Preferred Stock, the Board of Directors or any individual director may be removed from office at any time (i) with cause by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the voting power of all the then outstanding shares of voting stock of the Corporation, entitled to vote at an election of directors (the "Voting Stock") or (ii) without cause by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the voting power of the then outstanding shares of Voting Stock.

4. Subject to the rights of the holders of any series of Preferred Stock, any vacancies on the Board of Directors resulting from death, resignation, disqualification, removal or other causes and any newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the number of directors, shall, unless the Board of Directors determines by resolution that any such vacancies or newly created directorships shall be filled by the stockholders, except as otherwise provided by law, be filled only by the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors then in office, even though less than a quorum of the Board of Directors, and not by the stockholders. Any director elected in accordance with the preceding sentence shall hold office for the remainder of the full term of the director for which the vacancy was created or occurred and until such director's successor shall have been elected and qualified.

5. In the event that Section 2115(a) of the California Corporations Code is applicable to this corporation, then the following shall apply:

A. Every stockholder entitled to vote in any election of directors of this corporation may cumulate such stockholder's votes and give one candidate a number of votes equal to the number of directors to be elected multiplied by the number of votes to which the stockholder's shares are otherwise entitled, or distribute the stockholder's votes on the same principle among as many candidates as such stockholder thinks fit;

B. No stockholder, however, may cumulate such stockholder's votes for one or more candidates unless (i) the names of such candidates have been properly placed in nomination, in accordance with the Bylaws of the corporation, prior to the voting, (ii) the stockholder has given advance notice to the corporation of the intention to cumulative votes pursuant to the Bylaws, and (iii) the stockholder has given proper notice to the other stockholders at the meeting, prior to voting, of such stockholder's intention to cumulative such stockholder's votes; and

C. If any stockholder has given proper notice, all stockholders may cumulate their votes for any candidates who have been properly placed in nomination. The candidates receiving the highest number of votes of the shares entitled to be voted for them up to the number of directors to be elected by such shares shall be declared elected.

B. 1. Subject to paragraph (h) of Section 43 of the Bylaws, the Bylaws may be altered or amended or new Bylaws adopted by the affirmative vote of at least sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the voting power of all of the then-outstanding shares of voting stock of the Corporation entitled to vote at an election of directors (the "Voting Stock"). The Board of Directors shall also have the power to adopt, amend, or repeal Bylaws.

2. The directors of the Corporation need not be elected by written ballot unless the Bylaws so provide.

3. No action shall be taken by the stockholders of the Corporation except at an annual or special meeting of stockholders called in accordance with the Bylaws and following the closing of the Initial Public Offering no action shall be taken by the stockholders by written consent.

4. Advance notice of stockholder nominations for the election of directors and of business to be brought by stockholders before any meeting of the stockholders of the Corporation shall be given in the manner provided in the Bylaws of the Corporation.

VI.

A. A director of the Corporation shall not be personally liable to the Corporation or its stockholders for monetary damages for any breach of fiduciary duty as a director, except for liability (i) for any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the Corporation or its stockholders, (ii) for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, (iii) under Section 174 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, or (iv) for any transaction from which the director derived an improper personal benefit. If the Delaware General Corporation Law is amended after approval by the stockholders of this Article to authorize corporate action further eliminating or limiting the personal liability of directors, then the liability of a director shall be eliminated or limited to the fullest extent permitted by the Delaware General Corporation Law, as so amended.

3.
B. Any repeal or modification of this Article VI shall be prospective and shall not affect the rights under this Article VI in effect at the time of the alleged occurrence of any act or omission to act giving rise to liability or indemnification.

A. The Corporation reserves the right to amend, alter, change or repeal any provision contained in this Certificate of Incorporation, in the manner now or hereafter prescribed by statute, except as provided in paragraph B of this Article VII, and all rights conferred upon the stockholders herein are granted subject to this reservation.

B. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Certificate of Incorporation or any provision of law which might otherwise permit a lesser vote or no vote, but in addition to any affirmative vote of the holders of any particular class or series of the Voting Stock required by law, this Certificate of Incorporation or any Preferred Stock Designation, the affirmative vote of the holders of at least sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the voting power of all of the then-outstanding shares of the Voting Stock, voting together as a single class, shall be required to alter, amend or repeal Articles V, VI and VII.
THIS SECOND AMENDED AND RESTATED INVESTORS' RIGHTS AGREEMENT (the "Agreement") is made and entered into as of August 19, 1997, by and among NVIDIA CORPORATION, a California corporation (the "Company"), and the persons identified on Exhibit A attached hereto (the "Shareholders").

1.2 REQUESTED REGISTRATION.

(a) REQUEST FOR REGISTRATION. If the Company shall receive from the Initiating Holders at any time not earlier than the earlier of (i) three (3) years after the Original Date or (ii) one (1) year after the effective date of the first registration statement filed by the Company covering an underwritten offering of any of its securities to the general public, a written request that the Company effect any registration with respect to the lesser of at least twenty-five percent (25%) of the Registrable Securities or all or a part of the Registrable Securities having an aggregate offering price, net of underwriting discounts and expenses related to the issuance, exceeding Five Million Dollars ($5,000,000) (as adjusted for any stock dividends, combinations or splits with respect to such shares), then the Company will:

(i) within ten (10) days after its receipt thereof, give written notice of the proposed registration to all other Holders; and

(ii) as soon as practicable, use its best efforts to effect such registration (including, without limitation, filing post-effective amendments, appropriate qualifications under applicable blue sky or other state securities laws, and appropriate compliance with the Securities Act) as would permit or facilitate the sale and distribution of all or such portion of such Registrable Securities as are specified in such request, together with all or such portion of the Registrable Securities of any Holder or Holders joining in such request as are specified in a written request received by the Company within twenty (20) days after such written notice from the Company is effective.

The Company shall not be obligated to effect, or to take any action to effect, any such registration pursuant to this Section 1.2:

(A) In any particular jurisdiction in which the Company would be required to execute a general consent to service of process in effecting such registration, qualification, or compliance, unless the Company is already subject to service in such jurisdiction and except as may be required by the Securities Act;

(B) After the Company has initiated one such registration pursuant to this Section 1.2(a) counting for these purposes only (i) registrations which have been declared or ordered effective and pursuant to which securities have been sold, and (ii) registrations which have been withdrawn by the Holders as to which the Holders have not elected to bear the Registration Expenses pursuant to Section 1.4 hereof;

(C) During the period starting with the date sixty (60) days prior to the Company's good faith estimate of the date of filing of, and ending on a date sixty (60) days after the effective date of, a Company-initiated registration; provided that the Company is actively employing in good faith all reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective;

(D) If the Initiating Holders propose to dispose of shares of Registrable Securities which may be immediately registered on Form S-3 pursuant to a request made under Section 1.5 hereof;

(E) If the Initiating Holders do not request that such offering be firmly underwritten by underwriters of nationally recognized standing selected by the Initiating Holders (subject to the consent of the Company, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld);

(F) If the Company and the Initiating Holders are unable to obtain the commitment of the underwriter described in clause (E) above to firmly underwrite the offer; or

(G) With respect to any Registrable Securities which, in the opinion of counsel to the Company, may be sold under Rule 144.

(b) DELAYS IN REGISTRATION. Subject to the foregoing clauses (A) through (G), the Company shall file a registration statement covering the Registrable Securities so requested to be registered as soon as practicable after receipt of the request or requests of the Initiating Holders; provided, however, that if (i) in the good faith judgment of the Board of Directors of the Company, such registration would be seriously detrimental to the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company concludes, as a result, that it is necessary to defer the filing of such registration statement at such time, and (ii) the Company shall furnish to such Holders a certificate signed by the President of the Company stating that in the good faith judgment of the Board of Directors of the Company, it would be seriously detrimental to the Company for such registration statement to be filed in the near future and that it is, therefore, necessary to defer the filing of such registration statement, then the Company shall have the right to defer such filing for the period during which such disclosure would be seriously detrimental, provided (except as provided in clause (C) above) that the Company may not defer the filing for a period of more than six (6) months after receipt of the request of the Initiating Holders, and, provided further, that the Company shall not defer its obligation in this manner more than once in any twelve (12) month period.

The registration statement filed pursuant to the request of the Initiating Holders may, subject to the provisions of Section 1.2(b) and 1.12 hereof, include other securities of the Company with respect to which registration rights have been granted, and may include securities of the Company being sold for the account of the Company.

(c) UNDERWRITING. The right of any Holder to registration pursuant to Section 1.2 shall be conditioned upon such Holder's participation in such underwriting and the inclusion of such Holder's Registrable Securities in the underwriting (unless otherwise mutually agreed by a majority in interest of the Initiating Holders and such Holder with respect to such participation and inclusion) to the extent provided herein. A Holder may elect to include in such underwriting all or a part of the Registrable Securities he or it holds.

(d) PROCEDURES. If the Company shall request inclusion in any registration pursuant to Section 1.2 of securities being sold for its own account, or if other persons shall request inclusion in any registration pursuant to Section 1.2, the Initiating Holders shall, on behalf of all Holders, offer to include such securities in the underwriting and may condition such offer on their acceptance of the further applicable provisions of this Section 1 (including Section 1.11). The Company shall (together with all Holders and other persons proposing to distribute their securities through such underwriting) enter into an underwriting agreement in customary form with the representative of the underwriter or underwriters selected for such underwriting by a majority in interest of the Initiating Holders, which underwriters are reasonably acceptable to the Company. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Section 1.2, if the representative of the underwriters advises the Initiating Holders in writing that marketing factors require a limitation on the number of shares to be underwritten, the number of shares to be included in the underwriting or registration shall be allocated as set forth in Section 1.12 hereof. If a person who has requested inclusion in such registration as provided above does not agree to the terms of any such underwriting, such person shall be excluded therefrom by written notice from the Company, the underwriter or the Initiating Holders. The securities so excluded shall also be withdrawn from the registration and if the number of shares to be included in such registration was previously reduced as a result of marketing factors pursuant to this Section 1.2(d), then the Company shall offer to all holders who have retained rights to include securities in the registration the right to include additional securities in the registration in an aggregate amount equal to the number of shares so withdrawn, with such shares to be allocated among such Holders requesting additional inclusion in accordance with Section 1.12.

1.3 COMPANY REGISTRATION.

(a) NOTICE. If the Company shall determine to register any of its securities either for its own account or the account of a security holder or holders exercising their respective demand registration rights (other than pursuant to Section 1.2 or 1.5 hereof), other than (i) a registration on SEC Form S-1, S-2, S-3 or SB-2 or similar forms that may be promulgated in the future relating solely to employee benefit plans, (ii) a registration on SEC Form S-4 or similar form that may be promulgated in the future relating solely to a Rule 145 transaction, or (iii) a registration on any registration form that does not permit secondary sales, the Company will: (I) promptly give to each Holder written notice thereof, and (II) use its best efforts to include in such registration, except as set forth in Section 1.3(b) below, and in any underwriting involved therein, all the Registrable Securities specified in a written request or requests, made by any Holder within ten (10) days after the written notice from the Company described in clause (I) above is given. Such written request may specify all or a part of a Holder's Registrable Securities.

(b) UNDERWRITING. If the registration of which the Company gives notice is for a registered public offering involving an underwriting, the Company shall so advise the Holders as a part of the written notice given pursuant to Section 1.3(a). In such event, the right of any Holder to registration pursuant to this Section 1.3 shall be conditioned upon such Holder's participation in such underwriting and the inclusion of such Holder's Registrable Securities in the underwriting to the extent provided herein. All Holders proposing to distribute their securities through such underwriting shall (together with the Company and the other holders of securities of the Company with registration rights to participate therein distributing their securities through such underwriting) enter into an underwriting agreement in customary form with the representative of the underwriter or underwriters selected by the Company.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Section 1.3, if the representative of the underwriters advises the Company in writing that marketing factors require a limitation on the number of shares to be underwritten, the representative may (subject to the limitations set forth below) limit the number of Registrable Securities to be included in the registration and underwriting. The Company shall so advise all holders of securities requesting registration, and the number of shares of securities that are entitled to be included in the registration and underwriting shall be allocated first to the Company for securities being sold for its own account and thereafter as set forth in Section 1.12 hereof. If any person does not agree to the terms of any such underwriting, he or it shall be excluded therefrom by written notice from the Company or the underwriter. Any Registrable Securities or other securities excluded or withdrawn from such underwriting shall be withdrawn from such registration.

If shares are so withdrawn from the registration or if the number of shares of Registrable Securities to be included in such registration was previously reduced as a result of marketing factors, the Company shall then offer to all persons who have retained the right to include securities in the registration the right to include additional securities in the registration in an aggregate amount equal to the number of shares so withdrawn, with such shares to be allocated among the persons requesting additional inclusion in accordance with Section 1.12 hereof.

1.4 EXPENSES OF REGISTRATION. All Registration Expenses incurred in connection with any registration, qualification or compliance pursuant to Section 1.3, and all Registration Expenses incurred in connection with two registrations, qualifications, or compliances pursuant to Section 1.5 hereof and the one registration pursuant to Section 1.2 hereof, and reasonable fees of one counsel for the selling Shareholders in the case of registration pursuant to Section 1.2 hereof, shall be borne by the Company; provided, however, that if the Holders bear the Registration Expenses for any registration proceeding begun pursuant to Section 1.2 and subsequently withdrawn by the Holders registering shares therein, such registration proceeding shall not be counted as a requested registration pursuant to Section 1.2 hereof. All Selling Expenses relating to securities so registered shall be borne by the holders of such securities pro rata on the basis of the number of shares of securities so registered on their behalf.

1.5 REGISTRATION ON FORM S-3.

(a) After its initial public offering, the Company shall use its best efforts to qualify for registration on Form S-3 or any comparable or successor form or forms. After the Company has qualified for the use of Form S-3, in addition to the rights contained in the foregoing provisions of this Section 1, the Holders of Registrable Securities shall have the right to request registrations on Form S-3 (such requests shall be in writing and shall state the number of shares of Registrable Securities to be disposed of and the intended methods of disposition of such shares by such Holder or Holders), provided, however, that the Company shall not be obligated to effect any such registration if (i) the Holders, together with the holders of any other securities of the Company entitled to inclusion in such registration, propose to sell Registrable Securities and such other securities (if any) on Form S-3 at an aggregate price to the public of less than One Million Dollars ($1,000,000), or (ii) in the event that the Company shall furnish the certification described in Section 1.2(b) or (iii) in a given twelve (12) month period, after the Company has effected one (1) such registration in any such period or (iv) it is to be effected more than five (5) years after the Company’s initial public offering.

(b) If a request complying with the requirements of Section 1.5(a) hereof is delivered to the Company, the provisions of Sections 1.2(a)(i) and (ii) and Section 1.2(b) hereof shall apply to such registration. If the registration is for an underwritten offering, the provisions of Sections 1.2(c) and 1.2(d) hereof shall apply to such registration.

1.6 REGISTRATION PROCEDURES. In the case of each registration effected by the Company pursuant to Section 1 hereof, the Company will keep each Holder advised in writing as to the initiation of each registration and as to the completion thereof. At its expense, the Company will use its best efforts to:

(a) Keep such registration effective for a period of one hundred twenty (120) days or until the Holder or Holders have completed the distribution described in the registration statement relating thereto, whichever first occurs; provided, however, that (i) such 120-day period shall be extended for a period of time equal to the period the Holder refrains from selling any securities included in such registration at the request of an underwriter of Common Stock (or other securities) of the Company; and (ii) in the case of any registration of Registrable Securities on Form S-3 which are intended to be offered on a continuous or delayed basis, such 120-day period shall be extended, if necessary, to keep the registration statement effective until all such Registrable Securities are sold, provided that Rule 145, or any successor rule under the Securities Act, permits an offering on a continuous or delayed basis, and provided further that applicable rules under the Securities Act governing the obligation to file a post-effective amendment permit, in lieu of filing a post-effective amendment that (I) includes any prospectus required by Section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act or (II) reflects facts or events representing a material or fundamental change in the information set forth in the registration statement, the incorporation by reference of information required to be included in (I) and (II) above to be contained in periodic reports filed pursuant to Section 13 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act in the registration statement;

(b) Prepare and file with the Commission such amendments and supplements to such registration statement and the prospectus used in connection with such registration statement as may be necessary to comply with the provisions of the Securities Act with respect to the disposition of all securities covered by such registration statement;

(c) Furnish such number of prospectuses and other documents incident thereto, including any amendment of or supplement to the prospectus, as a Holder from time to time may reasonably request;

(d) Use its best efforts to register and qualify the securities covered by such registration statement under such other securities or Blue Sky laws of such jurisdictions as shall be reasonably requested by the Holders; provided that the Company shall not be required in connection therewith or as a condition thereto to qualify to do business or to file a general consent to service of process in any such states or jurisdictions.
(e) Notify each Holder of Registrable Securities covered by such registration statement at any time when a prospectus relating thereto is required to be delivered under the Securities Act of the happening of any event as a result of which the prospectus included in such registration statement, as then in effect, includes an untrue statement of a material fact or omits to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading in light of the circumstances then existing;

(f) Furnish, at the request of a majority of the Holders participating in the registration, on the date that such Registrable Securities are delivered to the underwriters for sale, if such securities are being sold through underwriters, or, if such securities are not being sold through underwriters, on the date that the registration statement with respect to such securities becomes effective, (i) an opinion, dated as of such date, of the counsel representing the Company for the purposes of such registration, in form and substance as is customarily given to underwriters in an underwritten public offering and reasonably satisfactory to a majority in interest of the Holders requesting registration, addressed to the underwriters, if any, and to the Holders requesting registration of Registrable Securities, and (ii) a letter dated as of such date, customarily given by independent certified public accountants of the Company, in form and substance as is customarily given by independent certified public accountants to underwriters in an underwritten public offering and reasonably satisfactory to a majority in interest of the Holders requesting registration, addressed to the underwriters, if any, and to the Holders requesting registration of Registrable Securities.

(g) Cause all such Registrable Securities registered thereunder to be listed on each securities exchange on which similar securities issued by the Company are then listed;

(h) Provide a transfer agent and registrar for all Registrable Securities registered pursuant to such registration statement and a CUSIP number for all such Registrable Securities, in each case not later than the effective date of such registration; and

(i) In connection with any underwritten public offering pursuant to a registration statement filed pursuant to Section 1.2 hereof, the Company will enter into an underwriting agreement reasonably necessary to effect the offer and sale of Common Stock, provided such underwriting agreement contains customary underwriting provisions and provided further that if the underwriter so requests the underwriting agreement will contain customary contribution provisions. Each Holder participating in such underwriting shall also enter into and perform its obligations under such an agreement.

1.7 INDEMNIFICATION.

(a) The Company will indemnify each Holder, each of its officers, directors and partners and each person controlling such Holder within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act, with respect to which registration, qualification, or compliance has been effected pursuant to this Section 1, and each underwriter, if any, and each person who controls within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act any underwriter, against all expenses, claims, losses, damages, and liabilities (or actions, proceedings, or settlements in respect thereof) arising out of or based on any untrue statement (or alleged untrue statement) of a material fact contained in any prospectus, offering circular, or other document (including any related registration statement, notification, or the like) incident to any such registration, qualification, or compliance, or based on any omission (or alleged omission) to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading, or any violation by the Company of the Securities Act or any rule or regulation thereunder applicable to the Company and relating to action or inaction required of the Company in connection with any such registration, qualification, or compliance, and will reimburse each such Holder, each of its officers, directors, partners and each person controlling such Holder, each such underwriter, and each person who controls any such underwriter, for any legal and any other expenses reasonably incurred in connection with investigating and defending or settling any such claim, loss, damage, liability, or action, provided that the Company will not be liable in any such case to the extent that any such claim, loss, damage, liability or expense arises out of or is based on any untrue statement or omission based upon written information furnished to the Company by such Holder or underwriter and stated to be specifically for use therein.

It is agreed that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 1.7(a) shall not apply to amounts paid in settlement of any such loss, claim, damage, liability, or action if such settlement is effected without the consent of the Company (which consent has not been unreasonably withheld).

(b) Each Holder will, if Registrable Securities held by such Holder are included in the securities as to which such registration, qualification, or compliance is being effected, indemnify the Company, each of its directors, officers, partners and each underwriter, if any, of the Company's securities covered by such a registration statement, each person who controls the Company or such underwriter within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act, each other such Holder and Other Shareholder, and each of their officers, directors, and partners, and each person controlling such Holder or Other Shareholder, against all claims, losses, damages and liabilities (or actions in respect thereof) arising out of or based on any untrue statement (or alleged untrue statement) of a material fact contained in any such registration statement, prospectus, offering circular, or other document, or any omission (or alleged omission) to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading, and will reimburse the Company and such Holders, Other Shareholders, directors, officers, partners, persons, underwriters, or control persons for any legal or any other expenses reasonably incurred in connection with investigating or defending any such claim, loss, damage, liability, or action, in each case to the extent, but only to the extent that such untrue statement (or alleged untrue statement) or omission (or alleged omission) is made in such registration statement, prospectus, offering circular, or other document in reliance upon and in conformity with written information furnished to the Company by such Holder and stated to be specifically for use therein; provided, however, that the obligations of such Holder hereunder shall not apply to amounts paid in settlement of any such claims, losses, damages, or liabilities (or actions in respect thereof) if such settlement is effected without the consent of such Holder (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld).

(c) Each party entitled to indemnification under this Section 1.7 (the "Indemnified Party") shall give notice to the party required to provide indemnification (the "Indemnifying Party") promptly after such Indemnified Party has actual knowledge of any claim as to which indemnity may be sought, and shall permit the Indemnifying Party to assume the defense of such claim or any litigation resulting therefrom, provided that counsel for the Indemnifying Party, who shall conduct the defense of such claim or any litigation resulting therefrom, shall be approved by the Indemnified Party (whose approval shall not unreasonably be withheld), and the Indemnified Party may participate in such defense at such party's expense, and provided further that the failure of any Indemnified Party to give notice as provided herein shall not relieve the Indemnifying Party of its obligations under this Section 1.7, to the extent such failure is not prejudicial. No Indemnifying Party, in the defense of any such claim or litigation, shall, except with the consent of each Indemnified Party, consent to entry of any judgment or enter into any settlement that does not include as an unconditional term thereof the giving by the claimant or plaintiff to such Indemnified Party of a release from all liability in respect to such claim or litigation. Each Indemnified Party shall furnish such information regarding itself or the claim in question as an Indemnifying Party may reasonably request in writing and as shall be reasonably required in connection with defense of such claim and litigation resulting therefrom.

(d) If the indemnification provided for in this Section 1.7 is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unavailable to an Indemnified Party with respect to any loss, liability, claim, damage, or expense referred to therein, then the Indemnifying Party, in lieu of indemnifying such Indemnified Party hereunder, shall contribute to the amount paid or payable by such Indemnified Party as a result of such loss, liability, claim, damage, or expense in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect the relative fault of the Indemnifying Party on the one hand and of the Indemnified Party on the other in connection with the statements or omissions that resulted in such loss, liability, claim, damage, or expense as well as any other relevant equitable considerations. The relative fault of the Indemnifying Party and of the Indemnified Party shall be determined by reference to, among other things, whether the untrue or alleged untrue statement of a material fact or the omission to state a material fact relates to information supplied by the Indemnifying Party or by the Indemnified Party and the parties' relative intent, knowledge, access to information, and opportunity to correct or prevent such statement or omission.

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent that the provisions on indemnification and contribution contained in the underwriting agreement entered into in connection with the underwritten public offering are in conflict with the foregoing provisions, the provisions in the underwriting agreement shall control.

1.8 INFORMATION BY HOLDER. Each Holder of Registrable Securities shall furnish to the Company such information regarding such Holder and the distribution proposed by such Holder, if any, as the Company may reasonably request in writing and as shall be reasonably required in connection with any registration, qualification, or compliance referred to in this Section 1.

1.9 RULE 144 REPORTING. With a view to making available the benefits of certain rules and regulations of the Commission that may permit the sale of the Restricted Securities to the public without registration, the Company agrees to use its best efforts to:

(a) Make and keep public information regarding the Company available as those terms are understood and defined in Rule 144 under the Securities Act, at all times from and after ninety (90) days following the effective date of the first registration under the Securities Act filed by the Company for an offering of its securities to the general public;

(b) File with the Commission in a timely manner all reports and other documents required of the Company under the Securities Act and the Exchange Act at any time after it has become subject to such reporting requirements; and

c) So long as a Shareholder owns any Restricted Securities to furnish to such Shareholder forthwith upon request a written statement by the Company as to its compliance with the reporting requirements of said Rule 144 (at any time after 90 days after the effective date of the first registration statement filed by the Company for an offering of its securities to the general public) and of the Securities Act and the Exchange Act (at any time after it has become subject to such reporting requirements), a copy of the most recent annual or quarterly report of the Company, and such other reports and documents of the Company as a Shareholder may reasonably request in availing itself of any rule or regulation of the Commission allowing a Shareholder to sell any such securities without registration.

1.10 TRANSFER OR ASSIGNMENT OF REGISTRATION RIGHTS. The rights to cause the Company to register securities granted to a Holder by the Company under this Section I may be transferred or assigned by a Holder only to a transferee or assignee of not less than one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of Registrable Securities (as presently constituted and subject to subsequent adjustments for stock splits, stock dividends, reverse stock splits, and the like), provided that the Company is given written notice at the time of or within a reasonable time after said transfer or assignment, stating the name and address of the transferee or assignee and identifying the securities with respect to which such registration rights are being transferred or assigned, and, provided further, that the transferee or assignee of such rights assumes the obligations of such Holder under this Section 1.

1.11 "MARKET STAND-OFF" AGREEMENT. If requested by the Company and an underwriter of Common Stock (or other securities) of the Company, a Shareholder shall not sell, make any short sale of, loan, grant any option for the purchase of, or otherwise transfer or dispose of any Common Stock (or other securities) of the Company held by such Shareholder (other than those included in the registration) during the one hundred eighty (180) day period following the effective date of a registration statement of the Company filed under the Securities Act, provided that:

(a) such agreement shall only apply to the first such registration statement of the Company, including securities to be sold on its behalf to the public in an underwritten offering; and

(b) all Holders of one percent (1%) or more of the Company's outstanding equity securities and officers and directors of the Company enter into similar agreements.

The obligations described in this Section 1.11 shall not apply to a registration relating solely to employee benefit plans on Form S-1 or Form S-8 or similar forms that may be promulgated in the future, or a registration relating solely to a Commission Rule 145 transaction on Form S-4 or similar forms that may be promulgated in the future. The Company may impose stop-transfer instructions with respect to the shares (or securities) subject to the foregoing restriction until the end of said 180-day period.

1.12 ALLOCATION OF REGISTRATION OPPORTUNITIES. In any circumstance in which all of the Registrable Securities and other shares of Common Stock of the Company (including shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of shares of any currently unissued series of Preferred Stock of the Company) with registration rights (the "Other Shares") requested to be included in a registration on behalf of the Holders or other selling shareholders cannot be so included as a result of limitations of the aggregate number of shares of Registrable Securities and Other Shares that may be so included, the number of shares of Registrable Securities and Other Shares that may be so included shall be allocated among the Holders and other selling shareholders requesting inclusion of shares pro rata on the basis of the number of shares of Registrable Securities and Other Shares that would be held by such Holders and other selling shareholders, assuming conversion; provided, however, that in no event shall the amount of Registrable Securities and Other Shares included in such registration be reduced below twenty percent (20%) of the total amount of securities included in such registration, unless such registration is the initial public offering of the Company's securities, in which case the Registrable Securities and Other Shares may be excluded if the underwriters make the determination described in subsection 1.3(b) above and no other shareholders' securities are included. If any Holder or other selling shareholder does not request inclusion of the maximum number of shares of Registrable Securities and Other Shares allocated to it pursuant to the above-described procedure, the remaining portion of its allocation shall be reallocated among those requesting Holders and other selling shareholders whose allocations did not satisfy their requests pro rata on the basis of the number of shares of Registrable Securities and Other Shares which would be held by such Holders and other selling shareholders, assuming conversion, and this procedure shall be repeated until all of the shares of Registrable Securities and Other Shares which may be included in the registration on behalf of the Holders and other selling shareholders have been so allocated. The Company shall not limit the number of Registrable Securities to be included in a registration pursuant to this Agreement in order to include shares held by shareholders with no registration rights or to include stock issued to founders of the Company or any other shares of stock issued to employees, officers, directors, or consultants pursuant to the Company's Equity Incentive Plan, or with respect to registration under Section 1.5 hereof, in order to include in such registration securities registered for the Company's own account.

1.13 DELAY OF REGISTRATION. No Holder shall have any right to take any action to restrain, enjoin, or otherwise delay any registration as the result of any controversy that might arise with respect to the interpretation or implementation of this Section 1.

1.14 TERMINATION OF REGISTRATION RIGHTS. The right of any Holder to request registration or inclusion in any registration pursuant to Section 1.2, 1.3 or 1.5 shall terminate on the closing of the first Company-initiated registered public offering of Common Stock of the Company, provided that all shares of Registrable Securities held or entitled to be held upon conversion by such Holder may immediately be sold under Rule 144 during any ninety (90) day period, or on such date after the closing of the first Company-initiated registered public offering of Common Stock of the Company as all shares of Registrable Securities held or entitled to be held upon conversion by such Holder may immediately be sold under Rule 144 during any ninety (90) day period; provided, however, that the provisions of this Section 1.14 shall not apply to any Holder who owns more than one percent (1%) of the Company's outstanding stock until the earlier of (i) such time as such Holder owns less than one percent (1%) of the outstanding stock. of the Company, or (ii) the expiration of two (2) years after the closing of the first registered public offering of Common Stock of the Company.

2. COVENANTS OF THE COMPANY.

2.1 FINANCIAL INFORMATION. The Company will furnish the following reports

(i) to Sega Enterprises, Ltd., (ii) to Itochu Corporation and Itochu Technology, Inc., collectively, (iii) to Worldview Technology Partners I, L.P. and its affiliates (collectively, "Worldview"), so long as Worldview owns at least four hundred thousand (400,000) shares of Preferred Stock or Common Stock issued upon conversion of the Preferred Stock, or any combination thereof, (iv) to any other Holder, so long as such Holder (and its affiliates) owns at least one million (1,000,000) shares of Preferred Stock or Common Stock issued upon conversion of the Preferred Stock, or any combination thereof (as presently constituted and subject to subsequent adjustment for stock splits, stock dividends, reverse stock splits, recapitalizations and the like):

(a) As soon as practicable after the end of each fiscal year of the Company, and in any event within ninety (90) days thereafter, a consolidated balance sheet of the Company and its subsidiaries, if any, as at the end of such fiscal year, and consolidated statements of income and cash flows of the Company and its subsidiaries, if any, for such year, prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied and setting forth in each case in comparative form the figures for the previous fiscal year, all in reasonable detail and certified by independent public accountants of recognized national standing selected by the Company.

(b) As soon as practicable after the end of the first, second, and third quarterly accounting periods in each fiscal year of the Company, and in any event within forty-five (45) days thereafter, a consolidated balance sheet of the Company and its subsidiaries, if any, as of the end of each such quarterly period, and consolidated statements of income and cash flows of the Company and its subsidiaries for such period and for the current fiscal year to date, prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied and setting forth in comparative form the figures for the corresponding periods of the previous fiscal year, subject to changes resulting from normal year-end audit adjustments, all in reasonable detail and certified by the principal financial or accounting officer of the Company, except that such financial statements need not contain the notes required by generally accepted accounting principles.

(c) From the date the Company becomes subject to the reporting requirements of the Exchange Act (which shall include any successor federal statute), and in lieu of the financial information required pursuant to Sections 2.1(a) and (b), copies of its annual reports on Form 10-K and its quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, respectively.

2.2 INSPECTION. The Company shall permit (i) Sega Enterprises, Ltd. and (ii) any other Holder, so long as such Holder (and its affiliates) owns at least one million (1,000,000) shares of Preferred Stock or Common Stock issued upon conversion of the Preferred Stock, or any combination thereof (as presently constituted and subject to subsequent adjustment for stock splits, stock dividends, reverse stock splits, recapitalizations and the like), at such Holder's expense, to visit and inspect the Company's properties, to examine its books of account and records and to discuss the Company's affairs, finances and accounts with its officers, all at such reasonable times as may be requested by such Holder; provided, however, that the Company shall not be obligated pursuant to this Section 2.2 to provide access to any information that it reasonably considers to be a trade secret or similar confidential information.

2.3 TERMINATION OF COVENANTS. The covenants set forth in this Section 2 shall terminate and be of no further force and effect after the time of effectiveness of the Company's first firm commitment underwritten public offering registered under the Securities Act, and such covenants shall terminate and be of no further force and effect as to any particular Holder is or becomes, or is or becomes controlled by, a competitor of the Company. Each Shareholder agrees that any and all information obtained pursuant to Sections 2.1 and 2.2 shall be deemed proprietary and confidential to the Company and will not be disclosed to any person or entity without the prior written consent of the Company, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, except as required by law or judicial process; provided, however, that, notwithstanding the foregoing, a Shareholder may disclose such information without the prior consent of the Company to its partners, associates or employees on an as-needed basis in order to evaluate this investment and as may be reasonably necessary to continue to evaluate the Company.

3. MISCELLANEOUS.

3.1 ENTIRE AGREEMENT. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement among the parties and no party shall be liable or bound to any other party in any manner by any warranties, representations, or covenants except as specifically set forth herein.

3.2 SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS. Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, the terms and conditions of this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and assigns any rights, obligations, or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement.

3.3 GOVERNING LAW. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed under the laws of the State of California as applied to agreements among California residents entered into and to be performed entirely within the State of California.

3.4 NOTICES. All notices and other communications required or permitted hereunder shall be in writing and, except as otherwise noted herein, shall be deemed effectively given upon personal delivery, delivery by nationally recognized courier or upon deposit with the United States Post Office, (by first class mail, postage prepaid) addressed: (a) if to the Company, at 1226 Tiros Way, Sunnyvale, CA 94086 (or at such other address as the Company shall have furnished to the Holders in writing), to the attention of the President and (b) if to a Holder, at the latest address of such person shown on the Company's records.

3.5 COUNTERPARTS. This Agreement may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

3.6 ATTORNEYS' FEES. In the event that any dispute among the parties to this Agreement should result in litigation, the prevailing party in such dispute shall be entitled to recover from the losing party all fees, costs and expenses of enforcing rights of such prevailing party under or with respect to this Agreement, including without limitation, such reasonable fees and expenses of attorneys and accountants, which shall include, without limitation, all fees, costs and expenses of appeals.

3.7 AMENDMENTS AND WAIVERS. Any term of this Agreement may be amended and the observance of any term of this Agreement may be waived (either generally or in a particular instance, either retroactively or prospectively, and either for a specified period of time or indefinitely), with the written consent of the Company and the holders of not less than fifty percent (50%) of the Registrable Securities of the Company (treated as if converted at the conversion rate then in effect and including, for such purposes, on a proportional basis, any shares of Common Stock into which any Registrable Securities have been converted that has not been sold to the public). Any amendment or waiver effected in accordance with this Section shall be binding upon each Holder of Registrable Securities then outstanding (including securities into which such securities have been converted), each future holder of all such securities, and the Company. Upon the effectuation of each such amendment or waiver, the Company shall promptly give written notice thereof to the record holders of Registrable Securities who have not previously consented thereto in writing.

3.8 FUTURE SHAREHOLDERS. Any person who acquires securities of the Company which are, or are convertible into or exercisable for, Registrable Securities may automatically become a party to this Agreement (without the consent of the Holders) by execution and delivery to the Company of a counterpart of this Agreement. Upon delivery of such counterpart, (a) the signature pages and Exhibit hereto shall be amended to reflect the name of such new party, and (b) such new party shall thereafter be deemed a "Holder" for purposes of this Agreement.

3.9 SEVERABILITY. If one or more provisions of this Agreement are held to be unenforceable under applicable law, such provision shall be excluded from this Agreement and the balance of the Agreement shall be interpreted as if such provision were so excluded and shall be enforceable in accordance with its terms.

3.10 DELAYS OR OMISSIONS. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power, or remedy accruing to any Holder upon any breach, default or noncompliance of the Company under this Agreement shall impair any such right, power, or remedy, nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of any such breach, default or noncompliance, or any acquiescence therein, or of any similar breach, default or noncompliance thereafter occurring. It is further agreed that any waiver, permit, consent, or approval of any kind or character on the Holders' part of any breach, default or noncompliance under this Agreement or any waiver on the Holders' part of any provisions or conditions of this Agreement must be in writing and shall be effective only to the extent specifically set forth in such writing, and that all remedies, either under this Agreement, the Company's Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation, the Company's Bylaws, or otherwise afforded to any Holder shall be cumulative and not alternative.
IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this Second Amended and Restated Investors' Rights Agreement effective as of the date first above written.

This Agreement is made and entered into this ____ day of ___________, 1998 by and between NVIDIA CORPORATION, a Delaware corporation (the "Corporation"), and ____________________ ("Agent").

RECITALS

Whereas, Agent performs a valuable service to the Corporation in his capacity as a director of the Corporation;

WHEREAS, the stockholders of the Corporation have adopted bylaws (the "Bylaws") providing for the indemnification of the directors, officers, employees and other agents of the Corporation, including persons serving at the request of the Corporation in such capacities with other corporations or enterprises, as authorized by the Delaware Corporation Law, as amended (the "Code");

WHEREAS, the Bylaws and the Code, by their non-exclusive nature, permit contracts between the Corporation and its agents, officers, employees and other agents with respect to indemnification of such persons; and

WHEREAS, in order to induce Agent to continue to serve as a director of the Corporation, the Corporation has determined and agreed to enter into this Agreement with Agent;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of Agent's continued service as a director after the date hereof, the parties hereto agree as follows:

AGREEMENT

1. SERVICES TO THE CORPORATION. Agent will serve, at the will of the Corporation or under separate contract, if any such contract exists, as a director of the Corporation or as a director, officer or other fiduciary of an affiliate of the Corporation (including any employee benefit plan of the Corporation) faithfully and to the best of his ability so long as he is duly elected and qualified in accordance with the provisions of the Bylaws or other applicable charter documents of the Corporation or such affiliate; provided, however, that Agent may at any time and for any reason resign from such position (subject to any contractual obligation that Agent may have assumed apart from this Agreement) and that the Corporation or any affiliate shall have no obligation under this Agreement to continue Agent in any such position.

2. INDEMNITY OF AGENT. The Corporation hereby agrees to hold harmless and indemnify Agent to the fullest extent authorized or permitted by the provisions of the Bylaws and the Code, as the same may be amended from time to time (but, only to the extent that such amendment permits the Corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than the Bylaws or the Code permitted prior to adoption of such amendment).
3. ADDITIONAL INDEMNITY. In addition to and not in limitation of the indemnification otherwise provided for herein, and subject only to the exclusions set forth in Section 4 hereof, the Corporation hereby further agrees to hold harmless and indemnify Agent:

(A) against any and all expenses (including attorneys' fees), witness fees, damages, judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement and any other amounts that Agent becomes legally obligated to pay because of any claim or claims made against or by him in connection with any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, arbitrational, administrative or investigative (including an action by or in the right of the Corporation) to which Agent is, was or at any time becomes a party, or is threatened to be made a party, by reason of the fact that Agent is, was or at any time becomes a director, officer, employee or other agent of Corporation, or is or was serving or at any time serves at the request of the Corporation as a director, officer, employee or other agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise; and

(B) otherwise to the fullest extent as may be provided to Agent by the Corporation under the non-exclusivity provisions of the Code and Section 43 of the Bylaws.

4. LIMITATIONS ON ADDITIONAL INDEMNITY. No indemnity pursuant to Section 3 hereof shall be paid by the Corporation:

(A) on account of any claim against Agent for an accounting of profits made from the purchase or sale by Agent of securities of the Corporation pursuant to the provisions of Section 16(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and amendments thereto or similar provisions of any federal, state or local statutory law;

(B) on account of Agent's conduct that was knowingly fraudulent or deliberately dishonest or that constituted willful misconduct; on account of Agent's conduct that constituted a breach of Agent's duty of loyalty to the Corporation or resulted in any personal profit or advantage to which Agent was not legally entitled;

(C) on account of Agent's conduct that constituted a breach of Agent's duty of loyalty to the Corporation or resulted in any personal profit or advantage to which Agent was not legally entitled;

(D) for which payment is actually made to Agent under a valid and collectible insurance policy or under a valid and enforceable indemnity clause, bylaw or agreement, except in respect of any excess beyond payment under such insurance, clause, bylaw or agreement;

(E) if indemnification is not lawful (and, in this respect, both the Corporation and Agent have been advised that the Securities and Exchange Commission believes that indemnification for liabilities arising under the federal securities laws is against public policy and is, therefore, unenforceable and that claims for indemnification should be submitted to appropriate courts for adjudication); or

(F) in connection with any proceeding (or part thereof) initiated by Agent, or any proceeding by Agent against the Corporation or its directors, officers, employees or other agents, unless (i) such indemnification is expressly required to be made by law, (ii) the proceeding was authorized by the Board of Directors of the Corporation, (iii) such indemnification is provided by the Corporation, in its sole discretion, pursuant to the powers vested in the Corporation under the Code, or (iv) the proceeding is initiated pursuant to Section 9 hereof.

5. CONTINUATION OF INDEMNITY. All agreements and obligations of the Corporation contained herein shall continue during the period Agent is a director, officer, employee or other agent of the Corporation (or is or was serving at the request of the Corporation as a director, officer, employee or other agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise) and shall continue thereafter so long as Agent shall be subject to any possible claim or threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, arbitrational, administrative or investigative, by reason of the fact that Agent was serving in the capacity referred to herein.

6. PARTIAL INDEMNIFICATION. Agent shall be entitled under this Agreement to indemnification by the Corporation for a portion of the expenses (including attorneys' fees), witness fees, damages, judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement and any other amounts that Agent becomes legally obligated to pay in connection with any action, suit or proceeding referred to in Section 3 hereof even if not entitled hereunder to indemnification for the total amount thereof, and the Corporation shall indemnify Agent for the portion thereof to which Agent is entitled.

7. NOTIFICATION AND DEFENSE OF CLAIM. Not later than thirty (30) days after receipt by Agent of notice of the commencement of any action, suit or proceeding, Agent will, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against the Corporation under this Agreement, notify the Corporation of the commencement thereof; but the omission so to notify the Corporation will not relieve it from any liability which it may have to Agent otherwise than under this Agreement. With respect to any such action, suit or proceeding as to which Agent notifies the Corporation of the commencement thereof:

(A) the Corporation will be entitled to participate therein at its own expense;

(B) except as otherwise provided below, the Corporation may, at its option and jointly with any other indemnifying party similarly notified and electing to assume such defense, assume the defense thereof, with counsel reasonably satisfactory to Agent. After notice from the Corporation to Agent of its election to assume the defense thereof, the Corporation will not be liable to Agent under this Agreement for any legal or other expenses subsequently incurred by Agent in connection with the defense thereof except for reasonable costs of investigation or otherwise as provided below. Agent shall have the right to employ separate counsel in such action, suit or proceeding but the fees and expenses of such counsel incurred after notice from the Corporation of its assumption of the defense thereof shall be at the expense of Agent unless (i) the employment of counsel by Agent has been authorized by the Corporation, (ii) Agent shall have reasonably concluded that there may be a conflict of interest between the Corporation and Agent in the conduct of the defense of such action or (iii) the Corporation shall not in fact have employed counsel to assume the defense of such action, in each of which cases the fees and expenses of Agent's separate counsel shall be at the expense of the Corporation. The Corporation shall not be entitled to assume the defense of any action, suit or proceeding brought by or on behalf of the Corporation or as to which Agent shall have made the conclusion provided for in clause (ii) above; and

8. EXPENSES. The Corporation shall advance, prior to the final disposition of any proceeding, promptly following request therefor, all expenses incurred by Agent in connection with such proceeding upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of Agent to repay said amounts if it shall be determined ultimately that Agent is not entitled to be indemnified under the provisions of this Agreement, the Bylaws, the Code or otherwise.

9. ENFORCEMENT. Any right to indemnification or advances granted by this Agreement to Agent shall be enforceable by or on behalf of Agent in any court of competent jurisdiction if (i) the claim for indemnification or advances is denied, in whole or in part, or (ii) no disposition of such claim is made within ninety (90) days of request therefor. Agent, in such enforcement action, if successful in whole or in part, shall be entitled to be paid also the expense of prosecuting his claim. It shall be a defense to any action for which a claim for indemnification is made under Section 3 hereof (other than an action brought to enforce a claim for expenses pursuant to Section 8 hereof, provided that the required undertaking has been tendered to the Corporation) that Agent is not entitled to indemnification because of the limitations set forth in Section 4 hereof. Neither the failure of the Corporation (including its Board of Directors or its stockholders) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such enforcement action that indemnification of Agent is proper in the circumstances, nor an actual determination by the Corporation (including its Board of Directors or its stockholders) that such indemnification is improper shall be a defense to the action or create a presumption that Agent is not entitled to indemnification under this Agreement or otherwise.

10. SUBROGATION. In the event of payment under this Agreement, the Corporation shall be subrogated to the extent of such payment to all of the rights of recovery of Agent, who shall execute all documents required and shall do all acts that may be necessary to secure such rights and to enable the Corporation effectively to bring suit to enforce such rights.

11. NON-EXCLUSIVITY OF RIGHTS. The rights conferred on Agent by this Agreement shall not be exclusive of any other right which Agent may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, provision of the Corporation’s Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws, agreement, vote of stockholders or directors, or otherwise, both as to action in his official capacity and as to action in another capacity while holding office.

12. SURVIVAL OF RIGHTS.

(A) The rights conferred on Agent by this Agreement shall continue after Agent has ceased to be a director, officer, employee or other agent of the Corporation or to serve at the request of the Corporation as a director, officer, employee or other agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise and shall inure to the benefit of Agent's heirs, executors and administrators.
13. SEPARABILITY. Each of the provisions of this Agreement is a separate and distinct agreement and independent of the others, so that if any provision hereof shall be held to be invalid for any reason, such invalidity or unenforceability shall not affect the validity or enforceability of the other provisions hereof. Furthermore, if this Agreement shall be invalidated in its entirety on any ground, then the Corporation shall nevertheless indemnify Agent to the fullest extent provided by the Bylaws, the Code or any other applicable law.

14. ENTIRE AGREEMENT. This Agreement and the agreements referenced herein constitute the entire agreement between the parties hereto pertaining to the subject matter hereof, and any and all other written or oral agreements existing between the parties hereto pertaining to the subject matters hereof are superseded and expressly canceled.

15. GOVERNING LAW. This Agreement shall be interpreted and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware.

16. AMENDMENT AND TERMINATION. No amendment, modification, termination or cancellation of this Agreement shall be effective unless in writing signed by both parties hereto.

17. IDENTICAL COUNTERPARTS. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall for all purposes be deemed to be an original but all of which together shall constitute but one and the same Agreement. Only one such counterpart need be produced to evidence the existence of this Agreement.

18. HEADINGS. The headings of the sections of this Agreement are inserted for convenience only and shall not be deemed to constitute part of this Agreement or to affect the construction hereof.

19. NOTICES. All notices, requests, demands and other communications hereunder shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given (i) upon delivery if delivered by hand to the party to whom such communication was directed or (ii) upon the third business day after the date on which such communication was mailed if mailed by certified or registered mail with postage prepaid:

The Prior Plan hereby is amended and restated in its entirety as the 1998 Equity Incentive Plan and shall become effective on the date of approval of the Plan by the Board (the "Effective Date"). No options shall be granted under the Prior Plan from and after the Effective Date. The terms of the Prior Plan (other than the aggregate number of shares issuable thereunder) shall remain in effect and apply to all options granted pursuant to the Prior Plan.

(B) The purpose of the Plan is to provide a means by which selected Employees and Directors of and Consultants to the Company, and its Affiliates, may be given an opportunity to benefit from increases in value of the stock of the Company through the granting of (i) Incentive Stock Options, (ii) Nonstatutory Stock Options, (iii) stock bonuses, and (iv) rights to purchase restricted stock.

(C) The Company, by means of the Plan, seeks to retain the services of persons who are now Employees or Directors of or Consultants to the Company or its Affiliates, to secure and retain the services of new Employees, Directors and Consultants, and to provide incentives for such persons to exert maximum efforts for the success of the Company and its Affiliates.

All Options shall be separately designated Incentive Stock Options or Nonstatutory Stock Options at the time of grant, and in such form as issued pursuant to Section 6, and a separate certificate or certificates will be issued for shares purchased on exercise of each type of Option.

(AA) Ten Percent Shareholder means a person who owns (or is deemed to own pursuant to Section 424(d) of the Code) stock possessing more than ten percent (10%) of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock of the Company or of any of its Affiliates.

3. ADMINISTRATION.

(A) The Plan shall be administered by the Board unless and until the Board delegates administration to a Committee, as provided in subsection 3(c).

(B) The Board shall have the power, subject to, and within the limitations of, the express provisions of the Plan:

(I) To determine from time to time which of the persons eligible under the Plan shall be granted Stock Awards; when and how each Stock Award shall be granted; whether a Stock Award will be an Incentive Stock Option, a Nonstatutory Stock Option, a stock bonus, a right to purchase restricted stock, or a combination of the foregoing; the provisions of each Stock Award granted (which need not be identical), including the time or times when a person shall be permitted to receive stock pursuant to a Stock Award; and the number of shares with respect to which a Stock Award shall be granted to each such person.

(II) To construe and interpret the Plan and Stock Awards granted under it, and to establish, amend and revoke rules and regulations for its administration. The Board, in the exercise of this power, may correct any defect, omission or inconsistency in the Plan or in any Stock Award Agreement, in a manner and to the extent it shall deem necessary or expedient to make the Plan fully effective.

(III) To amend the Plan or a Stock Award as provided in Section 13.

(IV) Generally, to exercise such powers and to perform such acts as the Board deems necessary or expedient to promote the best interests of the Company which are not in conflict with the provisions of the Plan.

(C) The Board may delegate administration of the Plan to a Committee or Committees of one or more members of the Board, and the term "Committee" shall apply to any person or persons to whom such authority has been delegated. If administration is delegated to a Committee, the Committee shall have, in connection with the administration of the Plan, the powers theretofore possessed by the Board, including the power to delegate to a subcommittee any of the administrative powers the Committee is authorized to exercise (and references in this Plan to the Board shall thereafter be to the Committee or subcommittee), subject, however, to such resolutions, not inconsistent with the provisions of the Plan, as may be adopted from time to time by the Board. The Board may abolish the Committee at any time and reconstitute it in the Board the administration of the Plan. In the discretion of the Board, a Committee may consist solely of two or more Outside Directors, in accordance with Code Section 162(m), or solely of two or more Non-Employee Directors, in accordance with Rule 16b-3. Within the scope of such authority, the Board or the Committee may (1) delegate to a committee of one or more members of the Board who are not Outside Directors the authority to grant Stock Awards to eligible persons who are either (a) not then Covered Employees and are not expected to be Covered Employees at the time of recognition of income resulting from such Stock Award, or (b) not persons with respect to whom the Company wishes to comply with Section 162(m) of the Code, and/or (2) delegate to a committee of one or more members of the Board who are not Non-Employee Directors the authority to grant Stock Awards to eligible persons who are not then subject to Section 16 of the Exchange Act.

4. SHARES SUBJECT TO THE PLAN.

(A) Subject to the provisions of Section 12 relating to adjustments upon changes in stock, the stock that may be issued pursuant to Stock Awards shall not exceed in the aggregate fifteen million (15,000,000) shares of the Company's Common Stock. Notwithstanding the foregoing, on each January 1, commencing with January 1, 1999, the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock that are available for issuance under the Incentive Plan shall automatically be increased by a number of shares of Common Stock equal to five percent (5%) of the Company's outstanding shares of Common Stock on that date. If any Stock Award shall for any reason expire or otherwise terminate, in whole or in part, without having been exercised in full, the stock not acquired under such Stock Award shall revert to and again become available for issuance under the Plan.

(B) Except as adjusted pursuant to Section 12 of the Plan, however, no more than fifteen million (15,000,000) of the shares eligible for issuance under the Plan shall be issued upon the exercise of Incentive Stock Options under the Plan.

(C) The stock subject to the Plan may be unissued shares or reacquired shares, bought on the market or otherwise.

(D) Prior to the Listing Date, at no time shall the total number of shares issuable upon exercise of all outstanding Options and the total number of shares provided for under any stock bonus or similar plan of the Company exceed the applicable percentage as calculated in accordance with the conditions and exclusions of Section 260.140.45 of Title 10 of the California Code of Regulations, based on the shares of the Company which are outstanding at the time the calculation is made.

5. ELIGIBILITY.

(A) Incentive Stock Options may be granted only to Employees. Stock Awards other than Incentive Stock Options may be granted only to Employees, Directors or Consultants.

(B) No person shall be eligible for the grant of an Option or an award of purchase of restricted stock if, at the time of grant, such person owns (or is deemed to own pursuant to Section 424(d) of the Code) stock possessing more than ten percent (10%) of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock of the Company or of any of its Affiliates unless the exercise price of such Option is at least one hundred ten percent (110%) of the Fair Market Value of such stock at the date of grant, the exercise price of such restricted stock award is at least one hundred percent (100%) of the Fair Market Value of such stock at the date of grant and the Stock Award is not exercisable after the expiration of five years from the date of grant. After the Listing Date, this provision shall apply only to Incentive Stock Options.

(C) Subject to the provisions of Section 12 relating to adjustments upon changes in stock, no employee shall be eligible to be granted Options covering more than one million (1,000,000) shares of the Common Stock during any calendar year. This subsection shall not apply prior to the Listing Date and, following the Listing Date, this subsection shall not apply until (i) the earliest of: (A) the first material modification of the Plan (including any increase to the number of shares reserved for issuance under the Plan in accordance with Section 4); (B) the issuance of all of the shares of Common Stock reserved for issuance under the Plan; (C) the expiration of the Plan; or (D) the first meeting of shareholders at which Directors of the Company are to be elected that occurs after the close of the third calendar year following the calendar year in which occurred the first registration of an equity security under Section 12 of the Exchange Act; or (ii) such other date required by Section 162(m) of the Code and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

Each Option shall be in such form and shall contain such terms and conditions as the Board shall deem appropriate. The provisions of separate Options need not be identical, but each Option shall include (through incorporation of provisions hereof by reference in the Option or otherwise) the substance of each of the following provisions:

(A) TERM. No Option shall be exercisable after the expiration of ten years from the date it was granted.

(B) PRICE. The exercise price of each Incentive Stock Option shall be not less than one hundred percent (100%) of the fair market value of the stock subject to the Option on the date the Option is granted. The exercise price of each Nonstatutory Stock Option shall be not less than eighty five percent (85%) of the Fair Market Value of the stock subject to the Option on the date the Option is granted.

(C) CONSIDERATION. The purchase price of stock acquired pursuant to an Option shall be paid, to the extent permitted by applicable statutes and regulations, either (i) in cash at the time the Option is exercised, or (ii) at the discretion of the Board or the Committee, at the time of the grant of the Option, (a) by delivery to the Company of other Common Stock, (b) according to a deferred payment or other arrangement (which may include, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the use of other Common Stock) with the person to whom the Option is granted or to whom the Option is transferred pursuant to subsection 6(d), or (C) in any other form of legal consideration that may be acceptable to the Board; provided, however, that at any time that the Company is incorporated in Delaware, then payment of the Common Stock's "par value," as defined in the Delaware General Corporation Law, shall not be made by deferred payment. In the case of any deferred payment arrangement, interest shall be compounded at least annually and shall be charged at the minimum rate of interest necessary to avoid the treatment as interest, under any applicable provisions of the Code, of any amounts other than amounts stated to be interest under the deferred payment arrangement.

(D) TRANSFERABILITY. An Incentive Stock Option and, prior to the Listing Date, a Nonstatutory Stock Option shall not be transferable except by will or by the laws of descent and distribution, and shall be exercisable during the lifetime of the person to whom the Incentive Stock Option is granted only by such person. After the Listing Date, a Nonstatutory Stock Option shall be transferable to the extent provided in the Option Agreement. If the Nonstatutory Stock Option does not provide for transferability, then the Nonstatutory Stock Option shall not be transferable except by will or by the laws of descent and distribution, and shall be exercisable during the lifetime of the person to whom the Option is granted only by such person. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of subsection 6(f), the person to whom the Option is granted may, by delivering written notice to the Company, in a form satisfactory to the Company, designate a third party who, in the event of the death of the Optionee, shall thereafter be entitled to exercise the Option.

(E) VESTING. The total number of shares of stock subject to an Option may, but need not, be allotted in periodic installments (which may, but need not, be equal). The Option Agreement may provide that from time to time during each of such installment periods, the Option may become exercisable ("vest") with respect to some or all of the shares allotted to that period, and may be exercised with respect to some or all of the shares allotted to such period and/or any prior period as to which the Option became vested but was not fully exercised. The Option may be subject to such other terms and conditions on the time or times when it may be exercised which may be based upon performance or other criteria as the Board may deem appropriate. The provisions of this subsection 6(e) are subject to any Option provisions governing the minimum number of shares as to which an Option may be exercised.

(F) MINIMUM VESTING PRIOR TO THE LISTING DATE. Notwithstanding the foregoing subsection, Options granted prior to the Listing Date shall provide for vesting of the total number of shares at a rate of at least twenty percent (20%) per year over five (5) years from the date the Option was granted, subject to reasonable conditions such as continued employment. However, in the case of such Options granted to officers, directors or consultants (within the meaning of Section 260.140.41 of Title 10 of the California Code of Regulations), the Option may become fully exercisable, subject to reasonable conditions such as continued employment, at any time or during any period established by the Company; for example, the vesting provision of the Option may provide for vesting of less than twenty percent (20%) per year of the total number of shares subject to the Option.

(G) TERMINATION OF CONTINUOUS SERVICE. In the event an Optionee's Continuous Service terminates (other than upon the Optionee's death or disability), the Optionee may exercise his or her Option (to the extent that the Optionee was entitled to exercise it at the date of termination) but only within such period of time ending on the earlier of (i) the date three (3) months after the termination of the Optionee's Continuous Service (or such longer or shorter period specified in the Option Agreement, which, for Options granted prior to the Listing Date, shall not be less than thirty (30) days unless such termination is for cause), or (ii) the expiration of the term of the Option as set forth in the Option Agreement. If, after termination, the Optionee does not exercise his or her Option within the time specified in the Option Agreement, the Option shall terminate, and the shares covered by such Option shall revert to and again become available for issuance under the Plan.

(H) DISABILITY OF OPTIONEE. In the event an Optionee's Continuous Service terminates as a result of the Optionee's disability, the Optionee may exercise his or her Option, (to the extent such Optionee was entitled to exercise it at the date of termination) but only within such period of time ending on the earlier of (i) the date twelve (12) months following such termination (or such longer or shorter period specified in the Option Agreement, which, for Options granted prior to the Listing Date, shall not be less than six (6) months) or (ii) the expiration of the term of the Option as set forth in the Option Agreement. If, at the date of termination, the Optionee is not entitled to exercise his or her entire Option, the shares covered by the unexercisable portion of the Option shall revert to and again become available for issuance under the Plan. If, after termination, the Optionee does not exercise his or her Option within the time specified herein, the Option shall terminate, and the shares covered by such Option shall revert to and again become available for issuance under the Plan.

(I) DEATH OF OPTIONEE. In the event of the death of an Optionee during, or within a period specified in the Option after the termination of, the Optionee's Continuous Status as an Employee, Director, or Consultant, the Option may be exercised (to the extent the Optionee was entitled to exercise the Option at the date of death) by the Optionee's estate, by a person who acquired the right to exercise the Option by bequest or inheritance or by a person designated to exercise the option upon the Optionee's death pursuant to subsection 6(d), but only within the period ending on the earlier of (i) the date eighteen (18) months following the date of death (or such longer or shorter period specified in the Option Agreement, which, for Options granted prior to the Listing Date, shall not be less than six (6) months), or (ii) the expiration of the term of such Option as set forth in the Option Agreement. If, at the time of death, the Optionee was not entitled to exercise his or her entire Option, the shares covered by the unexercisable portion of the Option shall revert to and again become available for issuance under the Plan. If, after death, the Option is not exercised within the time specified herein, the Option shall terminate, and the shares covered by such Option shall revert to and again become available for issuance under the Plan.

(J) EARLY EXERCISE. The Option may, but need not, include a provision whereby the Optionee may elect at any time before the Optionee's Continuous Service terminates to exercise the Option as to any part or all of the shares subject to the Option prior to the full vesting of the Option. Subject to the repurchase option limitations specified in subsection 11(h), any unvested shares so purchased may be subject to a repurchase right in favor of the Company or to any other restriction the Board determines to be appropriate.

(K) RE-LOAD OPTIONS. Without in any way limiting the authority of the Board or Committee to make or not to make grants of Options hereunder, the Board or Committee shall have the authority (but not an obligation) to include as part of any Option Agreement a provision entitling the Optionee to a further Option (a "Re-Load Option") in the event the Optionee exercises the Option evidenced by the Option agreement, in whole or in part, by surrendering other shares of Common Stock in accordance with this Plan and the terms and conditions of the Option Agreement. Any such Re-Load Option (i) shall be for a number of shares equal to the number of shares surrendered as part or all of the exercise price of such Option; (ii) shall have an expiration date which is the same as the expiration date of the Option the exercise of which gave rise to such Re-Load Option; and (iii) shall have an exercise price which is equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the Fair Market Value of the Common Stock subject to the Re-Load Option on the date of exercise of the original Option or, in the case of a Re-Load Option which is an Incentive Stock Option and which is granted to a ten percent (10%) shareholder (as described in subsection 5(c)), shall have an exercise price which is equal to one hundred ten percent (110%) of the Fair Market Value of the stock subject to the Re-Load Option on the date of exercise of the original Option.

Any such Re-Load Option may be an Incentive Stock Option or a Nonstatutory Stock Option, as the Board or Committee may designate at the time of the grant of the original Option; provided, however, that the designation of any Re-Load Option as an Incentive Stock Option shall be subject to the one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) annual limitation on exercisability of Incentive Stock Options described in subsection 11(d) of the Plan and in Section 422(d) of the Code. There shall be no Re-Load Options on a Re-Load Option. Any such Re-Load Option shall be subject to the availability of sufficient shares under subsection 4(a) and shall be subject to such other terms and conditions as the Board or Committee may determine.
7. TERMS OF STOCK BONUSES AND PURCHASES OF RESTRICTED STOCK.

Each stock bonus or restricted stock purchase agreement shall be in such form and shall contain such terms and conditions as the Board or the Committee shall deem appropriate. The terms and conditions of stock bonus or restricted stock purchase agreements may change from time to time, and the terms and conditions of separate agreements need not be identical, but each stock bonus or restricted stock purchase agreement shall include (through incorporation of provisions hereof by reference in the agreement or otherwise) the substance of each of the following provisions as appropriate:

(A) PURCHASE PRICE. The purchase price under each restricted stock purchase agreement shall be such amount as the Board or Committee shall determine and designate in such agreement but in no event shall the purchase price be less than eighty-five percent (85%) of the stock's Fair Market Value on the date such award is made. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Board or the Committee may determine that eligible participants in the Plan may be awarded stock pursuant to a stock bonus agreement in consideration for past services actually rendered to the Company or for its benefit. For grants prior to the Listing Date, the purchase price under each restricted stock purchase agreement shall not be less than eighty-five percent (85%) of the stock's Fair Market Value on the date such award is made or at the time the purchase is consummated.

(B) TRANSFERABILITY. Rights to purchase shares under a stock bonus or restricted stock purchase agreement granted prior to the Listing Date shall not be transferable except by will or by the laws of descent and distribution, and shall be exercisable during the lifetime of the person to whom the Stock Award is granted only by such person. Rights to purchase shares under a stock bonus or restricted stock purchase agreement granted on or after the Listing Date shall be transferable by the grantee only upon such terms and conditions as are set forth in the applicable Stock Award Agreement, as the Board shall determine in its discretion, so long as stock awarded under such Stock Award Agreement remains subject to the terms of the agreement.

(C) CONSIDERATION. The purchase price of stock acquired pursuant to a stock purchase agreement shall be paid either: (i) in cash at the time of purchase; (ii) at the discretion of the Board or the Committee, according to a deferred payment or other arrangement with the person to whom the stock is sold; or (iii) in any other form of legal consideration that may be acceptable to the Board or the Committee in their discretion. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Board or the Committee to which administration of the Plan has been delegated may award stock pursuant to a stock bonus agreement in consideration for past services actually rendered to the Company or for its benefit.

(D) VESTING. Subject to the repurchase option limitations specified in subsection 11(h), shares of stock sold or awarded under the Plan may, but need not, be subject to a repurchase option in favor of the Company in accordance with a vesting schedule to be determined by the Board or the Committee.

(E) TERMINATION OF CONTINUOUS SERVICE. Subject to the repurchase option limitations specified in subsection 11(h), in the event a Participant's Continuous Service terminates, the Company may repurchase or otherwise reacquire any or all of the shares of stock held by that person which have not vested as of the date of termination under the terms of the stock bonus or restricted stock purchase agreement between the Company and such person.

8. CANCELLATION AND RE-GRANT OF OPTIONS.

The Board or the Committee shall have the authority to effect, at any time and from time to time, (i) the repricing of any outstanding Options, and (ii) with the consent of the affected holders of Options, the cancellation of any outstanding Options under the Plan and the grant in substitution therefor of new Options under the Plan covering the same or different numbers of shares of stock, but having an exercise price per share not less than eighty five percent (85%) of the Fair Market Value (one hundred percent (100%) of the Fair Market Value in the case of an Incentive Stock Option or, in the case of an Incentive Stock Option granted to a ten percent (10%) shareholder (as described in subsection 5 (c)), not less than one hundred ten percent (110%) of the Fair Market Value) per share of stock on the new grant date.

9. COVENANTS OF THE COMPANY.

(A) During the terms of the Stock Awards, the Company shall keep available at all times the number of shares of stock required to satisfy such Stock Awards.

(B) The Company shall seek to obtain from each regulatory commission or agency having jurisdiction over the Plan such authority as may be required to issue and sell shares of stock upon exercise of the Stock Award; provided, however, that this undertaking shall not require the Company to register under the Securities Act either the Plan, any Stock Award or any stock issued or issuable pursuant to any such Stock Award. If, after reasonable efforts, the Company is unable to obtain from any such regulatory commission or agency the authority which counsel for the Company deems necessary for the lawful issuance and sale of stock under the Plan, the Company shall be relieved from any liability for failure to issue and sell stock upon exercise of such Stock Awards unless and until such authority is obtained.

10. USE OF PROCEEDS FROM STOCK.

Proceeds from the sale of stock pursuant to Stock Awards shall constitute general funds of the Company.

11. MISCELLANEOUS.

(A) The Board shall have the power to accelerate the time at which a Stock Award may first be exercised or the time during which a Stock Award or any part thereof will vest in accordance with the Plan, notwithstanding the provisions in the Stock Award stating the time at which it may first be exercised or the time during which it will vest.

(B) Neither an Employee, Director or Consultant nor any person to whom a Stock Award is transferred under subsection 6(d) or 7(b) shall be deemed to be the holder of, or to have any of the rights of a holder with respect to, any shares subject to such Stock Award unless and until such person has satisfied all requirements for exercise of the Stock Award pursuant to its terms.
(C) Prior to the Listing Date, as required by Section 260.140.46 of Title 10 of the California Code of Regulations, the Company shall deliver financial statements to Participants at least annually. This subsection shall not apply to key Employees whose duties in connection with the Company assure them access to equivalent information.

(D) Nothing in the Plan or any instrument executed or Stock Award granted pursuant thereto shall confer upon any Employee, Director, Consultant or other holder of Stock Awards any right to continue in the employ of the Company or any Affiliate (or to continue acting as a Director or Consultant) or shall affect the right of the Company or any Affiliate to terminate the employment or relationship as a Director or Consultant of any Employee, Director, Consultant or other holder of Stock Awards with or without cause.

(E) To the extent that the aggregate Fair Market Value (determined at the time of grant) of stock with respect to which Incentive Stock Options are exercisable for the first time by any Optionee during any calendar year under all plans of the Company and its Affiliates exceeds one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), the Options or portions thereof which exceed such limit (according to the order in which they were granted) shall be treated as Nonstatutory Stock Options.

(F) The Company may require any person to whom a Stock Award is granted, or any person to whom a Stock Award is transferred pursuant to subsection 6(d) or 7(b), as a condition of exercising or acquiring stock under any Stock Award,

(i) to give written assurances satisfactory to the Company as to such person's knowledge and experience in financial and business matters and/or to employ a purchaser representative reasonably satisfactory to the Company who is knowledgeable and experienced in financial and business matters, and that he or she is capable of evaluating, alone or together with the purchaser representative, the merits and risks of exercising the Stock Award; and (ii) to give written assurances satisfactory to the Company stating that such person is acquiring the stock subject to the Stock Award for such person's own account and not with any present intention of selling or otherwise distributing the stock. The foregoing requirements, and any assurances given pursuant to such requirements, shall be inoperative if (1) the issuance of the shares upon the exercise or acquisition of stock under the Stock Award has been registered under a then currently effective registration statement under the Securities Act, or

(2) as to any particular requirement, a determination is made by counsel for the Company that such requirement need not be met in the circumstances under the then applicable securities laws. The Company may, upon advice of counsel to the Company, place legends on stock certificates issued under the Plan as such counsel deems necessary or appropriate in order to comply with applicable securities laws, including, but not limited to, legends restricting the transfer of the stock.

(G) To the extent provided by the terms of a Stock Award Agreement, the person to whom a Stock Award is granted may satisfy any federal, state or local tax withholding obligation relating to the exercise or acquisition of stock under a Stock Award by any of the following means or by a combination of such means: (1) tendering a cash payment; (2) authorizing the Company to withhold shares from the shares of the Common Stock otherwise issuable to the participant as a result of the exercise or acquisition of stock under the Stock Award; or (3) delivering to the Company owned and unencumbered shares of Common Stock.
The terms of any repurchase option shall be specified in the Stock Award and may be either at fair market value or at not less than the original purchase price. As required by Section 260.140.41 and Section 260.140.42 of Title 10 of the California Code of Regulations, any repurchase option in a Stock Award granted prior to the Listing Date and held by a person other than an Officer, Director or Consultant shall be upon the terms described below:

(I) If repurchase option gives the Company the right to repurchase the shares upon termination of employment at not less than the fair market value of the shares to be purchased on the date of termination of employment, then (1) the right to repurchase shall be exercised for cash or cancellation of purchase money indebtedness for the shares within ninety (90) days of termination of employment (or in the case of shares issued upon exercise of Stock Awards after the date of termination, within ninety (90) days after the date of the exercise) or such longer period as may be agreed to by the Company and the Participant (for example, for purposes of satisfying the requirements of Section 1202(c)(3) of the Code regarding "qualified small business stock"), and (2) the right terminates when the shares become publicly traded.

(II) If repurchase option gives the Company the right to repurchase the shares upon termination of employment at the original purchase price, then
(1) the right to repurchase at the original purchase price shall lapse at the rate of at least twenty percent (20%) of the shares per year over five (5) years from the date the Stock Award is granted (without respect to the date the Stock Award was exercised or became exercisable) and (2) the right to repurchase shall be exercised for cash or cancellation of purchase money indebtedness for the shares within ninety (90) days of termination of employment (or in the case of shares issued upon exercise of Options after the date of termination, within ninety (90) days after the date of the exercise) or such longer period as may be agreed to by the Company and the Participant (for example, for purposes of satisfying the requirements of Section 1202(c)(3) of the Code regarding "qualified small business stock").

12. ADJUSTMENTS UPON CHANGES IN STOCK.

(A) If any change is made in the stock subject to the Plan, or subject to any Stock Award (through merger, consolidation, reorganization, recapitalization, stock dividend, dividend in property other than cash, stock split, liquidating dividend, combination of shares, exchange of shares, change in corporate structure or otherwise), the Plan will be appropriately adjusted in the class(es) and maximum number of shares subject to the Plan pursuant to subsection 4(a) and the outstanding Stock Awards will be appropriately adjusted in class(es) and number of shares and price per share of stock subject to such outstanding Stock Awards.

(B) In the event of a dissolution or liquidation of the Company, then, upon advance written notice by the Company of at least ten (10) business days to the holders of any Stock Awards outstanding under the Plan, such Stock Awards shall be terminated if not exercised (if applicable) prior to such event.

(C) In the event of (1) a sale of substantially all of the assets of the Company, (2) a merger or consolidation in which the Company is not the surviving corporation or (3) a reverse merger in which the Company is the surviving corporation but the shares of Common Stock outstanding immediately preceding the merger are converted by virtue of the merger into other property, whether in the form of securities, cash or otherwise, then any surviving corporation or acquiring corporation shall assume any Stock Awards outstanding under the Plan or shall substitute similar stock awards (including an award to acquire the same consideration paid to the shareholders in the transaction described in this subsection for those outstanding under the Plan. In the event any surviving corporation or acquiring corporation refuses to assume such Stock Awards or to substitute similar stock awards for those outstanding under the Plan, then with respect to Stock Awards held by persons whose Continuous Service has not terminated, the vesting of such Stock Awards (and, if applicable, the time during which such Stock Awards may be exercised) shall be accelerated upon prior written notice by the Company to the holders of such Stock Awards at least five (5) business days prior to such event and the Stock Awards shall terminate if not exercised (if applicable) at or prior to such event. With respect to any other Stock Awards outstanding under the Plan, upon advance written notice by the Company of at least five (5) business days to the holders of such Stock Awards, such Stock Awards shall terminate if not exercised (if applicable) prior to such event.

13. AMENDMENT OF THE PLAN AND STOCK AWARDS.

(A) The Board at any time, and from time to time, may amend the Plan. However, except as provided in Section 12 relating to adjustments upon changes in stock, no amendment shall be effective unless approved by the shareholders of the Company to the extent shareholder approval is necessary to satisfy the requirements of Section 422 of the Code, Rule 16b-3 or any Nasdaq or securities exchange listing requirements.

(B) The Board may in its sole discretion submit any other amendment to the Plan for shareholder approval, including, but not limited to, amendments to the Plan intended to satisfy the requirements of Section 162(m) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder regarding the exclusion of performance-based compensation from the limit on corporate deductibility of compensation paid to certain executive officers.

(C) It is expressly contemplated that the Board may amend the Plan in any respect the Board deems necessary or advisable to provide eligible Employees, Directors or Consultants with the maximum benefits provided or to be provided under the provisions of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder relating to Incentive Stock Options and/or to bring the Plan and/or Incentive Stock Options granted under it into compliance therewith.

(D) Rights and obligations under any Stock Award granted before amendment of the Plan shall not be impaired by any amendment of the Plan unless (i) the Company requests the consent of the person to whom the Stock Award was granted and (ii) such person consents in writing.

(E) The Board at any time, and from time to time, may amend the terms of any one or more Stock Award; provided, however that the rights and obligations under any Stock Award shall not be impaired by any such amendment unless (i) the Company requests the consent of the person to whom the Stock Award was granted and (ii) such person consents in writing.
14. TERMINATION OR SUSPENSION OF THE PLAN.

(A) The Board may suspend or terminate the Plan at any time. Unless sooner terminated, the Plan shall terminate at the close of business on February 16, 2008, which shall be within ten (10) years from the date the Plan is adopted by the Board or approved by the shareholders of the Company, whichever is sooner. Notwithstanding the foregoing, all Incentive Stock Options shall be granted, if at all, no later than the last day preceding the tenth (10th) anniversary of the earlier of (i) the date on which the latest increase in the maximum number of shares issuable under the Plan was approved by the shareholders of the Company or (ii) the date such amendment was adopted by the Board. No Stock Awards may be granted under the Plan while the Plan is suspended or after it is terminated.

(B) Rights and obligations under any Stock Award granted while the Plan is in effect shall not be altered or impaired by suspension or termination of the Plan, except with the consent of the person to whom the Stock Award was granted.

15. EFFECTIVE DATE OF PLAN.

The Plan shall become effective on the date adopted by the Board, but no Options or rights to purchase restricted stock shall be exercised, and no stock bonuses shall be granted under the Plan, unless and until the Plan has been approved by the shareholders of the Company within twelve (12) months before or after the date the Plan is adopted by the Board.
NVIDIA CORPORATION
INCENTIVE STOCK OPTION
1998 EQUITY INCENTIVE PLAN

TO THE OPTIONEE IDENTIFIED ON THE STOCK OPTION COVER SHEET:

NVIDIA Corporation, a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), pursuant to its 1998 Equity Incentive Plan (the "Plan"), has this day granted to you, the optionee named on the stock option cover sheet, an option to purchase shares of the common stock of the Company ("Common Stock"). This option is intended to qualify as an "incentive stock option" within the meaning of Section 422 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code").

The grant hereunder is in connection with and in furtherance of the Company's compensatory benefit plan for participation of the Company's employees, (including officers), directors and consultants.

The details of your option are as follows:

1. The total number of shares of Common Stock subject to this option are set forth in the stock option cover sheet. Subject to the limitations contained herein, this option shall be exercisable with respect to each installment shown below on or after the date of vesting applicable to such installment, as set forth in the stock option cover sheet.

2. (A) The exercise price of this option is set forth on the stock option cover sheet, being not less than the fair market value of the Common Stock on the date of grant of this option.

(B) Payment of the exercise price per share is due in full upon exercise of all or any part of each installment which has accrued to you. You may elect, to the extent permitted by applicable statutes and regulations, to make payment of the exercise price under one of the following alternatives:

(I) Payment of the exercise price per share in cash (including check) at the time of exercise;

(II) Payment pursuant to a program developed under Regulation T as promulgated by the Federal Reserve Board which results in the receipt of cash (or check) by the Company prior to the issuance of Common Stock;

(III) Provided that at the time of exercise the Company's Common Stock is publicly traded and quoted regularly in the Wall Street Journal, payment by delivery of already-owned shares of Common Stock, held for the period required to avoid a charge to the Company's reported earnings, and owned free and clear of any liens, claims, encumbrances or security interests, which Common Stock shall be valued at its fair market value on the date of exercise; or

(IV) Payment by a combination of the methods of payment permitted by subparagraph 2(b)(i) through 2(b)(iii) above.

3. This option may not be exercised for any number of shares which would require the issuance of anything other than whole shares.

4. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, this option may not be exercised unless the shares issuable upon exercise of this option are then registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), or, if such shares are not then so registered, the Company has determined that such exercise and issuance would be exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

5. The term of this option commences on the date hereof and, unless sooner terminated as set forth below or in the Plan, terminates on the date set forth as the termination date in the stock option cover sheet (which date shall be no more than ten (10) years from date the is option is granted). In no event may this option be exercised on or after the date on which it terminates. This option shall terminate prior to the expiration of its term as follows: three (3) months after the termination of your employment with the Company or an affiliate of the Company (as defined in the Plan) for any reason or for no reason unless:

   (A) such termination of employment is due to your permanent and total disability (within the meaning of Section 422(c)(6) of the Code), in which event the option shall terminate on the earlier of the termination date set forth above or twelve (12) months following such termination of employment; or

   (B) such termination of employment is due to your death, in which event the option shall terminate on the earlier of the termination date set forth above or eighteen (18) months after your death; or

   (C) during any part of such three (3) month period the option is not exercisable solely because of the condition set forth in paragraph 4 above, in which event the option shall not terminate until the earlier of the termination date set forth above or until it shall have been exercisable for an aggregate period of three (3) months after the termination of employment.

However this option may be exercised following termination of employment only as to that number of shares as to which it was exercisable on the date of termination of employment under the provisions of paragraph 1 of this option.

6. (A) This option may be exercised, to the extent specified above, by delivering a notice of exercise (in a form designated by the Company) together with the exercise price to the Secretary of the Company, or to such other person as the Company may designate, during regular business hours, together with such additional documents as the Company may then require pursuant to the Plan.

   (B) By exercising this option you agree that:

(I) the Company may require you to enter an arrangement providing for the payment by you to the Company of any tax withholding obligation of the Company arising by reason of (1) the exercise of this option; (2) the lapse of any substantial risk of forfeiture to which the shares are subject at the time of exercise; or (3) the disposition of shares acquired upon such exercise; and

(II) you will notify the Company in writing within fifteen (15) days after the date of any disposition of any of the shares of the Common Stock issued upon exercise of this option that occurs within two (2) years after the date of this option grant or within one (1) year after such shares of Common Stock are transferred upon exercise of this option.

(III) if requested by the Company (or a representative of the underwriters), in connection with the first underwritten registration of the offering of any securities of the Company under the Act, you will not sell or otherwise transfer or dispose of any shares of Common Stock or other securities of the Company during such period (not to exceed one hundred eighty (180) days) following the effective date of the registration statement of the Company filed under the Act as may be requested by the Company or the representative of the underwriters. You further agree that the Company may impose stop-transfer instructions with respect to securities subject to the foregoing restrictions until the end of such period.

7. This option is not transferable, except by will or by the laws of descent and distribution, and is exercisable during your life only by you. By delivering written notice to the Company, in a form satisfactory to the Company, you may designate a third party who, in the event of your death, shall thereafter be entitled to exercise this option.

8. This option is not an employment contract and nothing in this option shall be deemed to create in any way whatsoever any obligation on your part to continue in the employ of the Company, or of the Company to continue your employment with the Company.

9. Any notices provided for in this option or the Plan shall be given in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon receipt or, in the case of notices delivered by the Company to you, five (5) days after deposit in the United States mail, postage prepaid, addressed to you at the address specified below or at such other address as you hereafter designate by written notice to the Company.

10. This option is subject to all the provisions of the Plan, a copy of which is attached hereto and its provisions are hereby made a part of this option, including without limitation the provisions of paragraph 6 of the Plan relating to option provisions, and is further subject to all interpretations, amendments, rules and regulations which may from time to time be promulgated and adopted pursuant to the Plan. In the event of any conflict between the provisions of this option and those of the Plan, the provisions of the Plan shall control.

Dated the grant date set forth on the cover sheet.

Effective only if executed on the cover sheet by an officer of the Company duly authorized by the Board of Directors.
EXHIBIT 10.4

NVIDIA CORPORATION
NONSTATUTORY STOCK OPTION
1998 EQUITY INCENTIVE PLAN

TO THE OPTIONEE IDENTIFIED ON THE STOCK OPTION COVER SHEET:

NVIDIA Corporation, a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), pursuant to its 1998 Equity Incentive Plan (the "Plan") has this day granted to you, the optionee named on the stock option cover sheet, an option to purchase shares of the common stock of the Company ("Common Stock"). This option is not intended to qualify as and will not be treated as an "incentive stock option" within the meaning of Section 422 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code").

The grant hereunder is in connection with and in furtherance of the Company's compensatory benefit plan for participation of the Company's employees (including officers), directors or consultants.

The details of your option are as follows:

1. The total number of shares of Common Stock subject to this option are set forth in the stock option cover sheet. Subject to the limitations contained herein, this option shall be exercisable with respect to each installment shown below on or after the date of vesting applicable to such installment, as set forth in the stock option cover sheet.

2. (A) The exercise price of this option is set forth on the stock option cover sheet, being not less than eighty-five percent (85%) of the fair market value of the Common Stock on the date of grant of this option.

(B) Payment of the exercise price per share is due in full upon exercise of all or any part of each installment which has accrued to you. You may elect, to the extent permitted by applicable statutes and regulations, to make payment of the exercise price under one of the following alternatives:

(I) Payment of the exercise price per share in cash (including check) at the time of exercise;

(II) Payment pursuant to a program developed under Regulation T as promulgated by the Federal Reserve Board which results in the receipt of cash (or check) by the Company prior to the issuance of Common Stock;

(III) Provided that at the time of exercise the Company's Common Stock is publicly traded and quoted regularly in the Wall Street Journal, payment by delivery of already-owned shares of Common Stock, held for the period required to avoid a charge to the Company's reported earnings, and owned free and clear of any liens, claims, encumbrances or security interests, which Common Stock shall be valued at its fair market value on the date of exercise; or

(IV) Payment by a combination of the methods of payment permitted by subparagraph 2(b)(i) through 2(b)(iii) above.

3. This option may not be exercised for any number of shares which would require the issuance of anything other than whole shares.

4. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, this option may not be exercised unless the shares issuable upon exercise of this option are then registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the 'Securities Act') or, if such Shares are not then so registered, the Company has determined that such exercise and issuance would be exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

5. The term of this option commences on the date hereof and, unless sooner terminated as set forth below or in the Plan, terminates on the date set forth as the termination date in the stock option cover sheet (which date shall be no more than ten (10) years from the date this option is granted). In no event may this option be exercised on or after the date on which it terminates. This option shall terminate prior to the expiration of its term as follows: three (3) months after the termination of your employment with the Company or an affiliate of the Company (as defined in the Plan) for any reason or for no reason unless:

(A) such termination of employment is due to your permanent and total disability (within the meaning of Section 422(c)(6) of the Code), in which event the option shall terminate on the earlier of the termination date set forth above or twelve (12) months following such termination of employment; or

(B) such termination of employment is due to your death, in which event the option shall terminate on the earlier of the termination date set forth above or eighteen (18) months after your death; or

(C) during any part of such three (3) month period the option is not exercisable solely because of the condition set forth in paragraph 4 above, in which event the option shall not terminate until the earlier of the termination date set forth above or until it shall have been exercisable for an aggregate period of three (3) months after the termination of employment.

However, this option may be exercised following termination of employment only as to that number of shares as to which it was exercisable on the date of termination of employment under the provisions of paragraph 1 of this option.

6. (A) This option may be exercised, to the extent specified above, by delivering a notice of exercise (in a form designated by the Company) together with the exercise price to the Secretary of the Company, or to such other person as the Company may designate, during regular business hours, together with such additional documents as the Company may then require pursuant to the Plan.

(B) By exercising this option you agree that:
(I) the Company may require you to enter an arrangement providing for the cash payment by you to the Company of any tax withholding obligation of the Company arising by reason of: (1) the exercise of this option; (2) the lapse of any substantial risk of forfeiture to which the shares are subject at the time of exercise; or (3) the disposition of shares acquired upon such exercise; and

(II) if requested by the Company (or a representative of the underwriters), in connection with the first underwritten registration of the offering of any securities of the Company under the Act, you will not sell or otherwise transfer or dispose of any shares of Common Stock or other securities of the Company during such period (not to exceed one hundred eighty (180) days) following the effective date of the registration statement of the Company filed under the Act as may be requested by the Company or the representative of the underwriters. You further agree that the Company may impose stop-transfer instructions with respect to securities subject to the foregoing restrictions until the end of such period.

7. This option is not transferable, except by will or by the laws of descent and distribution, and is exercisable during your life only by you. By delivering written notice to the Company, in a form satisfactory to the Company, you may designate a third party who, in the event of your death, shall thereafter be entitled to exercise this option.

8. This option is not an employment contract and nothing in this option shall be deemed to create in any way whatsoever any obligation on your part to continue in the employ of the Company, or of the Company to continue your employment with the Company. In the event that this option is granted to you in connection with the performance of services as a consultant or director, references to employment, employee and similar terms shall be deemed to include the performance of services as a consultant or a director, as the case may be, provided, however, that no rights as an employee shall arise by reason of the use of such terms.

9. Any notices provided for in this option or the Plan shall be given in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon receipt or, in the case of notices delivered by the Company to you, five (5) days after deposit in the United States mail, postage prepaid, addressed to you at the address specified below or at such other address as you hereafter designate by written notice to the Company.

10. This option is subject to all the provisions of the Plan, a copy of which is attached hereto and its provisions are hereby made a part of this option, including without limitation the provisions of paragraph 6 of the Plan relating to option provisions, and is further subject to all interpretations, amendments, rules and regulations which may from time to time be promulgated and adopted pursuant to the Plan. In the event of any conflict between the provisions of this option and those of the Plan, the provisions of the Plan shall control.

Dated the grant date set forth on the cover sheet.

Effective only if executed on the cover sheet by an officer of the Company duly authorized by the Board of Directors.

1. PURPOSE.

(A) The purpose of the 1998 Employee Stock Purchase Plan (the "Plan") is to provide a means by which employees of NVIDIA Corporation, a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), and its Affiliates, as defined in subparagraph 1(b), which are designated as provided in subparagraph 2 (b), may be given an opportunity to purchase stock of the Company.

(B) The word "Affiliate" as used in the Plan means any parent corporation or subsidiary corporation of the Company, as those terms are defined in Sections 424(e) and (f), respectively, of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code").

(C) The Company, by means of the Plan, seeks to retain the services of its employees, to secure and retain the services of new employees, and to provide incentives for such persons to exert maximum efforts for the success of the Company.

(D) The Company intends that the rights to purchase stock of the Company granted under the Plan be considered options issued under an "employee stock purchase plan" as that term is defined in Section 423(b) of the Code.

2. ADMINISTRATION.

(A) The Plan shall be administered by the Board of Directors (the "Board") of the Company unless and until the Board delegates administration to a Committee, as provided in subparagraph 2(c). Whether or not the Board has delegated administration, the Board shall have the final power to determine all questions of policy and expediency that may arise in the administration of the Plan.

(B) The Board shall have the power, subject to, and within the limitations of, the express provisions of the Plan:

(I) To determine when and how rights to purchase stock of the Company shall be granted and the provisions of each offering of such rights (which need not be identical).

(II) To designate from time to time which Affiliates of the Company shall be eligible to participate in the Plan.

(III) To construe and interpret the Plan and rights granted under it, and to establish, amend and revoke rules and regulations for its administration. The Board, in the exercise of this power, may correct any defect, omission or inconsistency in the Plan, in a manner and to the extent it shall deem necessary or expedient to make the Plan fully effective.
(IV) To amend the Plan as provided in paragraph 13.

(V) Generally, to exercise such powers and to perform such acts as the Board deems necessary or expedient to promote the best interests of the Company and its Affiliates and to carry out the intent that the Plan be treated as an "employee stock purchase plan" within the meaning of Section 423 of the Code.

(C) The Board may delegate administration of the Plan to a Committee composed of not fewer than two (2) members of the Board (the "Committee") constituted in accordance with the requirements of Rule 16b-3 ("Rule 16b-3") under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"). If administration is delegated to a Committee, the Committee shall have, in connection with the administration of the Plan, the powers theretofore possessed by the Board, subject, however, to such resolutions, not inconsistent with the provisions of the Plan, as may be adopted from time to time by the Board. The Board may abolish the Committee at any time and revest in the Board the administration of the Plan.

3. SHARES SUBJECT TO THE PLAN.

(A) Subject to the provisions of paragraph 12 relating to adjustments upon changes in stock, the stock that may be sold pursuant to rights granted under the Plan shall not exceed in the aggregate Five Hundred Thousand (500,000) shares of the Company's common stock (the "Common Stock"). If any right granted under the Plan shall for any reason terminate without having been exercised, the Common Stock not purchased under such right shall again become available for the Plan.

(B) The stock subject to the Plan may be unissued shares or reacquired shares, bought on the market or otherwise.

4. GRANT OF RIGHTS; OFFERING.

(A) The Board or the Committee may from time to time grant or provide for the grant of rights to purchase Common Stock of the Company under the Plan to eligible employees (an "Offering") on a date or dates (the "Offering Date(s)") selected by the Board or the Committee. Each Offering shall be in such form and shall contain such terms and conditions as the Board or the Committee shall deem appropriate, which shall comply with the requirements of Section 423(b)(5) of the Code that all employees granted rights to purchase stock under the Plan shall have the same rights and privileges. The terms and conditions of an Offering shall be incorporated by reference into the Plan and treated as part of the Plan. The provisions of separate Offerings need not be identical, but each Offering shall include (through incorporation of the provisions of this Plan by reference in the document comprising the Offering or otherwise) the period during which the Offering shall be effective, which period shall not exceed twenty-seven (27) months beginning with the Offering Date, and the substance of the provisions contained in paragraphs 5 through 8, inclusive.

(B) If an employee has more than one right outstanding under the Plan, unless he or she otherwise indicates in agreements or notices delivered hereunder: (1) each agreement or notice delivered by that employee will be deemed to apply to all of his or her rights under the Plan, and (2) a right with a lower exercise price (or an earlier-granted right, if two rights have identical exercise prices), will be exercised to the fullest possible extent before a right with a higher exercise price (or a later-granted right, if two rights have identical exercise prices) will be exercised.

5. ELIGIBILITY.

(A) Rights may be granted only to employees of the Company or, as the Board or the Committee may designate as provided in subparagraph 2 (b), to employees of any Affiliate of the Company. Except as provided in subparagraph 5(b), an employee of the Company or any Affiliate shall not be eligible to be granted rights under the Plan, unless, on the Offering Date, such employee has been in the employ of the Company or any Affiliate for such continuous period preceding such grant as the Board or the Committee may require, but in no event shall the required period of continuous employment be equal to or greater than two (2) years. In addition, unless otherwise determined by the Board or the Committee and set forth in the terms of the applicable Offering, no employee of the Company or any Affiliate shall be eligible to be granted rights under the Plan, unless, on the Offering Date, such employee's customary employment with the Company or such Affiliate is for at least twenty (20) hours per week and at least five (5) months per calendar year.

(B) The Board or the Committee may provide that, each person who, during the course of an Offering, first becomes an eligible employee of the Company or designated Affiliate will, on a date or dates specified in the Offering which coincides with the day on which such person becomes an eligible employee or occurs thereafter, receive a right under that Offering, which right shall thereafter be deemed to be a part of that Offering. Such right shall have the same characteristics as any rights originally granted under that Offering, as described herein, except that:

(I) the date on which such right is granted shall be the "Offering Date" of such right for all purposes, including determination of the exercise price of such right;

(II) the period of the Offering with respect to such right shall begin on its Offering Date and end coincident with the end of such Offering; and

(III) the Board or the Committee may provide that if such person first becomes an eligible employee within a specified period of time before the end of the Offering, he or she will not receive any right under that Offering.

(C) No employee shall be eligible for the grant of any rights under the Plan if, immediately after any such rights are granted, such employee owns stock possessing five percent (5%) or more of the total combined voting power or value of all classes of stock of the Company or any Affiliate. For purposes of this subparagraph 5(c), the rules of Section 424(d) of the Code shall apply in determining the stock ownership of any employee, and stock which such employee may purchase under all outstanding rights and options shall be treated as stock owned by such employee.

(D) An eligible employee may be granted rights under the Plan only if such rights, together with any other rights granted under "employee stock purchase plans" of the Company and any Affiliates, as specified by Section 423(b)(8) of the Code, do not permit such employee's rights to purchase stock of the Company or any Affiliate to accrue at a rate which exceeds twenty five thousand dollars ($25,000) of fair market value of such stock (determined at the time such rights are granted) for each calendar year in which such rights are outstanding at any time.

(E) Officers of the Company and any designated Affiliate shall be eligible to participate in Offerings under the Plan, provided, however, that the Board may provide in an Offering that certain employees who are highly compensated employees within the meaning of Section 423(b)(4) of the Code shall not be eligible to participate.

6. RIGHTS; PURCHASE PRICE.

(A) On each Offering Date, each eligible employee, pursuant to an Offering made under the Plan, shall be granted the right to purchase up to the number of shares of Common Stock of the Company purchasable with a percentage designated by the Board or the Committee not exceeding fifteen percent (15%) of such employee's Earnings (as defined by the Board or the Committee in each Offering) during the period which begins on the Offering Date (or such later date as the Board or the Committee determines for a particular Offering) and ends on the date stated in the Offering, which date shall be no later than the end of the Offering. The Board or the Committee shall establish one or more dates during an Offering (the "Purchase Date(s)"") on which rights granted under the Plan shall be exercised and purchases of Common Stock carried out in accordance with such Offering.

(B) In connection with each Offering made under the Plan, the Board or the Committee may specify a maximum number of shares that may be purchased by any employee as well as a maximum aggregate number of shares that may be purchased by all eligible employees pursuant to such Offering. In addition, in connection with each Offering that contains more than one Purchase Date, the Board or the Committee may specify a maximum aggregate number of shares which may be purchased by all eligible employees on any given Purchase Date under the Offering. If the aggregate purchase of shares upon exercise of rights granted under the Offering would exceed any such maximum aggregate number, the Board or the Committee shall make a pro rata allocation of the shares available in as nearly a uniform manner as shall be practicable and as it shall deem to be equitable.

(C) The purchase price of stock acquired pursuant to rights granted under the Plan shall be not less than the lesser of:

(I) an amount equal to eighty-five percent (85%) of the fair market value of the stock on the Offering Date; or

(II) an amount equal to eighty-five percent (85%) of the fair market value of the stock on the Purchase Date.

7. PARTICIPATION; WITHDRAWAL; TERMINATION.

(A) An eligible employee may become a participant in the Plan pursuant to an Offering by delivering a participation agreement to the Company within the time specified in the Offering, in such form as the Company provides. Each such agreement shall authorize payroll deductions of up to the maximum percentage specified by the Board or the Committee of such employee's Earnings during the Offering (as defined by the Board or Committee in each Offering). The payroll deductions made for each participant shall be credited to an account for such participant under the Plan and shall be deposited with the general funds of the Company. A participant may reduce (including to zero) or increase such payroll deductions, and an eligible employee may begin such payroll deductions, after the beginning of any Offering only as provided for in the Offering. A participant may make additional payments into his or her account only if specifically provided for in the Offering and only if the participant has not had the maximum amount withheld during the Offering.

(B) At any time during an Offering, a participant may terminate his or her payroll deductions under the Plan and withdraw from the Offering by delivering to the Company a notice of withdrawal in such form as the Company provides. Such withdrawal may be elected at any time prior to the end of the Offering except as provided by the Board or the Committee in the Offering. Upon such withdrawal from the Offering by a participant, the Company shall distribute to such participant all of his or her accumulated payroll deductions (reduced to the extent, if any, such deductions have been used to acquire stock for the participant) under the Offering, without interest, and such participant's interest in that Offering shall be automatically terminated. A participant's withdrawal from an Offering will have no effect upon such participant's eligibility to participate in any other Offerings under the Plan but such participant will be required to deliver a new participation agreement in order to participate in subsequent Offerings under the Plan.

(C) Rights granted pursuant to any Offering under the Plan shall terminate immediately upon cessation of any participating employee's employment with the Company and any designated Affiliate, for any reason, and the Company shall distribute to such terminated employee all of his or her accumulated payroll deductions (reduced to the extent, if any, such deductions have been used to acquire stock for the terminated employee) under the Offering, without interest.

(D) Rights granted under the Plan shall not be transferable by a participant otherwise than by will or the laws of descent and distribution, or by a beneficiary designation as provided in paragraph 14 and, otherwise during his or her lifetime, shall be exercisable only by the person to whom such rights are granted.

8. EXERCISE.

(A) On each Purchase Date specified therefor in the relevant Offering, each participant's accumulated payroll deductions and other additional payments specifically provided for in the Offering (without any increase for interest) will be applied to the purchase of whole shares of stock of the Company, up to the maximum number of shares permitted pursuant to the terms of the Plan and the applicable Offering, at the purchase price specified in the Offering. No fractional shares shall be issued upon the exercise of rights granted under the Plan. The amount, if any, of accumulated payroll deductions remaining in each participant's account after the purchase of shares which is less than the amount required to purchase one share of stock on the final Purchase Date of an Offering shall be held in each such participant's account for the purchase of shares under the next Offering under the Plan, unless such participant withdraws from such next Offering, as provided in subparagraph 7(b), or is no longer eligible to be granted.
rights under the Plan, as provided in paragraph 5, in which case such amount shall be distributed to the participant after such final Purchase Date, without interest. The amount, if any, of accumulated payroll deductions remaining in any participant's account after the purchase of shares which is equal to the amount required to purchase whole shares of stock on the final Purchase Date of an Offering shall be distributed in full to the participant after such Purchase Date, without interest.

(B) No rights granted under the Plan may be exercised to any extent unless the shares to be issued upon such exercise under the Plan (including rights granted thereunder) are covered by an effective registration statement pursuant to the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") and the Plan is in material compliance with all applicable state, foreign and other securities and other laws applicable to the Plan. If on a Purchase Date in any Offering hereunder the Plan is not so registered or in such compliance, no rights granted under the Plan or any Offering shall be exercised on such Purchase Date, and the Purchase Date shall be delayed until the Plan is subject to such an effective registration statement and such compliance, except that the Purchase Date shall not be delayed more than twelve (12) months and the Purchase Date shall in no event be more than twenty-seven (27) months from the Offering Date. If on the Purchase Date of any Offering hereunder, as delayed to the maximum extent permissible, the Plan is not registered and in such compliance, no rights granted under the Plan or any Offering shall be exercised and all payroll deductions accumulated during the Offering (reduced to the extent, if any, such deductions have been used to acquire stock) shall be distributed to the participants, without interest.

9. COVENANTS OF THE COMPANY.

(A) During the terms of the rights granted under the Plan, the Company shall keep available at all times the number of shares of stock required to satisfy such rights.

(B) The Company shall seek to obtain from each federal, state, foreign or other regulatory commission or agency having jurisdiction over the Plan such authority as may be required to issue and sell shares of stock upon exercise of the rights granted under the Plan. If, after reasonable efforts, the Company is unable to obtain from any such regulatory commission or agency the authority which counsel for the Company deems necessary for the lawful issuance and sale of stock under the Plan, the Company shall be relieved from any liability for failure to issue and sell stock upon exercise of such rights unless and until such authority is obtained.

10. USE OF PROCEEDS FROM STOCK.

Proceeds from the sale of stock pursuant to rights granted under the Plan shall constitute general funds of the Company.

11. RIGHTS AS A SHAREHOLDER.

A participant shall not be deemed to be the holder of, or to have any of the rights of a holder with respect to, any shares subject to rights granted under the Plan unless and until the participant's shareholdings acquired upon exercise of rights under the Plan are recorded in the books of the Company.
ADJUSTMENTS UPON CHANGES IN STOCK.

(A) If any change is made in the stock subject to the Plan, or subject to any rights granted under the Plan (through merger, consolidation, reorganization, recapitalization, reincorporation, stock dividend, dividend in property other than cash, stock split, liquidating dividend, combination of shares, exchange of shares, change in corporate structure or other transaction not involving the receipt of consideration by the Company), the Plan and outstanding rights will be appropriately adjusted in the class(es) and maximum number of shares subject to the Plan and the class(es) and number of shares and price per share of stock subject to outstanding rights. Such adjustments shall be made by the Board or the Committee, the determination of which shall be final, binding and conclusive. (The conversion of any convertible securities of the Company shall not be treated as a "transaction not involving the receipt of consideration by the Company.")

(B) In the event of: (1) a dissolution or liquidation of the Company; (2) a merger or consolidation in which the Company is not the surviving corporation; (3) a reverse merger in which the Company is the surviving corporation but the shares of the Company's Common Stock outstanding immediately preceding the merger are converted by virtue of the merger into other property, whether in the form of securities, cash or otherwise; or (4) the acquisition by any person, entity or group within the meaning of Section 13(d) or 14(d) of the Exchange Act or any comparable successor provisions (excluding any employee benefit plan, or related trust, sponsored or maintained by the Company or any Affiliate of the Company) of the beneficial ownership (within the meaning of Rule 13d-3 promulgated under the Exchange Act, or comparable successor rule) of securities of the Company representing at least fifty percent (50%) of the combined voting power entitled to vote in the election of directors, then, as determined by the Board in its sole discretion (i) any surviving or acquiring corporation may assume outstanding rights or substitute similar rights for those under the Plan, (ii) such rights may continue in full force and effect, or (iii) participants' accumulated payroll deductions may be used to purchase Common Stock immediately prior to the transaction described above and the participants' rights under the ongoing Offering terminated.

AMENDMENT OF THE PLAN.

(A) The Board at any time, and from time to time, may amend the Plan. However, except as provided in Section 12 relating to adjustments upon changes in stock, no amendment shall be effective unless approved by the shareholders of the Company to the extent shareholder approval is necessary for the Plan to satisfy the requirements of Section 423 of the Code, Rule 16b-3 or any Nasdaq or securities exchange listing requirements.

(B) The Board may in its sole discretion submit any other amendment to the Plan for shareholder approval, including.

(C) It is expressly contemplated that the Board may amend the Plan in any respect the Board deems necessary or advisable to provide employees with the maximum benefits provided or to be provided under the provisions of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder relating to employee stock purchase plans and/or to bring the Plan and/or rights granted under it into compliance therewith.
(D) Rights and obligations under any rights granted before amendment of the Plan shall not be impaired by any amendment of the Plan, except with the consent of the person to whom such rights were granted, or except as necessary to comply with any laws or governmental regulations, or except as necessary to ensure that the Plan and/or rights granted under the Plan comply with the requirements of Section 423 of the Code.

14. DESIGNATION OF BENEFICIARY.

(A) A participant may file a written designation of a beneficiary who is to receive any shares and cash, if any, from the participant's account under the Plan in the event of such participant's death subsequent to the end of an Offering but prior to delivery to the participant of such shares and cash. In addition, a participant may file a written designation of a beneficiary who is to receive any cash from the participant's account under the Plan in the event of such participant's death during an Offering.

(B) The participant may change such designation of beneficiary at any time by written notice. In the event of the death of a participant and in the absence of a beneficiary validly designated under the Plan who is living at the time of such participant's death, the Company shall deliver such shares and/or cash to the executor or administrator of the estate of the participant, or if no such executor or administrator has been appointed (to the knowledge of the Company), the Company, in its sole discretion, may deliver such shares and/or cash to the spouse or to any one or more dependents or relatives of the participant, or if no spouse, dependent or relative is known to the Company, then to such other person as the Company may designate.

15. TERMINATION OR SUSPENSION OF THE PLAN.

(A) The Board in its discretion may suspend or terminate the Plan at any time. Unless sooner terminated, the Plan shall terminate at the time that all of the shares subject to the Plan's share reserve, as increased and/or adjusted from time to time, have been issued under the terms of the Plan. No rights may be granted under the Plan while the Plan is suspended or after it is terminated.

(B) Rights and obligations under any rights granted while the Plan is in effect shall not be impaired by suspension or termination of the Plan, except as expressly provided in the Plan or with the consent of the person to whom such rights were granted, or except as necessary to comply with any laws or governmental regulation, or except as necessary to ensure that the Plan and/or rights granted under the Plan comply with the requirements of Section 423 of the Code.

16. EFFECTIVE DATE OF PLAN.

The Plan shall become effective on the same day that the Company's initial public offering of shares of common stock becomes effective (the "Effective Date"), but no rights granted under the Plan shall be exercised unless and until the Plan has been approved by the shareholders of the Company within twelve (12) months before or after the date the Plan is adopted by the Board or the Committee, which date may be prior to the Effective Date.
EXHIBIT 10.6

NVIDIA Corporation

1998 Employee Stock Purchase Plan Offering

ADOPTED FEBRUARY 17, 1998

1. GRANT; OFFERING DATE.

(A) The Board of Directors of NVIDIA Corporation, a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), pursuant to the Company's 1998 Employee Stock Purchase Plan (the "Plan"), hereby authorizes the grant of rights to purchase shares of the common stock of the Company ("Common Stock") to all Eligible Employees (an "Offering"). The first Offering shall begin on the effective date of the initial public offering of the Company's Common Stock and end on July 31, 1999 (the "Initial Offering"). The Initial Offering will be divided into two (2) shorter Purchase Periods of approximately six (6) months in duration, with the initial Purchase Period ending on January 31, 1999 and the second Purchase Period ending on July 31, 1999.

(B) Thereafter, commencing on August 1, 1999 an Offering shall be one (1) year in length, shall begin on each August 1 and shall be divided into two (2) shorter Purchase Periods of approximately six (6) months in duration. The first day of an Offering is that Offering's "Offering Date." January 31 and July 31 shall be that Offering's "Purchase Dates."

(C) If an Offering Date does not fall on a day during which the Company's Common Stock is actively traded, then the Offering Date shall be the next subsequent day during which the Company's Common Stock is actively traded.

(D) Prior to the commencement of any Offering, the Board of Directors (or the Committee described in subparagraph 2(c) of the Plan, if any) may change any or all terms of such Offering and any subsequent Offerings. The granting of rights pursuant to each Offering hereunder shall occur on each respective Offering Date unless, prior to such date (a) the Board of Directors (or such Committee) determines that such Offering shall not occur, or (b) no shares remain available for issuance under the Plan in connection with the Offering.

2. ELIGIBLE EMPLOYEES.

All employees of the Company and each of its Affiliates (as defined in the Plan) incorporated in the United States, shall be granted rights to purchase Common Stock under each Offering on the Offering Date (an "Eligible Employee"). Notwithstanding the foregoing, the following employees shall not be Eligible Employees or be granted rights under an Offering: (i) part-time or seasonal employees whose customary employment is less than 20 hours per week or five months per calendar year or (ii) 5% shareholders (including ownership through unexercised options) described in subparagraph 5(c) of the Plan.

3. RIGHTS.

(A) Subject to the limitations contained herein and in the Plan, on each Offering Date each Eligible Employee shall be granted the right to purchase the number of shares of Common Stock purchasable with up to ten percent (10%) of such Eligible Employee's Earnings paid during such Offering after the Eligible Employee first commences participation; provided, however, that no employee may purchase Common Stock on a particular Purchase Date that would result in more than ten percent (10%) of such employee's Earnings in the period from the Offering Date to such Purchase Date having been applied to purchase shares under all ongoing Offerings under the Plan and all other Company plans intended to qualify as "employee stock purchase plans" under Section 423 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). For this Offering, "Earnings" means the total compensation paid to an employee, including all salary, wages (including amounts elected to be deferred by the employee, that would otherwise have been paid, under any cash or deferred arrangement established by the Company), overtime pay, commissions, bonuses, and other remuneration paid directly to the employee, but excluding profit sharing, the cost of employee benefits paid for by the Company, education or tuition reimbursements, imputed income arising under any Company group insurance or benefit program, traveling expenses, business and moving expense reimbursements, income received in connection with stock options, contributions made by the Company under any employee benefit plan, and similar items of compensation.

(B) Subject to the limitations contained herein and in the Plan, each employee who was not eligible on the Offering Date but who first becomes an Eligible Employee during the Offering shall, on the next February 1 during that Offering, be granted the right to purchase the number of shares of Common Stock purchasable with up to ten percent (10%) of such employee's Earnings paid during his or her participation in such Offering, which right shall be deemed to be a part of the Offering. Such right shall have the same characteristics as any rights originally granted under the Offering, except that (i) the date on which such a right is granted shall be the "Offering Date" of such right for all purposes, including determination of the exercise price of such right; and (ii) the Offering for such right shall begin on its Offering Date and end coincident with the end of the ongoing Offering.

(C) Notwithstanding the foregoing, the maximum number of shares of Common Stock an Eligible Employee may purchase on any Purchase Date in an Offering shall be such number of shares as has a fair market value (determined as of the Offering Date for such Offering) equal to (x) $25,000 multiplied by the number of calendar years in which the right under such Offering has been outstanding at any time, minus (y) the fair market value of any other shares of Common Stock (determined as of the relevant Offering Date with respect to such shares) which, for purposes of the limitation of Section 423(b)(8) of the Code, are attributed to any of such calendar years in which the right is outstanding. The amount in clause (y) of the previous sentence shall be determined in accordance with regulations applicable under Section 423(b)(8) of the Code based on (i) the number of shares previously purchased with respect to such calendar years pursuant to such Offering or any other Offering under the Plan, or pursuant to any other Company plans intended to qualify as "employee stock purchase plans" under Section 423 of the Code, and (ii) the number of shares subject to other rights outstanding on the Offering Date for such Offering pursuant to the Plan or any other such Company plan.

(D) The maximum aggregate number of shares available to be purchased by all Eligible Employees under an Offering shall be the number of shares remaining available under the Plan on the Offering Date. If the aggregate purchase of shares of Common Stock upon exercise of rights granted under the Offering would exceed the maximum aggregate number of shares available, the Board shall make a pro rata allocation of the shares available in a uniform and equitable manner.

4. PURCHASE PRICE.

The purchase price of the Common Stock under the Offering shall be the lesser of eighty-five percent (85%) of the fair market value of the Common Stock on the Offering Date or eighty-five percent (85%) of the fair market value of the Common Stock on the Purchase Date, in each case rounded up to the nearest whole cent per share. For the Initial Offering, the fair market value of the Common Stock at the time when the Offering commences shall be the price per share at which shares of Common Stock are first sold to the public in the Company's initial public offering as specified in the final prospectus with respect to that offering.

5. PARTICIPATION.

(A) An Eligible Employee may elect to participate in an Offering only at the beginning of the Offering, or such later date specified in subparagraph 3(b). An Eligible Employee shall become a participant in an Offering by delivering an agreement authorizing payroll deductions. Such deductions must be in whole percentages, with a minimum percentage of one percent (1%) and a maximum percentage of ten percent (10%) of earnings. A participant may not make additional payments into his or her account. The agreement shall be made on such enrollment form as the Company or a designated Affiliate provides, and must be delivered to the Company or designated Affiliate at least ten (10) days before the Offering Date, or before such later date specified in subparagraph 3(b), to be effective, unless a later time for filing the enrollment form is set by the Board for all Eligible Employees with respect to a given Offering Date. For the Initial Offering, the time for filing an enrollment form and commencing participation for individuals who are Eligible Employees on the Offering Date for the Initial Offering may be after the Offering Date, as determined by the Company and communicated to such Eligible Employees. (If the agreement authorizing payroll deductions is required to be delivered to the Company or designated Affiliate a specified number of days before the Offering Date to be effective, then an employee who becomes eligible during the required delivery period shall not be considered to be an Eligible Employee at the beginning of the Offering but may elect to participate during the Offering as provided in subparagraph 3(b).)

(B) A participant may reduce (including to zero) his or her participation level once (and only once) during a Purchase Period, effective as soon as administratively practicable. Any such change in participation shall be made by delivering a notice to the Company or a designated Affiliate in such form and at such time as the Company provides. In addition, a participant may increase or decrease his or her deductions prior to the beginning of a new Purchase Period or Offering to be effective at the beginning of such new Purchase Period or Offering. Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, a participant may not increase or decrease his or her participation level during the course of an Offering.

(C) A participant may withdraw from an Offering and receive his or her accumulated payroll deductions from the Offering (reduced to the extent, if any, such deductions have been used to acquire Common Stock for the participant on any prior Purchase Dates), without interest, at any time prior to the end of the Offering, excluding only each ten (10) day period immediately preceding a Purchase Date by delivering a withdrawal notice to the Company in such form as the Company provides. A participant who has withdrawn from an Offering shall not again participate in such Offering but may participate in subsequent Offerings under the Plan by submitting a new participation agreement in accordance with the terms thereof.

6. PURCHASES.

Subject to the limitations contained herein, on each Purchase Date, each participant's accumulated payroll deductions (without any increase for interest) shall be applied to the purchase of whole shares of Common Stock, up to the maximum number of shares permitted under the Plan and the Offering.

7. NOTICES AND AGREEMENTS.

Any notices or agreements provided for in an Offering or the Plan shall be given in writing, in a form provided by the Company, and unless specifically provided for in the Plan or this Offering shall be deemed effectively given upon receipt or, in the case of notices and agreements delivered by the Company, five (5) days after deposit in the United States mail, postage prepaid.

8. EXERCISE CONTINGENT ON SHAREHOLDER APPROVAL.

The rights granted under an Offering are subject to the approval of the Plan by the shareholders as required for the Plan to obtain treatment as a tax-qualified employee stock purchase plan under Section 423 of the Code.

9. OFFERING SUBJECT TO PLAN.

Each Offering is subject to all the provisions of the Plan, and its provisions are hereby made a part of the Offering, and is further subject to all interpretations, amendments, rules and regulations which may from time to time be promulgated and adopted pursuant to the Plan. In the event of any conflict between the provisions of an Offering and those of the Plan (including interpretations, amendments, rules and regulations that may from time to time be promulgated and adopted pursuant to the Plan), the provisions of the Plan shall control.
1. PURPOSE.

(A) The purpose of the 1998 Non-Employee Directors' Stock Option Plan (the "Plan") is to provide a means by which each director of Nvidia Corporation (the "Company") who is not otherwise at the time of grant an employee of or consultant to the Company or of any Affiliate of the Company (each such person being hereafter referred to as a "Non-Employee Director") will be given an opportunity to purchase stock of the Company.

(B) The word "Affiliate" as used in the Plan means any parent corporation or subsidiary corporation of the Company as those terms are defined in Sections 424(e) and (f), respectively, of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended from time to time (the "Code").

(C) The Company, by means of the Plan, seeks to retain the services of persons now serving as Non-Employee Directors of the Company, to secure and retain the services of persons capable of serving in such capacity, and to provide incentives for such persons to exert maximum efforts for the success of the Company.

2. ADMINISTRATION.

(A) The Board of Directors of the Company (the "Board") shall administer the Plan unless and until the Board delegates administration to a committee, as provided in subparagraph 2(b).

(B) The Board may delegate administration of the Plan to a committee composed of two (2) or more members of the Board (the "Committee"). If administration is delegated to a Committee, the Committee shall have, in connection with the administration of the Plan, the powers theretofore possessed by the Board, subject, however, to such resolutions, not inconsistent with the provisions of the Plan, as may be adopted from time to time by the Board. The Board may abolish the Committee at any time and revest in the Board the administration of the Plan.

3. SHARES SUBJECT TO THE PLAN.

(A) Subject to the provisions of paragraph 10 relating to adjustments upon changes in stock, the stock that may be sold pursuant to options granted under the Plan shall not exceed in the aggregate Three Hundred Thousand (300,000) shares of the Company's common stock. If any option granted under the Plan shall for any reason expire or otherwise terminate without having been exercised in full, the stock not purchased under such option shall again become available for the Plan.
(B) The stock subject to the Plan may be unissued shares or reacquired shares, bought on the market or otherwise.

4. ELIGIBILITY.

Options shall be granted only to Non-Employee Directors of the Company.

5. NON-DISCRETIONARY GRANTS.

(A) After the effective date of the initial public offering of the Company's common stock (the "IPO Date"), each person who is elected or appointed for the first time to be a Non-Employee Director automatically shall, upon the date of his or her initial election or appointment to be a Non-Employee Director by the Board or shareholders of the Company be granted an option to purchase Fifty Thousand (50,000) shares of common stock of the Company on the terms and conditions set forth herein (an "Initial Grant").

(B) On March 30, 1998 and on the day following each Annual Meeting of Shareholders of the Company ("Annual Meeting"), commencing with the Annual Meeting in 1999, each person who is then a Non-Employee Director automatically shall be granted one or more options to purchase shares of common stock of the Company on the following terms and conditions (individually, an "Annual Grant"):

(i) Each Non-Employee Director who has attended at least seventy-five percent (75%) of the regularly scheduled meetings of the Board held during such person's tenure as a Non-Employee Director since the preceding Annual Meeting (or since March 30, 1997 for the grant on March 30, 1998) shall be granted an option to purchase Twenty Thousand (20,000) shares of common stock of the Company; provided, however, that if the person has not been serving as a Non-Employee Director for the entire period since the prior Annual Meeting, then the number of shares granted shall be reduced pro rata for each full quarter prior to the date of grant during which such person did not serve as a Non-Employee Director.

(ii) Each Non-Employee Director who is a member of a committee of the Board and who has attended at least seventy-five percent (75%) of the regularly scheduled meetings of such committee held during such person's tenure as a Non-Employee Director since the preceding Annual Meeting (or since March 30, 1997 for the grant on March 30, 1998) shall be granted an option to purchase Five Thousand (5,000) shares of common stock of the Company for each such committee; provided, however, that if the person has not been serving on such committee since the prior Annual Meeting, then the number of shares granted shall be reduced pro rata for each full quarter prior to the date of grant during which such person did not serve as a Non-Employee Director.

6. OPTION PROVISIONS.

Each option shall be subject to the following terms and conditions:

(A) The term of each option commences on the date it is granted and, unless sooner terminated as set forth herein, expires on the date ten (10) years from the date of grant ("Expiration Date"). If the optionee's service as a Non-Employee Director of the Company or an employee, member of the Board of Directors or consultant to the Company or any Affiliate terminates for any reason or for no reason, the option shall terminate on the earlier of the Expiration Date or the date twelve (12) months following the date of termination of all such service; provided, however, that if such termination of service is due to the optionee's death, the option shall terminate on the earlier of the Expiration Date or eighteen (18) months following the date of the optionee's death.

(B) The exercise price of each option shall be equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the Fair Market Value of the stock (as such term is defined in subsection 9(d)) subject to such option on the date such option is granted.

(C) The optionee may elect to make payment of the exercise price under one of the following alternatives:

(I) Payment of the exercise price per share in cash at the time of exercise;
Provided that at the time of the exercise the Company's common stock is publicly traded and quoted regularly in the Wall Street Journal, payment by delivery of shares of common stock of the Company already owned by the optionee, held for the period required to avoid a charge to the Company's reported earnings, and owned free and clear of any liens, claims, encumbrances or security interest, which common stock shall be valued at its Fair Market Value on the date preceding the date of exercise; or Payment pursuant to a program developed under Regulation T as promulgated by the Federal Reserve Board which results in the receipt of cash (or check) by the Company either prior to the issuance of shares of the Company's common stock or pursuant to the terms of irrevocable instructions issued by the optionee prior to the issuance of shares of the Company's common stock.

Payment by a combination of the methods of payment specified in subparagraph 6(c)(i) through 6(c)(iii) above.

An option shall be transferable only to the extent specifically provided in the option agreement; provided, however, that if the option agreement does not specifically provide for the transferability of an option, then the option shall not be transferable except by will or by the laws of descent and distribution, and shall be exercisable during the lifetime of the person to whom the option is granted only by such person (or by his guardian or legal representative) or transferee pursuant to such an order. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the optionee may, by delivering written notice to the Company in a form satisfactory to the Company, designate a third party who, in the event of the death of the optionee, shall thereafter be entitled to exercise the option.

The Annual Grant shall vest monthly over the one (1)-year period following the date of grant such that the entire Annual Grant shall become exercisable on the one (1)-year anniversary of the date of grant of the option, provided that the optionee has, during the entire period prior to such vesting installment date, continuously served as a director or employee of or consultant to the Company or any Affiliate of the Company, whereupon such option shall become fully vested and exercisable in accordance with its terms with respect to that portion of the shares represented by that installment.

The Initial Grant shall vest monthly over the four (4)-year period following the date of grant such that the entire Initial Grant shall become exercisable on the fourth anniversary of the date of grant of the option, provided that the optionee has, during the entire period prior to such vesting installment date, continuously served as a director or employee of or consultant to the Company or any Affiliate of the Company, whereupon such option shall become fully vested and exercisable in accordance with its terms with respect to that portion of the shares represented by that installment.

The Company may require any optionee, or any person to whom an option is transferred under subparagraph 6(d), as a condition of exercising any such option: (i) to give written assurances satisfactory to the Company as to the optionee's knowledge and experience in financial and business matters; and (ii) to give written assurances satisfactory to the Company stating that such person is acquiring the stock subject to the option for such person's own use.
account and not with any present intention of selling or otherwise distributing the stock. These requirements, and any assurances given pursuant to such requirements, shall be inoperative if (i) the issuance of the shares upon the exercise of the option has been registered under a then currently-effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), or (ii) as to any particular requirement, a determination is made by counsel for the Company that such requirement need not be met in the circumstances under the then applicable securities laws. The Company may require any optionee to provide such other representations, written assurances or information that the Company shall determine is necessary, desirable or appropriate to comply with applicable securities laws as a condition of granting an option to the optionee or permitting the optionee to exercise the option. The Company may, upon advice of counsel to the Company, place legends on stock certificates issued under the Plan as such counsel deems necessary or appropriate in order to comply with applicable securities laws, including, but not limited to, legends restricting the transfer of the stock.

(H) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, an option may not be exercised unless the shares issuable upon exercise of such option are then registered under the Securities Act or, if such shares are not then so registered, the Company has determined that such exercise and issuance would be exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

7. COVENANTS OF THE COMPANY.

(A) During the terms of the options granted under the Plan, the Company shall keep available at all times the number of shares of stock required to satisfy such options.

(B) The Company shall seek to obtain from each regulatory commission or agency having jurisdiction over the Plan such authority as may be required to issue and sell shares of stock upon exercise of the options granted under the Plan; provided however, that this undertaking shall not require the Company to register under the Securities Act either the Plan, any option granted under the Plan, or any stock issued or issuable pursuant to any such option. If, after reasonable efforts, the Company is unable to obtain from any such regulatory commission or agency the authority which counsel for the Company deems necessary for the lawful issuance and sale of stock under the Plan, the Company shall be relieved from any liability for failure to issue and sell stock upon exercise of such options.

8. USE OF PROCEEDS FROM STOCK.

Proceeds from the sale of stock pursuant to options granted under the Plan shall constitute general funds of the Company.

9. MISCELLANEOUS.

(A) Neither an optionee nor any person to whom an option is transferred under subparagraph 6(d) shall be deemed to be the holder of, or to have any of the rights of a holder with respect to, any shares subject to such option unless and until such person has satisfied all requirements for exercise of the option pursuant to its terms.
(B) Nothing in the Plan or in any instrument executed pursuant thereto shall confer upon any Non-Employee Director any right to continue in the service of the Company or any Affiliate in any capacity or shall affect any right of the Company, its Board or shareholders or any Affiliate, to remove any Non-Employee Director pursuant to the Company's Bylaws and the provisions of Delaware general corporation law.

(C) In connection with each option made pursuant to the Plan, it shall be a condition precedent to the Company's obligation to issue or transfer shares to a Non-Employee Director, or to evidence the removal of any restrictions on transfer, that such Non-Employee Director make arrangements satisfactory to the Company to insure that the amount of any federal, state or local withholding tax required to be withheld with respect to such sale or transfer, or such removal or lapse, is made available to the Company for timely payment of such tax.

(D) As used in this Plan, "Fair Market Value" means, as of any date, the value of the common stock of the Company determined as follows:

(I) If the common stock is listed on any established stock exchange or a national market system, including without limitation the Nasdaq National Market or The Nasdaq SmallCap, the Fair Market Value of a share of common stock shall be the closing sales price for such stock (or the closing bid, if no sales were reported) as quoted on such system or exchange (or the exchange with the greatest volume of trading in common stock) on the last market trading day prior to the day of determination, as reported in the Wall Street Journal or such other source as the Board deems reliable; or

(II) In the absence of an established market for the common stock, the Fair Market Value shall be determined in good faith by the Board.

10. ADJUSTMENTS UPON CHANGES IN STOCK.

(A) If any change is made in the stock subject to the Plan, or subject to any option granted under the Plan (through merger, consolidation, reorganization, recapitalization, stock dividend, dividend in property other than cash, stock split, liquidating dividend, combination of shares, exchange of shares, change in corporate structure or other transaction not involving the receipt of consideration by the Company), the Plan and outstanding options will be appropriately adjusted in the class(es) and maximum number of shares subject to the Plan and the class(es) and number of shares and price per share of stock subject to outstanding options. Such adjustments shall be made by the Board, the determination of which shall be final, binding and conclusive. (The conversion of any convertible securities of the Company shall not be treated as a "transaction not involving the receipt of consideration by the Company.")

(B) In the event of: (1) a dissolution, liquidation, or sale of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company; (2) a merger or consolidation in which the Company is not the surviving corporation; (3) a reverse merger in which the Company is the surviving corporation but the shares of the Company's common stock outstanding immediately preceding the merger are converted by virtue of the merger into other property, whether in the form of securities, cash or otherwise; or (4) the acquisition by any person, entity or group within the meaning of Section 13(d) or 14(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act") or any comparable successor provisions (excluding any employee benefit plan, or related trust, sponsored or maintained by the Company or any Affiliate of the Company) of the beneficial ownership (within the meaning of Rule 13d-3 promulgated under the Exchange Act, or comparable successor rule) of securities of the Company representing at least fifty percent (50%) of the combined voting power entitled to vote in the election of directors, then to the extent not prohibited by applicable law, (i) any surviving or acquiring corporation shall assume any options outstanding under the Plan or shall substitute similar options (including an option to acquire the same consideration paid to the shareholders in the transaction described in this subparagraph 10(b)) for those outstanding under the Plan, or (ii) such options shall continue in full force and effect. In the event any surviving or acquiring corporation refuses to assume such options, or to substitute similar options for those outstanding under the Plan, then such options shall be terminated if not exercised prior to such event.

11. AMENDMENT OF THE PLAN.

(A) The Board at any time, and from time to time, may amend the Plan and/or some or all outstanding options granted under the Plan. However, except as provided in paragraph 10 relating to adjustments upon changes in stock, no amendment shall be effective unless approved by the shareholders of the Company to the extent shareholder approval is necessary for the Plan to satisfy the requirements of Rule 16b-3 under the Exchange Act or any Nasdaq or securities exchange listing requirements.

(B) Rights and obligations under any option granted before any amendment of the Plan shall not be impaired by such amendment unless (i) the Company requests the consent of the person to whom the option was granted and (ii) such person consents in writing.

12. TERMINATION OR SUSPENSION OF THE PLAN.

(A) The Board may suspend or terminate the Plan at any time. Unless sooner terminated, the Plan shall terminate ten (10) years after the date adopted by the Board. No options may be granted under the Plan while the Plan is suspended or after it is terminated.

(B) Suspension or termination of the Plan shall not impair rights and obligations under any option granted while the Plan is in effect, except with the consent of the person to whom the option was granted.

13. EFFECTIVE DATE OF PLAN; CONDITIONS OF EXERCISE.

(A) The Plan shall become effective on the same day that the Company's initial public offering of shares of common stock becomes effective, subject to the condition subsequent that the shareholders of the Company approve the Plan.

(B) No option granted under the Plan shall be exercised or exercisable unless and until the condition of subparagraph 13(a) above has been met.

This option is not intended to qualify and will not be treated as an "incentive stock option" within the meaning of Section 422 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code").

The grant hereunder is in connection with and in furtherance of the Company's compensatory benefit plan for Non-Employee Directors (as defined in the Plan).

The details of your option are as follows:

2. The exercise price of this option is ________________ ($________) per share, such amount being equal to the Fair Market Value (as defined in the Plan) of the Common Stock on the date of grant of this option.

3. This option shall vest monthly over the one (1)-year period following the date of grant such that the entire option shall become exercisable on the one (1)-year anniversary of the date of grant, provided that, during the entire period prior to such vesting installment date, you have continuously served as a Non-Employee Director or employee or member of the Board of Directors of or consultant to the Company or any Affiliate of the Company. If your service as a Non-Employee Director or employee or member of the Board of Directors of or consultant to the Company or any Affiliate of the Company terminates for any reason or for no reason, this option shall be exercisable only to the extent vested on such termination date, and shall terminate to the extent not exercised on the earlier of the Expiration Date (as defined below) or the date twelve (12) months following the date of termination of all such service; provided, however, that if such termination of service is due to your death, this option shall terminate on the earlier of the Expiration Date or eighteen (18) months following the date of your death.

4. (a) You may exercise this option, to the extent specified above, by delivering a notice of exercise (in a form designated by the Company) together with the exercise price to the Secretary of the Company, or to such other person as the Company may designate, during regular business hours, together with such additional documents as the Company may then require pursuant to Section 6 of the Plan. (III) Payment pursuant to a program developed under Regulation T as promulgated by the Federal Reserve Board which results in the receipt of cash (or check) by the Company either prior to the issuance of shares of the Common Stock or pursuant to the terms of irrevocable instructions issued by you prior to the issuance of shares of the Common Stock; or

In the event of any conflict between the provisions of this option and those of the Plan, the provisions of the Plan shall control.

This SUBLEASE AGREEMENT ("Sublease") is entered as of the Effective Date by and between Sublessor and Sublessee.

The parties enter this Sublease on the basis of the following facts, understandings and intentions:

A. Sublessor is presently a lessee of the Premises in the Building pursuant to the Master Lease by and between Landlord and Sublessor. A copy of the Master Lease with all exhibits and addenda thereto is attached hereto as EXHIBIT A.

B. Sublessor desires to sublease the Sublet Space to Sublessee and Sublessee desires to sublease the Sublet Space from Sublessor on all of the terms, covenants and conditions hereinafter set forth.

C. All of the terms and definitions in the Defined Terms section are incorporated herein by this reference.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and promises of the parties, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. SUBLEASE. Sublessor shall sublease to Sublessee, and Sublessee shall sublease from Sublessor, the Sublet Space for the Term upon all of the terms, covenants and conditions herein contained. In addition, Sublessor shall lease to Sublessee, and Sublessee shall lease from Sublessor, any and all permanent improvements ("Improvements") on the Sublet Space constructed as well as all such Improvements constructed by or for Sublessee and/or owned by

1.1 EARLY OCCUPANCY. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Sublease, Sublessee and Sublessee's employees, agents, contractors and suppliers shall have the right at any time after February 20, 1995 (the "Early Occupancy Date") to enter the Premises, at their sole risk, solely to install Sublessee's furniture, trade fixtures, communications equipment and other equipment therein; provided, however, that (i) Sublessee's early entry shall not unreasonably interfere with any of Sublessor's activities on the Premises during such period; (ii) such entry on the Premises shall be on all of the terms of this Sublease, except that Sublessee shall not be required to pay any Base Rent hereunder during any period of early entry; (iii) during such period of early occupancy, Sublessee shall be liable for utility and trash collection which exceed Sublessee's "moth ball" rate; and (iv) Sublessee shall provide Sublessor before such entry with certificates of the insurance required of Sublessee pursuant to the terms of this Sublease.

1.2 RENEWAL TERM. Provided (i) Sublessee is not in default under the terms of this Sublease for more than five (5) days after Sublessor's delivery of written notice thereof to Sublessee at the time this renewal is exercised or at the commencement of the Renewal Term (as defined below), (ii) Sublessee is occupying at least ninety percent (90%) of the Sublet Space, including any Available Space, (iii) Sublessor has not given more than two (2) notices of default in any twelve (12) month period for nonpayment of monetary obligations, (iv) the Master Lease is then in full force and effect, and (v) Sublessee's then-existing financial condition is at least as favorable as Sublessee's financial condition as of the Commencement Date, in Sublessor's sole discretion, Sublessee shall have the option to renew this Sublease for either (and not both) (A) one (1) period of one (1) year, or (B) a term equal to the remaining portion of the term of the Master Lease (either, a "Renewal Term"). The Renewal Term shall be on all the terms and conditions of this Sublease, except that (a) Base Rent for the Renewal Term shall be ninety-five percent (95%) of the then-existing Market Rent (as defined below), and (b) after Sublessee's exercise of the Renewal Term, Sublessee shall have no further rights to any renewal of the Term of this Sublease. Sublessee must exercise its option to renew this Sublease by giving Sublessor written notice (an "Extension Notice") of its election to do so no later than one hundred twenty (120) days prior to the end of the initial Term. Any notice not given in a timely manner shall be void; and Sublessee shall be deemed to have waived its renewal rights. The Renewal Term set forth herein is personal to Sublessee and any Affiliate thereof and shall not be included in any assignment of this Sublease.

1.2.1 MARKET RENT. The term "Market Rent" shall mean the monthly amount per rentable square foot in the Sublet Space that a willing, non-equity, non-renewal, non-expansion new tenant would pay and a willing landlord would accept at arm's length for space in a comparable building or buildings, with comparable tenant improvements (provided that the value of any tenant improvements installed in the Sublet Space at Sublessee's sole expense shall not be included as a factor in determining the Market Rent), in a comparable location, giving appropriate consideration to monthly rental rates per rentable square foot, the presence or absence of rent escalation clauses such as operating expense and tax pass-throughs, length of lease term, size and location of premises being leased, if any, and other generally applicable terms and conditions of tenancy for a similar building or buildings.
No earlier than sixty (60) and no later than thirty (30) days prior to the Expiration Date, Sublessor and Sublessee, upon notice from Sublessor, shall have a period of thirty (30) days in which to agree on the Market Rent. If they agree within that period, they shall immediately execute an amendment to this Lease stating the Base Monthly Rent for such period.

If Sublessor and Sublessee are unable to agree upon the Market Rent within such thirty (30) day period, then the dispute shall proceed to arbitration conducted pursuant to the provisions of the laws of the state in which the Premises is located and the Real Estate Arbitration Rules of the American Arbitration Association or its successor insofar as said rules do not conflict with said laws or this section. Within ten (10) days of the expiration of the aforesaid thirty (30) day period, Sublessor and Sublessee shall select one joint arbitrator or, if they cannot agree on one joint arbitrator, then each shall select an arbitrator within fifteen (15) days of the expiration of the aforesaid thirty (30) day period and notify the other party of its selection. The two arbitrators selected shall designate the third arbitrator forthwith. Each arbitrator selected shall be a real estate appraiser with an MAI certification or a real estate broker, with at least five (5) years of experience appraising or leasing building space comparable to the Premises in the city and county where the Premises is located. The arbitrators shall convene in the city or county in which the Premises are located as soon as practicable and offer Sublessor and Sublessee the opportunity to present their cases. If any party fails to appear more than once to participate or produce evidence in an arbitration proceeding, the arbitrators may make their decision based solely on the evidence actually presented. The arbitrators shall, by majority vote, make their determinations of Market Rent based on the factors referenced above; and such decision shall be binding upon Sublessor and Sublessee and enforceable in a court of law. Each party shall be responsible for the costs, charges and fees of its appointee; and the parties shall share equally in the costs, charges and fees of the third arbitrator. In the event either party fails to appoint an arbitrator or the two arbitrators fail to select a third arbitrator within the time required by this section, upon application of either party, the arbitrator shall be appointed by the American Arbitration Association, or if there is no American Arbitration Association or it shall refuse to perform this function, then by the then Presiding Judge of the Superior Court and/or presiding trial court of the state and county in which the Premises is located.

1.3 RIGHT OF FIRST NEGOTIATION.

1.3.1 RIGHT. If at any time during the initial Term of this Sublease Sublessor decides to offer any remaining portion of the Premises (the "Available Space") for sublease, then, prior to leasing such portion of the Premises to a third party sublessee, Sublessor shall first provide Sublessee with a written notice ("Sublease Notice") describing the terms, in Sublessor's sole discretion, on which Sublessor would be willing to sublease the Available Space to Sublessee. Sublessee shall have five (5) business days from delivery of the Sublease Notice in which to inform Sublessor in writing (a "Response Notice") of Sublessee's intention to sublease all, and not a portion, of the Available Space from Sublessor on the terms described in the Sublease Notice or on other terms proposed by Sublessee. If Sublessee shall fail to provide such Response Notice within such five (5) business day period, or shall affirmatively provide Sublessor with written evidence of Sublessee's intention not to sublease the Available Space, then Sublessor shall be free to sublease the Available Space on such terms as Sublessor shall deem appropriate, and Sublessee's rights hereunder shall forever terminate.
1.3.2 FIFTEEN DAY NEGOTIATION PERIOD. If Sublessee shall have provided Sublessor with a timely Response Notice, then Sublessor and Sublessee shall have a period of fifteen (15) days from the date on which Sublessee delivers the Response Notice in which to agree on terms by which Sublessor shall sublease the Available Space to Sublessee; provided, however, that neither Sublessor and Sublessee shall be required to agree to terms, and in so negotiating, each party shall be free to negotiate terms as it deems best, in its sole discretion. If Sublessor and Sublessee have not agreed in such fifteen (15) day period on terms whereby Sublessee shall sublease such Available Space from Sublessor, or if the parties hereto have not executed an amendment to this Sublease confirming such obligations within thirty (30) days of the date on which Sublessee delivers the Response Notice, then in either case Sublessor and Sublessee's rights and obligations with respect to such Available Space shall terminate with respect to the Available Space that is specified in such Sublease Notice; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be deemed a waiver of Sublessee's rights under this Section 1.3 with respect to (i) any other Available Space in the Premises during the initial Term of this Sublease, or (ii) the Available Space specified in the Sublease Notice, to the extent it is offered for lease again during the initial Term of this Sublease.

1.3.3 REMEDIES. In the event that either party hereto fails to perform its obligations under this Section 1.3, the other party's sole remedy shall be to obtain the equitable remedies of declaratory relief, specific performance and injunctive relief.

2. CONDITION OF SUBLET SPACE.

2.1 PHYSICAL CONDITION. As of the Effective Date, Sublessee acknowledges that Sublessee shall have conducted Sublessee's own investigation of the Sublet Space and the physical condition thereof, including accessibility and location of utilities, improvements, which in Sublessee's judgment materially affect or influence Sublessee's use of the Sublet Space and Sublessee's willingness to enter this Sublease. Sublessee recognizes that Sublessor would not sublease the Sublet Space except on an "as is" basis and acknowledges that Sublessor has made no representations of any kind in connection with improvements or physical conditions on, or bearing on, the use of the Sublet Space Sublessee shall rely solely on Sublessee's own inspection and examination of such items and not on any representations of Sublessor, express or implied. Sublessee further recognizes and agrees that neither Sublessor nor Landlord shall be required to perform any work of construction, alteration or maintenance of or to the Sublet Space, except as provided for in EXHIBIT C; provided, however, Sublessor shall deliver the Sublet Space to Sublessee in broom clean condition and free of any tenants or occupants which would affect Sublessee's use thereof.

2.2 FURTHER INSPECTION. Sublessee represents and warrants to Sublessor that as of the Effective Date Sublessee shall examine and inspect all matters with respect to permissible uses, the Master Lease, zoning, covenants, conditions and restrictions and all other matters which in Sublessee's judgment bear upon the value and suitability of the Sublet Space for Sublessee's purposes. Sublessee has and will rely solely on Sublessee's own inspection and examination of such items and not on any representations of Sublessor, express or implied.

3. SUBLEASE SUBJECT TO MASTER LEASE.

3.1 INCLUSIONS. It is expressly understood, acknowledged and agreed by Sublessee that all of the other terms, conditions and covenants of this Sublease shall be those stated in the Master Lease except as excluded in Section 3.2 herein, modified as appropriate in the circumstances so as to make such Articles, and any Sections contained therein, applicable only to the subleasing hereunder by Sublessor of the particular Sublet Space covered hereby. Whenever the word "Premises" is used in the Master Lease, for purposes of this Sublease, the word Sublet Space shall be substituted. Sublessee shall be subject to, bound by and comply with all of said Articles and Sections of the Master Lease with respect to the Sublet Space and shall satisfy all applicable terms and conditions of the Master Lease relating to the Sublet Space for the benefit of both Sublessor and Landlord, it being understood and agreed that wherever in the Master Lease the word "Tenant" appears, for the purposes of this Sublease, the word "Sublessee" shall be substituted, and wherever the word "Landlord" appears, for the purposes of this Sublease, the word "Sublessor" shall be substituted; and that upon the breach of any of said terms, conditions or covenants of the Master Lease by Sublessee or upon any Event of Default by Sublessee hereunder, Sublessor may exercise any and all rights and remedies granted to Landlord by the Master Lease. In the event of any conflict between this Sublease and the Master Lease, the terms of this Sublease shall control. It is further understood and agreed that Sublessor has no duty or obligation to Sublessee under the aforesaid Articles and Sections of the Master Lease other than to perform the obligations of Sublessor as lessee under the Master Lease during the Term of this Sublease. Whenever the provisions of the Master Lease incorporated as provisions of this Sublease require the written consent of Landlord, said provisions shall be construed to require the written consent of both Landlord and Sublessor. Sublessee hereby acknowledges that it has read and is familiar with all the terms of the Master Lease, and agrees that this Sublease is subordinate and subject to the Master Lease and that any termination thereof not due to a default by Sublessor hereunder shall likewise terminate this Sublease.

3.2 EXCLUSIONS. The terms and provisions of the following Sections and portions of the Master Lease are not incorporated into this Sublease: 1, 2, 3, 4, the first sentence of Section 5, the second paragraph of Section 5, Section 6.B., Section 7.C., the second paragraph of Section 7.D., 8, 9.A, the second through sixth sentences of Section 10 and the word "exclusive" from the first sentence of Section 10, the second and third paragraphs of 10, 11, the first paragraph of Section 12, 13, 15, 16, 21, the addresses in Section 22 shall be replaced by the addresses given in the Defined Terms, 24, 30, 31, 33 and the entire First Amendment. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Master Lease, in no event shall Sublessee be required to spend more than Fifteen Thousand Dollars ($15,000) per calendar year in order to fulfill Sublessee's obligations to repair the Sublet Space pursuant to Section 9.B of the Master Lease, unless such obligations arise from the negligence or willful misconduct of Sublessee or Sublessee's Parties. Sublessee shall provide Sublessor with written notice of any repair obligations exceeding Fifteen Thousand Dollars ($15,000) annually, along with evidence satisfactory to Sublessor of the cost of such work and the aggregate amount of such work performed by Sublessee during such year, and Sublessor shall reimburse Sublessee for the cost thereof above the Fifteen Thousand Dollar ($15,000) annual threshold within thirty (30) days of receipt of evidence thereof.

3.3 TIME FOR NOTICE. The time limits provided for in the provisions of the Master Lease for the giving of notice, making of demands, performance of any act, condition or covenant, or the exercise of any right, remedy or option, are amended for the purposes of this

Sublease by lengthening or shortening the same in each instance by five (5) days, as appropriate, so that notices may be given, demands made, or any act, condition or covenant performed, or any right, remedy or option hereunder exercised, by Sublessor or Sublessee, as the case may be, within the time limit relating thereto in the Master Lease. If the Master Lease allows only five (5) days or less for Sublessor to perform any act, or to undertake to perform such act, or to correct any failure relating to the Premises or this Sublease, then Sublessee shall nevertheless be allowed three (3) days to perform such act, undertake such act and/or correct such failure.

4. LANDLORD'S OBLIGATIONS. It shall be the obligation of Landlord to (i) provide all services to be provided by Landlord under the terms of the Master Lease and (ii) to satisfy all obligations and covenants of Landlord made in the Master Lease. Sublessee acknowledges that Sublessor shall be under no obligation to provide any such services or satisfy any such obligations or covenants; provided, however, that: Sublessor, upon written notice by Sublessee, shall diligently attempt to enforce all obligations of Landlord under the Master Lease (without requiring Sublessor to spend more than a nominal sum, which nominal sum shall be limited to all costs associated with the preparation of and transmittal to Landlord of documentation from Sublessor or Sublessee's attorneys determining the obligations to be performed by Landlord under the Master Lease). If, after receipt of written request from Sublessee, Sublessor shall fail or refuse to take action ("Action") or if Sublessor's action is not, in Sublessor and Sublessee's mutual judgement, adequate for the enforcement of Sublessor's rights against Landlord with respect to the portion of the Premises then occupied by Sublessee, Sublessee shall have the right to take such Action or additional action, including but not limited to litigation, in its own name, and for that purpose and only to such extent, all of the rights of Sublessor as tenant under the Master Lease are hereby conferred upon and assigned to Sublessee, and Sublessee shall be subrogated to such rights to the extent that the same shall apply to the portion of the Premises then occupied by Sublessee. If any Action against Landlord in Sublessee's name shall be barred by reason of lack of privity, nonassignability or otherwise, Sublessee may take such Action in Sublessor's name; provided that Sublessee has obtained the prior written consent of Sublessor, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld; and provided, further, that Sublessee shall indemnify, protect, defend by counsel reasonably satisfactory to Sublessor and hold Sublessor harmless from and against any and all claims, demands, actions, suits, proceedings, liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, judgments, costs and expenses (including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees) which Sublessor may incur or suffer by reason of such Action, except to the extent incurred or suffered by reason of Sublessor's negligent acts or omissions.

5.1 INITIAL RENT. Upon execution hereof, Sublessee shall deliver the first month's Base Rent to Sublessor, to be applied against Sublessee's first obligation to pay Base Rent hereunder. Sublessee shall pay to Sublessor the Base Rent in advance on the first day of each month of the Term, commencing on the Rent Commencement Date without being invoiced by Sublessor. In the event the first day of the Term shall not be the first day of a calendar month or the last day of the Term is not the last day of the calendar month, the Base Rent shall be appropriately prorated based on a thirty (30) day month. All installments of Base Rent shall be delivered to Sublessor's address, or at such other place as may be designated in writing from time to time by Sublessor, in lawful money of the United States and, except as otherwise provided for herein, without deduction or offset for any cause whatsoever.
5.2 GROSS RENTAL. The parties acknowledge that this Sublease is intended to be a "gross" sublease and that Sublessee shall have no obligation to reimburse Sublessor for any operating expenses, utilities, janitorial expenses, landscaping costs, insurance premiums or real property taxes passed through to Sublessor by Landlord pursuant to the terms of the Master Lease, all of which costs are a part of the Base Rent.

5.3 LATE PAYMENT CHARGES AND INTEREST. Any payment of Rent or other amount from Sublessee to Sublessor in this Sublease which is not paid within five (5) days of the date due shall accrue interest from the date due until the date paid at an annual rate of ten percent (10%) (the "Interest Rate"). If any installment of Rent is not paid by the fifth of the month, or otherwise when due, Sublessee shall pay to Sublessor a late payment charge equal to five percent (5%) of the amount of such delinquent payment of Rent, in addition to the installment of Rent then owing; provided, however, that such late charge (but not payment of the Interest Rate) shall be excused the first time during the Term of the Sublease that an installment of Rent is paid later than the fifth day of the month. This Section 5 shall not relieve Sublessee of Sublessee's obligation to pay any amount owing hereunder at the time and in the manner provided.

6. SECURITY DEPOSIT. Upon execution hereof, Sublessee shall deposit with Sublessor (i) a cash security deposit (the "Cash Deposit") in the amount of the Security Deposit described in the Defined Terms, and (ii) the original copy of a clean, irrevocable and unconditional letter of credit (the "Letter of Credit") in the amount of One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000) issued by a financial institution, and subject only to terms, acceptable to Sublessor. (Notwithstanding the foregoing, Sublessor agrees to review the requirement and amount required under the Letter of Credit every six (6) months during the Term of this Sublease. In so doing, Sublessor will review Sublessee's financial situation, cash position and cash burn rate compared to the remaining financial obligations of Sublessee for the remainder of the Term in order to determine if it is appropriate, in Sublessor's sole discretion, to reduce the amount of the Letter of Credit. To the extent that Sublessor decides to reduce the amount of the Letter of Credit, Sublessee will renew or extend the Letter of Credit for the agreed amount, and provide Sublessor with written notice thereof within five (5) business days.) The Letter of Credit shall provide for its payment to Sublessor upon its presentation of a statement from Sublessor that an Event of Default by Sublessee exists hereunder. Upon the failure of Sublessee to deliver a replacement letter of credit (or an extension of the existing Letter of Credit) on or before thirty (30) days prior to any maturity date of any such Letter of Credit, Sublessor may draw upon the same and thereafter treat such cash as a portion of the Security Deposit. The Cash Deposit and Letter of Credit are hereinafter collectively referred to as the "Security Deposit.") The Security Deposit shall secure Sublessee's obligations under this Sublease to pay Base Rent and other monetary amounts, to maintain the Sublet Space and repair damages thereto, to surrender the Sublet Space to Sublessor in clean condition and repair upon termination of this Sublease and to discharge Sublessee's other obligations hereunder. Sublessor may use and commingle any cash portion of the Security Deposit with other funds of Sublessor. If Sublessee fails to perform Sublessee's obligations hereunder, Sublessor may, but without any obligation to do so, apply all or any portion of the Security Deposit towards fulfillment of Sublessee's unperformed obligations. If Sublessor does so apply any portion of the Security Deposit, Sublessee's failure to remit to Sublessor a sufficient amount in cash to restore the Security Deposit to the original amount or, in the case of a partial draw by Sublessor under the Letter of Credit, the failure of Sublessee to replace such Letter of Credit with a new Letter of Credit in the full original amount within five (5) days after receipt of Sublessor's written demand to do so shall constitute an Event of Default. Upon termination of this Sublease, if Sublessee has then performed all of Sublessee's obligations hereunder, Sublessor shall return the Security Deposit, or whatever amount remains of the Security Deposit after Sublessor applied all or a portion of the Security Deposit to perform Sublessee's obligations hereunder, to Sublessee without payment of interest.

7. USE. The Sublet Space is to be used for the Permitted Uses, and for no other purpose or business without the prior written consent of Sublessor. In no event shall the Sublet Space be used for a purpose or use prohibited by the Master Lease.

8. ASSIGNMENT AND SUBLETTING. Sublessee shall not sell, assign, encumber, sublease or otherwise transfer by operation of law or otherwise the Sublet Space or this Sublease without Sublessor's consent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. Any such sale, assignment, encumbrance, sublease or other transfer in violation of the terms of this Sublease shall be void and shall be of no force or effect. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, Sublessee may assign or sublease the Sublet Space, in whole or in part, without Sublessor's consent, but with Landlord's consent if so required under the Master Lease, to any entity which controls, is controlled by, or is controlled by, or is under common control with, Sublessee; to any entity which results from a merger or consolidation with Sublessee, to any entity engaged in a joint venture with Sublessee; or to any entity which acquires substantially all the assets or stock of Sublessee as a going concern, with respect to the business that is being conducted in the Sublet Space (hereinafter, each a "Permitted Transfer"), provided that in each of the foregoing instances, such assignee has a net worth equal to or greater than Sublessee's as of the Rent Commencement Date. In addition, a sale or transfer of the capital stock of Sublessee shall be deemed a Permitted Transfer if (i) such sale or transfer occurs in connection with any bona fide financing or capitalization for the benefit of Sublessee, or (ii) Sublessee becomes a publicly traded corporation. Sublessor shall have no right to terminate the Sublease in connection with, and shall have no right to any sums or other economic consideration resulting from, any Permitted Transfer.

9. ALTERATIONS. Sublessee shall not make or suffer to be made any alterations, additions or improvements (collectively "Alterations") in, on, or to the Sublet Space without the prior written consent of Sublessor which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. Any Alterations Sublessee is permitted to make shall be made by Sublessee at Sublessee's sole cost and expense, and Sublessee shall notify Sublessor at least five (5) business days in advance of the same so that Sublessor may post appropriate notices of nonresponderability. Provided that Sublessee so requests Sublessor in writing at that time, Sublessor shall inform Sublessee, at time Sublessee seeks Sublessor's consent to an Alteration, whether or not such Alteration must be removed at the expiration of the Term of this Sublease. Upon the expiration or sooner termination of this Sublease, Sublessee shall, upon demand by Sublessor, at Sublessee's sole cost and expense, forthwith and with all due diligence, remove any Alterations made or paid for by Sublessee whose removal was required by Sublessor upon Sublessor's granting consent therefor (or for which Sublessee did not seek Sublessor's removal preference upon installation) and Sublessee shall forthwith and with all due diligence, at Sublessee's sole cost and expense, repair and restore the Sublet Space to their original condition, ordinary wear and tear excepted.
10. DAMAGE AND DESTRUCTION.

10.1 TERMINATION OF MASTER LEASE. If the Sublet Space is damaged or destroyed and Landlord or Sublessor exercises any option either may have to terminate the Master Lease, if any, this Sublease shall terminate as of the date of the termination of the Master Lease.

10.2 CONTINUATION OF SUBLEASE. If the Master Lease is not terminated following any damage or destruction as provided above, this Sublease shall remain in full force and effect and Sublessee shall be entitled to any reduction or abatement of Base Rent in an amount in proportion to the corresponding reduction in base rent for the Sublet Space which Sublessor receives under the Master Lease, if any. Sublessor shall diligently enforce any obligation of Landlord to rebuild the Sublet Space in accordance with the Master Lease; and (ii) Sublessor shall make available to Sublessee any insurance proceeds Sublessor receives as a result of such damage or destruction.

11. EMINENT DOMAIN.

11.1 TOTAL CONDEMNATION. If all of the Premises is condemned by eminent domain, inversely condemned or sold in lieu of condemnation, for any public or a quasi-public use or purpose (“Condemned” or “Condemnation”), this Sublease shall terminate as of the date of title vesting in such proceeding, and Base Rent shall be adjusted to the date of termination.

11.2 PARTIAL CONDEMNATION. If any portion of the Premises is Condemned, and Sublessor exercises any option to terminate the Master Lease, this Sublease shall automatically terminate as of the date of the termination of the Master Lease. If Sublessor has the option to terminate the Master Lease, Sublessor shall promptly give Sublessee notice of such option and shall exercise such option if so directed by Sublessee subject to the relevant provisions of the Master Lease and further provided that such partial condemnation renders the Premises unusable for Sublessee’s business, as reasonably determined by Sublessor. If this Sublease is not terminated following any such Condemnation, this Sublease shall remain in full force and effect and Sublessee shall be entitled to any reduction or abatement in Base Rent in any amount in proportion to the corresponding reduction in Base Rent for the Sublet Space which Sublessor receives under the Master Lease. Sublessor shall diligently enforce any rights under the Master Lease to require Lessor to rebuild the Premises. Base Rent shall be equitably adjusted to take into account interference with Sublessee’s ability to conduct its operations on the Premises as a result of the Premises being Condemned. Sublessee hereby waives the provisions of California Code of Civil Procedure Section 1265.130 permitting a court of law to terminate this Sublease.

11.3 SUBLESSEE’S AWARD. Subject to the provisions of the Master Lease, Sublessee shall have the right to recover from the condemning authority, but not from Sublessor, such compensation as may be separately awarded to Sublessee in connection with costs and removing Sublessee’s merchandise, furniture, fixtures, leasehold improvements and equipment to a new location.

12. INSURANCE. All insurance policies required to be carried by Sublessee pursuant to this Sublease, shall contain a provision whereby Sublessor and Landlord are each named as additional insureds under such policies.
13. BROKERAGE COMMISSION. Sublessor shall pay a brokerage commission to Sublessor's Broker for Sublessee's subletting of the Sublet Space as provided for in a separate agreement between Sublessor and Broker. Sublessor and Sublessee warrant to each other that its sole contact with the other or the Sublet Space in connection with this transaction has been directly with their respective brokers. Sublessor and Sublessee further warrant for the benefit of the other that no other broker or finder can properly claim a right to a commission or a finder's fee based upon contacts between the claimant and the other party with respect to the other party or the Sublet Space. Sublessor and Sublessee shall indemnify, defend by counsel acceptable to the indemnified party and hold the other harmless from and against any loss, cost or expense, including, but not limited to, attorneys' fees and court costs, resulting from any claim for a fee or commission by any broker or finder, other than any claims by Sublessor's broker or Sublessee's Broker, in connection with the Sublet Space and this Sublease.

14. SUBLESSEE'S INDEMNITY. Sublessee shall defend, indemnify and hold harmless Sublessor, its partners, employees, and agents from and against any and all claims, liabilities, suits, judgments, awards, damages, losses, fines, penalties, costs and expenses, including reasonable attorney's fees, that Sublessor, its partners, employees and agents may suffer, incur or be liable for by reason of or arising out of or related to the breach by Sublessee of any of the duties, obligations, liabilities or covenants applicable to sublessee hereunder, Sublessee's occupancy or use of the Sublet Space, any alterations, additions or modifications made to the premises by Sublessee or Sublessee's negligence or willful misconduct. This indemnification shall survive termination of this Sublease.

15. RIGHT TO CURE SUBLESSEE'S DEFAULTS. If Sublessee shall at any time fail to make any payment or perform any other obligation of Sublessee hereunder, then Sublessor shall have the right, but not the obligation, after the lesser of five (5) days' notice to sublessee or the time within which Landlord may act on Sublessor's behalf under the Master Lease, or without notice to Sublessee in the case of any emergency, and without waiving or releasing sublessee from any obligations of Sublessee hereunder, to make such payment or perform such other obligation of Sublessee in such manner and to such extent as Sublessor shall deem necessary, and in exercising any such right, to pay any incidental costs and expenses, employ attorneys and other professionals, and incur and pay attorneys' fees and other costs reasonably required in connection therewith. Sublessee shall pay to sublessor upon demand all sums so paid by Sublessor and all incidental costs and expenses of Sublessor in connection therewith, together with interest thereon at the Interest Rate.

16.1 DEFINITIONS.

16.1.1 "HAZARDOUS MATERIALS." As used herein, "Hazardous Materials" means any chemical, substance, material, controlled substance, object, condition, waste, living organism or combination thereof which is or may be hazardous to human health or safety or to the environment due to its radioactivity, ignitability, corrosivity, reactivity, explosivity, toxicity, carcinogenicity, mutagenicity, phytotoxicity, infectiousness or other harmful or potentially harmful properties or effects, including, without limitation, petroleum and petroleum products, asbestos, radon, polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs) and all of those chemicals, substances, materials, controlled substances, objects, conditions, wastes, living organisms or combinations.
thereof which are now or become in the future listed, defined or regulated in any manner by any Environmental Law based upon, directly or indirectly, such properties or effects.

16.1.2 ENVIRONMENTAL LAWS. As used herein, "Environmental Laws" means any and all federal, state or local environmental, health and/or safety-related laws, regulations, standards, decisions of courts, ordinances, rules, codes, orders, decrees, directives, guidelines, permits or permit conditions, currently existing and as amended, enacted, issued or adopted in the future which are or become applicable to Sublessee or the Premises.

16.2 SUBLESSEE'S COVENANT. Sublessee shall not cause, or allow any of Sublessee's employees, agents, customers, visitors, invitees, licensees, contractors, assignees or subtenants (collectively, "Sublessee's Parties") to cause or permit, any Hazardous Materials to be brought upon, stored, manufactured, generated, blended, handled, recycled, treated, disposed or used on, under or about the Premises, except for routine office and janitorial supplies in usual and customary quantities stored, used and disposed of in accordance with all applicable Environmental Laws. Sublessee and Sublessee's Parties shall comply with all Environmental Laws and promptly notify Sublessor of the presence of any Hazardous Materials, other than office and janitorial supplies as permitted above, on the Premises or any violation of any Environmental Law. Sublessor shall have the right to inspect the Premises and to conduct tests and investigations to determine whether Sublessee is in compliance with the foregoing provisions provided that in each instance: (i) Sublessor gives Sublessee prior written notice of such inspection at least seventy-two (72) hours in advance, (except in cases of emergency, in which case no emergency shall be necessary) and (ii) Sublessor and Sublessor's agents, contractors and representatives conduct such investigation in a manner designated to cause the least possible interference to Sublessee and Sublessee's use of the Premises. If such tests indicate the presence of any environmental condition caused by Sublessee or its agents, employees, contractors or invitees, Sublessee shall reimburse Sublessor for the cost of conducting such tests. The phrase "environmental condition" shall mean any adverse condition relating to any Hazardous Materials or the environment, including surface water, groundwater, drinking water supply, land, surface or subsurface strata or the ambient air and includes air, land and water pollutants, noise, vibration, light and odors. In the event that Sublessee or its agents, employee's, contractors or invitees have caused Hazardous Materials to be released, stored, disposed of or introduced to the Premises in a manner or in amounts in violation of Environmental Laws, Sublessee shall promptly take any and all steps necessary to rectify the same as required by either the Landlord pursuant to the terms of the Master Lease or any federal, state or local government agency or political subdivision on account thereof or shall, at Sublessee's election, reimburse Sublessor, upon demand, for the cost to Sublessor of performing rectifying work. The reimbursement shall be paid to Sublessor in advance of Sublessor's performing such work, based upon Sublessor's reasonable estimate of the cost thereof; and upon completion of such work by Sublessor, Sublessee shall pay to Sublessor any shortfall promptly after Sublessor bills Sublessee therefore or Sublessor shall promptly refund to Sublessee any excess deposit, as the case may be. In the event that Sublessee shall elect to rectify such violation of Environmental Law but fail to commence to do so within the time periods required by relevant governmental authorities or within a time period specified by Sublessor, in Sublessor's reasonable discretion, Sublessor shall have the right to perform such rectifying work, and Sublessee shall reimburse Sublessor for the cost thereof upon demand therefor. Nothing in this Section 16.2 shall be deemed to create a liability for or an obligation of Sublessee to remediate Hazardous Materials released or stored on

16.3 SUBLESSEE'S INDEMNIFICATION. Sublessee shall indemnify, protect, defend (by counsel reasonably acceptable to Sublessor) and hold harmless Sublessor and its partners, directors, officers, employees, shareholders, lenders, agents, contractors and each of their respective successors and assigns (individually and collectively, "Indemnities") from and against any and all claims, judgments, causes of action, damages, penalties, fines, taxes, costs, liabilities, losses and expenses arising at any time during or after the Term as a result (directly or indirectly) of or in connection with (a) Sublessee and/or Sublessee's Parties' breach of any prohibition or provision of the preceding section, or (b) the release, storage, use or discharge of Hazardous Materials on the Sublet Space after the Early Occupancy Date, except to the extent caused by Sublessor or Sublessor's Parties during the period between the Early Occupancy Date and the Rent Commencement Date. This indemnity shall include the cost of any required or necessary repair, cleanup or detoxification, and the preparation of any closure or other required plans, whether such action is required or necessary prior to or following the termination of this Sublease. Neither the written consent by Sublessor to the presence of Hazardous Materials on, under or about the Premises nor the strict compliance by Sublessee with all Environmental Laws shall excuse Sublessee from Sublessee's obligation of indemnification pursuant hereto. Sublessee's obligations pursuant to the foregoing indemnity shall survive the termination of this Sublease.

16.4 SUBLESSOR'S INDEMNIFICATION. Sublessor shall indemnify, protect, defend (by counsel reasonably acceptable to Sublessee) and hold harmless Sublessee and its partners, directors, officers, employees, shareholders, lenders, agents, contractors and each of their respective successors and assigns (individually and collectively, "Indemnities") from and against any and all claims, judgments, causes of action, damages, penalties, fines, taxes, costs, liabilities, losses and expenses arising at any time during or after the Term as a result (directly or indirectly) of or in connection with the release, storage, disposal, use or discharge of Hazardous Materials on, under or about the Premises prior to the Early Occupancy Date but subsequent to the commencement of the term of the Master Lease. This indemnity shall include the cost of any required or necessary repair, cleanup or detoxification, and the preparation of any closure or other required plans, whether such action is required or necessary prior to or following the termination of this Sublease. The strict compliance by Sublessor with all Environmental Laws shall not excuse Sublessor from Sublessor's obligation of indemnification pursuant hereto. Sublessor's obligations pursuant to the foregoing indemnity shall survive the termination of this Sublease.

16.5 SUBLESSOR'S REPRESENTATION AND WARRANTY. Sublessor represents and warrants to Sublessee that, to Sublessor's current actual knowledge, as of the date of this Sublease, Sublessor has not received any written notice from any governmental agency that Hazardous Materials are present on the Premises in violation of any Environmental Law. For the purposes of this Section 16.5, the term "to Sublessor's current actual knowledge" shall mean the actual (and not imputed) knowledge of Jonathan Anderson and Guy Van Auken as of the date of this Sublease, without the obligation to perform any due diligence, analysis and investigation of any kind whatsoever.
17. MISCELLANEOUS.

17.1 ENTIRE AGREEMENT. This Sublease contains all of the covenants, conditions and agreements between the parties concerning the Sublet Space, and shall supersede all prior correspondence, agreements and understandings concerning the Sublet Space, both oral and written. No addition or modification of any term or provision of this Sublease shall be effective unless set forth in writing and signed by both Sublessor and Sublessee.

17.2 CAPTIONS. All captions and headings in this Sublease are for the purposes of reference and convenience and shall not limit or expand the provisions of this Sublease.

17.3 LANDLORD'S CONSENT. This Sublease is conditioned upon Landlord's written approval of this Sublease. If Landlord refuses to consent to this Sublease on or before March 1, 1995 this Sublease shall terminate and neither party shall have any continuing obligation to the other with respect to the Sublet Space; provided Sublessor shall return the Deposit, if previously delivered to Sublessor, to Sublessee.

17.4 AUTHORITY. Each person executing this Sublease on behalf of a party hereto represents and warrants that he or she is authorized and empowered to do so and to thereby bind the party on whose behalf he or she is signing.

17.5 ATTORNEYS’ FEES. In the event either party shall bring any action or proceeding for damages or for an alleged breach of any provision of this Sublease to recover rents, or to enforce, protect or establish any right or remedy hereunder, the prevailing party shall be entitled to recover reasonable attorneys’ fees and court costs as part of such action or proceeding.

17.6 PARKING. Sublessee is allocated and shall have the non-exclusive right to use not more than one hundred thirteen (113) of the parking spaces appurtenant to the Premises for its use and the use of Sublessee's Parties, the location of which may be designated from time to time by Sublessor. Sublessee shall not at any time use more parking spaces than the number so allocated to Sublessee or park its vehicles or the vehicles of others in any portion of the Premises not designated by Sublessor as a non-exclusive parking area. Neither Sublessee nor Sublessee's Parties shall have the exclusive right to use any specific parking space. Nothing contained in this Sublease shall be deemed to create liability upon Sublessor for any damage to motor vehicles of visitors or employees, for any loss of property from within those motor vehicles, or for any injury to Sublessee or Sublessee's Parties, unless ultimately determined to be caused by the sole act of negligence or willful misconduct of Sublessor or Sublessor's Parties. Sublessee shall have no right to install any fixtures, equipment or personal property in parking areas.

17.7 HOLDOVER. This Sublease shall terminate without further notice at the expiration of the Sublease Term. If Sublessee holds over at the Sublet Space or any part thereof after the expiration or earlier termination of the Term, such holding over shall constitute a month-to-month tenancy, at a rent equal to one hundred seventy-five percent (175%) of the Base Rent due hereunder. Nothing in the foregoing sentence shall be deemed Sublessor's permission for Sublessee to hold over, and acceptance of Base Rent by Sublessor following expiration of termination of the Sublease shall not constitute a renewal of this Sublease. In addition to the foregoing, Sublessee shall indemnify, defend by counsel satisfactory to Sublessor, protect and hold Sublessor harmless from any and all liabilities, claims, causes of action, damages, costs or expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees) directly or indirectly resulting from Sublessee's holding over at the Sublet Space beyond the expiration or termination of the Term.

17.8 ACCESS. Sublessor reserves the right to enter the Sublet Space upon reasonable notice to Sublessee (except that in case of emergency no notice shall be necessary) in order to inspect the Sublet Space and/or the performance by Sublessee of the terms of this Sublease.

17.9 TENANT IMPROVEMENTS. Sublessor, at Sublessor's sole cost and expense, shall perform certain improvements to the Sublet Space, as more particularly described in EXHIBIT C attached hereto.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed one (1) or more copies of this Sublease, dated as of the Effective Date.

1. Commencing April 1, 1992, the monthly base rent shall be $50,000.00.

2. Commencing January 1, 1995, the monthly base rent shall be $53,800.00.

3. Commencing July 1, 1997, the monthly base rental shall be $58,000.00.

4. Commencing January 1, 2000, the monthly base rent shall be $62,500.00.

5. In the event Tenant elects to exercise its first option to extend the term of this Lease:
   (A) Commencing April 1, 2002, the monthly base rent shall be equal to the then monthly rental paid for like improved space in the immediate area of the Premises, but in no event less than $68,000.00.
   (B) Commencing October 1, 2004, the monthly base rent shall be whatever it was for September, 2004, multiplied by 1.09.

6. In the event Tenant elects to exercise its second option to extend the term of the Lease:
   (A) Commencing April 1, 2007, the monthly base rent shall be equal to the then monthly rental paid for like improved space in the immediate area of the Premises, but in no event less than whatever it was for March, 2007, multiplied by 1.09.
   (B) Commencing October 1, 2009, the monthly base rent shall be whatever it was for September, 2009, multiplied by 1.09.

7. In the event Landlord and Tenant are unable to agree on the rent for either Extension Term within a period of thirty (30) days following receipt by Landlord of Tenant’s written Exercise Notice per Paragraph 3.2 of this amendment, within five (5) days after the expiration of the said thirty (30) day period, each party, at its cost and by giving notice to the other party, shall appoint an M.A.I. real estate appraiser with at least five (5) years full-time commercial appraisal experience in the area in Santa Clara County to appraise and set the fair market rental value of the Premises. If a party does not appoint an appraiser within five (5) days after the other party has given notice to the name of its appraiser, the single appraiser appointed shall be the sole appraiser and shall set the fair market rental value. The cost of such sole appraiser shall be borne equally by the parties. If two appraisers are appointed by the parties as provided in this paragraph, the two appraisers shall meet promptly and attempt to set the fair market rental value. If they are unable to agree within twenty (20) days after the last appraiser has been appointed, then the two appraisers shall select a third appraiser meeting the qualifications stated above within ten (10) days after the last day the two appraisers are given to set the fair market rental value. If they are unable to agree on the third appraiser, either of the parties to this Lease, by giving ten (10) days notice to the other party, may apply to the presiding judge of the Superior Court of Santa Clara County for the selection of a third appraiser who meets the qualifications. stated above. Each of the parties shall bear one-half (1/2) of the cost of appointing the third appraiser and of paying the third appraiser’s fee. The third appraiser, however selected, shall be a person who has not previously acted in any capacity for either party. Within twenty (20) days after the selection of the third appraiser, the majority of the appraisers shall set the fair market rental value. If the majority of the appraisers are unable to agree on the fair market rental value within said twenty (20) day period, the three appraisals shall be added together and the total divided by three; the resulting quotient shall be the fair market rental value. The foregoing notwithstanding, if any appraisal differs from the median appraisal by an amount equal to more than ten percent (10%) of such median appraisal, that appraisal shall be disregarded, and the average of the remaining appraisals (or the remaining appraisal) shall be the fair market rental value. In establishing the fair market rental value, the appraiser or the highest and best use for the Premises in its existing configuration (including, but not limited to, rental rates for comparable space with comparable tenant improvements in the immediate area of the Premises, and any adjustments to rent based upon direct costs (operating expenses) and taxes, load factors, and/or cost of living or other rental adjustments; and the size of the space); without regard to the existence of this Lease but taking into consideration the absolute nature of this Lease.

The Premises include a building ("Building") of approximately 59,885 square feet.

3. TERM. The term of this Lease shall be for ten (10) years, commencing on September 15, 1984 ("Commencement Date") and ending on September 30, 1994 ("Expiration Date") unless sooner terminated pursuant to any provision hereof or unless extended pursuant to the option provision hereof. If for any reason Landlord cannot deliver possession of the Premises to Tenant on said date, Tenant shall not be obligated to pay rent until possession of the Premises is tendered to Tenant and the Commencement Date and Expiration Date of this Lease shall be revised to conform to the date of Landlord's delivery of possession. If possession of the Premises is not tendered to Tenant on or before September 15, 1984, Tenant shall have the right to terminate this Lease and shall have no further obligations or liabilities hereunder. If Tenant so terminates this Lease, Landlord shall return to Tenant all amounts paid by Tenant to Landlord in respect of this Lease. In the event that Landlord shall permit Tenant to occupy the Premises prior to the Commencement Date of the term, such occupancy shall be subject to all of the provisions of this Lease, including the obligation to pay rent at the same monthly rate as that prescribed for the first month of the Lease term.

4. RENT. Tenant shall pay to Landlord rent for the Premises, without deduction or offset, prior notice or demand, in advance, on the first day of each calendar month of the term hereof, in installments in accordance with the following table:

Rent shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America to Landlord at 3375 Scott Boulevard, #308, Santa Clara, CA 95051 or to such other persons or such other places as Landlord may designate in writing.
5. USE OF PREMISES. Tenant shall use the Premises only in conformance with applicable governmental laws, regulations, rules and ordinances for the purposes of offices, research and development, and assembly, storage and distribution of electronic components and for no other purpose. Tenant shall indemnify, defend, and hold Landlord harmless against any loss, expense, damage, attorneys' fees or liability arising out of failure of Tenant to comply with any applicable law. Tenant shall not commit or suffer to be committed any waste upon the Premises, or any nuisance, or other acts or things which may disturb the quiet enjoyment of any other tenant in or around the Building or allow any sale by auction upon the Premises, or allow the Premises to be used for any improper, immoral, unlawful or objectionable purpose, or place any loads upon the floor, walls or ceiling which endanger the structure, or place any harmful liquids in the drainage system of the Building. No waste materials or refuse shall be dumped upon or permitted to remain upon any part of the Premises outside of the Building except in trash containers placed inside exterior enclosures designated for that purpose by Landlord or inside of the Building where designated by Landlord. No materials, supplies, equipment finished products or semi-finished products, raw materials or articles of any nature shall be stored upon or permitted to remain on any portion of the Premises outside the Building. Tenant shall comply with any covenant, condition or restriction ("C.C.&R.'s") affecting the Premises.

Notwithstanding anything in this section to the contrary, (i) Landlord warrants that Tenant's use of the Premises as provided in this section is in accordance with applicable governmental laws, regulations, rules and ordinances and any applicable C.C.&R's affecting the Premises, (ii) Tenant's indemnities and warranties in this section are dependent upon Landlord's warranty herein and (iii) Tenant shall not be required to pay any capital expenditure or other governmental charge, provided, however, that Landlord shall determine the life of any improvements constructed as a result of said expenditures and charges and those expenditures and charges shall be divided by the number of years which Landlord reasonably determines, and said annual amounts shall be paid by Tenant during the applicable year provided that Tenant shall not be required to pay any said amounts except during the term hereof and said annual amount shall be prorated for portions of any year during which Tenant is a lessee pursuant to this Lease.

6. TAXES AND ASSESSMENTS.

(A) TENANT'S PROPERTY. Tenant shall pay before delinquency any and all taxes, assessments, license fees and public charges levied, assessed or imposed upon or against Tenant's fixtures, equipment, furnishings, furniture, appliances and personal property installed or located on or within the Premises.

(B) MONTHLY PAYMENT. All property taxes levied or assessed against the Premises and Building which become due or accrue during the term of this Lease, shall be a Common Area Charge and Tenant shall pay each month 1/12th of its annual share of such property taxes pursuant to Section 11 below. Tenant's liability hereunder shall be prorated to reflect the Commencement Date and Expiration Date of this Lease and any extension of the Lease term pursuant to the provisions of this Lease.

For the purpose of this Lease, the term "property taxes" means and includes all taxes, assessments, taxes based on vehicles utilizing parking areas, taxes based on rental income (exclusive of income taxes imposed by federal, state, local or other governmental entities), Environmental Protection Agency charges, and any other governmental charges, general or special, ordinary and extraordinary, of any kind and nature whatsoever, applicable to the Premises or the Building, including, but not limited to, assessments for public improvements or benefits which heretofore or shall during the term of this Lease, or any extension thereof, be assessed, levied, imposed upon or become due and payable and a lien upon the Premises or the Building, or any part thereof, but excluding franchise, estate, inheritance, succession, capital levy, transfer or excess profits tax imposed upon Landlord and income taxes imposed by federal, state, local or other governmental entities upon Landlord.

Any charges provided for in this section, including, but not limited to, assessments for public improvements or benefits, shall be paid over the longest possible time allowed, with Tenant liable for payments only during the portion of the payment period which is also part of the term of this Lease pursuant to Section 3 above.

7. INSURANCE.

(A) INDEMNITY. Tenant agrees to indemnify and defend Landlord against and hold Landlord harmless from any and all claims, causes of action, judgments, obligations or liabilities, and all reasonable expenses incurred in investigating or resisting the same (including reasonable attorney's fees), on account of, or arising out of, Tenant's acts or omissions on the Premises, not including any negligence or willful misconduct of Landlord, and not including any claims, causes of action, judgments, obligations or liabilities, and expenses and attorneys' fees connected therewith, which are covered by insurance provided pursuant to this Lease. This Lease is made on the express condition that Landlord shall not be liable except as provided in Section 9, or suffer loss by reason of injury to person or property, from whatever cause except Landlord's negligence or willful misconduct, in any way connected with the condition, use or occupancy of the Premises, specifically including, without limitation, any liability for injury to the person or property of Tenant, its agents, officers, employees, licensees and invitees.

(B) LIABILITY INSURANCE. Tenant shall, at Tenant's expense, obtain and keep in force during the term of this Lease a policy of comprehensive public liability insurance insuring Landlord and Tenant against any liability arising out of the condition, use, or occupancy of the Premises and all areas appurtenant thereto, including parking areas. Such insurance shall be in an amount of not less than $1,000,000 for bodily injury or death as a result of any one occurrence and $500,000 for damage to property as a result of any one occurrence. The insurance shall be with companies approved by Landlord, which approval Landlord agrees not to unreasonably withhold. Tenant shall deliver to Landlord, prior to possession, a certificate of insurance evidencing the existence of the policy required hereunder and such certificate shall certify that the policy (1) names Landlord as an additional insured, (2) shall not be canceled or altered without thirty (30) days' prior written notice to Landlord,

(3) insures performance of the indemnity set forth in Subsection 7(a) above, and

(4) the coverage is primary and any coverage by Landlord is in excess thereto. Landlord specifically approves "Employer's Insurance of Wausau" as an insurance company which Tenant may use to obtain liability insurance as provided in this Subsection 7(b).

(C) PROPERTY INSURANCE. Landlord shall obtain and keep in force during the term of this Lease a policy or policies of insurance covering loss or damage to the Premises, in the amount of the full replacement value thereof, providing protection against those perils included within the classification of "all risk" insurance and flood insurance plus a policy of rental income insurance in the amount of 100% of 12 months rent (including sums paid as additional rent). The cost of such insurance shall be a Common Area Charge and Tenant shall pay to Landlord its share of said cost as provided in Section 11 below. If such insurance is increased due to Tenant's use of the Premises, Tenant agrees to pay to Landlord the full cost of such increase. Tenant shall have no interest in or any right to the proceeds of any insurance procured by Landlord on the Premises or the Building.

(D) RELEASE OF LANDLORD AND TENANT. Tenant hereby releases Landlord and its partners, officers, agents, employees and servants from any and all claims, demands, liens, losses, expenses or injuries to the Premises or to the furnishings, fixtures, equipment, inventory or other property of Tenant in, about, or upon the Premises, which is caused by or results from perils, events or happenings which are covered by insurance carried by Tenant and in force at the time of such loss.

Landlord hereby releases Tenant and its officers, agents, employees and servants from any and all claims, demands, liens, losses, expenses or injuries to the Premises or to the furnishings, fixtures, equipment, inventory or other property of Landlord in, about or upon the Premises, which is caused by or results from perils, events or happenings which are covered by insurance carried by Landlord or Tenant and in force at the time of such loss.

8. UTILITIES. Tenant shall pay for all water, gas, light, heat, power, electricity, telephone, trash pick-up, sewer charges, and all other services supplied to or consumed on the Premises.

9. REPAIRS AND MAINTENANCE.

(A) Subject to provisions of Section 15, Landlord shall keep and maintain the roof, structural elements and exterior walls of the Building in good order and repair. The "structural elements" of the Building shall include the electrical, plumbing and lighting systems other than those items of such systems which are fixtures in the interior of the Premises. Tenant shall be responsible for maintenance and repair of the heating and air conditioning systems unless repairs are the result of defective installation or materials, in which event Landlord shall repair the same at its own expense. However, Landlord may elect, at its option, to keep and maintain the heating and air conditioning systems of the Premises. The cost of the repairs and maintenance which Landlord elects to perform pursuant to the preceding sentence shall be a Common Area Charge and Tenant shall pay its share of such costs to Landlord as provided in Section 11 below. Other repairs and maintenance done pursuant to this Subsection 9(a) shall be at the sole expense of Landlord. However, if any repairs or maintenance are required because of an act or omission of Tenant, its agents, employees or invitees, Tenant shall pay to Landlord, upon demand, on hundred percent (100%) of the costs of such repair or maintenance unless such repair or maintenance is covered by insurance provided pursuant to this Lease, in which case Tenant shall pay the deductible amount of such insurance, such deductible not to exceed One Thousand Dollars ($ 1,000.00).

(B) Except as expressly provided in Subsection 9(a) above, Tenant shall, at its sole cost, keep and maintain the entire Premises and every part thereof, including, without limitation, the windows, window frames, plate glass, glazing, truck doors, doors and all door hardware, the interior walls and partitions, and the electrical, plumbing, lighting, heating and air conditioning systems (unless Landlord has elected to keep and maintain the heating and air conditioning systems pursuant to Subsection 9(a) above) in good order, condition and repair, except that, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Subsection 9(b), Tenant's obligations relating to electrical, plumbing and lighting systems shall be limited to the fixtures of those systems on the interior of the Premises.

Should Tenant fail to make repairs required of Tenant hereunder forthwith upon notice from Landlord, Landlord, in addition to all other remedies available hereunder or by law and without waiving any alternative remedies, may make the same, and in that event, Tenant shall reimburse Landlord as additional rent for the cost of such maintenance or repairs within five (5) days of written demand by Landlord.

Tenant hereby expressly waives the provisions of subsection 1 of Section 1932 and Sections 1941 and 1942 of the Civil Code of California and all rights to make repairs at the expense of Landlord as provided in Section 1942 of said Civil Code.

10. COMMON AREA. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Lease and such rules and regulations as Landlord may from time to time prescribe, Tenant and Tenant's employees, invitees and customers shall have the exclusive right to use the access roads, parking areas, and facilities provided and designated by Landlord for the general use and convenience of the Premises, which areas and facilities are referred to herein as "Common Area." This right shall terminate upon the termination of this Lease. Landlord reserves the right from time to time to make changes in the shape, size, location, amount and extent of Common Area. Landlord further reserves the right to promulgate such reasonable rules and regulations relating to the use of the Common Area, and any part or parts thereof, as Landlord may deem appropriate for the best interests of the occupants of the Building. The rules and regulations shall be binding upon Tenant upon delivery of a copy of them to Tenant, and Tenant shall abide by them and cooperate in their observance. Such rules and regulations may be amended by Landlord from time to time, with or without advance notice, and all amendments shall be effective upon delivery of a copy to Tenant. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the rules and regulations relating to the Common Area and any other area of the Premises shall not interfere with Tenant's use of the Premises and, to the extent such rules and regulations do interfere with Tenant's use of the Premises, such rules and regulations shall be void.

Tenant shall have the exclusive use of the total number of parking spaces in the Common Area. Tenant shall not at any time park or permit the parking of Tenant's trucks or other vehicles, or the trucks or other vehicles of others, adjacent to loading areas so as to interfere in any way with the use of such areas, nor shall Tenant at any time park or permit the parking of Tenant's vehicles or trucks, or the vehicles or trucks of Tenant's suppliers or others, in any portion of the Common Area not designated by Landlord for such use by Tenant. Tenant shall not park or permit to be parked any inoperative vehicles or equipment on any portion of the Common Area.

Landlord shall operate, manage and maintain the Common Area in the same fashion as a common area maintained in a first class industrial park. The cost of such maintenance, operation and management, including landscaping and repair of paving and sidewalks, shall be a Common Area Charge and Tenant shall pay to Landlord its share of such costs as provided in Section 11 below.
11. COMMON AREA CHARGES. Tenant shall pay to Landlord, as additional rent, upon demand but not more often than once each calendar month, an amount equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the Common Area Charges as defined in this Lease.

12. ALTERATIONS.

(A) Tenant may, without the prior consent of the Landlord, make any alterations, improvements or additions in, on, about or to the Premises or any part thereof that do not impair the structural soundness of the Building. Tenant shall have the right to remove at any time any alteration, improvement, addition, trade fixture, personal property, fixtures, equipment or other items which Tenant uses in or affixes to the Premises, subject to the obligation to repair any damage caused by such removal. Prior to the Commencement Date of the Lease, Tenant shall provide Landlord with a list of the alterations, improvements and additions that Tenant proposes to make in, on, about and to the Premises, designating which additions, improvements and additions Tenant does not intend to remove at the termination or expiration of the Lease. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary above, Tenant shall not have the right to remove such alterations, improvements and additions at the termination or expiration of the Lease.

(B) If, during the term hereof, any alteration, addition or change of any sort through all or any portion of the Premises is required by law, regulation, ordinance or order of any public agency, Tenant, at its sole cost and expense, shall promptly make the same. If, during the term hereof, any alteration, addition or change to the Common Area or to the Building is required by law, regulation, ordinance, or order of any public agency, the cost of such alteration, addition, or change shall be a Common Area Charge and Tenant shall pay its share of said costs to Landlord as provided in Section 11 above. Tenant's obligations under this Subsection 12(b) are limited to the extent that such costs shall be paid over the life of such improvements as provided in Section 5 above.

13. CONDITION OF THE PREMISES. Landlord hereby warrants to Tenant that the Premises have been constructed in accordance with all applicable governmental rules, laws, ordinances and regulations and that the Premises are free from defects in workmanship, design and materials. Any agreements, warranties or representations not expressly contained herein shall in no way bind either Landlord or Tenant, and Landlord and Tenant expressly waive all claims for damages by reason of any statement, representation, warranty, promise or agreement, if any, not contained in this Lease.

14. DEFAULT.

(A) EVENTS OF DEFAULT. A breach of this Lease shall exist if any of the following events (hereinafter referred to as "Event of Default") shall occur:

1) Default in the payment when due of any installment of rent or other payment required to be made by Tenant hereunder and such failure shall have continued for ten (10) days after written notice of such failure is given to Tenant;

2) Tenant's failure to perform any other term, covenant or condition contained in this Lease and such failure shall have continued for thirty (30) days after written notice of such failure is given to Tenant;
(3) Tenant's vacating or abandonment of Premises;

(4) Tenant's assignment of its assets for the benefit of its creditors;

(5) The sequestration of, attachment of, or execution on, any substantial part of the property of Tenant or on any property essential to the conduct of Tenant's business, shall have occurred and Tenant shall have failed to obtain a return or release of such property within ninety (90) days thereafter, or prior to sale pursuant to such sequestration, attachment or levy, whichever is earlier; or

(6) A court having jurisdiction shall have made or entered any decree or order (a) adjudging Tenant to be bankrupt or insolvent, (b) approving as properly filed a petition seeking reorganization of Tenant or seeking an arrangement under the bankruptcy laws or any other applicable debtors' relief law or statute of the United States or any State thereof, (c) appointing a receiver, trustee or assignee of Tenant in bankruptcy or insolvency for its property, or (d) directing the winding up or liquidation of Tenant; and such decree or order shall have continued for a period of ninety (90) days; or Tenant shall have voluntarily submitted to or filed a petition seeking any such decree or order.

(B) REMEDIES. Upon any Event of Default, Landlord shall have the following remedies, in addition to all other rights and remedies provided by law, to which Landlord may resort cumulatively, or in the alternative:

(1) RE-ENTRY WITHOUT TERMINATION. Landlord may re-enter the Premises and, without terminating this Lease, at any time relet the Premises or any part or parts of them, for the account and in the name of Tenant or otherwise. Landlord may, at Landlord's election, eject Tenant or any of Tenant's subtenants, assignees or other person or persons claiming any right under or through this Lease, and remove to storage Tenant's fixtures, equipment, furnishings, furniture, appliances and personal property installed or located on or without the Premises. Tenant shall nevertheless pay the Landlord on the due date specified in this Lease all sums required of Tenant under this Lease, plus Landlord's expenses, less the proceeds of any sublease or reletting. The expenses allowed Landlord shall include, without limitation: cost paid to retake possession (including attorneys' fees), cost of removal to storage, cost of storage, cost to place the Premises in good condition and alter them for reletting, costs to secure new tenants (including real estate broker's commissions) and costs to fulfill all of Tenant's covenants and conditions to the end of the term. No act by or on behalf of landlord under this provision shall constitute a termination of this Lease unless Landlord gives written notice of termination.

(2) RECOVERY OF RENT. Landlord shall be entitled to keep this Lease in full force and effect (whether or not Tenant shall have abandoned the Premises) and to enforce all of its rights and remedies under this Lease, including the right to recover rent and other sums as they become due, plus interest at the rate of ten percent (10%) per annum from the due date of each installment of rent or other sum until paid.

(3) TERMINATION. Landlord may terminate this Lease by giving Tenant written notice of termination. On the giving of the notice all Tenant's rights in the Premises and the Building shall terminate. Upon the giving of the notice of termination, Tenant shall surrender and vacate the Premises in the condition required by Section 32, and Landlord may re-enter and take possession of the Premises and all the remaining improvements or property and eject Tenant or any of Tenant's subtenants, assignees or other person or persons claiming any right under or through Tenant or eject some and not others or eject none. This Lease may also be terminated by a judgment specifically providing for termination. Any termination under this Subsection 14(b)(3) shall not release Tenant from the payment of any sum then due Landlord or from any claim for damages or rent previously accrued or then accruing against Tenant. In no event shall any one or more of the following actions by Landlord constitute a termination of this Lease:

A. maintenance and preservation of the Premises;

B. efforts to relet the Premises;

C. appointment of a receiver in order to protect Landlord's interest hereunder;

D. consent to any subletting of the Premises or assignment of this Lease by Tenant, whether pursuant to provisions hereof concerning subletting and assignment or otherwise; or

E. any other action by Landlord or Landlord's agents intended to mitigate the adverse effects from any breach of this Lease by Tenant.

(4) DAMAGES. In the event this Lease is terminated pursuant to Subsection 14(b)(3) above, Landlord shall be entitled to damages in the following sums:

A. the worth at the time of award of the unpaid rent which has been earned at the time of termination; plus

B. the worth at the time of award of the amount by which the unpaid rent which would have been earned after termination until the time of award exceeds the amount of such rental loss that Tenant proves could have been reasonably avoided; plus

C. the worth at the time of award of the amount by which the unpaid rent for the balance of the term after the time of award exceeds the amount of such rental loss that Tenant proves could be reasonably avoided; and

D. any other amount necessary to compensate Landlord for all detriment proximately caused by Tenant's failure to perform Tenant's obligations under this Lease, or which in the ordinary course of things would be likely to result therefrom including, without limitation, the following: (i) expenses for cleaning, repairing or restoring the Premises; (ii) expenses for altering, remodeling or otherwise improving the Premises for the purpose of reletting, including installation of leasehold improvements (whether such installation be funded by a reduction of rent, direct payment or allowance to Tenant or otherwise); (iii) real estate broker's fees, advertising costs and other expenses of reletting the Premises; (iv) costs of carrying the Premises such as taxes and insurance premiums thereon, utilities and security precautions; (v) expenses in retaking possession of the Premises; (vi) attorney's fees and court

costs; and (vii) any unamortized real estate brokerage commission paid in connection with this Lease.

E. The "worth at the time of award" of the amounts referred to in Subsections 14(b)(4)a and 14(b)(4)b is computed by allowing interest at the rate of ten percent (10%) per annum. The "worth at the time of award" of the amounts referred to in Subsection 14(b)(4)c is computed by discounting such amount at the discount rate of the Federal Reserve Board of San Francisco at the time of award plus one percent (1%). The term "rent" as used in this paragraph shall include all sums required to be paid by Tenant to Landlord pursuant to the terms of this Lease.

15. DESTRUCTION.

(A) DESTRUCTION OF LESS THAN THIRTY PERCENT. In the event that the Premises are damaged or destroyed to the extent that the estimated cost of repairing and restoring the Premises is less than thirty percent (30%) of the appraised value of the Premises immediately prior to such damage or destruction, Landlord shall, at its expense, promptly rebuild and restore the Premises to their condition immediately prior to the damage or destruction.

If Landlord does not complete the rebuilding or restoration within one hundred eighty (180) days following the date of damage or destruction (such period of time to be extended for delays caused by the fault or neglect of Tenant or because of acts of God, acts of public agencies, labor disputes, strikes, fires, freight embargoes, rainy or stormy weather, inability to obtain materials, supplies or fuels, acts of contractors or subcontractors, or delay of the contractors or subcontractors due to such causes or other contingencies beyond the control of Landlord), then Tenant shall have the right to terminate this Lease by giving fifteen (15) days' prior written notice to Landlord. Landlord's obligation to rebuild or restore shall not include restoration of Tenant's trade fixtures, equipment, merchandise, or any improvements, alterations or additions made by Tenant to the Premises.

(B) DESTRUCTION OF THIRTY PERCENT OR MORE. In the event that the Premises are damaged or destroyed to the extent that the estimated cost of repairing and restoring the Premises is thirty percent (30%) or more of the appraised value of the Premises immediately prior to such damage or destruction, Landlord may, at its option, (a) rebuild or restore the Premises to their condition prior to the damage or destruction, or (b) terminate this Lease.

If Landlord does not give Tenant notice in writing within thirty (30) days from the damage or destruction of the Premises of its election to either rebuild and restore the Premises, or to terminate this Lease, Landlord shall be deemed to have elected to rebuild or restore the Premises, in which event Landlord agrees, at its expense, promptly to rebuild or restore the Premises to their condition prior to the damage or destruction. If Landlord does not complete the rebuilding or restoration within one hundred eighty (180) days following the date of damage or destruction (such period of time to be extended for delays caused by the fault or neglect of Tenant or because of acts of God, acts of public agencies, labor disputes, strikes, fires, freight embargoes, rainy or stormy weather, inability to obtain materials, supplies or fuels, acts of contractors or subcontractors, or delay of the contractors or subcontractors due to such causes or other contingencies beyond the control of Landlord), then Tenant shall have the right to terminate this Lease by giving fifteen (15) days' prior written notice to Landlord. Landlord's obligation to rebuild or restore shall not include restoration of Tenant's trade fixtures, equipment, merchandise, or any improvements, alterations or additions made by Tenant to the Premises.

(C) TENANT'S RIGHTS. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section 15, Tenant shall have the right to terminate this Lease by giving fifteen (15) days' prior written notice to Landlord in the event the Premises are damaged or destroyed to the extent that such damage or destruction materially interferes with Tenant's use of the Premises.

(D) NO TERMINATION. Unless this Lease is terminated pursuant to the foregoing provisions, this Lease shall remain in full force and effect. Tenant hereby expressly waives the provisions of Section 1932, Subdivision 2, and Section 1933, Subdivision 4 of the California Civil Code.

16. CONDEMNATION.

(A) DEFINITION OF TERMS. For the purposes of this Lease, the term (1) "Taking" means a taking of the Premises or damage to the Premises related to the exercise of the power of eminent domain and includes a voluntary conveyance, in lieu of court proceedings, to any agency, authority, public utility, person or corporate entity empowered to condemn property; (2) "Total Taking" means the Taking of the entire Premises or so much of the Premises as, in the sole discretion of Tenant, prevents or substantially impairs the use thereof by Tenant for the uses herein specified; (3) "Partial Taking" means the Taking of only a portion of the Premises which does not constitute a Total Taking; (4) "Date of Taking" means the date upon which the title to the Premises, or a portion thereof, passes to and vests in the condemnor or the effective date of any order for possession if issued prior to the date title vests in the condemnor; (5) "Award" means the amount of any award made, consideration paid, or damages ordered as a result of a Taking.

(B) RIGHTS. The parties agree that in the event of a Taking all rights between them or in and to an Award shall be as set forth herein and Tenant shall have no right to any Award except as set forth herein.

(C) TOTAL TAKING. In the event of a Total Taking during the term hereof (1) the rights of Tenant under the Lease and the leasehold estate of Tenant in and to the Premises shall cease and terminate as of the date of Taking; (2) Landlord shall refund to Tenant any prepaid rent; (3) Tenant shall pay the Landlord any rent or charges due Landlord under the Lease, each prorated as of the date of Taking; (4) Tenant shall receive from the Landlord those portions of the Award attributable to trade fixtures of Tenant and for moving expenses of Tenant; (5) the remainder of the Award shall be paid to and be the property of Landlord.

(D) PARTIAL TAKING. In the event of a Partial Taking during the term hereof (1) the rights of Tenant under the Lease and the leasehold estate of Tenant in and to the portion of the Premises taken shall cease and terminate as of the Date of Taking; (2) from and after the Date of Taking the monthly installment of rent shall be an amount equal to the product obtained by multiplying the monthly installment of rent immediately prior to the Taking by the quotient obtained by dividing the fair market value of the Premises after the Taking by the fair market value of the Premises prior to the Taking; and (3) Tenant shall receive from the Award the portions of the Award attributable to trade fixtures of Tenant; and (4) the remainder of the Award shall be paid to and be the property of Landlord.
17. MECHANICS' LIEN. Tenant shall (1) pay for all labor and services performed for, materials used by or furnished to, Tenant or any contractor employed by Tenant with respect to the Premises, and (2) indemnify, defend and hold Landlord and the Premises harmless and free from any liens, claims, demands, encumbrances, or judgments created or suffered by reason of any labor or services performed for, materials used by or furnished to, Tenant or any contractor employed by Tenant with respect to the Premises, and (3) give notice to Landlord in writing five (5) days prior to employing any laborer or contractor to perform services related to, or receiving materials for use upon the Premises, and (4) permit Landlord to post a notice of nonresponsibility in accordance with the statutory requirements of California Civil Code Section 3094 or any amendment thereof. In the event Tenant is required to post an improvement bond with a public agency in connection with the above, Tenant agrees to include Landlord as an additional obligee.

18. INSPECTION OF THE PREMISES. Tenant shall permit Landlord and its agents to enter the Premises at any reasonable time for the purpose of inspecting the same, performing Landlord's maintenance and repair responsibilities, posting a notice of nonresponsibility for alterations, additions or repairs, and at any time within ninety (90) days prior to expiration of this Lease, to place upon the Premises ordinary "For Lease" or "For Sale" signs. Notwithstanding the foregoing, such entry, maintenance and repair shall not interfere with Tenant's use of the Premises.

19. COMPLIANCE WITH LAWS. Tenant shall, at its own cost, comply with all of the requirements of all municipal, county, state and federal authority now in force, or which may hereafter be in force, pertaining to the use and occupancy of the Premises, and shall faithfully observe all municipal, county, state and federal statutes or ordinances now in force or which may hereafter be in force. The judgment of any court of competent jurisdiction or the admission of Tenant in any action or proceeding against Tenant, whether Landlord be a party thereto or not, that Tenant has violated any such ordinance or statute in the use and occupancy of the Premises shall be conclusive of the fact that such violation by Tenant has occurred. The provisions of this Section 19 shall be subject to Landlord's warranties found in Section 13 above and Landlord's obligations to spread the expense of any capital improvement over the life of such improvement as found in Section 5 above.

20. SUBORDINATION.

(A) RIGHTS. At the option of the Landlord, the rights of Tenant under this Lease shall be subject and subordinate to any mortgage or deed of trust which are or may hereafter be placed upon the Premises, or any part thereof, by Landlord.

(B) DOCUMENTS. Tenant shall, upon Landlord's request, promptly execute any instrument (including an amendment to this Lease) or instruments of subordination necessary to subordinate this Lease to any mortgage or deed of trust to be placed upon the Premises, or any part thereof, by Landlord in accordance with Subsection 20(a) above. Tenant agrees to recognize any mortgagee or beneficiary of the deed of trust subsequently encumbering the Premises and any party acquiring title to the Premises, by judicial foreclosure or a trustee's sale, as a successor to Landlord hereunder.

(C) QUIET ENJOYMENT. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section, Tenant's quiet enjoyment of the Premises shall not be disturbed by any mortgagee or beneficiary under a deed of trust or by anyone else as long as Tenant is not in default under this Lease.

21. HOLDING OVER. This Lease shall terminate without further notice at the expiration of the Lease Term. Any holding over by Tenant after expiration shall not constitute a renewal or extension or give Tenant any rights in or to the Premises except as expressly provided in this Lease. Any holding over after the expiration with the consent of Landlord shall be construed to be a tenancy from month to month, at 150% of the monthly rent for the last month of the Lease term, and shall otherwise be on the terms and conditions herein specified insofar as applicable.

22. NOTICES. Any notice required or desired to be given under this Lease shall be in writing with copies directed as indicated below and shall be personally served or given by mail. Any notice given by mail shall be deemed to have been given when forty-eight (48) hours have elapsed from the time which such notice was deposited in the United States mails, certified and postage prepaid, addressed to the party to be served with a copy as indicated herein at the last address given by that party to the other party under the provisions of this section. At the date of execution of this Lease, the address of Landlord is:

Oakmead Investments
3375 Scott Boulevard, #308
Santa Clara, CA 95051
Attn: Mr. Terrence J. Rose and the address of Tenant is:

Amdahl Corporation
P.O. Box 470
Mail Stop 110
1250 East Arques Avenue
Sunnyvale, CA 94086
Attn: Mr. Gary Alfson
Manager of Real Estate

23. ATTORNEYS' FEES. In the event either party shall bring any action or legal proceeding for damages for an alleged breach of any provision of this Lease, to recover rent, to terminate the tenancy of the Premises, or to enforce, protect or establish any term or covenant of this Lease or right or remedy of either party, the prevailing party shall be entitled to recover as a part of such action or proceeding reasonable attorneys' fees and court costs, including attorneys' fees and costs for appeal, as may be fixed by the court or jury.

24. NONASSIGNMENT. Tenant's interest in this Lease is not assignable, by operation of law or otherwise, nor shall Tenant have the right to sublet the Premises, transfer any interest of Tenant's therein or permit any use of the Premises by another party, without the prior written consent of Landlord to such assignment, subletting, transfer or use, which consent Landlord agrees not to unreasonably withhold. A consent to one assignment, subletting, occupancy or use by another party shall not be deemed to be a consent to any subsequent assignment, subletting, occupancy or use by another party. Any assignment or subletting without such consent shall be void and shall, at the option of Landlord, terminate this Lease.

Landlord's waiver or consent to any assignment or subletting hereunder shall not relieve Tenant from any obligation under this Lease unless the waiver or consent shall so provide.

25. SUCCESSORS. The covenants and agreements contained in this Lease shall be binding on the parties hereto and on their respective heirs, successors and assigns (to the extent the Lease is assignable).

26. LANDLORD LOAN OR SALE. Tenant agrees promptly following request by Landlord to execute and deliver to Landlord any documents, including estoppel certificates, presented to Tenant by Landlord, (i) certifying that, to Tenant's knowledge, this Lease is unmodified and in full force and effect or specifying any modifications made, and specifying the date to which the rent and other charges are paid in advance, if any, and (ii) acknowledging that there are not, to Tenant's knowledge, any uncured defaults on the part of Landlord hereunder or specifying any such defaults, and (iii) evidencing the status of the Lease, to Tenant's knowledge, as may be required either by a lender making a loan to Landlord to be secured by deed of trust or mortgage covering the Premises or a purchaser of the Premises from Landlord.

27. SURRENDER OF LEASE NOT MERGER. The voluntary or other surrender of this Lease by Tenant, or a mutual cancellation thereof, shall not work a merger and shall, at the option of Landlord, terminate all or any existing subleases or subtenants, or operate as an assignment to Landlord of any or all such subleases or subtenants.

28. WAIVER. The waiver by Landlord or Tenant of any breach of any term, covenant or condition or any subsequent breach of the same or any other term, covenant or condition herein contained shall not be deemed to be a waiver of such term, covenant or condition or any subsequent breach of the same or any other term, covenant or condition herein contained.

29. GENERAL.

(A) The captions and paragraph headings used in this Lease are for the purposes of convenience only. They shall not be construed to limit or extend the meaning of any part of this Lease.

(B) The term "Landlord" as used in this Lease, so far as the covenants or obligations on the part of Landlord are concerned, shall be limited to mean and include only the owner at the time in question of the fee title of the Premises, and in the event of any transfer or transfers of the title of such fee, the Landlord herein named (and in case of any subsequent transfers or conveyances, the then grantor) shall after the date of such transfer or conveyance be automatically freed and relieved of all liability with respect to performance of any covenants or obligations on the part of Landlord contained in this Lease, thereafter to be performed; provided, that any funds in the hands of Landlord or the then grantor at the time of such transfer, in which Tenant has an interest, shall be turned over to the grantee. It being intended that the covenants and obligations contained in this Lease on the part of Landlord shall, subject as aforesaid, be binding upon each Landlord, its heirs, personal representatives, successors and assigns only during its respective period of ownership.
(C) Any executed copy of this Agreement shall be deemed an original for all purposes.

(D) Time is of the essence for the performance of each term, covenant and condition of this Lease.

(E) In case any one or more of the provisions contained herein, except for the payment of rent, shall for any reason be held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability shall not affect any other provision of this Lease, but this Lease shall be construed as if such invalid, illegal or unenforceable provisions had not been contained herein. This Lease shall be construed and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of California.

(F) If Tenant is more than one person or entity, each such person or entity shall be jointly and severally liable for the obligations of Tenant hereunder.

(G) This Lease constitutes the entire understanding between the parties hereto and no addition to, or modification of, any term and provision of this Lease shall be effective until set forth in writing signed by both Landlord and Tenant.

30. SIGN. Tenant shall not place or permit to be placed any sign or decoration on the Premises or the exterior of the Building without the prior written consent of Landlord, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. Tenant, upon written notice by Landlord, shall immediately remove any sign or decoration that Tenant has placed or permitted to be placed on the land or the exterior of the Building without the prior written consent of Landlord, and if Tenant fails to so remove such sign or decoration within five (5) days after Landlord's written notice, Landlord may enter upon the Premises and remove said sign or decoration and Tenant agrees to pay Landlord, as additional rent upon demand, the cost of such removal. At the termination of this Lease, Tenant shall remove any sign which it has placed on the Premises or Building, and shall repair any damage caused by the installation or removal of such sign.

31. INTEREST ON PAST DUE OBLIGATIONS. Any amount due to Landlord not paid when due shall bear interest at the rate of ten percent (10%) per annum from the due date. Payment of such interest shall not excuse or cure any default by Tenant under this Lease.

32. SURRENDER OF THE PREMISES. On the last day of the term hereof, or on sooner termination of this Lease, Tenant shall surrender the Premises to Landlord in condition sufficient to be leased for general office purposes, excepting reasonable wear and tear and any damages or destruction caused by casualty or acts of God, with all painted interior walls washed, or repainted if marked or damaged, and other interior walls cleaned, and repaired or replaced, all carpets shampooed and cleaned, the air conditioning and heating equipment serviced and repaired by a reputable and licensed service firm (unless Landlord has elected to maintain heating and air conditioning pursuant to Section 9A above), all floors cleaned and waxed, all to the reasonable satisfaction of Landlord. Tenant shall remove all Tenant's personal property and trade fixtures from the Premises, and all property not so removed shall be deemed abandoned by Tenant. If the Premises are not so surrendered at the termination of this Lease, Tenant shall indemnify Landlord against loss or liability resulting from delay by Tenant in so surrendering the Premises including, without limitation, any claims made by any succeeding tenant or losses to Landlord due to lost opportunities to lease to succeeding tenants.
33. OPTION TO EXTEND.

(A) PERIOD. Provided that Tenant is not in default under this Lease at the end of the original term of this Lease, Tenant shall have the option to extend the term of the Lease for two (2) successive five (5) year periods on all of the same terms and conditions set forth in this Lease, except for the rental adjustment as provided in this Section 33. The option to extend for the first five (5) year period shall be exercisable only by Tenant giving Landlord written notice not less than one hundred twenty (120) days prior to the Expiration Date. The option to extend for the second five (5) year period shall be exercisable only by Tenant giving Landlord written notice not less than one hundred twenty (120) days prior to the expiration of the first option period.

(B) RENT FOR FIRST THIRTY MONTHS.

1. Sixty (60) days prior to the expiration of the original term of the Lease, Landlord and Tenant shall enter into negotiations with respect to the rent for the first thirty (30) months of the first five (5) year option.

2. In the event such agreement cannot be made within ninety (90) days prior to the expiration of the original term of the lease, the Landlord and Tenant shall each appoint an independent third party real estate professional who must have at least five (5) years experience in commercial industrial real estate brokerage in Santa Clara County and be a member of the Association of South Bay Brokers. If the difference as determined is 10% or less, the rent during the first thirty (30) months of the renewal term shall be the average of the two. If the difference is greater than 10%, a third professional shall be chosen jointly by the first two professionals and the three Fair Market Rent amounts shall be averaged to determine such rent.

(C) RENT AFTER FIRST THIRTY MONTHS.

1. After the first thirty (30) months of the first five (5) year option period, the rent shall be increased by twenty percent (20%) (“Adjusted Rent”).

2. Effective at the commencement of the second five (5) year period, the rent shall be as determined by using the same process stated in 33(b), above, for the first five (5) year option period (“Second Adjusted Rent”).

3. Effective thirty (30) months after the commencement of the second five (5) year option period, the rent shall be the Second Adjusted Rent increased by twenty percent (20%).

(D) RENT NOT LESS THAN PREVIOUS PERIOD. In no event shall the monthly rent during either option period be less than the monthly rent during the last month of the previous term or option period, as applicable.
