NOTES TO THE CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS—UNAUDITED AS OF DECEMBER 31, 2013 AND MARCH 31, 2014 , AND FOR THE THREE MONTHS ENDED MARCH 31, 2013 AND 2014
(In thousands except for share and per share data)

1. The Company and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Synacor, Inc., together with its consolidated subsidiary (collectively, the "Company"), is a leading provider of start experiences (startpages and homescreens), TV Everywhere, Identity Management (IDM), and various cloud-based services across multiple devices for cable, satellite, telecom and consumer electronics companies. The Company is also a leading provider of authentication and aggregation solutions enabling the delivery of personalized online content. The Company's technology allows its customers to package a wide array of personalized online content and cloud-based services with their high-speed Internet, communications, television and other digital offerings. The Company's customers offer the Company's services under their own brands on Internet-enabled devices such as PCs, tablets, smartphones and connected TVs.

Basis of Presentation — The interim unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes have been prepared in accordance with United States generally accepted accounting principles ("U.S. GAAP") and include the accounts of the Company and its wholly-owned subsidiary. Investments in entities in which the Company can exercise significant influence, but does not own a majority equity interest or otherwise have the power to control, are accounted for using the equity method and are included as investments in equity interest on the condensed consolidated balance sheets. All intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. In the opinion of the Company's management, the interim unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements include all adjustments, which include only normal recurring adjustments, necessary for the fair presentation of the Company's financial position for the periods presented. These interim unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements are not necessarily indicative of the results expected for the full fiscal year or for any subsequent period and should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements and related notes included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2013 .

Accounting Estimates — The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates, judgments and assumptions that affect the amounts reported and disclosed in the consolidated financial statements and the accompanying notes. The Company bases its estimates on historical experience and on various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities. Such estimates primarily relate to unsettled transactions and events as of the date of the consolidated financial statements. Accordingly, actual results may differ from estimated amounts.

Concentrations of Risk — As of December 31, 2013 and March 31, 2014 , and for the three months ended March 31, 2013 and 2014 , the Company had concentrations equal to or exceeding 10% of the Company's accounts receivable and revenue as follows:

	Accounts Receivable
	December 31, 2013	March 31, 2014
Google	47%	30%
Display Advertising Partner (1)	11%	N/A

Notes:
(1) As of March 31, 2014 , the accounts receivable of the Display Advertising Partner was less than 10%.

	Revenue
	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2013	2014
Google	54%	51%
Display Advertising Partner (1)	N/A	N/A

Notes:
(1) For the three months ended March 31, 2013 and 2014 , the revenue earned directly from the Display Advertising Partner was less than 10%.

For the three months ended March 31, 2013 and 2014 , the following customers received revenue-share payments equal to or exceeding 10% of the Company’s cost of revenue. The costs represent revenue share paid to customers for their supply of Internet traffic on the Company's start experiences:

	Cost of Revenue
	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2013	2014
Customer A	20%	23%
Customer B	14	15
Customer C	14	11
Customer D	11	10

Acquisitions — In January 2012, the Company acquired the assets of Carbyn, Inc., or Carbyn, an Ontario, Canada-based company. The assets acquired are principally comprised of mobile device software and technology and other intellectual property, which the Company expects to enhance its efforts in the development of next generation web applications for mobile devices. The aggregate purchase price was $1,100 for the acquired assets, of which $600 was paid upon consummation of the acquisition and the remaining $500 was paid in April 2013. In addition, the Company hired seven employees from Carbyn who accepted employment with Synacor Canada, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company. The acquisition and its impact on the consolidated financial statements are not material. The purchase price was allocated to the assets acquired based on their respective fair values as of the acquisition date, with the amount exceeding the fair value recorded as goodwill of $819 , which is expected to be deductible for tax purposes.

In November 2013, the Company acquired the assets of Teknision, Inc., or Teknision, an Ontario, Canada-based company. Teknision has created a development framework that accelerates the production of home screen and other Android applications. The Company expects to leverage the framework to enable a range of customer applications for Android devices. The Company also expects to enhance its presence in mobile and provide a platform for custom Android launchers and intelligent home screens for wireless carriers and consumer electronics companies. The aggregate purchase price is up to $1,005 for the acquired assets, of which $510 was paid upon consummation of the acquisition and the remaining $495 is due in May 2015 unless such amount is offset in satisfaction of certain indemnification obligations of Teknision. In addition, the Company hired eleven employees from Teknision who accepted employment with Synacor Canada, Inc. The acquisition and its impact on the condensed consolidated financial statements are not material. The purchase price was allocated to the assets acquired based on their respective fair values as of the acquisition date, with the amount exceeding the fair value recorded as goodwill of $746 , which is expected to be deductible for tax purposes.

2. Investments and Fair Value Measurements

In July 2013, the Company made a $1,000 investment (in the form of a convertible promissory note) in a privately held Delaware corporation called Blazer and Flip Flops, Inc., or B&FF (doing business as The Experience Engine). B&FF is a professional services company whose principals have experience integrating its customers' systems with their consumers' devices, including smartphones and tablets.

The investment in B&FF is considered an available-for-sale security and is reported on the Company’s condensed consolidated balance sheets as a convertible promissory note.

The provisions of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) Accounting Standard Codification (“ASC”) 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures , establish a framework for measuring the fair value in accounting principles generally accepted in the U.S. and establish a hierarchy that categorizes and prioritizes the sources to be used to estimate fair value as follows:

Level 1 - Level 1 inputs are defined as observable inputs such as quoted prices in active markets.

Level 2 - Level 2 inputs include quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability (interest rates, yield curves, etc.), and inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means (market corroborated inputs).

Level 3 - Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs that reflect the Company's determination of assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability. These inputs are developed based on the best information available, including the Company's own data.

The Company classifies its investment in B&FF within Level 3 because it is valued using unobservable inputs. As of March 31, 2014, the estimated fair value is equal to the carrying amount, which was the purchase price of $1,000 .

3. Property and Equipment—Net

Property and equipment, net consisted of the following (in thousands):

	December 31, 2013	March 31, 2014
Computer equipment (1)	$ 19,361	$ 19,526

Accrued content fees	580	1,111
Unearned revenue on contracts	247	235
Other	1,563	651
Total	$ 5,177	$ 4,193

5. Information About Segment and Geographic Areas

Operating segments are components of the Company in which separate financial information is available that is evaluated regularly by the Company's chief operating decision maker in deciding how to allocate resources and in assessing performance. The chief operating decision maker for the Company is the Chief Executive Officer. The Chief Executive Officer reviews financial information presented on a total Company basis, accompanied by information about revenue by major service line for purposes of allocating resources and evaluating financial performance. Profitability measures by service line are not routinely prepared or used. The Company has one business activity and there are no segment managers who are held accountable for operations, operating results or plans for levels or components below the Company level. Accordingly, the Company has determined that it has a single reporting segment and operating unit structure.

The following table sets forth revenue and long-lived tangible assets by geographic area (in thousands):

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2013	2014
Revenue
United States	$ 28,966	$ 25,078
United Kingdom	177	170
Total revenue	$ 29,143	$ 25,248

	December 31, 2013	March 31, 2014

United States	$ 13,825	$ 14,129
Netherlands	260	260
Total long-lived tangible assets	$ 14,085	$ 14,389

6. Commitments and Contingencies

Contract Commitments —The Company is obligated to make payments under various contracts with vendors and other business partners, principally for revenue-share and content arrangements. Contract commitments as of March 31, 2014 are summarized as follows (in thousands):

Year ending December 31:
2014 (remaining nine months)	$	3,503
2015		1,630
2016		1,080
2017		360
2018		—
Due after 5 years		—
Total contract commitments	$	6,573

Litigation — From time to time, the Company is a party to legal actions. In the opinion of management, the outcome of these matters is not expected to have a material impact on the consolidated financial statements of the Company.

7. Equity

Common Stock — Effective on February 15, 2012, the Company's board of directors and stockholders approved the Fifth Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation. The total number of common shares that the Company is authorized to issue is 100,000,000 with a par value of $0.01 per share.

Preferred Stock — Effective on February 15, 2012, the Company's board of directors and stockholders approved the Fifth Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation. The total number of preferred shares that the Company is authorized to issue is 10,000,000 with a par value of $0.01 per share. None have been issued to date.

Stock Repurchases - Effective February 26, 2014 the Board of Directors approved a Stock Repurchase Program, which authorizes a repurchase of up to $5,000 worth of the Company's outstanding common stock. The Stock Repurchase Program has no expiration date, and may be suspended or discontinued at any time without notice. The Company repurchased all shares with cash resources.

The following table sets forth the shares of common stock repurchased through the program:

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2013		2014
Shares of common stock repurchased		—		22,000
Value of common stock repurchased (In thousands)	$	—	$	56

8. Stock-based Compensation

The Company recorded $562 and $681 of stock-based compensation expense for the three months ended March 31, 2013 and 2014 , respectively. No income tax deduction is allowed for incentive stock options, or ISOs. Accordingly, no deferred income tax asset is recorded for the potential tax deduction related to these options. Expense related to stock option grants of non-qualified stock option ("NSOs") result in a temporary difference, which gives rise to a deferred tax asset.

Total stock-based compensation expense included in the accompanying condensed consolidated statements of operations for the periods presented, is as follows (in thousands):

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2013	2014
Research and development	$ 261	$ 327
Sales and marketing	76	108
General and administrative	225	246
Total stock-based compensation expense	$ 562	$ 681

Stock Option Activity —A summary of the stock option activity for the three months ended March 31, 2014 is presented below:

	Number of Stock Options	Weighted Average Exercise Price	Aggregate Intrinsic Value (in thousands)	Weighted Average Remaining Contractual Term (in years)
Outstanding—January 1, 2014	5,770,168	$ 3.85
Granted	127,000	2.51
Exercised	(101,501)	0.25
Forfeited	(163,459)	3.52
Outstanding—March 31, 2014	5,632,208	3.89	$ 761	7.27
Vested and expected to vest—March 31, 2014	5,209,298	3.83	$ 760	7.15
Vested and exercisable—March 31, 2014	2,812,810	3.46	$ 754	5.86

Aggregate intrinsic value represents the difference between the Company's closing stock price of its common stock and the exercise price of outstanding, in-the-money options. The Company's closing stock price as reported on the NASDAQ as of March 31, 2014 was $2.47 . The total intrinsic value of options exercised was approximately $225 for the three months ended March 31, 2014 .

The weighted average fair value of options issued during the three months ended March 31, 2014 amounted to $1.41 . The per-share fair value of each stock option was determined on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option pricing model using the following assumptions:

Grant Date	Options Granted	Weighted-Average Exercise Price	Expected Life of Options (In years)	Risk-Free Interest Rate	Expected Volatility	Expected Dividend Yield
February 12, 2014	102,500	$ 2.49	6.25	2.23%	58%	—%
March 19, 2014	24,500	$ 2.57	6.25	2.21%	58%	—%

As of March 31, 2014 , the unrecognized compensation cost related to non-vested options granted, for which vesting is probable, under the plan was approximately $5,517 . This cost is expected to be recognized over a weighted-average period of 2.5 years . The total fair value of shares vested was $550 for the three months ended March 31, 2014 .

RSU Activity— A summary of RSU activity for the three months ended March 31, 2014 , is as follows:

	Number of Shares	Weighted-Average Grant Date Fair Value
Unvested - January 1, 2014	45,000	$ 5.46
Granted	—	—
Released	(3,125)	5.82
Forfeited	(4,000)	3.68
Unvested - March 31, 2014	37,875	$ 5.62
Expected to vest—March 31, 2014	32,194	$ 5.62

As of March 31, 2014 , total unrecognized compensation cost, adjusted for estimated forfeitures, related to RSUs was approximately $181 , which is expected to be recognized over the next 2.70 years.

9. Investment in Equity Interest

In March 2013, the Company entered into a Joint Venture Agreement, pursuant to which it owns 50% of the outstanding common stock and 100% of the preferred shares of Synacor China, Ltd., or the JV Company. In July 2013 the Company provided $400 in initial funding, then $526 in additional funding as of December 31, 2013 and $245 during the three months ended March 31, 2014. The Company has agreed to provide approximately $800 in additional funding to the JV Company over the remainder of the two year period following the initial funding. The JV Company will, through its wholly foreign-owned subsidiary in the People's Republic of China (the "PRC"), supply start experiences, authentication and aggregation solutions for the delivery of online content and services to customers in the PRC.

The investment in the JV Company is being accounted for using the equity method and is classified as an investment in equity interest on the Company's condensed consolidated balance sheets. The Company records its share of the results of the JV Company within earnings in equity interest. Because the Company provided nearly all of the capital to form the JV Company, the Company has recorded 100% of the losses incurred by the JV Company within earnings in equity interest in the condensed consolidated statements of operations. Since acquiring its interest in the JV Company in 2013, the Company has recorded, in retained earnings, cumulative losses in equity interest of $807 .

The following tables represents summarized financial information of the JV Company for the three months ended March 31, 2013 and 2014 , and as of December 31, 2013 and March 31, 2014:

	March 31, 2013	March 31, 2014
Revenue	$ —	$ —
Loss from operations	—	(246)
Net Loss	$ —	$ (246)

	December 31, 2013	March 31, 2014

Total Liabilities	$ 77	$ 187

10. Net Income (Loss) Per Common Share Data

Basic net income (loss) per share is computed using the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted net income (loss) per share is computed using the weighted-average number of common shares and, if dilutive, potential common shares outstanding during the period. The Company's potential common shares consist of the incremental common shares issuable upon the exercise of stock options, and to a lesser extent, shares issuable upon the release of RSUs. The dilutive effect of these potential common shares is reflected in diluted earnings per share by application of the treasury stock method.

The following table presents the calculation of basic and diluted net income (loss) per share for the three month periods ended March 31, 2013 and 2014 (in thousands, except share and per share amounts):

	Three Months Ended, March 31,
	2013	2014

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

This quarterly report on Form 10-Q contains "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. In addition, we may make other written and oral communications from time to time that contain such statements. Forward-looking statements include statements as to industry trends and future expectations of ours and other matters that do not relate strictly to historical facts. These statements are often identified by the use of words such as "may," "expect," "believe," "anticipate," "intend," "could," "estimate," or "continue," and similar expressions or variations. These statements are based on the beliefs and assumptions of our management based on information currently available to management. Such forward-looking statements are subject to risks, uncertainties and other factors that could cause actual results and the timing of certain events to differ materially from future results expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements include statements in this Item 2, "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations." Factors that could cause or contribute to such differences include, but are not limited to, those identified below, and those discussed in the section titled "Risk Factors" included elsewhere in this Form 10-Q and in our other Securities and Exchange Commission filings, including our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2013 . Furthermore, such forward-looking statements speak only as of the date of this report. We undertake no obligation to update any forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date of such statements.

The following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations should be read in conjunction with the condensed consolidated financial statements and related notes thereto appearing elsewhere in this Form 10-Q and with the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto and management's discussion and analysis of financial condition and results of operation appearing in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2013 .

Overview

We are a leading provider of start experiences (startpages and homescreens), TV Everywhere, Identity Management (IDM), and various cloud-based services across multiple devices for cable, satellite, telecom and consumer electronics companies. For these customers, we are also a leading provider of authentication and aggregation solutions enabling the delivery of personalized online content. Our technology allows our customers to package a wide array of personalized online content and cloud-based services with their high-speed Internet, communications, television and other offerings. Our customers offer our services under their own brands on Internet-enabled devices such as PCs, tablets, smartphones and connected TVs.

We generate revenue from search and display advertising and by charging subscriber-based fees for services and products delivered through our start experiences. Our results are driven primarily by our customer mix, the product and service mix preferences of those customers and the pricing of those products and services. We generate the majority of our revenue from search and display advertising on our start experiences, which comprise consumer-facing components of our technology. Adding new customers with large consumer bases and expansion of our relationships with existing customers have historically resulted in an increasing shift in our revenue mix towards search and display advertising revenue. Growth in our business (through growth in search and display advertising revenue) is dependent on new customers adopting our solutions and their respective consumers' use of our start experiences ramping up as described below. Increases in search and display advertising revenue are largely driven by our model of sharing a portion of this search and advertising revenue with our customers. As we expand our cloud-based and value added services offerings, we expect to generate increased subscriber-based revenue from our customers.

For the three months ended March 31, 2014 , search and display advertising revenue was $19.9 million, a decrease of 17% compared to $24.1 million for the three months ended March 31, 2013 . Over the same period, our unique visitors decreased by 3%, our search queries decreased by 27% and our advertising impressions decreased by 25%. Search revenue decreased by $2.9 million for the three months ended March 31, 2014 compared to the same period ended March 31, 2013. We believe a material portion of the decrease was due to the placement of our start experiences on the second tab of the default Windows 8 Internet browser by our consumer electronics customers. In addition, and to a lesser extent, we believe the decrease was due to lower search activity associated with the increased usage of other devices such as tablets and smartphones generally across the consumer base. We anticipate that search activity will increase on smartphones and tablets in the future and, although our search queries are down, we believe that our continuing investment in mobile products, such as our acquisitions of Carbyn and Teknision, will allow us to compete more effectively for search activity on smartphones and tablets. Display advertising revenue decreased by $1.3 million for the three months ended March 31, 2014 compared to the same period ended March 31, 2013 as a result of pricing changes in one of our customer contracts, another customer's implementation of more secure webmail, which affected our ability to insert display advertising on that customer's webmail site, and operational changes in practices and policies for display advertising. We anticipate video advertising may become an increasing percentage of our advertising revenue which may also serve to increase our advertising cost per thousand impressions (referred to as cost per mille, or CPMs). We also anticipate that the signing, and launching, of new customers and our mobile product initiatives may help add new search and display advertising revenue in future years.

Our subscriber-based revenue consists of fees charged for the use of our proprietary technology and for the use of, or access to, services, such as e-mail, security, TV Everywhere, online games, music and other value added services and paid content. During the three months ended March 31, 2014 , subscriber-based revenue was $5.3 million, an increase of 6% compared to $5.1 million for the three months ended March 31, 2013 . This increase is primarily driven by growth in our TV Everywhere services to our customers. We believe there are opportunities to generate new sources of subscriber-based revenue, such as the introduction of new value added services, including those delivered on smartphones and tablets. We believe that the variety of value added services and the introduction of new value added services will also drive increased search and display advertising revenue.

As we obtain new customers and those new customers introduce our start experiences to their consumers, we expect that usage of our solutions and our revenue from our start experiences to increase over time. There are a variety of reasons for this ramp-up period. For example, a new customer may migrate its consumers from its existing technology to our technology over a period of time. Moreover, a new customer may initially launch a selection of our services and products, rather than our entire suite of offerings, and subsequently broaden their service and product offerings over time. When a customer launches a new service or product, marketing and promotional activities may be required to generate awareness and interest among consumers. Search and display advertising revenue typically grows significantly during the first one to three years after a customer launch, although there can be notable variances from customer to customer. Thereafter, changes in revenue tend to mirror changes in the consumer base of the applicable customer.

For the three months ended March 31, 2014 , we derived revenue from over 50 customers, with revenue attributable to four customers, CenturyLink, Inc. or CenturyLink (including revenue attributable to Qwest Communications International, Inc., or Qwest, which merged with CenturyLink in April 2011), Charter Communications Inc., or Charter, Verizon Corporate Services Group, Inc., or Verizon, and Toshiba America Information Systems, Inc., or Toshiba, together accounting for approximately 66% of our revenue for the three months ended March 31, 2014 , or $16.7 million. One of these customers accounted for 20% or more of revenue in the period, and revenue attributable to each of the other three customers accounted for more than 10% in such period.

Revenue attributable to our customers includes the subscriber-based revenue earned directly from them, as well as the search and display advertising revenue generated through our relationships with our search and display advertising partners (such as Google Inc., or Google, for search advertising and advertising networks, advertising agencies and advertisers for display advertising). This revenue is attributable to our customers because it is produced from the traffic on our start experiences. These partners provide us with advertisements that we then deliver with search results and other content on our start experiences. Since our search advertising partner, Google, and our advertising network partners generate their revenue by selling those advertisements, we create a revenue stream for these partners. In the three months ended March 31, 2014 , search advertising through our relationship with Google generated approximately 51% of our revenue, or $13.0 million (all of which was attributable to our customers).

The initiatives described below under “Key Initiatives” are expected to contribute to our ability to maintain and grow revenue and return to profitability via increases in advertising revenue, increases in customers and our consumer reach, and increases in availability of products across more devices. We expect the period in which we experience a return on future investments in each of these initiatives to differ. For example, more direct advertising at higher CPMs would be expected to have an immediate and direct impact on profitability while expansion into international markets may require an investment that involves a longer term return. We intend to utilize a portion of our cash and cash equivalents to improve our ability to achieve consistent profitability in the future by enhancing our technology and our systems capabilities to more efficiently support our customers, develop new products and features and report upon, analyze and manage the financial performance of the business.

Key Initiatives

We are focused on several key initiatives to drive our business:

- add new customers, and expand our existing offerings with current cable, telecom, satellite and consumer electronics customers, in order to increase our consumer reach;
- continue to expand our offerings of, and invest in, mobile technology and cloud-based services such as e-mail and TV Everywhere and increase the number of customers using our TV Everywhere technology;
- extend the availability of our existing and new products and services to additional devices including tablets and smartphones;

- enhance our direct advertising sales effort to increase the CPMs derived from advertising;
- expand our presence into international markets; and
- invest in and acquire new technologies and products.

Key Business Metrics

In addition to the line items in our consolidated financial statements, we regularly review a number of business metrics related to Internet traffic and search and display advertising to evaluate our business, determine the allocation of resources and make decisions regarding business strategies. We believe disclosing these metrics is useful for investors and analysts to understand the underlying trends in our business. The following table summarizes our key business metrics, which are unaudited, for the three months ended March 31, 2013 and 2014 :

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2013	2014
Key Business Metrics:
Unique Visitors (1)	20,260,966	19,688,198
Search Queries (2)	211,644,797	153,823,577
Advertising Impressions (3)	11,483,034,070	8,586,809,481

Notes:
(1) Reflects the number of unique visitors to our start experiences computed on an average monthly basis during the applicable period.
(2) Reflects the total number of search queries during the applicable period.
(3) Reflects the total number of advertising impressions during the applicable period.

Unique Visitors

We define unique visitors as consumers who have visited one of our start experiences at least once during a particular time period. We rely on comScore to provide this data. comScore estimates this data based on the U.S. portion of the Internet activity of its worldwide panel of consumers and its proprietary data collection method.

Search Queries

We define search queries as the number of instances in which a consumer entered a query into a search bar on our start experiences during a particular time period. We rely on reports from our search partner, Google, to measure the number of such instances.

Advertising Impressions

We define advertising impressions as graphical, textual or video paid advertisements displayed to consumers on our start experiences during a particular time period. We rely on reports from technology and advertising partners, including DoubleClick (a division of Google), to measure the number of advertising impressions delivered on our platform.

Components of our Results of Operations

Revenue

We derive our revenue from two categories: revenue generated from search and display advertising activities and subscriber-based revenue, each of which is described below. We record our search and display advertising revenue on a gross basis, which includes the net amount received from Google under our agreement with them.

The following table shows the revenue in each category, both in amount and as a percentage of revenue, for the three months ended March 31, 2013 and 2014 :

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2013	2014
	(in thousands)
Revenue:
Search and display advertising	$ 24,086	$ 19,908
Subscriber-based	5,057	5,340
Total revenue	$ 29,143	$ 25,248
Percentage of revenue:
Search and display advertising	83%	79%
Subscriber-based	17	21
Total revenue	100%	100%

Search and Display Advertising Revenue

We use Internet search and display advertising to generate revenue from the traffic on our start experiences.

- In the case of search advertising, we have a revenue-sharing relationship with Google, pursuant to which we include a Google-branded search tool on our start experiences. When a consumer makes a search query using this tool, we deliver the query to Google and they return search results to consumers that include advertiser-sponsored links. If the consumer clicks on a sponsored link, Google receives payment from the sponsor of that link and shares a portion of that payment with us, which we in turn share with the applicable customer. The net payment we receive from Google is recognized as revenue.

- We generate display advertising revenue when consumers view or click on a text, graphic or video advertisement that was delivered on a Synacor-operated start experience. We fill our advertising inventory with advertisements sourced by our direct salesforce, independent advertising sales representatives and advertising network partners. Revenue may be calculated differently depending on our agreements with our advertisers or the agreements between our advertising network partners and their advertisers. It may be calculated on a cost per impression basis, which means the advertiser pays based on the number of times its advertisements appear, or a cost per action basis, which means that an advertiser pays when a consumer performs an action after engaging one of its advertisements, or on a fixed fee basis. Historically only a small percentage of our display advertising revenue has been calculated on a cost per action basis or fixed fee basis.

Subscriber-Based Revenue

We define subscriber-based revenue as subscription fees and other fees that we receive from our customers for the use of our proprietary technology and the use of, or access to, e-mail, TV Everywhere, security, games and other services, including value added services and paid content. Monthly subscriber levels typically form the basis for calculating and generating subscriber-based revenue. They are generally determined by multiplying a per-subscriber per-month fee by the number of subscribers using the particular services being offered or consumed. In other cases, the fee is fixed. We recognize revenue from our customers as the service is delivered.

Costs and Expenses

Cost of Revenue

Cost of revenue consists of revenue sharing, content acquisition costs and co-location facility costs. Revenue sharing consists of amounts accrued and paid to our customers for the traffic on the start experiences we operate for them that results in the generation of search and display advertising revenue. The revenue-sharing agreements with our customers are primarily variable payments based on a percentage of the search and display advertising revenue. Content acquisition agreements may be based on a fixed payment schedule, on the number of subscribers per month, or a combination of both. Fixed-payment agreements are expensed over the term defined in the agreement. Agreements based on the number of subscribers are expensed on a monthly basis. Co-location facility costs consist of rent and operating costs for our data center facilities.

Research and Development

Research and development expenses consist primarily of compensation-related expenses incurred for the development of, enhancements to, and maintenance and operation of our technology and related infrastructure.

Sales and Marketing

Sales and marketing expenses consist primarily of compensation-related expenses to our direct sales and marketing personnel, as well as costs related to advertising, industry conferences, promotional materials, and other sales and marketing programs. Advertising cost is expensed as incurred.

General and Administrative

General and administrative expenses consist primarily of compensation-related expenses for executive management, finance, accounting, human resources and other administrative functions.

Depreciation

Depreciation includes depreciation of our computer hardware and software, furniture and fixtures, leasehold improvements, and other property, and depreciation on capital leased assets.

Other (Expense) Income

Other income (expense) consists primarily of interest income earned and foreign exchange gains and losses.

Interest Expense

Interest expense primarily consists of expenses associated with our capital leases.

Provision (benefit) for Income Taxes

Income tax expense (benefit) consists of federal and state income taxes in the United States and taxes in certain foreign jurisdictions.

Loss in Equity Interest

Loss in equity interest represents our percentage share of losses in investments in entities in which we can can exercise significant influence, but do not own a majority equity interest or otherwise control.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

Our discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations is based upon our condensed consolidated financial statements, which have been prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP. The preparation of these condensed consolidated financial statements requires us to make estimates, judgments and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue and expenses, and the related disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. We base our estimates on historical experience and on various other assumptions that we believe are reasonable under the circumstances. Our estimates form the basis for our judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

An accounting policy is considered to be critical if it requires an accounting estimate to be made based on assumptions about matters that are highly uncertain at the time the estimate is made, and if different estimates that reasonably could have been used, or changes in the accounting estimate that are reasonably likely to occur, could materially impact the condensed consolidated financial statements. We believe that our critical accounting policies reflect the more significant estimates and assumptions used in the preparation of the condensed consolidated financial statements.

For a discussion of our critical accounting policies and estimates, see “Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates” included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2013 under the caption Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations. We have made no significant changes to our critical accounting policies and estimates from those described in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2013 .

Adjusted EBITDA

To provide investors with additional information regarding our financial results, we have disclosed within this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q adjusted EBITDA, a non-GAAP financial measure. We have provided a reconciliation below of adjusted EBITDA to net income (loss), the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure.

We have included adjusted EBITDA in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q because it is a key measure used by our management and board of directors to understand and evaluate our core operating performance and trends, to prepare and approve our annual budget and to develop short- and long-term operational plans. In particular, the exclusion of certain expenses in calculating adjusted EBITDA can provide a useful measure for period-to-period comparisons of our core business. Additionally, adjusted EBITDA is a key financial measure used by the compensation committee of our board of directors in connection with the payment of bonuses to our executive officers. Accordingly, we believe that adjusted EBITDA provides useful information to investors and others in understanding and evaluating our operating results in the same manner as our management and board of directors.

Our use of adjusted EBITDA has limitations as an analytical tool, and you should not consider it in isolation or as a substitute for analysis of our results as reported under U.S. GAAP. Some of these limitations are:

- although depreciation is a non-cash charge, the assets being depreciated may have to be replaced in the future, and adjusted EBITDA does not reflect capital expenditure requirements for such replacements or for new capital expenditure requirements;
- adjusted EBITDA does not reflect changes in, or cash requirements for, our working capital needs;
- adjusted EBITDA does not consider the potentially dilutive impact of equity-based compensation;
- adjusted EBITDA does not reflect tax payments that may represent a reduction in cash available to us; and
- other companies, including companies in our industry, may calculate adjusted EBITDA differently, which reduces its usefulness as a comparative measure.

Because of these limitations, you should consider adjusted EBITDA alongside other financial performance measures, including various cash flow metrics, net income (loss) and our other U.S. GAAP results. The following table presents a reconciliation of adjusted EBITDA to net income (loss) for each of the periods indicated:

Comparison of the Three Months ended March 31, 2013 and 2014

Revenue

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2013	2014	% Change
	(in thousands)
Revenue:
Search and display advertising	$ 24,086	$ 19,908	(17)%
Subscriber-based	5,057	5,340	6
Total revenue	$ 29,143	$ 25,248	(13)
Percentage of revenue:
Search and display advertising	83%	79%
Subscriber-based	17	21
Total revenue	100%	100%

Three months ended 2013 compared to 2014 . Revenue decreased by $3.9 million, or 13%, compared to the same period in 2013. Search revenue decreased by $2.9 million. We believe a material portion of the decrease was due to the placement of our start experiences on the second tab of the default Windows 8 Internet browser by our consumer electronics customers. In addition, and to a lesser extent, we believe the decrease was due to lower search activity associated with the increased usage of other devices such as tablets and smartphones generally across the consumer base and due to a change in the way we monetize searches through our start experiences. Display advertising revenue decreased by $1.3 million as a result of pricing changes in one of our customer contracts, another customer's implementation of more secure webmail, which affected our ability to insert display advertising on that customer's webmail site, and operational changes in practices and policies for display advertising. Subscriber-based revenue increased $0.3 million, or 6% compared to the same period in 2013 mainly due to growth in adoption of our TV Everywhere service by our customers.

Cost of Revenue

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2013	2014	% Change
	(in thousands)
Cost of revenue	$ 15,764	$ 13,876	(12)%
Percentage of revenue	54%	55%

Three months ended 2013 compared to 2014 . Our cost of revenue decreased by $1.9 million, or 12%, compared to 2013. The decrease in our cost of revenue was driven by a decrease in revenue-sharing costs due to decreased search and display advertising. Cost of revenue as a percentage of revenue increased slightly to 55% of revenue from 54% of revenue.

Research and Development Expenses

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2013	2014	% Change
	(in thousands)
Research and development	$ 6,865	$ 7,492	9%
Percentage of revenue	24%	30%

Three months ended 2013 compared to 2014 . Research and development expenses increased by $0.6 million, or 9%, compared to 2013. The increase was primarily due to increases in employee-related costs as a result of the increase in headcount to support new product initiatives.

Sales and Marketing Expenses

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2013	2014	% Change
	(in thousands)
Sales and marketing	$ 2,130	$ 2,137	—%
Percentage of revenue	7%	8%

Three months ended 2013 compared to 2014 . Sales and marketing expenses remained relatively consistent increasing slightly compared to 2013.

General and Administrative Expenses

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2013	2014	% Change
	(in thousands)
General and administrative	$ 3,144	$ 3,099	(1)%
Percentage of revenue	11%	12%

Three months ended 2013 compared to 2014 . General and administrative expenses remained relatively consistent, decreasing slightly by 1% compared to 2013.

Depreciation

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2013	2014	% Change
	(in thousands)
Depreciation	$ 1,130	$ 1,058	(6)%
Percentage of revenue	4%	4%

Three months ended 2013 compared to 2014 . Depreciation decreased by $0.1 million, or 6% compared to 2013. This decrease was primarily driven by the timing of purchases of assets such as computer equipment to support our investment in new projects.

Other (expense) income

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2013	2014	% Change
	(in thousands)
Other (expense) income	(7)	8	(214)%

Our other (expense) income consists mainly of interest income coupled with foreign currency transaction losses related to our international operations.

Interest Expense

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2013	2014	% Change
	(in thousands)
Interest expense	$ 58	$ 88	52%

Our interest expense consists mainly of interest due on our capital lease obligations.

Provision (Benefit) for Income Taxes

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2013	2014
	(in thousands)
Provision (benefit) for income taxes	$ 18	$ (684)

Our income tax expense for the three months ended March 31, 2013 was nominal, whereas we recorded a benefit of $0.7 million as a result of the taxable loss we experienced during the three months ended March 31, 2014.

Loss in Equity Interest

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2013	2014
	(in thousands)
Loss in equity interest	$ —	$ (246)

In 2013 we entered into a Joint Venture Agreement, pursuant to which we own 50% of the outstanding common stock and 100% of the preferred shares of Synacor China, Ltd., or the JV Company. For the three months ended March 31, 2014, we recorded our share of the losses of the JV Company of $0.2 million.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our primary liquidity and capital resource requirements are for financing working capital, investing in capital expenditures such as computer hardware and software, supporting research and development efforts, introducing new technology, enhancing existing technology, and marketing our services and products to new and existing customers. To the extent that existing cash and cash equivalents, cash from operations and cash from short-term borrowings are insufficient to fund our future activities, we may need to raise additional funds through public or private equity offerings or debt financings.

In September 2013, we entered into a new Loan and Security Agreement, or Loan Agreement, with Silicon Valley Bank, or Lender. The Loan Agreement provides for a $10.0 million secured revolving line of credit with a stated maturity of September 27, 2015. The credit facility is available for cash borrowings, subject to a formula based upon eligible accounts receivable. As of March 31, 2014, due to the operation of the borrowing formula, $7.3 million was available under the revolving credit line, with no outstanding borrowings.

Borrowings under the Loan Agreement bear interest, at our election, at an annual rate of either 0.50% above the "prime rate" as published in The Wall Street Journal or LIBOR for the relevant period plus 3.00%. For LIBOR advances, interest is payable (i) on the last day of a LIBOR interest period or (ii) on the last day of each calendar quarter. For prime rate advances, interest is payable (a) on the first day of each month and (b) on each date a prime rate advance is converted into a LIBOR advance.

We paid a commitment fee of $50,000 upon the closing of the facility, and must pay quarterly, in arrears, an unused facility fee of 0.50% per annum of the average unused portion of the facility (as determined by the Lender). Additionally, if we terminate the facility prior to the first anniversary of the closing date, we must pay the Lender a termination fee of $100,000 unless the facility is replaced with a new facility from the Lender.

Our obligations to the Lender are secured by a first priority security interest in all our assets, including our intellectual property. The Loan Agreement contains customary events of default, including non-payment of principal or interest, violations of covenants, material adverse changes, cross-default, bankruptcy and material judgments. Upon the occurrence of an event of default, the Lender may accelerate repayment of any outstanding balance. The Loan Agreement also contains certain financial covenants and other agreements that are customary in loan agreements of this type, including restrictions on paying dividends and making distributions to our stockholders. As of March 31, 2014, we were in compliance with the covenants and anticipate continuing to be so.

Under the terms of our joint venture agreement with the JV Company, we have agreed, upon the satisfaction of certain conditions, to provide approximately $0.8 million in additional funding to the JV Company over the remainder of the two year period following the initial investment through the purchase of non-voting, non-convertible Series A preferred shares of the JV Company.

As of March 31, 2014 , we had approximately $ 33.0 million of cash and cash equivalents and money market funds. We did not have any short-term or long-term investments. We believe that our existing cash and cash equivalents, along with cash flows from operations and availability under our revolving credit line, will be sufficient to meet our anticipated working capital, capital lease payment obligations, JV Company funding obligations and capital expenditure requirements for at least the next 12 months.

	(in thousands)
Statements of Cash Flows Data:
Cash flows used in operating activities	$ (746)	$ (1,166)
Cash flows used in investing activities	(544)	(1,764)
Cash flows used in financing activities	(504)	(515)

Cash Used in Operating Activities

In the three months ended March 31, 2013, operating activities used $0.7 million of cash. The cash flow used in operating activities primarily resulted from our net income, adjusted for non-cash items, and changes in our operating assets and liabilities. We had net income of $0.0 million, which included non-cash depreciation of $1.1 million and non-cash stock-based compensation of $0.6 million. Changes in our operating assets and liabilities used $2.5 million of cash, primarily due to a decrease of our accounts payable of $1.4 million and a decrease of our accrued expenses and other current liabilities of $1.9 mill ion, partially offset by a decrease in accounts receivable of $1.1 million. The decrease in accounts payable was primarily driven by lower revenue-share payments associated with our decrease in revenue. The decrease in accrued expenses and other current liability was primarily driven by the payment of bonuses earned and expensed in 2012 and paid in 2013. The decrease in accounts receivable is primarily driven by the lower search and display advertising revenue in the three months ended March 31, 2013.

In the three months ended March 31, 2014 operating activities used $1.2 million of cash. The cash flow from operating activities primarily resulted from our net loss, adjusted for non-cash items, and changes in our operating assets and liabilities. Net loss was $2.1 million, which included non-cash depreciation of $1.1 million, non-cash stock-based compensation of $0.7 million and a non-cash loss in an equity interest of $0.2 million, offset by non-cash change in deferred income tax provision of $0.7 million. Changes in our operating assets and liabilities used $0.4 million of cash, primarily due to a net use of cash related to prepaid expenses and other assets of $0.5 million, combined with an increase of our accounts payable of $1.3 million and a decrease in our accrued expenses and other current liabilities of $1.2 million. The increase in our accounts payable was primarily driven by the timing of the receipt of invoices from our vendors. The decrease in accrued expenses and other current liabilities was primarily due to the decrease of accrued compensation costs of $0.6 million primarily relating to bonuses earned and accrued in 2013 and paid in 2014 and the timing of the receipt of vendor invoices. The increase in our prepaid and other current assets was primarily due to the increase of prepayments to vendors for components of our cost of revenue and insurance coverages in the three months ended March 31, 2014.

Cash Used in Investing Activities

Our primary investing activities have consisted of purchases of property and equipment and investments made in the JV Company. Purchases of property and equipment may vary from period to period due to the timing of the expansion of our operations and internal-use software development. We expect to continue to invest in property and equipment and development of software for the remainder of 2014 and thereafter.

Cash used in investing activities in the three months ended March 31, 2013 was $0.5 million and was primarily used for purchases of property and equipment specifically related to the build out of our data centers and internal-use software development.

Cash used in investing activities in the three months ended March 31, 2014 was $1.8 million, consisting of $1.5 million used for purchases of property and equipment specifically related to the build out of our data centers and internal-use software development, and $0.2 million used for an investment in an equity interest in the JV Company.

Cash Used in Financing Activities

For the three months ended March 31, 2013, net cash used in financing activities was $0.5 million primarily for repayment of $0.6 million on our capital lease obligations partially offset by proceeds of $0.1 million from the exercise of common stock options.

For the three months ended March 31, 2014, net cash used in financing activities was $0.5 million primarily for repayment of $0.5 million on our capital lease obligations. Cash used for the purchase of treasury stock and received from the exercise of common stock options were nominal.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

As of March 31, 2014 , we did not have any off-balance sheet arrangements, as defined in Item 303(a)(4)(ii) of Regulation S-K promulgated by the SEC, that have or are reasonably likely to have a current or future effect on our financial condition, changes in our financial condition, revenues, or expenses, results of operations, liquidity, capital expenditures, or capital resources that is material to investors.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosure About Market Risk

We have operations both within the United States and internationally, and we are exposed to market risks in the ordinary course of our business. These primarily include interest rate and inflation risk.

Interest Rate Risk

Our cash and cash equivalents primarily consist of cash and money market funds. Other than our $1.0 million investment in B&FF and the $0.4 million investment in equity interest in the JV Company, we currently have no investments of any type. Our exposure to market risk for changes in interest rates is limited because nearly all of our cash and cash equivalents have a short-term maturity and are used primarily for working capital purposes.

Inflation Risk

We do not believe that inflation has had a material effect on our business, financial condition or results of operations. If our costs were to become subject to significant inflationary pressures, we may not be able to fully offset such higher costs through price increases. Our inability or failure to do so could harm our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Our management, with the participation of our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as of March 31, 2014 . The term “disclosure controls and procedures,” as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or the Exchange Act, means controls and other procedures of a company that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC’s rules and forms. Disclosure controls and procedures include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to the company’s management, including its principal executive and principal financial officers, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. Based upon the evaluation as of March 31, 2014 , our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have concluded that, as of such date, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective at the reasonable assurance level. Management recognizes that any controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance of achieving their objectives and management necessarily applies its judgment in evaluating the cost-benefit relationship of possible controls and procedures.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting identified in management’s evaluation pursuant to Rules 13a-15 (d) or 15d-15(d) of the Exchange Act during the quarter ended March 31, 2014 that materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

PART II — OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

From time to time, we may become involved in legal proceedings arising in the ordinary course of our business. We are not presently involved in any legal proceedings, the outcome of which, if determined adversely to us, would have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations or financial condition.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

Our business and financial results are subject to numerous risks and uncertainties, including those described below, which could adversely and materially affect our business, financial condition or results of operations. You should carefully consider these risks and uncertainties, including the following risk factors and all other information contained in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, together with any other documents we file with the SEC. Risks and uncertainties not currently known to us or that we currently deem to be immaterial may in the future materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Risks Related to Our Business

Our search advertising partner, Google, accounts for a significant portion of our revenue, and any loss of, or diminution in, our business relationship with Google would materially and adversely affect our financial performance.

We rely on traffic on our start experiences to generate search and display advertising revenue, a substantial portion of which is derived from text-based links to advertisers' websites as a result of Internet searches. We have a revenue-sharing relationship with Google under which we include a Google-branded search tool on our start experiences. When a consumer makes a search request using this tool, we deliver it to Google, and Google returns search results to us that include advertiser-sponsored links. If the consumer clicks on a sponsored link, Google receives payment from the sponsor of that link and shares a portion of that payment with us. We then typically share a portion of that payment with the applicable customer. Our Google-related search advertising revenue attributable to our customers, which consists of the portion of the payment from the sponsor that Google shares with us, accounted for approximately 57%, 56%, and 51% of our revenue in 2011, 2012, and 2013, or $51.5 million, $68.5 million, and $57.5 million, respectively, and approximately 51% of our revenue in the three months ended March 31, 2014 , or $13.0 million. Our agreement with Google was renewed in March 2014 for a three year term and expires in February 2017 unless we and Google mutually elect to renew it. Additionally, Google may terminate our agreement if we experience a change in control, if we enter into an agreement providing for a change in control, if we do not maintain certain search and display advertising revenue levels or if we fail to conform to Google's search policies and advertising policies. Google may from time to time change its existing, or establish new, methodologies and metrics for valuing the quality of Internet traffic. Any changes in these methodologies, metrics and advertising technology platforms could decrease the advertising rates that we receive and/or the amount of revenue that we generate from display advertisements. If advertisers were to discontinue their advertising via Internet searches, if Google's revenue from search-based advertising were to decrease, if Google's share of the search revenue were to be increased or if our agreement with Google were to be terminated for any reason or renewed on less favorable terms, our business, financial condition and results of operations would be materially and adversely affected. Moreover, consumers' increased use of search tools other than the Google-branded search tool we provide would have similar effects.

A loss of any significant customer could negatively affect our financial performance.

We derive a substantial portion of our revenue from a small number of customers. Revenue attributable to these customers includes the subscriber-based revenue earned directly from them, as well as the search and display advertising revenue earned through our relationships with our advertising partners, such as Google, based on traffic generated from our start experiences. For example, revenue attributable to Charter, CenturyLink (including our revenue attributable to Qwest) and Toshiba together accounted for approximately 62% of our revenue for the year ended December 31, 2011, or $56.9 million, with revenue attributable to one of these customers accounting for 20% or more in such period and revenue attributable to each of the other two customers accounting for more than 10% in such period. Revenue attributable to Charter, CenturyLink (including revenue attributable to Qwest), Toshiba and Verizon together accounted for approximately 73% of our revenue for the year ended December 31, 2012, or $88.4 million, with revenue attributable to one of these customers accounting for 20% or more in such period and revenue attributable to each of the other three customers accounting for more than 10% in such period. Revenue attributable to Charter, CenturyLink (including revenue attributable to Qwest), Toshiba and Verizon together accounted for approximately 68% of our revenue for the year ended December 31, 2013, or $75.6 million, with revenue attributable to one of these customers accounting for 20% or more in such period and revenue attributable to each of the other three customers accounting for more than 10% in such period. Revenue attributable to Charter, CenturyLink (including revenue attributable to Qwest), Toshiba and Verizon together accounted for approximately 66% of our revenue for the three months ended March 31, 2014 , or $16.7 million, with revenue attributable to one of these customers accounting for 20% or more in such period and revenue attributable to each of the other three customers accounting for more than 10% in such period.

Our contracts with our customers generally have an initial term of approximately two to three years from the launch of their start experiences and frequently provide for one or more automatic renewal terms of one to two years each. If any one of these key contracts is not renewed or is otherwise terminated, or if revenue from these significant customers declines because of competitive or other reasons, our revenue would decline and our ability to achieve or sustain profitability would be impaired. In addition to the loss of subscriber-based revenue, including start experience and paid content sales, we would also lose significant revenue from the related search and display advertising services that we provide. In addition to the decline of revenue, we may have to impair our long-lived assets, to the extent that such assets are used exclusively to support these customers, which would adversely impact our results of operations and financial position.

We have a history of significant net losses and may not be profitable in future periods.

We have incurred significant losses in each year of operation other than 2009, 2011, and 2012, including a net loss of $3.6 million in 2010 and a net loss of $1.4 million in 2013. We experienced a net loss of $2.1 million in the three months ended March 31, 2014 as compared to a net income of $0.0 million for the three months ended March 31, 2013 . Our net income in 2009, 2011, and 2012 was $0.3 million, $9.9 million, and $3.8 million, respectively. Our expenses may increase in future periods as we implement initiatives designed to grow our business including, among other things, the development and marketing of new services and products, licensing of content, expansion of our infrastructure and international expansion. If our revenue does not sufficiently increase to offset these expected increases in operating expenses, we may incur significant losses and may not be profitable. Our revenue for the three months ended March 31, 2014 declined as compared to the same period in 2013. Accordingly, we may not be able to maintain profitability in the future. Any failure to maintain profitability may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Many individuals are using devices other than personal computers and software applications other than Internet browsers to access the Internet. If users of these devices and software applications do not widely adopt the applications and other solutions we develop for them, our business could be adversely affected.

The number of people who access the Internet through devices other than PCs, including tablets, smartphones and connected TVs, has increased dramatically in the past few years and is projected to continue to increase. Similarly, individuals are increasingly accessing the Internet through apps other than Internet browsers, such as those available for download through Apple Inc.'s App Store and the Android Market. If consumers increasingly access the Internet on devices other than PCs, and if we are unable to successfully implement monetization strategies for such devices, our financial results could be negatively affected. While we are developing solutions to these alternative means of accessing the Internet, including through our acquisitions of mobile device software and technology from Carbyn in January 2012 and Teknision in November 2013, we do not currently offer our customers and their subscribers a wide variety of apps and other non-browser solutions. Additionally, as new devices and new apps are continually being released, it is difficult to predict the problems we may encounter in developing new versions of our apps and other solutions for use on these alternative devices and apps, and we may need to devote significant resources to the creation, support and maintenance of such apps and solutions. If users of these devices and apps do not widely adopt the apps and other solutions we develop, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

Consumer tastes continually change and are unpredictable, and our sales may decline if we fail to enhance our service and content offerings to achieve continued subscriber acceptance.

Our business depends on aggregating and providing services and content that our customers will place on our start experiences, including television programming, news, entertainment, sports and other content that their subscribers find engaging, and value added services and paid content that their subscribers will buy. Accordingly, we must continue to invest significant resources in licensing efforts, research and development and marketing to enhance our service and content offerings, and we must make decisions about these matters well in advance of product releases to implement them in a timely manner. Our success depends, in part, on unpredictable and volatile factors beyond our control, including consumer preferences, competing content providers and websites and the availability of other news, entertainment, sports and other services and content. While we work with our customers to have their consumers' homepages and homescreens set to our start experiences upon the installation of our customer's services or the sale of our customer's product, a consumer may easily change that setting, which would likely decrease the use of our start experiences. Similarly, consumers that change their device's operating system or Internet browser may no longer have our start experiences set as their default homepage or homescreen, and unless they change it back to our start experience, their usage of our start experiences would likely decline and our results of operations could be negatively impacted. Consumers that acquire new consumer electronics devices will no longer have our start experience initially set as their default homepage, and unless they change the default to our start experience, their usage of our start experiences would likely decline and our results of operations could be negatively impacted.

If our services are not responsive to the requirements of our customers or the preferences of their consumers, or the services are not brought to market in a timely and effective manner, our business, financial condition and results of operations would be harmed. Even if our services and content are successfully introduced and initially adopted, a subsequent shift in the preferences of our customers or their consumers could cause a decline in the popularity of our services and content that could materially reduce our revenue and harm our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our sales growth will be adversely affected if we are unable to expand the breadth of our services and products or to introduce new services and products on a timely basis.

To retain our existing customers, attract new customers and increase revenue, we must continue to develop and introduce new services and products on a timely basis and continue to develop additional features to our existing product base. If our existing and prospective customers do not perceive that we will deliver our services and products on schedule, and if they do not perceive our services and products to be of sufficient value and quality, we may lose the confidence of our existing customers and fail to increase sales to these existing customers, and we may not be able to attract new customers, each of which would adversely affect our operating results.

Our sales cycles and the contracting process with new customers are long and unpredictable and may require us to incur expenses before executing a customer agreement, which makes it difficult to project when, if at all, we will obtain new customers and when we will generate additional revenue and cash flows from those customers.

We market our services and products directly to high-speed Internet service providers and consumer electronics manufacturers. New customer relationships typically take time to obtain and finalize because of the burdensome cost of migrating from an existing solution to our platform. Due to operating procedures in many organizations, a significant time period may pass between selection of our services and products by key decision-makers and the signing of a contract. The length of time between the initial customer sales call and the realization of significant sales is difficult to predict and can range from several months to several years. As a result, it is difficult to predict when we will obtain new customers and when we will begin to generate revenue and cash flows from these potential new customers.

As part of our sales cycle, we may incur significant expenses in the form of compensation and related expenses and equipment acquisition before executing a definitive agreement with a prospective customer so that we may be ready to launch shortly following execution of a definitive agreement. If conditions in the marketplace generally or with a specific prospective customer change negatively, it is possible that no definitive agreement will be executed, and we will be unable to recover any expenses incurred before a definitive agreement is executed, which would in turn have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Most of our customers are high-speed Internet service providers, and consolidation within the cable and telecommunications industries could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our revenue from high-speed Internet service providers, including our search and display advertising revenue generated by online consumer traffic on our start experiences, accounted for approximately 86% of our revenue in 2011, approximately 80% in 2012, approximately 83% in 2013, and approximately 85% in the three months ended March 31, 2014 . The cable and telecommunications industries have experienced consolidation over the past several years, and we expect that this trend will continue. As a result of consolidation, some of our customers may be acquired by companies with which we do not have existing relationships and which may have relationships with one of our competitors or may have the in-house capacity to perform the services we provide. As a result, such acquisitions could cause us to lose customers and the associated subscriber-based and search and display advertising revenue. Under our agreements with some of our customers, including Charter, Verizon and CenturyLink, they have the right to terminate the agreement if we are acquired by one of their competitors.

Consolidation may also require us to renegotiate our agreements with our customers as a result of enhanced customer leverage. We may not be able to offset the effects of any such renegotiations, and we may not be able to attract new customers to counter any revenue declines resulting from the loss of customers or their subscribers.

As technology continues to evolve, the use of our products by our current and prospective consumer electronics manufacturer customers may decrease and our business could be adversely affected.

The consumer electronics industry is subject to rapid change, and our contract with Toshiba is not exclusive. As consumer electronics manufacturers continue to develop new technologies and introduce new models and devices, there can be no assurance that we will be able to develop solutions that will persuade consumer electronics manufacturers that are our customers at such time to utilize our technology for those new devices. If our current and prospective consumer electronics manufacturer customers elect not to integrate our solutions into their new products, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

Moreover, updates to Internet browser technology may adversely affect our business. For example, for our consumer electronics manufacturer customers that have the Windows 8 operating system pre-installed on some of their devices, the Windows 8 operating system places our start experience on a second tab when the Internet browser is launched, leading to decreased search and display advertising revenue.

We invest in features and functionality designed to increase consumer engagement with our start experiences; however, these investments may not lead to increased revenue.

Our future growth and profitability will depend in large part on the effectiveness and efficiency of our efforts to provide a compelling consumer experience that increases consumer engagement with our start experiences. We have made and will continue to make substantial investments in features and functionality for our technology that are designed to drive consumer engagement. Not all of these activities directly generate revenue, and we cannot assure you that we will reap sufficient rewards from these investments to make them worthwhile. If the expenses that we incur in connection with these activities do not result in increased consumer engagement that in turn results in revenue increases that exceed these expenses, our business, financial condition and results of operations will be adversely affected.

Our services and products may become less competitive or even obsolete if we fail to respond to technological developments.

Our future success will depend, in part, on our ability to modify or enhance our services and products to meet customer and consumer needs, to add functionality and to address technological advancements that would improve their performance. For example, if our smartphone and tablet products fail to capture the increased search activity on such devices or if our services and products do not adapt to the increasing video usage on the Internet or to take into account evolving developments in social networking, then they could begin to appear obsolete. Similarly, if we fail to develop new ways to deliver content and services through apps other than traditional Internet browsers, consumers could seek alternative means of accessing content and services.

To remain competitive, we will need to develop new services and products and adapt our existing ones to address these and other evolving technologies and standards. However, we may be unsuccessful in identifying new opportunities or in developing or marketing new services and products in a timely or cost-effective manner. In addition, our product innovations may not achieve the market penetration or price levels necessary for profitability. If we are unable to develop enhancements to, and new features for, our existing services and products or if we are unable to develop new services and products that keep pace with rapid technological developments or changing industry standards, our services and products may become obsolete, less marketable and less competitive, and our business will be harmed.

We depend on third parties for content that is critical to our business, and our business could suffer if we do not continue to obtain high-quality content at a reasonable cost.

We license the content that we aggregate on our start experiences from numerous third-party content providers, and our future success is highly dependent upon our ability to maintain and enter into new relationships with these and other content providers. In the future, some of our content providers may not give us access to high-quality content, may fail to adapt to changes in consumer tastes or may increase the royalties, fees or percentages that they charge us for their content, any of which could have a material negative effect on our operating results. Our rights to the content that we offer to our customers and their consumers are not exclusive, and the content providers could license their content to our competitors. Our content providers could even grant our competitors exclusive licenses. In addition, our customers are not prohibited from entering into content deals directly with our content providers. Any failure to enter into or maintain satisfactory arrangements with content providers would adversely affect our ability to provide a variety of attractive services and products to our customers. Our reputation and operating results could suffer as a result, and it may be more difficult for us to develop new relationships with potential customers.

Our revenue and operating results may fluctuate, which makes our results difficult to predict and could cause our results to fall short of expectations.

As a result of the rapidly changing nature of the markets in which we compete, our quarterly and annual revenue and operating results are likely to fluctuate from period to period. These fluctuations may be caused by a number of factors, many of which are beyond our control, including but not limited to the various factors set forth in this "Risk Factors" section, as well as:

- any failure to maintain strong relationships and favorable revenue-sharing arrangements with our search and display advertising partners, in particular Google, including a reduction in the quantity or pricing of sponsored links that consumers click on or a reduction in the pricing of display advertisements by advertisers;
- any failure of significant customers to renew their agreements with us;
- our ability to attract new customers;
- our ability to increase sales of value added services and paid content to existing subscribers;
- the timing and success of new service and product introductions by us, our customers or our competitors;
- variations in the demand for our services and products and the implementation cycles of our services and products by our customers;
- changes to Internet browser technology that renders our start experiences less competitive;
- changes in our pricing policies or those of our competitors;
- changes in the prices our customers charge for value added services and paid content;
- service outages, other technical difficulties or security breaches;
- limitations relating to the capacity of our networks, systems and processes;
- our failure to accurately estimate or control costs, including costs related to the initial launch of new customers;
- maintaining appropriate staffing levels and capabilities relative to projected growth;
- the timing of costs related to the development or acquisition of technologies, services or businesses to support our existing customers and potential growth opportunities; and
- general economic, industry and market conditions and those conditions specific to Internet usage and online businesses.

For these reasons and because the market for our services and products is relatively new and rapidly changing, it is difficult to predict our future financial results.

Expansion into international markets, which is an important part of our strategy, but where we have limited experience, will subject us to risks associated with international operations.

We plan to expand our product offerings internationally, particularly in Asia, Latin America and Europe. For example, in March 2013 we announced that we entered into a joint venture with Maxit Technology Incorporated, or Maxit, to supply authentication and aggregation solutions for the delivery of online content and services to customers in the People's Republic of China, or the PRC. We have limited experience in marketing and operating our services and products in international markets, and we may not be able to successfully develop our business in these markets. Our success in these markets will be directly linked to the success of relationships with potential customers, content partners and other third parties.

As the international markets in which we plan to operate continue to grow, we expect that competition in these markets will intensify. Local companies may have a substantial competitive advantage because of their greater understanding of, and focus on, the local markets. Some of our domestic competitors who have substantially greater resources than we do may be able to more quickly and comprehensively develop and grow in international markets. International expansion may also require significant financial investment including, among other things, the expense of developing localized products, the costs of acquiring foreign companies and the integration of such companies with our operations, expenditure of resources in developing customer and content relationships and the increased costs of supporting remote operations.

Other risks of doing business in international markets include the increased risks and burdens of complying with different legal and regulatory standards, difficulties in managing and staffing foreign operations, recruiting and retaining talented direct sales personnel, limitations on the repatriation of funds and fluctuations of foreign exchange rates, varying levels of Internet technology adoption and infrastructure, and our ability to enforce contracts and our intellectual property rights in foreign jurisdictions. In addition, our success in international expansion could be limited by barriers to international expansion such as tariffs, adverse tax consequences and technology export controls. If we cannot manage these risks effectively, the costs of doing business in some international markets may be prohibitive or our costs may increase disproportionately to our revenue. Some of our business partners also have international operations and are subject to the risks described above. Even if we are able to successfully manage the risks of international operations, our business may be adversely affected if our business partners are not able to successfully manage these risks.

Our agreements with some of our customers and content providers require fixed payments, which could adversely affect our financial performance.

Certain of our agreements with customers and content providers require us to make fixed payments to them. The aggregate amount of such fixed payments for the years ending December 31, 2014 (9 months remaining), 2015, 2016, and the two years thereafter are approximately $3.5 million, $1.6 million, $1.1 million, and $0.4 million, respectively. We are required to make these fixed payments regardless of the achievement of any revenue objectives or subscriber or usage levels. If we do not achieve our financial objectives, these contractual commitments would constitute a greater percentage of our revenue than originally anticipated and would adversely affect our profitability.

Our agreements with some of our customers and content providers contain penalties for non-performance, which could adversely affect our financial performance.

We have entered into service level agreements with most of our customers. These agreements generally call for specific system "up times" and 24 hours per day, seven days per week support and include penalties for non-performance. We may be unable to fulfill these commitments due to circumstances beyond our control, which could subject us to substantial penalties under those agreements, harm our reputation and result in a reduction of revenue or the loss of customers, which would in turn have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. To date, we have never incurred any material penalties.

System failures or capacity constraints could harm our business and financial performance.

The provision of our services and products depends on the continuing operation of our information technology and communications systems. Any damage to or failure of our systems could result in interruptions in our service. Such interruptions could harm our business, financial condition and results of operations, and our reputation could be damaged if people believe our systems are unreliable. Our systems are vulnerable to damage or interruption from snow storms, terrorist attacks, floods, fires, power loss, telecommunications failures, security breaches, computer malware, computer hacking attacks, computer viruses, computer denial of service attacks or other attempts to, or events that, harm our systems. Our data centers are also subject to break-ins, sabotage and intentional acts of vandalism and to potential disruptions if the operators of the facilities have financial difficulties. Although we maintain insurance to cover a variety of risks, the scope and amount of our insurance coverage may not be sufficient to cover our losses resulting from system failures or other disruptions to our online operations. For example, the limit on our business interruption insurance is approximately $27.6 million. Any system failure or disruption and any resulting losses that are not recoverable under our insurance policies may materially harm our business, financial condition and results of operations. To date, we have never experienced any material losses.

Although we regularly back-up our systems and store the system back-ups in Atlanta, Georgia, Dallas, Texas, Lewis Center, Ohio, Denver, Colorado, Amsterdam, the Netherlands, and Buffalo, New York, we do not have full second-site redundancy. If we were forced to relocate to an alternate site and to rely on our system back-ups to restore the systems, we would experience significant delays in restoring the functionality of our platform and could experience loss of data, which could materially harm our business and our operating results.

Security breaches, computer viruses and computer hacking attacks could harm our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Security breaches, computer malware and computer hacking attacks are prevalent in the technology industry. Any security breach caused by hacking, which involves efforts to gain unauthorized access to information or systems, or to cause intentional malfunctions or loss or corruption of data, software, hardware or other computer equipment, and the inadvertent transmission of computer viruses could harm our business, financial condition and results of operations. We have previously experienced hacking attacks on our systems, and may in the future experience hacking attacks. Though it is difficult to determine what harm may directly result from any specific interruption or breach, any failure to maintain performance, reliability, security and availability of our technology infrastructure to the satisfaction of our customers and their consumers may harm our reputation and our ability to retain existing customers and attract new customers.

We may not maintain acceptable website performance for our customers, which may negatively impact our relationships with our customers and harm our business, financial condition and results of operations.

A key element to our continued growth is the ability of our customers' consumers in all geographies to access our start experiences within acceptable load times. We refer to this as website performance. We may in the future experience platform disruptions, outages and other performance problems due to a variety of factors, including infrastructure changes, human or software errors, capacity constraints due to an overwhelming number of users accessing our technology simultaneously, and denial of service or fraud or security attacks. In some instances, we may not be able to identify the cause or causes of these website performance problems within an acceptable period of time. It may become increasingly difficult to maintain and improve website performance, especially during peak usage times, and as our solutions become more complex and our user traffic increases. If our start experiences are unavailable when consumers attempt to access them or do not load as quickly as they expect, consumers may seek other alternatives to obtain the information for which they are looking, and may not return to our start experiences as often in the future, or at all. This would negatively impact our relationships with our customers. We expect to continue to make significant investments to maintain and improve website performance. To the extent that we do not effectively address capacity constraints, upgrade our systems as needed and continually develop our technology and network architecture to accommodate actual and anticipated changes in technology, our business and operating results may be harmed.

We rely on our management team and need additional personnel to expand our business, and the loss of key officers or an inability to attract and retain qualified personnel could harm our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We depend on the continued contributions of our senior management and other key personnel, especially Ronald N. Frankel, our Chief Executive Officer, George G. Chamoun, our Executive Vice President of Sales and Marketing, Scott A. Bailey, our Chief Operating Officer, and William J. Stuart, our Chief Financial Officer. The loss of the services of any of our executive officers (such as Mr. Frankel, our President and Chief Executive Officer, whose planned departure we announced in March 2014) or other key employees could harm our business and our prospects. All of our executive officers and key employees are at-will employees, which means they may terminate their employment relationship with us at any time.

Our future success also depends on our ability to identify, attract and retain highly skilled technical, managerial, finance, marketing and creative personnel. For example, we will need to recruit a new President and Chief Executive Officer to replace our current one, Ronald N. Frankel, whose planned departure we announced in March 2014. Further, we will need to hire personnel outside the United States to pursue an international expansion strategy, and we will need to hire additional advertising salespeople to sell more advertisements directly. We face intense competition for qualified individuals from numerous technology, marketing and media companies, and we may incur significant costs to attract them. We may be unable to attract and retain suitably qualified individuals, or we may be required to pay increased compensation in order to do so. If we were to be unable to attract and retain the qualified personnel we need to succeed, our business could suffer.

Volatility or lack of performance in the trading price of our common stock may also affect our ability to attract and retain qualified personnel. Many of our senior management personnel and other key employees have become, or will become, vested in a substantial amount of stock or stock options. Employees may be more likely to leave us if the shares they own or the shares underlying their options have significantly appreciated in value relative to the original purchase prices of the shares or the exercise prices of the options or if the exercise prices of the options that they hold are significantly above the trading price of our common stock. If we are unable to retain our employees, our business, financial condition and results of operations would be harmed.

If we fail to manage our growth effectively, our business, financial condition and results of operations may suffer.

Following the merger of our predecessor companies, Chek, Inc., or Chek, and MyPersonal.com, Inc., or MyPersonal, to form Synacor, we have expanded our business primarily through organic growth. We have sought to, and may in the future continue to seek to, grow through strategic acquisitions. This growth has placed, and may continue to place, significant demands on our management and our operational and financial infrastructure. Our ability to manage our growth effectively and to integrate new technologies and acquisitions into our existing business will require us to continue to expand our operational, financial and management information systems and to continue to retain, attract, train, motivate and manage key employees. Growth could strain our ability to:

- develop and improve our operational, financial and management controls;
- enhance our reporting systems and procedures;

- recruit, train and retain highly skilled personnel;
- maintain our quality standards; and
- maintain customer and content owner satisfaction.

Managing our growth will require significant expenditures and allocation of valuable management resources. If we fail to achieve the necessary level of efficiency in our organization as it grows, our business, financial condition and results of operations would be harmed.

We may expand our business through acquisitions of, or investments in, other companies or new technologies, or joint ventures or other strategic alliances with other companies, which may divert our management's attention or prove not to be successful.

In January 2012, we completed an acquisition of certain mobile device software and technology from Carbyn; in November 2013, we completed an acquisition of certain mobile device software and technology from Teknision; and in March 2013, we entered into a Joint Venture Agreement with Maxit to form Synacor China, Ltd., a company incorporated under the laws of the Cayman Islands, or the JV Company, a joint venture in China. We may decide to pursue other acquisitions of, investments in, or joint ventures involving other technologies and businesses in the future. Such transactions could divert our management's time and focus from operating our business.

Our ability as an organization to integrate acquisitions is relatively unproven. Integrating an acquired company, business or technology is risky and may result in unforeseen operating difficulties and expenditures, including, among other things, with respect to:

- incorporating new technologies into our existing business infrastructure;
- consolidating corporate and administrative functions;
- coordinating our sales and marketing functions to incorporate the new business or technology;
- maintaining morale, retaining and integrating key employees to support the new business or technology and managing our expansion in capacity; and
- maintaining standards, controls, procedures and policies (including effective internal controls over financial reporting and disclosure controls and procedures).

In addition, a significant portion of the purchase price of companies we may acquire may be allocated to acquired goodwill and other intangible assets, which must be assessed for impairment at least annually. In the future, if our acquisitions do not yield expected returns, we may be required to take charges to our earnings based on this impairment assessment process, which could harm our operating results.

Future acquisitions could result in potentially dilutive issuances of our equity securities, including our common stock, or the incurrence of debt, contingent liabilities, amortization expenses or acquired in-process research and development expenses, any of which could harm our business, financial condition and results of operations. Future acquisitions may also require us to obtain additional financing, which may not be available on favorable terms or at all.

We face many risks in connection with our joint venture, including, among other things, with respect to:

- Increasing competition in the industry and the JV Company's ability to compete in the Chinese market through its wholly foreign-owned subsidiary, or WFOE;
- The impact of regulatory changes in the industry;
- Potential difficulties associated with operating the joint venture and the WFOE;
- The joint venture's ability to obtain additional financing;
- The WFOE's ability to offer competitive services in the Chinese market at a favorable margin;

- General business and economic conditions, including seasonality of the industry and growth trends in the industry;
- Our ability to successfully enter the Chinese market and operate internationally;
- Potential delays, including obtaining permits, licenses and other governmental approvals;
- Trade barriers and potential duties; and
- Our and the joint venture's ability to protect intellectual property.

If we and the JV Company are not able to successfully manage these and other risks related to the joint venture, it could harm our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Finally, our skill at investing our funds in illiquid securities issued by other companies, such as our investment in a privately held Delaware corporation called Blazer and Flip Flops, Inc., or B&FF (doing business as The Experience Engine), is untested. Although we review the results and prospects of such investments carefully, it is possible that our investments could result in a total loss. Additionally, we will typically have little or no control in the companies in which we invest, and we will be forced to rely on the management of companies in which we invest to make reasonable and sound business decisions. If the companies in which we invest are not successfully able to manage the risks facing them, such companies could suffer, and our own business, financial condition and results of operations could be harmed.

We may require additional capital to grow our business, and this capital may not be available on acceptable terms or at all.

The operation of our business and our growth strategy may require significant additional capital, especially if we were to accelerate our expansion and acquisition plans. If the cash generated from operations and otherwise available to us are not sufficient to meet our capital requirements, we will need to seek additional capital, potentially through debt or equity financings, to fund our growth. We may not be able to raise needed capital on terms acceptable to us or at all. Financings, if available, may be on terms that are dilutive or potentially dilutive to our stockholders, and the prices at which new investors would be willing to purchase our securities may cause our existing stockholders to suffer substantial dilution. The holders of new securities may also receive rights, preferences or privileges that are senior to those of existing holders of our common stock. Any debt financing obtained by us in the future could contain restrictive covenants that may potentially restrict our operations, and if we do not effectively manage our business to comply with those covenants, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected. If new sources of financing are required but are insufficient or unavailable, we could be required to delay, abandon or otherwise modify our growth and operating plans to the extent of available funding, which would harm our ability to grow our business.

Our business depends, in part, on our ability to protect and enforce our intellectual property rights.

The protection of our intellectual property is critical to our success. We rely on copyright and service mark enforcement, contractual restrictions and trade secret laws to protect our proprietary rights. We have entered into confidentiality and invention assignment agreements with our employees and contractors, and nondisclosure agreements with certain parties with whom we conduct business to limit access to and disclosure of our proprietary information. Additionally, we have applied for patents to protect certain of our intellectual property. However, if we are unable to adequately protect our intellectual property, our business may suffer from the piracy of our technology and the associated loss in revenue.

Protecting against the unauthorized use of our intellectual property and other proprietary rights is expensive, difficult and, in some cases, impossible. Litigation may be necessary in the future to enforce or defend our intellectual property rights, to protect our trade secrets or to determine the validity and scope of the proprietary rights of others. Such litigation could be costly and divert management resources, either of which could harm our business. Furthermore, many of our current and potential competitors have the ability to dedicate substantially greater resources to enforce their intellectual property rights than we do. Accordingly, despite our efforts, we may not be able to prevent third parties from infringing upon or misappropriating our intellectual property.

We are not currently involved in any legal proceedings with respect to protecting our intellectual property; however, we may from time to time become a party to various legal proceedings with respect to protecting our intellectual property arising in the ordinary course of our business.

Any claims from a third party that we are infringing upon its intellectual property, whether valid or not, could subject us to costly and time-consuming litigation or expensive licenses or force us to curtail some services or products.

Companies in the Internet and technology industries tend to own large numbers of patents, copyrights, trademarks and trade secrets, and frequently enter into litigation based on allegations of infringement or other violations of intellectual property rights. We have been subject to claims that the presentation of certain licensed content on our start experiences infringes certain patents of a third party, none of which have resulted in direct settlement or payments by us or any determination of infringement by us, and as we face increasing competition, the possibility of further intellectual property rights claims against us grows. Our technologies may not be able to withstand any third party claims or rights against their use. Any intellectual property claims, with or without merit, could be time-consuming, expensive to litigate or settle and could divert management resources and attention. An adverse determination also could prevent us from offering our services and products to others and may require that we procure substitute products or services for our customers.

In the case of any intellectual property rights claim, we may have to pay damages or stop using technology found to be in violation of a third party's rights. We may have to seek a license for the technology, which may not be available to us on reasonable terms and may significantly increase our operating expenses. The technology also may not be available for license to us at all. As a result, we may also be required to develop alternative non-infringing technology, which could require significant effort and expense. If we cannot license or develop technology for the infringing aspects of our business, we may be forced to limit our service and product offerings and may be unable to compete effectively. Any of these consequences could harm our operating results.

In addition, we typically have contractual obligations to our customers to indemnify and defend them with respect to third-party intellectual property infringement claims that arise from our customers' use of our products or services. Such claims, whether valid or not, could harm our relationships with our customers, have resulted and could result in the future in us or our customers having to enter into licenses with the claimants and have caused and could cause us in the future to incur additional costs or experience reduced revenues. To date, neither the increase in our costs nor any reductions in our revenue resulting from such claims have been material. Such claims could also subject us to costly and time-consuming litigation as well as diverting management attention and resources. Satisfying our contractual indemnification obligations could also give rise to significant liability, and thus harm our business and our operating results.

We are not currently subject to any material legal proceedings with respect to third party claims that we or our customers' use of our products and services are infringing upon their intellectual property; however, we may from time to time become a party to various legal proceedings with respect to such claims arising in the ordinary course of our business.

Any unauthorized disclosure or theft of personal information we gather could harm our reputation and subject us to claims or litigation.

We collect, and have access to, personal information of subscribers, including names, addresses, account numbers, credit card numbers and e-mail addresses. Unauthorized disclosure of personal information regarding website visitors, whether through breach of our systems by an unauthorized party, employee theft or misuse, or otherwise, could harm our business. If there were an inadvertent disclosure of personal information, or if a third party were to gain unauthorized access to the personal information we possess, our operations could be seriously disrupted and we could be subject to claims or litigation arising from damages suffered by subscribers or our customers. In addition, we could incur significant costs in complying with the multitude of state, federal and foreign laws regarding the unauthorized disclosure of personal information. Finally, any perceived or actual unauthorized disclosure of the information we collect could harm our reputation, substantially impair our ability to attract and retain customers and have an adverse impact on our business.

We collect and may access personal information and other data, which subjects us to governmental regulation and other legal obligations related to privacy, and our actual or perceived failure to comply with such obligations could harm our business.

We collect, and have access to, personal information of subscribers, including names, addresses, account numbers, credit card numbers and e-mail addresses. There are numerous federal, state and local laws around the world regarding privacy and the storing, sharing, use, processing, disclosure and protection of personal information and other subscriber data, the scope of which are changing, subject to differing interpretations, and may be inconsistent between countries or conflict with other rules. We generally comply with industry standards and are subject to the terms of our privacy policies and privacy-related obligations to third parties (including voluntary third-party certification bodies such as TRUSTe). We strive to comply with all applicable laws, policies, legal obligations and industry codes of conduct relating to privacy and data protection to the extent possible. However, it is possible that these obligations may be interpreted and applied in a manner that is inconsistent from one jurisdiction to another and may conflict with other rules or our practices. Any failure or perceived failure by us to comply with our privacy policies, our privacy-related obligations to users or other third parties, or our privacy-related legal obligations, or any compromise of security that results in the unauthorized release or transfer of personal information or other subscriber data, may result in governmental enforcement actions, litigation or public statements against us by consumer advocacy groups or others and could cause our customers to lose trust in us, which could have an adverse effect on our business. Additionally, if third parties we work with, such as customers, vendors or developers, violate applicable laws or our policies, such violations may also put subscriber information at risk and could in turn have an adverse effect on our business.

Any failure to convince advertisers of the benefits of advertising with us would harm our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We have derived and expect to continue to derive a substantial portion of our revenue from display advertising on our start experiences. Such advertising accounted for approximately 23%, 27%, and 29% of our revenue for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2012, and 2013, respectively, and 27% of our revenue for the three months ended March 31, 2014 . Our ability to attract and retain advertisers and, ultimately, to generate advertising revenue depends on a number of factors, including:

- increasing the numbers of consumers using our start experiences;
- maintaining consumer engagement on those start experiences;
- competing effectively for advertising spending with other online and offline advertising providers; and
- continuing to grow our direct advertising sales force and develop and diversify our advertising capabilities.

If we are unable to provide high-quality advertising opportunities and convince advertisers and agencies of our value proposition, we may not be able to retain existing advertisers or attract new ones, which would harm our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Migration of high-speed Internet service providers' subscribers from one high-speed Internet service provider to another could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our high-speed Internet service provider customers' subscribers may become dissatisfied with their current high-speed Internet service provider and may switch to another provider. In the event that there is substantial subscriber migration from our existing customers to service providers with which we do not have relationships, the fees that we receive on a per-subscriber basis, and the related search and display advertising revenue, could decline.

Our business and the trading price of our common stock may be adversely affected if our internal controls over financial reporting are found by management or by our independent registered public accounting firm not to be adequate.

Effective internal controls are necessary for us to provide reliable financial reports and prevent fraud. In addition, Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, or the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, requires our management to evaluate and report on our internal control over financial reporting. This report contains, among other matters, an assessment of the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting as of the end of our fiscal year, including a statement as to whether or not our internal control over financial reporting is effective. This assessment must include disclosure of any material weaknesses in our internal control over financial reporting identified by management. In addition, our independent registered public accounting firm will be required to formally attest to the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting beginning with the Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year in which we are no longer an "emerging growth company." At such time, our independent registered public accounting firm may issue a report that is adverse in the event it is not satisfied with the level at which our controls are documented, designed or operating.

While we have determined that our internal control over financial reporting was effective as of December 31, 2013, as indicated in our Management Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2013, we must continue to monitor and assess our internal control over financial reporting. If our management identifies one or more material weaknesses in our internal control over financial reporting and such weakness remains uncorrected at fiscal year-end, we will be unable to assert such internal control is effective at fiscal year-end. If we are unable to assert that our internal control over financial reporting is effective at fiscal year-end, or if our independent registered public accounting firm, when required, is unable to express an opinion on the effectiveness of our internal controls or concludes that we have a material weakness in our internal controls, we could lose investor confidence in the accuracy and completeness of our financial reports, which would likely have an adverse effect on our business and stock price.

Even if we conclude our internal control over financial reporting provides reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, or GAAP, because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect fraud or misstatements. Failure to implement required new or improved controls, or difficulties encountered in their implementation, could harm our operating results or cause us to fail to meet our reporting obligations.

In addition, a delay in compliance with the auditor attestation provisions of Section 404, when applicable to us, could subject us to a variety of administrative sanctions, including ineligibility for short-form resale registration, action by the SEC, the suspension or delisting of our common stock and the inability of registered broker-dealers to make a market in our common stock, which would further reduce the trading price of our common stock and could harm our business.

We are an “emerging growth company” and we cannot be certain if the reduced disclosure requirements applicable to emerging growth companies will make our common stock less attractive to investors.

We are an "emerging growth company," as defined in the JOBS Act, and we intend to take advantage of certain exemptions from various reporting requirements that are applicable to other public companies that are not "emerging growth companies" including, but not limited to, not being required to comply with the auditor attestation requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, reduced disclosure obligations regarding executive compensation in our periodic reports and proxy statements, and exemptions from the requirements of holding a nonbinding advisory vote on executive compensation and stockholder approval of any golden parachute payments not previously approved. We cannot predict if investors will find our common stock less attractive because we will rely on these exemptions. If some investors find our common stock less attractive as a result, there may be a less active trading market for our common stock and our stock price may be more volatile.

Our ability to use our net operating loss carryforwards and certain other tax attributes may be limited as a result of future transactions in our stock which may be outside our control.

As of March 31, 2014, we had substantial federal and state net operating loss carryforwards. Under Sections 382 and 383 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, or the Code, if a corporation undergoes an “ownership change,” the corporation's ability to use its pre-change net operating loss carryforwards to offset its post-change income and taxes may be limited. In general, an “ownership change” generally occurs if there is a cumulative change in our ownership by “five-percent stockholders” that exceeds 50 percentage points over a rolling three-year period. For these purposes, a five-percent stockholder is generally any person or group of persons that at any time during the applicable testing period has owned 5% or more of our outstanding stock. In addition, persons who own less than 5% of the outstanding stock are grouped together as one or more “public groups,” which are also treated as five-percent stockholders. Similar rules may apply under state tax laws. We may experience ownership changes in the future as a result of future transactions in our stock, some of which may be outside our control. As a result, our ability to use our pre-change net operating loss carryforwards to offset United States federal and state taxable income and taxes may be subject to limitations.

Our joint venture's business prospects in China are dependent on government telecommunications infrastructure and budgetary policies, particularly the allocation of funds to sustain the growth of the telecommunications industry in China.

Our joint venture's business prospects in China include telecommunication service operators, and telecommunication service operators in China are directly or indirectly owned or controlled by the government of China. Accordingly, our joint venture's business prospects in China will also be heavily dependent on these government policies. Insufficient future funding allocated to China's telecommunications industry by the government could directly reduce the market for our joint venture's software and services in China. Chinese government initiatives directed at the market could also significantly affect the market conditions for our joint venture's Chinese customers and influence their level of spending on the services we offer. While some of these initiatives may increase market competition and generate more demand for our services, the anticipated increase in demand may not materialize. Our joint venture's prospective customers may not adapt well to the market conditions under the evolving regulatory environment and their demand for our joint venture's software and services may decrease as a result. The telecommunications industry in China may also become less competitive over time, either as a result of market driven consolidations or as a result of government efforts to curtail competition. A less competitive market may create fewer incentives for spending on technology innovations and upgrades, which may directly affect our joint venture's business prospects in China.

Our proprietary rights may be inadequately protected and there is a risk of poor enforcement of intellectual property rights in China.

Our success and ability to compete depend substantially upon our intellectual property, which we protect through a combination of confidentiality arrangements and trademark registrations. Additionally, we have applied for patents to protect certain of our intellectual property. We have registered several marks and filed many other trademark applications in the U.S. We have not applied for copyright protection in any jurisdiction, including in the U.S. We enter into confidentiality agreements with most of our employees and consultants, and control access to, and distribution of, our documentation and other licensed information, including information licensed to the JV Company. Despite these precautions, it may be possible for a third party to copy or otherwise obtain and use our technology without authorization, or to develop similar technology independently. Since the Chinese legal system in general and the intellectual property regime in particular, are relatively weak, it is often difficult to enforce intellectual property rights in China.

Policing unauthorized use of our licensed technology is difficult and the steps we take may not prevent misappropriation or infringement of our proprietary rights. In addition, litigation may be necessary to enforce our intellectual property rights, to protect our trade secrets or to determine the validity and scope of the proprietary rights of others, which could result in substantial costs and diversion of our resources.

Failure to comply with the United States Foreign Corrupt Practices Act could subject us to penalties and other adverse consequences.

We are subject to the United States Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, which generally prohibits U.S. companies from engaging in bribery or other prohibited payments to foreign officials for the purpose of obtaining or retaining business. Corruption, extortion, bribery, pay-offs, theft and other fraudulent practices may occur with respect to our expansion into international markets. Our employees or other agents may engage in such conduct for which we might be held responsible. If our employees or other agents are found to have engaged in such practices, we could suffer severe penalties and other consequences, including adverse publicity and damage to our reputation that may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Risks Related to Our Industry

The growth of the market for our services and products depends on the continued growth of the Internet as a medium for content, advertising, commerce and communications.

Expansion in the sales of our services and products depends on the continued acceptance of the Internet as a platform for content, advertising, commerce and communications. The acceptance of the Internet as a medium for such uses could be adversely impacted by delays in the development or adoption of new standards and protocols to handle increased demands of Internet activity, security, privacy protection, reliability, cost, ease of use, accessibility and quality of service. The performance of the Internet and its acceptance as such a medium has been harmed by viruses, worms, and similar malicious programs, and the Internet has experienced a variety of outages and other delays as a result of damage to portions of its infrastructure. If for any reason the Internet does not remain a medium for widespread content, advertising, commerce and communications, the demand for our services and products would be significantly reduced, which would harm our business.

The growth of the market for our services and products depends on the development and maintenance of the Internet infrastructure.

Our business strategy depends on continued Internet and high-speed Internet access growth. Any downturn in the use or growth rate of the Internet or high-speed Internet access would be detrimental to our business. If the Internet continues to experience significant growth in number of users, frequency of use and amount of data transmitted, the Internet infrastructure might not be able to support the demands placed on it and the performance or reliability of the Internet may be adversely affected. The success of our business therefore depends on the development and maintenance of a sound Internet infrastructure. This includes maintenance of a reliable network backbone with the necessary speed, data capacity and security, as well as timely development of complementary products, such as routers, for providing reliable Internet access and services. Consequently, as Internet usage increases, the growth of the market for our products depends upon improvements made to the Internet as well as to individual customers' networking infrastructures to alleviate overloading and congestion. In addition, any delays in the adoption of new standards and protocols required to govern increased levels of Internet activity or increased governmental regulation may have a detrimental effect on the Internet infrastructure.

A substantial majority of our revenue is derived from search and display advertising; our revenue would decline if advertisers do not continue their usage of the Internet as an advertising medium.

We have derived and expect to continue to derive a substantial majority of our revenue from search and display advertising on our start experiences. Such search and display advertising revenue accounted for approximately 79%, 83%, and 81% of our revenue for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2012, and 2013, or $72.1 million, $101.6 million, and $90.4 million, respectively, and 79% of our revenue for the three months ended March 31, 2014 , or $19.9 million. However, the prospects for continued demand and market acceptance for Internet advertising are uncertain. If advertisers do not continue to increase their usage of the Internet as an advertising medium, our revenue would decline. Advertisers that have traditionally relied on other advertising media may not advertise on the Internet. Most advertising agencies and potential advertisers, particularly local advertisers, have only limited experience advertising on the Internet and devote only a small portion of their advertising expenditures to online advertising. As the Internet evolves, advertisers may find online advertising to be a less attractive or less effective means of promoting their services and products than traditional methods of advertising and may not continue to allocate funds for Internet advertising. Many historical predictions by industry analysts and others concerning the growth of the Internet as a commercial medium have overstated the growth of the Internet and you should not rely upon them. This growth may not occur or may occur more slowly than estimated.

Most of our search revenue is based on the number of paid “clicks” on sponsored links that are included in search results generated from our start experiences. Generally, each time a consumer clicks on a sponsored link, the search provider that provided the commercial search result receives a fee from the advertiser who paid for such sponsored link and the search provider pays us a portion of that fee. We, in turn, typically share a portion of the fee we receive with our customer. If an advertiser receives what it perceives to be a large number of clicks for which it needs to pay, but that do not result in a desired activity or an increase in sales, the advertiser may reduce or eliminate its advertisements through the search provider that provided the commercial search result to us. This reaction would lead to a loss of revenue to our search providers and consequently to lesser fees paid to us, which would have a material negative effect on our financial results.

Market prices for online advertising may decrease due to competitive or other factors. In addition, if a large number of Internet users use filtering software that limits or removes advertising from the users' view, advertisers may perceive that Internet advertising is not effective and may choose not to advertise on the Internet.

The market for Internet-based services and products in which we operate is highly competitive, and if we cannot compete effectively, our sales may decline and our business may be harmed.

Competition in the market for Internet-based services and products in which we operate is intense and involves rapidly changing technologies and customer and subscriber requirements, as well as evolving industry standards and frequent product introductions. Our competitors may develop solutions that are similar or superior to our technology. Our primary competitors include high-speed Internet service providers with internal information technology staff capable of developing solutions similar to our technology. Other competitors include Yahoo!, Google, AOL and MSN, a division of Microsoft. Advantages some of our existing and potential competitors hold over us include the following:

- significantly greater revenue and financial resources;
- stronger brand and consumer recognition;
- the capacity to leverage their marketing expenditures across a broader portfolio of services and products;
- more extensive proprietary intellectual property from which they can develop or aggregate content without having to pay fees or paying significantly lower fees than we do;
- pre-existing relationships with content providers that afford them access to content while blocking the access of competitors to that same content;
- pre-existing relationships with high-speed Internet service providers that afford them the opportunity to convert such providers to competing services and products;
- lower labor and development costs; and
- broader global distribution and presence.

If we are unable to compete effectively or we are not as successful as our competitors in our target markets, our sales could decline, our margins could decline and we could lose market share, any of which would materially harm our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Government regulation of the Internet continues to evolve, and new laws and regulations could significantly harm our financial performance.

Today, there are relatively few laws specifically directed towards conducting business over the Internet. We expect more stringent laws and regulations relating to the Internet to be enacted. The adoption or modification of laws related to the Internet could harm our business, financial condition and results of operations by, among other things, increasing our costs and administrative burdens. Due to the increasing popularity and use of the Internet, many laws and regulations relating to the Internet are being debated at the international, federal and state levels, which are likely to address a variety of issues such as:

- user privacy and expression;
- ability to collect and/or share necessary information that allows us to conduct business on the Internet;
- export compliance;
- pricing and taxation;
- fraud;
- advertising;
- intellectual property rights;
- consumer protection;
- protection of minors;
- content regulation;
- information security; and
- quality of services and products.

Several federal laws that could have an impact on our business have been adopted. The Digital Millennium Copyright Act of 1998 reduces the liability of online service providers of third-party content, including content that may infringe copyrights or rights of others. The Children's Online Privacy Protection Act imposes additional restrictions on the ability of online services to collect user information from minors. In addition, the Protection of Children from Sexual Predators Act requires online service providers to report evidence of violations of federal child pornography laws under certain circumstances.

It could be costly for us to comply with existing and potential laws and regulations, and they could harm our marketing efforts and our attractiveness to advertisers by, among other things, restricting our ability to collect demographic and personal information from consumers or to use or disclose that information in certain ways. If we were to violate these laws or regulations, or if it were alleged that we had, we could face private lawsuits, fines, penalties and injunctions and our business could be harmed.

Finally, the applicability to the Internet and other online services of existing laws in various jurisdictions governing issues such as property ownership, sales and other taxes, libel and personal privacy is uncertain. Any new legislation or regulation, the application of laws and regulations from jurisdictions whose laws do not currently apply to our business, or the application of existing laws and regulations to the Internet and other online services could also increase our costs of doing business, discourage Internet communications, reduce demand for our services and expose us to substantial liability.

Public scrutiny of Internet privacy issues may result in increased regulation and different industry standards, which could deter or prevent us from providing our current products and solutions to our customers, thereby harming our business.

The regulatory framework for privacy issues worldwide is currently in flux and is likely to remain so for the foreseeable future. Practices regarding the collection, use, storage, transmission and security of personal information by companies operating over the Internet have recently come under increased public scrutiny. The United States government, including the Federal Trade Commission and the Department of Commerce, has announced that it is reviewing the need for greater regulation for the collection of information concerning consumer behavior on the Internet, including regulation aimed at restricting certain targeted advertising practices. In addition, the European Union is in the process of proposing reforms to its existing data protection legal framework, which may result in a greater compliance burden for companies with users in Europe. Various government and consumer agencies have also called for new regulation and changes in industry practices.

Our business, including our ability to operate and expand internationally, could be adversely affected if legislation or regulations are adopted, interpreted or implemented in a manner that is inconsistent with our current business practices and that require changes to these practices, our services or our privacy policies.

Risks Related to Ownership of Our Common Stock

Concentration of ownership among our directors, officers, large stockholders and their respective affiliates could limit our other stockholders' ability to influence the outcome of key corporate decisions, such as an acquisition of our company.

Our directors, executive officers and holders of more than 5% of our common stock, together with their affiliates, beneficially own or control, directly or indirectly, as of April 1, 2014 over 30% of our outstanding common stock. As a result, these stockholders, if they act together, would have the ability to influence significantly the outcome of matters submitted to our stockholders for approval, including the election of directors and any merger, consolidation or sale of all or substantially all of our assets. In addition, these stockholders, if they act together, would have the ability to influence significantly the management and affairs of our company. Accordingly, this concentration of ownership might harm the trading price of our common stock by:

- delaying, deferring or preventing a change in our control;
- impeding a merger, consolidation, takeover or other business combination involving us; or
- discouraging a potential acquirer from making a tender offer or otherwise attempting to obtain control of us.

Future sales of our common stock may cause the trading price of our common stock to decline.

Certain of our stockholders who held shares of our preferred stock before the consummation of our public offering now have demand and piggyback rights to require us to register with the SEC the shares of common stock issued upon conversion of such preferred stock. If we register any of these shares of common stock, the stockholders would be able to sell those shares freely in the public market. Additionally, some of these stockholders are currently able to sell these shares in the public market without registration under Rule 144.

In addition, the shares that are either subject to outstanding options or that may be granted in the future under our equity plans will become eligible for sale in the public market to the extent permitted by the provisions of various vesting agreements.

If a substantial number of any of these additional shares described are sold, or if it is perceived that a substantial number of such shares will be sold, in the public market, the trading price of our common stock could decline.

Some provisions of our certificate of incorporation, bylaws and Delaware law may discourage, delay or prevent a merger or acquisition or prevent the removal of our current board of directors and management.

Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and amended and restated bylaws contain provisions that may discourage, delay or prevent a merger or acquisition or prevent the removal of our current board of directors and management. We have a number of anti-takeover devices in place that will hinder takeover attempts, including:

- our board of directors is classified into three classes of directors with staggered three-year terms;
- our directors may only be removed for cause, and only with the affirmative vote of a majority of the voting interest of stockholders entitled to vote;
- only our board of directors and not our stockholders will be able to fill vacancies on our board of directors;
- only our chairman of the board, our chief executive officer or a majority of our board of directors, and not our stockholders, are authorized to call a special meeting of stockholders;
- our stockholders will be able to take action only at a meeting of stockholders and not by written consent;

- our amended and restated certificate of incorporation authorizes undesignated preferred stock, the terms of which may be established and shares of which may be issued without stockholder approval; and

- advance notice procedures apply for stockholders to nominate candidates for election as directors or to bring matters before an annual meeting of stockholders.

These provisions and other provisions in our charter documents could discourage, delay or prevent a transaction involving a change in our control. Any delay or prevention of a change in control transaction could cause stockholders to lose a substantial premium over the then-current trading price of their shares. These provisions could also discourage proxy contests and could make it more difficult for our stockholders to elect directors of their choosing or to cause us to take other corporate actions such stockholders desire.

In addition, we are subject to Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, which, subject to some exceptions, prohibits “business combinations” between a Delaware corporation and an “interested stockholder,” which is generally defined as a stockholder who becomes a beneficial owner of 15% or more of a Delaware corporation's voting stock, for a three-year period following the date that the stockholder became an interested stockholder. Section 203 could have the effect of delaying, deferring or preventing a change in control that our stockholders might consider to be in their best interests.

We have not paid cash dividends on our capital stock, and we do not expect to do so in the foreseeable future.

We have not historically paid cash dividends on our capital stock, and we have agreed not to pay any dividends or make any other distributions in our loan agreement with Silicon Valley Bank. We anticipate that we will retain all future earnings and cash resources for the future operation and development of our business, and as a result, we do not anticipate paying any cash dividends to holders of our capital stock for the foreseeable future. Any future determination regarding the payment of any dividends will be made at the discretion of our board of directors and will depend on our financial condition, results of operations, capital requirements, general business conditions, bank covenants and other factors that our board may deem relevant. Consequently, investors must rely on sales of their common stock after price appreciation, which may never occur, as the only way to realize any future gains on their investment.

The trading price and volume of our common stock has been and will likely continue to be volatile, and the value of an investment in our common stock may decline.

The trading price of our common stock has been, and is likely to continue to be, volatile and could decline substantially within a short period of time. For example, since shares of our common stock were sold in our initial public offering in February 2012 at a price of $5.00 per share through the close of business on May 9, 2014, our trading price has ranged from $2.13 to $18.00. The trading price of our common stock may be subject to wide fluctuations in response to various factors, some of which are beyond our control, including but not limited to the various factors set forth in this "Risk Factors" section, as well as:

- variations in our financial performance;

- announcements of technological innovations, new services and products, strategic alliances, asset acquisitions, or significant agreements by us or by our competitors;

- recruitment or departure of key personnel, such as the departure of Mr. Frankel, our President and Chief Executive Officer;

- changes in the estimates of our operating results or changes in recommendations or withdrawal of research coverage by securities analysts;

- market conditions in our industry, the industries of our customers and the economy as a whole; and

- adoption or modification of laws, regulations, policies, procedures or programs applicable to our business or announcements relating to these matters.

In addition, if the market for technology stocks or the stock market in general experiences loss of investor confidence, the trading price of our common stock could decline for reasons unrelated to our business, financial condition or results of operations. The trading price of our common stock might also decline in reaction to events that affect other companies in our industry even if these events do not directly affect us. Some companies that have had volatile market prices for their securities have had securities class actions filed against them. Such a suit filed against us, regardless of its merits or outcome, could cause us to incur substantial costs and could divert management's attention.

If securities or industry analysts do not publish research or reports about our company, our stock price and trading volume could decline.

The trading market for our common stock depends in part on the research and reports that securities or industry analysts publish about us or our business. If one or more of the analysts who cover us downgrade our stock or publish inaccurate or unfavorable research about our business, our stock price would likely decline. If one or more of these analysts cease coverage of our company or fail to publish reports on us regularly, demand for our stock could decrease, which might cause our stock price and trading volume to decline.

The requirements of being a public company, including increased costs and demands upon management as a result of complying with federal securities laws and regulations applicable to public companies, may adversely affect our financial performance and our ability to attract and retain directors.

As a public company, we are subject to the reporting requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or the Exchange Act, the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, or the Dodd-Frank Act, and the rules and regulations of The NASDAQ Global Market. The Sarbanes-Oxley Act, as well as rules subsequently implemented by the SEC and NASDAQ, impose additional requirements on public companies, including enhanced corporate governance practices. For example, the NASDAQ listing requirements require that listed companies satisfy certain corporate governance requirements relating to independent directors, audit committees, distribution of annual and interim reports, stockholder meetings, stockholder approvals, solicitation of proxies, conflicts of interest, stockholder voting rights and codes of business conduct. Our management team has limited experience managing a publicly-traded company or complying with the increasingly complex laws pertaining to public companies. In addition, most of our current directors have limited experience serving on the boards of public companies.

The requirements of these rules and regulations have increased and will continue to increase our legal, accounting and financial compliance costs, make some activities more difficult, time-consuming and costly and may also place undue strain on our personnel, systems and resources. Our management and other personnel must devote a substantial amount of time to these requirements. These rules and regulations will also make it more difficult and more expensive for us to maintain directors' and officers' liability insurance, and we may be required to accept reduced coverage or incur substantially higher costs to maintain coverage. If we are unable to maintain adequate directors' and officers' insurance, our ability to recruit and retain qualified directors, especially those directors who may be considered independent for purposes of NASDAQ rules, and officers may be significantly curtailed.

Item 2. Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities and Use of Proceeds

Use of Proceeds

In February 2012, we completed the initial public offering of shares of our common stock, in which we issued and sold 5,454,545 shares of common stock at a price to the public of $5.00 per share, for aggregate gross proceeds to the Company of $27.3 million, in each case excluding shares of common stock sold by selling stockholders in the offering. The offer and sale of all of the shares in the IPO were registered under the Securities Act pursuant to a registration statement on Form S-1 (File No. 333-178049), which was declared effective by the SEC on February 9, 2012.

There has been no material change in the planned use of proceeds from our initial public offering as described in our final prospectus filed with the SEC on February 10, 2012 pursuant to Rule 424(b).

AMENDMENT #3
TO
AMENDED AND RESTATED MASTER SERVICES AGREEMENT

This Amendment ("Third Amendment") effective December 07, 2012 ("Third Amendment Effective Date") is between Synacor, Inc. ("Synacor") and Qwest Corporation on behalf of itself and as agent for its Affiliates ("Client") under which the parties hereto mutually agree to modify and amend the Amended and Restated Master Services Agreement , with an effective date of January 1, 2012 (including the exhibits, schedules and amendments thereto, the "Agreement"). All terms defined herein shall be applicable solely to this Third Amendment. Any capitalized terms used herein, which are defined in the Agreement and not otherwise defined herein, shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the Agreement.

Whereas, Synacor desires to utilize Savvis Communications Corporation ("Savvis") as a subcontractor to provide certain hosting services for the legacy CenturyLink mailboxes under the Agreement; and

Whereas, Qwest desires to approve the use of Savvis as Synacor's subcontractor for such purposes; and

Whereas, the parties desire to amend the Agreement with respect to the Email Fee related to the hosting services that will be subcontracted to Savvis.

Therefore , in consideration of the premises and mutual covenants herein and for other good and valuable consideration, the sufficiency and receipt of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties agree as follows:

1.0 Approval of Savvis. Qwest hereby agrees that prior to any migration of the hosting of User's email boxes previously created by Synacor under the CenturyLink Agreement over to be hosted by Client (or its Affiliate) as described in Section 2.1(c) of the Agreement, Synacor may, and Synacor hereby agrees to, utilize Savvis as an authorized subcontractor for the provision of hosting such mailboxes. In order to migrate the User's email boxes as described in the preceding sentence, t he parties will mutually agree to a migration and hosting plan to move the hosting support of such Activated Email Boxes from the current data center to the Savvis data center (the "Hosting Migration Plan"). The parties agree that, for purposes of clarification and notwithstanding the fact that Synacor utilizes Savvis as its authorized subcontractor to host the previously described email boxes, such email boxes shall during the period they are hosted by Synacor hereunder (whether directly or through its subcontractor) remain as "Activated Email Boxes" for purposes of the Agreement. For purposes of clarification, i) all email boxes currently hosted by [] will, upon being migrated to the Savvis data center in accordance with the Hosting Migration Plan, and ii) any newly created email boxes hosted hereunder by Synacor in the Savvis data center, will each be considered Activated Email Boxes for the period that Synacor hosts such email boxes hereunder (either directly or through Synacor's authorized subcontractors). In addition, unless otherwise mutually agreed by the parties,which agreement will not be unreasonably withheld, [].

2.0 Email Fee. The definition of "Email Fee" set forth in Section 1 of Schedule A shall be amended and restated as follows: "Email Fee" means a fee that is due to Synacor each month throughout the Term for the hosting of the Activated Email Boxes which shall be equal to the sum of a) [*1 times the number of Activated Email Boxes that are hosted hereunder by Synacor in Synacor's or its subcontractor's hosting center (but expressly excluding those hosted by Synacor in the Savvis hosting center) during such month so long as any Activated Email Boxes remain in such hosting center, and b) [*1 . The parties agree that, with respect to the Email Fee component contained in clause a) above, commencing on the month that such component would be less than [*1 , such Email Fee component shall be subject to [*1 per month in any month that any Activated Email Box was hosted hereunder by Synacor other than through Savvis.

3.0 General

Other than as set forth above, the Agreement remains unchanged and in full force and effect.
If there is a conflict between the terms of the Agreement and this Third Amendment, this Third Amendment will control.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF , the parties hereto have executed this Third Amendment as of the Third Amendment Effective Date.

FIFTH AMENDMENT
TO
AMENDED AND RESTATED MASTER SERVICES AGREEMENT

This Fifth Amendment ("Fifth Amendment") effective as of January 29, 2013 ("Fifth Amendment Effective Date") is by and between Synacor, Inc. ("Synacor") and Qwest Corporation, on behalf of itself and as agent for its Affiliates ("Client"), under which the parties hereto mutually agree to modify and amend the Amended and Restated Master Services Agreement , effective as of January 1, 2012, as amended (including the exhibits, schedules and amendments thereto, the "Agreement") as provided in this Fifth Amendment. All terms defined herein shall be applicable solely to this Fifth Amendment. Any capitalized terms used herein, which are defined in the Agreement and not otherwise defined herein, shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the Agreement.

Whereas, the parties desire to add a new streaming music product to the Premium Products offered through the Residential Portal(s).

Now Therefore , in consideration of the premises and mutual covenants contained herein and for other good and valuable consideration, the sufficiency and receipt of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereby agree to amend and modify the Agreement, effective as of the Fifth Amendment Effective Date, as follows:

1.0 Music Service (Rdio): A new Section 1(a)(viii) is hereby added immediately following Section 1(a)(vii) to Schedule D of the Agreement as follows:

(viii) Rdio Premium Product Music Service: Synacor will make available a subscription and download music service sourced from Rdio, Inc. ("Rdio") as set forth in Exhibit 2 to Schedule D. For purposes of clarification, the Rdio Premium Product Music Service (as defined in Exhibit 2 to this Schedule D) is in addition to, and is different and separate from, the music service referred to in Section 1(a)(vii) above that is subject to the provisions of Exhibit 1 to Schedule D.

2.0 Exhibit 2: Attached hereto is Exhibit 2 to Schedule D of the Agreement.

3.0 Pricing: A new bullet point is hereby added to Section 1(b) of Schedule D immediately following the last bullet as follows:

- Rdio Premium Product Music Service: For the Rdio Unlimited Premium Product Service (as defined in Exhibit 2 to this Schedule D) Client's cost will be [] per Subscription Account per month. For the purposes of the Rdio Unlimited Premium Product Service, and notwithstanding anything in the Agreement to the contrary, the number of Subscription Accounts for the Rdio Unlimited Premium Product Service will be calculated as of the last day of each month based upon on the number of subscribers to such service who, either (i) have set up [] an account for such service through a Residential Portal, or (ii) have set up an account for such service through a Client call center [], and, in either case, have not terminated such account on or before the last day of such month. For purposes of this Section, []. Synacor shall keep accurate records of Subscription Accounts for the Rdio Premium Product Music Service and, in the event of discrepancies between Synacor's and Rdio's records, Synacor will work with Rdio in an effort to determine the nature of, and to correct any such, discrepancies. Synacor shall provide a detailed invoice to

- Client (setting forth the number of monthly Subscription Accounts for the Rdio Unlimited Premium Product Service) within [] following the expiration of each month, setting forth the amount owed to Synacor pursuant to this provision. Client will pay such invoiced amount (less any amounts disputed in good faith) within [] following receipt of such invoice. Upon Client's request, Synacor shall provide a list of all User Subscription Accounts that are invoiced in any month.

  In addition, with respect to any purchases of any Rdio Download Premium Product (as defined in Exhibit 2 to this Schedule D), Synacor will pay Client a percentage of all revenue or other consideration received by Synacor from Rdio in connection with, associated with, or with respect to, the Rdio Download Premium Product as set forth in Exhibit 2. For purposes of clarification and, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, any end user's access or use of the Rdio Download Premium Product shall in no event be considered a Subscription Account under this Agreement for purposes of calculating any amounts owed to Synacor under this Agreement. As a further point of clarification and, notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth in this Agreement, Section 4(b)(iv) of Schedule A shall not apply to the Rdio Premium Product Music Service and Client shall be required to pay Synacor the amounts described herein for any Rdio Unlimited Premium Product Service Subscription Accounts of Employee Users.

4.0 Synacor Provider Marks: For so long as the Rdio Premium Product Music Service is provided to Client by Synacor under the Agreement (including any applicable wind down period), Synacor authorizes Client to use the Rdio logo set forth on Exhibit A to this Amendment and any other trademarks, tradenames, or service marks of Rdio that Synacor may in the future approve for use by Client hereunder (collectively, the "Rdio Marks") solely in connection with the exercise of Client's rights under this Agreement and subject to Synacor's approval as provided herein. Client shall use and apply the Rdio Marks in accordance with the policies and guidelines related to the Rdio Marks that have been communicated to Client by Synacor. Client shall provide Synacor with copies of all sample advertisements, brochures, and other materials in which the Rdio Marks are proposed to be used or proposed to appear for Synacor's written approval prior to the commercial publication, dissemination or use thereof, and shall make all changes in any such advertisements, brochures and other materials as Synacor reasonably requests. Except as provided in this Agreement, Client shall have no right to use the Rdio Marks in any manner whatsoever, without the prior written consent of Synacor. Synacor represents and warrants that it has the right to grant the license provided herein and further represents and warrants that it has the authority to approve any such use of the Rdio Marks in the manner described herein. For purposes of clarification, the parties acknowledge and agree that any Rdio Marks authorized by Synacor to be used by Client hereunder shall constitute Synacor Sourced Content.

5.0 Scope of Amendment: This Fifth Amendment supersedes all proposals, oral or written, all negotiations, conversations, or discussions between or among parties relating to the subject matter of this Fifth Amendment. This Fifth Amendment shall be integrated into, and form part of, the Agreement effective as of the Fifth Amendment Effective Date. All terms and conditions of the Agreement shall remain unchanged except as expressly modified in this Fifth Amendment; and the terms of the Agreement, as modified by this Fifth Amendment, are hereby ratified and confirmed. Where the terms of the Agreement conflict with those of this Fifth Amendment, however, the terms of this Fifth Amendment shall control. This Fifth Amendment may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same agreement.

Exhibit 2
To Schedule D
Of the Master Services Agreement
Rdio Music Service

Synacor agrees to make available to Users through one or both of the Residential Portals a subscription and download music service as further described below (collectively, the "Rdio Premium Product Music Service"); provided however, Client may, at its sole discretion (and in no event is Client required to) exercise its right to instruct Synacor to make such service available on one or both Residential Portals. Synacor represents that it and Rdio have the right to provide the Rdio Premium Product Music Service and the Rdio Download Premium Product to Users as contemplated in, and subject to the terms of, this Agreement.

1. Service Description for Subscription Music Service (Rdio Unlimited): Synacor will make available (if and for so long as Client instructs Synacor to do so on one or both of the Residential Portals) a subscription music service sourced from Rdio that permits Users to access such service, as applicable, for a monthly fee via (i) the Internet through a web browser on a personal computer, and (ii) the Internet or mobile carrier networks through a mobile application on mobile devices operating specified iPhone iOS, Android or Blackberry operating systems, and with respect to the mobile service, provides for caching to the applicable mobile device for offline access to content (the "Rdio Unlimited Premium Product Service"). The Rdio Unlimited Premium Product Service shall be considered Synacor Sourced Content for the purposes of the Agreement. Client will collect payment for the Rdio Unlimited Premium Product Service (at the then current retail rate) from its Users that subscribe to such Premium Product and remit the amount owed to Synacor based upon the Client cost described in Section 1(b) of Schedule D in the manner set forth in Section 4 of Schedule A.

2. Service Description for Music Downloads through Rdio. In addition, Synacor also will make available to Users who are subscribers to the Rdio Unlimited Premium Product Service (if and for so long as Client instructs Synacor to do so) the right to purchase and download songs or albums on an a la carte basis (the "Rdio Download Premium Product"). Such Users will pay for such downloads by credit card directly to Rdio. Any Rdio Download Premium Product purchased by such Users shall entitle such Users to the rights established by Rdio in its terms of service for the Rdio Download Premium Product. Synacor will pay to Client [*] of the consideration it receives from Rdio in connection with, associated with, or with respect to any Rdio Download Premium Product downloaded by Users (provided such amount is subject to refund, in the event of refunds actually paid to the User). The Rdio Download Premium Product shall be considered Synacor Sourced Content for the purposes of the Agreement.

3. Promotional Period: Client may request from Synacor the ability to offer the Rdio Premium Product Music Service to Users on a promotional basis without requiring such Users (or Client) to pay a fee, provided that in no event shall such promotional period exceed a period of [*], unless otherwise approved by Synacor.

4. Additional Termination Rights Concerning Rdio Premium Products Music Service:

a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Agreement, Synacor may immediately suspend access to any Content made available through the Rdio Premium Product Music Service upon prior written notice (including by e-mail) to Client in the event that any agreement entered into by

[*] = CERTAIN INFORMATION HAS BEEN OMITTED AND FILED SEPARATELY WITH THE COMMISSION. CONFIDENTIAL TREATMENT HAS BEEN REQUESTED WITH RESPECT TO THE OMITTED PORTIONS.

Rdio with a record label with respect to such suspended Content expires or is terminated for any reason other than Rdio's uncured material breach. In such event, Synacor shall reasonably endeavor to notify Client of such suspension at least sixty (60) days in advance of such expiration or termination, but in any event, Synacor shall notify Client as promptly as practicable after becoming aware of such expiration or termination.

b) In the event that any agreement entered into by Rdio and a record label expires or is terminated for any reason other than Rdio's uncured material breach, and as a result thereof, Rdio determines to discontinue offering the Rdio Premium Product Music Service as a whole and indefinitely, then Synacor shall be permitted to terminate the provision of such service; provided that (i) Synacor shall reasonably endeavor to notify Client of such discontinuance at least sixty (60) days in advance thereof (but in any event, Synacor shall notify Client as promptly as practicable after becoming aware of such anticipated discontinuance), and (ii) in the event of any termination of the service in accordance with this clause (b), Client shall be entitled to a wind-down period limited to three (3) months where Synacor shall continue to provide the Rdio Premium Product Music Service. During the wind-down period referenced in this paragraph, Users of existing Subscription Accounts (as of the termination date), shall continue to have access to the Content that was available to such Users through the Rdio Premium Product Music Service immediately prior to such termination.

SIXTH AMENDMENT TO
AMENDED & RESTATED MASTER SERVICES AGREEMENT

This Sixth Amendment (“Sixth Amendment”) effective as of November 1, 2013 (“Sixth Amendment Effective Date”) is by and between Synacor, Inc. (“Synacor”) and Qwest Corporation , on behalf of itself and as agent for its Affiliates (“Client”) under which the parties hereto mutually agree to modify and amend the Amended & Restated Master Services Agreement , effective as of April 1, 2012 , as amended (including the exhibits, schedules and amendments thereto, the "Agreement“) as provided in this Sixth Amendment. All terms defined herein shall be applicable solely to this Sixth Amendment. Any capitalized terms used herein, which are defined in the Agreement and are not otherwise defined herein, shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the Agreement.

WHEREAS , the parties desire to change the pricing of the F-Secure security product and to change other terms and conditions surrounding Client’s offering of the F-Secure security product to its Users.

NOW, THEREFORE , in consideration of the premises and mutual covenants contained herein, and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereby agree to amend and modify the Agreement, effective as of the Sixth Amendment Date, as follows:

1.0 Effective Date: The parties agree that wherever the date January 1, 2012 is used to describe the effective date of the Agreement, together with any amendments thereto, such date shall be amended to be April 1, 2012, and where the term “Effective Date” is used in the Agreement, together with any amendments thereto, the term “Effective Date” shall mean April 1, 2012.

2.0 Internet Security Premium Product: Schedule D to the Agreement, Premium Product & Pricing Schedule is hereby amended as follows:

2.1 Section 1(a)(vi) of Schedule D to the Agreement is hereby amended by deleting the following:

“Client will offer the Internet Security Premium Product to its Residential Portal Users throughout the Term [*]

[*] = CERTAIN INFORMATION HAS BEEN OMITTED AND FILED SEPARATELY WITH THE COMMISSION. CONFIDENTIAL TREATMENT HAS BEEN REQUESTED WITH RESPECT TO THE OMITTED PORTIONS.

2.2 Section 1(a)(vi) of Schedule D to the Agreement is hereby amended by correcting references to "this Section 1(a)(iv)" to be correctly stated as "this Section 1(a)(vi)" and Section 1(a)(vi) is hereby further amended by adding the following language at the end of the existing Section 1(a)(vi), as amended herein:

"Provided, however, that Client agrees that it shall not implement a marketing or messaging program that intentionally targets its Users who are then existing F-Secure internet security product users, Norton internet security products other than in connection with a marketing or messaging program intended to promote the upgrading of User's premium high speed internet to a tier above the then current tier subscribed to by such User.

In addition, and provided that the Agreement is in full force and effect, Client agrees as follows: [*]

Notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement to the contrary, Synacor shall have the additional obligation to monitor and report monthly to Client the number of Subscription Accounts (as indicated by the number of license keys provided for the product) for the F-Secure internet security product."

3.0 Premium Product and Content Fees: The Sixth Bullet Point of Subsection 1(b) of Schedule D to the Agreement is hereby deleted and the following is inserted in its place:
"Internet Security: Client's cost shall be [] per Subscription Account per month []

4.0 Amendment to Section 17: The parties agree that, effective as of the Effective Date, the first sentence of Section 17 of the Agreement is hereby amended and restated in its entirety as follows: "No change, modification or waiver to this Agreement will be effective unless in writing and signed by both parties by an authorized representative of each party."

[*] = CERTAIN INFORMATION HAS BEEN OMITTED AND FILED SEPARATELY WITH THE COMMISSION. CONFIDENTIAL TREATMENT HAS BEEN REQUESTED WITH RESPECT TO THE OMITTED PORTIONS.

5.0 Scope of Amendment: This Sixth Amendment supersedes all proposals, oral or written, all negotiations, conversations, or discussions between or among the parties relating to the subject matter of this Sixth Amendment. This Sixth Amendment shall be integrated into, and form a part of, the Agreement as of the Sixth Amendment Effective Date. All terms and conditions of the Agreement shall remain unchanged except as expressly modified by this Sixth Amendment; and the terms of the Agreement as modified by this Sixth Amendment are hereby ratified and confirmed. If the terms of the Agreement conflict with those of this Sixth Amendment, the terms of this Sixth Amendment shall control. This Sixth Amendment may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this Sixth Amendment as of the date set forth below their respective signatures, to be effective as of the Sixth Amendment Effective Date.

SYNACOR, INC.

EMPLOYMENT TRANSITION AGREEMENT

This Employment Transition Agreement (the " Agreement ") is dated as of March 5, 2014 by and between Synacor, Inc. (the " Company ") and Ronald N. Frankel (" Executive " and together with the Company, the " Parties ").

WHEREAS, the Executive desires to retire from his position as the President and Chief Executive Officer of the Company, effective as of the Transition Date (as defined below);

WHEREAS, the Parties desire to facilitate an orderly transition and succession of a new President and Chief Executive Officer, but the Parties recognize that the duration of such an orderly transition is unknown; and

WHEREAS, the Company desires to retain the services of the Executive, and the Executive is willing to provide such services in connection with the transition and succession of a new President and Chief Executive Officer, in each case, pursuant to the terms and conditions hereof.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the promises and mutual covenants contained herein, the Parties hereby agree as follows:

1. Transition . The Executive agrees to continue to serve as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Company until the effectiveness of the Board's appointment of his successor or such earlier date as the Board of Directors of the Company (the " Board ") shall determine (the " Transition Date "). As of the Transition Date, the Executive will resign as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Company and from any position he holds at any of its subsidiaries, affiliates and joint ventures (collectively, the " Affiliates "), to the extent applicable. From the Transition Date through the second anniversary of the Transition Date (the " Transition Period "), the Executive shall be employed by the Company as a non-executive employee, subject to earlier termination by the Executive or the Company in accordance with the terms herein. The period of the Executive's employment under this Agreement, from the Effective Date until the date on which the Executive's employment terminates for any reason on or prior to the last day of the Transition Period, is referred to herein as the " Employment Term ." From the Transition Date through the end of the Employment Term, the Executive shall provide such assistance as may be requested, and shall have such duties, responsibilities and authority as may be assigned by the Board from time to time, including: performing activities related to the transition of his duties as President and Chief Executive Officer; providing continuity and management support through the Transition Period; and providing guidance and continuity in the Company's strategic planning cycle; provided that, in no event shall the total number of hours that the Executive is obligated to perform during any calendar month following the Transition Date exceed 30 hours. During the Employment Term, the Executive will perform his duties faithfully and to the best of his ability and, during the period beginning on the Effective Date and ending on the Transition Date, the Executive will devote substantially full business efforts and time to the Company.

2. At-Will Employment . The Parties agree that the Executive's employment with the Company is "at-will" employment and may be terminated at any time by either Party for any reason, with or without cause or notice. Any contrary representations that may have been made to the Executive are superseded by this Agreement. This is the full and complete agreement between the Parties with respect to the Executive's employment during the Employment Term. The "at will" nature of the Executive's employment may only be changed in an express written agreement signed by the Parties. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, as described in this Agreement, the Executive may be entitled to severance benefits depending on the circumstances of the Executive's termination of employment with the Company during the Employment Term.

3. Cash Compensation . During the Employment Term, the Company will continue to pay the Executive a base salary at an annualized rate of $350,000, payable in accordance with the Company's standard payroll schedule (the " Base Salary "). The Executive will be entitled to receive payment of any 2013 annual incentive compensation only to the extent applicable performance objectives have been achieved under the terms of such incentive program.

4. Incentive Compensation .

(a) If the Transition Date occurs at any time during the ninety (90) day period beginning on the Effective Date, the Executive will not be eligible to participate in any 2014 cash incentive bonus program for 2014. If the Transition Date occurs at any time during the period beginning on the first day following the ninety (90) day period beginning on the Effective Date and ending at the end of the one hundred eighty (180) day period beginning on the Effective Date, the Executive shall be entitled to receive payment of fifty percent (50%) of the amount, if any, payable under the 2014 annual incentive compensation program to the extent that applicable performance objectives for 2014 have been achieved. If the Transition Date occurs at any time after the end of the one hundred eighty (180) day period beginning on the Effective Date and prior to January 1, 2015, the Executive shall be entitled to receive payment of the full amount, if any, payable under the 2014 annual incentive compensation program to the extent that applicable performance objectives for 2014 have been achieved.

(b) If the Transition Date occurs at any time on or after January 1, 2015 and prior to March 31, 2015, the Executive will not be eligible to participate in any 2015 cash incentive bonus program for 2015. If the Transition Date occurs at any time on or after April 1, 2015 and prior to July 1 2015, the Executive shall be entitled to receive payment of fifty percent (50%) of the amount, if any, payable under the 2015 annual incentive compensation program to the extent that applicable performance objectives for 2015 have been achieved. If the Transition Date occurs at any time on or after July 1, 2015, the Executive shall be entitled to receive payment of the full amount, if any, payable under the 2015 annual incentive compensation program to the extent that applicable performance objectives for 2015 have been achieved.

(c) All payments of any cash incentive bonus program shall be made to the Executive in the same form of payment as is provided for with respect to payments under any such program which are made to other executive officers of the Company and at the same time that such incentive bonus payments are made to other executive officers of the Company. The bonus (if any) will be awarded based on objective or subjective criteria established by the Board. The determinations of the Board with respect to the Executive's incentive bonus will be final and binding.

5. Options .

(a) Except as set forth in this Section 5(a) and in Section 5(b) below, the options to purchase shares of the Company's common stock (the " Options ") previously granted to the Executive will remain subject to the terms of the stock option agreements and stock plans under which such Options were granted, as amended by the letter agreements between the Executive and the Company dated March 1, 2008 and June 23, 2009. Service during the Employment Term will constitute "service" (as that concept is defined or otherwise incorporated into each option agreement) for purposes of the applicable agreements governing the Options.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of the stock option agreements under which the Options were granted (including the terms of the Notice of Stock Option Grant which accompanies such stock option agreements), (i) on the Transition Date, the Executive's right to exercise such Options shall, in addition to the Executive's right to exercise such Options as to vested Shares (as defined in the option agreements) be accelerated as to the number of Restricted Shares (as defined in the stock option agreements) that would have vested and become exercisable as of the end of the 24 month period beginning on the Transition Date and any Right of Repurchase (as defined in the stock option agreements) applicable to any such Restricted Shares shall lapse with respect to those Restricted Shares as to which the Right of Repurchase (as defined in the option agreements) would have lapsed as of the end of the 24 month period beginning on the Transition Date, in each case, assuming the Executive remained in Continuous Service Status (as defined in the option agreements) for such 24 month period and (ii) after giving effect to clause (i), the Options shall cease vesting and the Right of Repurchase shall not lapse on any additional shares following the Transition Date.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of the stock option agreements under which the Options were granted (including the terms of the Notice of Stock Option Grant which accompanies such stock option agreements), the Options (and the Executive's right to exercise the options to the extent that the Options have become exercisable for vested Shares) shall expire on the earlier of the date which is ten (10) years after the Date of Grant (as defined in the option agreements) and the third anniversary of the Transition Date.

6. Employee Benefits . Except as provided in the following sentence, during the Employment Term, the Executive will be eligible to participate in the employee benefit plans then maintained by the Company of general applicability to other senior executives of the Company, currently including, without limitation, the Company's group medical, dental, vision, disability, life insurance, and flexible-spending account plans under the same economic terms as all other executives. Notwithstanding the foregoing, with respect to group medical benefits, the Company shall continue to provide the Executive the same group medical benefits which are currently being provided to the Executive upon the same terms that such group medical benefits are currently being provided to the Executive from the Effective Date through the earlier of the end of the Employment Term or the date the Executive becomes eligible to receive medical benefits from a new employer and, if and to the extent that the Company is no longer able to make such group medical benefits available to the Executive, whether due to the provisions of the Affordable Care Act or otherwise, the Company shall reimburse to the Executive the cost of obtaining substantially comparable group medical benefits through the earlier of the end of the Employment Term or the date the Executive becomes eligible to receive medical benefits from a new employer. Except as provided by the immediately preceding sentence with respect to the group medical benefits to be made available to the Executive during the Employment Term, the Company reserves the right to cancel or change the benefit plans and programs it offers to its employees at any time. The Executive will cease to accrue paid vacation as of the Transition Date.

7. Expenses . The Company will reimburse the Executive for reasonable business expenses incurred by the Executive in the furtherance of or in connection with the performance of the Executive's duties hereunder, in accordance with the Company's expense reimbursement policy as in effect from time to time; provided that the Company shall not be required to provide or to pay or reimburse the Executive for office space, support staff or related services in a location other than its Buffalo, New York headquarters.

8. Severance. Upon termination of the Executive's employment for any reason other than the Executive's death, for Cause or a termination by the Executive (i) to become a W-2 employee (not a consultant) of any person, firm, corporation or other entity or (ii) for any reason on or after the first anniversary of the Transition Date, the Executive will be entitled to accrued Base Salary and benefits through the last day of the Transition Period. The Executive may be entitled to additional payments and benefits upon certain terminations of employment. Any payments and/or benefits to the Executive in connection with his termination of employment in addition to his accrued Base Salary and benefits through the last day of the Executive's Employment Term are referred to herein as "Severance."

(a) Termination By the Executive For Alternate Employment or Due to Death. If the Executive's employment is terminated due to the Executive's death or if the Executive terminates his employment with the Company to become a W-2 employee of any person, firm, corporation or other entity, in each case prior to the first anniversary of the Transition Date, then, subject to Sections 9 and 10, the Executive (or, in the case of the Executive's death, the personal representative of the Executive's estate) will be entitled to continued payment of the Executive's annual Base Salary in accordance with the Company's normal payroll schedule through the first anniversary of the Transition Date. If the Executive's employment is terminated due to the Executive's death or if the Executive terminates his employment with the Company to become a W-2 employee of any person, firm, corporation or other entity, in each case on or after the first anniversary of the Transition Date, then the Executive will only be entitled to receive Base Salary and benefits accrued through the last day of the Executive's Employment Term.

(b) Termination for Cause or by the Executive On or After the First Anniversary of the Transition Date. If the Executive's employment with the Company is terminated (i) by the Company for Cause or (ii) by the Executive for any reason on or after the first anniversary of the Transition Date, the Executive will only be entitled to receive Base Salary and benefits accrued through the last day of the Executive's Employment Term.

(c) Change of Control. Notwithstanding anything else in this Section 8 to the contrary, if the Company undergoes a Change of Control prior to or within six (6) months following the Transition Date and the Executive is subject to an Involuntary Termination within twelve (12) months following such Change of Control, then, subject to Sections 9 and 10, he will be entitled to the following Severance: (i) continued payment of his annual Base Salary in accordance with the Company's normal payroll schedule for twelve (12) months following such termination; (ii) his target annual cash bonus amount, as modified by Section 4(a) or 4(b), as applicable, paid in one lump sum payment; and (iii) if the Executive elects to continue his group health insurance coverage under the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act ("COBRA") after the effective date of the Involuntary Termination, continued payment of the monthly premium for the Executive and, if applicable, the Executive's dependents for a twelve-month period following the effective date of the Involuntary Termination.

(d) Timing of Cash Severance Payments. Subject to Sections 9 and 10, any cash Severance payment specified in this Section 8 will be paid on, or, in the case of installments, will not commence until, the sixtieth (60th) day following the Executive's Separation.

9. Conditions to Receipt of Severance. The receipt of any Severance pursuant to Sections 8(a) or 8(c) will be subject to the Executive's (i) having returned all Company property in the Executive's possession, and (ii) having executed a general release of all claims that the Executive may have against the Company or persons affiliated with the Company, in a form mutually agreeable to the Company and the Executive, on or before the date specified by the Company in the prescribed form (the "Release Deadline"), which date will in no event be later than 50 days after the Executive's Separation. If the Executive fails to return the release on or before the Release Deadline, or if the Executive revokes the release, then the Executive will not be entitled to the benefits described in Sections 8(a) or 8(c), as applicable.

10. Section 409A .

(a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, no Severance pay or benefits to be paid or provided to the Executive, if any, pursuant to this Agreement that, when considered together with any other severance payments or separation benefits, are considered deferred compensation under Section 409A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the " Code "), and the final regulations and any guidance promulgated thereunder (" Section 409A ") payable upon the Executive's Separation in accordance with Treasury Regulation 1.409A-3(i)(2)(i) (together, the " Deferred Payments ") will be paid or otherwise provided until the Executive has a "separation from service" within the meaning of Section 409A. For purposes of this Agreement, each of the payments to be made to the Executive under this Agreement shall be treated as a separate payment under Section 409A. Similarly, no Severance payable to the Executive, if any, pursuant to this Agreement that otherwise would be exempt from Section 409A pursuant to Treasury Regulation Section 1.409A−1(b)(9) will be payable until the Executive has a "separation from service" within the meaning of Section 409A.

(b) Any Severance payments or benefits under this Agreement that would be considered Deferred Payments will be paid on, or, in the case of installments, will not commence until such time as required by this Section 10(b). Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, if the Executive is a "specified employee" within the meaning of Section 409A at the time of the Executive's termination (other than due to death), then any Deferred Payments, if any, that are payable within the first six (6) months following the Executive's Separation will become payable on the first payroll date that occurs on or after the date six (6) months and one (1) day following the date of the Executive's separation from service. All subsequent Deferred Payments, if any, will be payable in accordance with the payment schedule applicable to each payment or benefit. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, if the Executive dies following the Executive's separation from service, but before the six (6) month anniversary of the separation from service, then any payments delayed in accordance with this paragraph will be payable in a lump sum as soon as administratively practicable after the date of the Executive's death and all other Deferred Payments will be payable in accordance with the payment schedule applicable to each payment or benefit. Each payment and benefit payable under this Agreement is intended to constitute a separate payment under Section 1.409A-2(b)(2) of the Treasury Regulations.

(c) Any amount paid under this Agreement that satisfies the requirements of the "short-term deferral" rule set forth in Section 1.409A-1(b)(4) of the Treasury Regulations will not constitute Deferred Payments for purposes of this Section 10. Any amount paid under this Agreement that qualifies as a payment made as a result of an involuntary separation from service pursuant to Section 1.409A-1(b)(9)(iii) of the Treasury Regulations that does not exceed the Section 409A Limit (as defined below) will not constitute Deferred Payments for purposes of this Section 10.

(d) The foregoing provisions are intended to comply with the requirements of Section 409A so that none of the severance payments and benefits to be provided hereunder will be subject to the additional tax imposed under Section 409A, and any ambiguities herein will be interpreted to so comply. The Company and the Executive agree to work together in good faith to consider amendments to this Agreement and to take such reasonable actions which are necessary, appropriate or desirable to avoid imposition of any additional tax or income recognition before actual payment to the Executive under Section 409A.

11. Release of All Claims . In consideration for the Company agreeing to continue the Executive's employment through the Employment Term, to the fullest extent permitted by law, the Executive waives, releases and promises never to assert any claims or causes of action, whether or not now known, against the Company or its predecessors, successors or past or present Affiliates, stockholders, directors, officers, employees, consultants, attorneys, agents, assigns and employee benefit plans with respect to any matter, including (without limitation) any matter related to the Executive's employment with the Company, including (without limitation) claims to attorneys' fees or costs, claims of constructive discharge, emotional distress, defamation, invasion of privacy, fraud, breach of contract or breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing and any claims of discrimination or harassment based on sex, age, race, national origin, disability or any other basis under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, the New York State Human Rights Law, the New York Executive Law, the New York Civil Practice Law and Rules, the New York Judiciary Law, the New York Labor Law, the New York Civil Rights Law, the New York Administrative Code, the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, and all other laws and regulations relating to employment. However, this release covers only those claims that arose prior to the execution of this Agreement and only those claims that may be waived by applicable law. Execution of this Agreement does not bar any claim that arises hereafter, including (without limitation) a claim for breach of this Agreement and does not bar any claim by the Executive for indemnification under that certain Indemnification Agreement made by and between the Executive and the Company as of October 4, 2007.

12. Bring-Down Release. Within 21 days following the Transition Date, the Executive agrees to enter into a general release of all claims that the Executive may have against the Company or persons affiliated with the Company as of such date, in a form mutually agreeable to the Company and the Executive. Such release must be returned, on or before the date specified by the Company in the prescribed form. If the Executive fails to return the release on or before the date specified by the Company, or if the Executive revokes the release, such action will be deemed a willful breach of his obligations under this this Agreement.

13. Consideration and Revocation Period. The Executive acknowledges that he has hereby been advised in writing to consult with an attorney of his choice prior to signing this Agreement, and that he had at least 21 days to consider this Agreement before signing it. The Executive acknowledges that if this Agreement is signed before 21 days have elapsed from the date of delivery, by signing this Agreement he has expressly waived the 21-day consideration period. The Executive acknowledges that he may revoke this Agreement within seven (7) days following its execution, and the Agreement shall not become effective until the revocation period has expired. If the Executive does not revoke this Agreement, the eighth day after the date the Executive signs the Agreement will be the " Effective Date ."

14. Opportunity to Seek Counsel. The Executive acknowledges by signing this Agreement that he has read and understands this document, that he has conferred with or had the opportunity to confer with an attorney of his choice regarding the terms and meaning of this Agreement, that he has had sufficient time to consider the terms provided for in this Agreement, that no representations or inducements have been made to him as set forth herein, and that he has signed the same knowingly and voluntarily.

15. Definitions.

(a) Cause. For purposes of this Agreement, " Cause " is defined as (i) the Executive's intentional failure to substantially perform duties assigned by the Board; provided that, a failure to achieve financial performance goals shall not, by itself, be deemed to be an intentional failure to substantially perform duties assigned, (ii) the Executive's commission of any act of fraud, embezzlement, felony, or other willful misconduct that causes material injury to the Company, (iii) the Executive's intentional unauthorized use or disclosure of any proprietary information or trade secrets of the Company or any other party to whom the Executive owes an obligation of nondisclosure as a result of the Executive's relationship with the Company, which unauthorized use or disclosure causes material harm to the Company, or (iv) the Executive's willful breach of his obligations under any written covenant or agreement with the Company, which, in the case of clauses (i) and (ii) hereof, is not cured within 30 days following written notice thereof by the Company.

(b) Change of Control. For purposes of this Agreement, "Change of Control" means (i) the consummation of any merger or consolidation of the Company with or into another corporation other than a merger or consolidation in which the holders of more than 50% of the shares of capital stock of the Company outstanding immediately prior to such transaction continue to hold (either by the voting securities remaining outstanding or by their being converted into voting securities of the surviving entity) more than 50% of the total voting power represented by the voting securities of the Company, or such surviving entity, outstanding immediately after such transaction; (ii) the sale, transfer or other disposition of all or substantially all of the Company's assets; (iii) a change in the composition of the Board, as a result of which fewer than 50% of the incumbent directors are directors who either: (A) had been directors of the Company on the date 24 months prior to the date of such change in the composition of the Board (the "Original Directors"); or (B) were appointed to the Board, or nominated for election to the Board, with the affirmative votes of at least a majority of the aggregate of (x) the Original Directors who were in office at the time of their appointment or nomination and (y) the directors whose appointment or nomination was previously approved in a manner consistent with this clause (B); or (iv) any transaction as a result of which any person is the "beneficial owner" (as defined in Rule 13d-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended), directly or indirectly, of securities of the Company representing at least 50% of the total voting power represented by the Company's then outstanding voting securities. For purposes of this clause (iv), the term "person" shall have the same meaning as when used in sections 13(d) and 14 (d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, but shall exclude (A) a trustee or other fiduciary holding securities under an employee benefit plan of the Company and (B) a corporation owned directly or indirectly by the stockholders of the Company in substantially the same proportions as their ownership of the common stock of the Company.

A transaction shall not constitute a Change of Control if its sole purpose is to change the state of the Company's incorporation or to create a holding company that will be owned in substantially the same proportions by the persons who held the Company's securities immediately before such transaction.

(c) Competitive Business. For purposes of this Agreement, "Competitive Business" means a person, firm, corporation, limited liability company or other entity that engages in the business of providing startpages, TV Everywhere solutions, Identity Management (IDM) and cloud-based services and authentication and aggregation solutions for delivery of online content to cable, satellite, telecom and consumer electronics companies and other commercial businesses, or such other business that the Company has engaged in during the Executive's employment. In connection with the foregoing, Competitive Business includes, but is not limited to, TIVO; Yahoo!; AOL; Clear Leap; Rovi and Azuki. In addition to the foregoing, a person, firm, corporation, limited liability company or other entity that engages in the provision of content directly to consumers (as opposed to commercial businesses) shall not be deemed to be a Competitive Business solely by reason of providing such content to consumers.

(d) Involuntary Termination. For purposes of this Agreement, "Involuntary Termination" means (i) a Termination Without Cause or (ii) voluntary termination by the Executive within 60 days following (A) a material reduction in the Executive's job responsibilities, provided that neither a mere change in title alone nor reassignment following a Change of Control to a position that is substantially similar to the position held prior to the Change of Control shall constitute a material reduction in job responsibilities; (B) relocation by the Company of the Executive's work site to a facility or location more than 50 miles from the Executive's current office; or (C) a reduction in the Executive's then-current base salary by at least 10%, provided that an across-the-board reduction in the salary level of all other employees in positions similar to the Executive's by the same percentage amount as part of a general salary level reduction shall not constitute such a salary reduction. In order for a voluntary termination as defined in this Subsection to be deemed Involuntary Termination, the Executive must provide the Company with written notice within fifteen (15) days of the initial existence of (A), (B) or (C) above, the Company will have 30 days after its receipt of such written notice to cure (A), (B) or (C) and, if such event is not cured within 30 days after the Company's receipt of such notice, the Executive must voluntarily terminate his employment within 90 days after the existence of the conditions in (A), (B), or (C).

(e) Separation. For purposes of this Agreement, "Separation" means a "separation from service," as defined in the regulations under Section 409A. For purposes of this Agreement the Executive's Separation shall be deemed to occur on the first day following the Transition Date.

(f) Section 409A Limit. For purposes of this Agreement, "Section 409A Limit" shall mean the lesser of two (2) times: (i) the Executive's annualized compensation based upon the annual rate of pay paid to the Executive during the Company's taxable year preceding the Company's taxable year of the Executive's Separation; or (ii) the maximum amount that may be taken into account under a qualified plan pursuant to Section 401(a)(17) of the Code for the year of the Executive's Separation.

(g) Termination Without Cause. For purposes of this Agreement, "Termination Without Cause" means a Separation as a result of a termination of the Executive's employment by the Company for reasons other than Cause.

16. Restrictive Covenants and Commitments. The Executive has entered into a Proprietary Information and Inventions Agreement (the "Proprietary Information Agreement") with the Company, which remains in full force and effect.

(a) No Solicitation. From the date hereof through the twenty-four month period following the Executive's Separation or such later date as may be applicable under the Proprietary Information Agreement, the Executive shall not, whether on the Executive's own behalf or on behalf of or in conjunction with any person, firm, partnership, corporation, or other business organization, entity or enterprise whatsoever ("Person"), directly or indirectly:

(i) hire, solicit or encourage any employee, officer, director, independent contractor of or consultant to the Company or any of its Affiliates to leave his, her or its engagement with the Company or any of its Affiliates;

(ii) solicit, divert or attempt to solicit or divert from the Company or any of its Affiliates any of their customers, agents or suppliers or potential customers, agents or suppliers that the Company has solicited within twenty-four (24) months prior to the Executive's Separation.

(b) Noncompetition. From the date hereof through the latest of (i) the first anniversary of the Transition Date, (ii) the end of the Employment Term and (iii) the first anniversary of the Executive's ceasing to serve as a member of the Board (such period being hereinafter the "Restriction Period"), the Executive shall not, whether on the Executive's own behalf or on behalf of or in conjunction with any Person, directly or indirectly own, manage, operate, control or participate in the ownership, management, operation or control of, or be connected with or have any interest in, as a shareholder, director, officer, employee, agent, consultant, partner, creditor or otherwise, any Competitive Business anywhere within: (i) the State of New York, (ii) any other state of the United States and the District of Columbia in which the Company or any of its Affiliates engages in or has engaged in business during the past five years, or (iii) any other country in which the Company or any of its Affiliates engages in or has engaged in business during the past five years. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section 16(b) shall be deemed to prohibit the Executive from becoming employed during the Restricted Period by a person, firm, corporation, limited liability company or other entity that is incidentally engaged in any of the activities that, if principally engaged in by such enterprise, would cause such enterprise to be considered a Competitive Business; provided that the Executive is not engaged in performing services to the portion of such enterprise which would be considered a Competitive Business if it were the principal business of such enterprise.

(c) Cooperation . During and following the Transition Period, the Executive shall cooperate with the Company, as reasonably requested by the Company, to effect a transition of the Executive's responsibilities and to ensure that the Company is aware of all matters being handled by the Executive. In particular and without limiting the foregoing, the Executive shall cooperate with and make himself available as requested by the Company in connection with any government investigation, administrative hearing or any other similar proceeding involving the Company. The parties acknowledge that the consideration provided under this Agreement shall be consideration for his cooperation under this Section 16(c) whenever such cooperation is needed.

(d) Breach of Covenants . The parties agree that the Company would suffer irreparable harm upon the Executive's breach of the preceding paragraphs of this Section 16, and that any such breach will constitute a material breach of this Agreement for purposes of the definition of Cause contained herein. Upon any such breach, the Company may terminate this Agreement and the Executive will only be entitled to the payments set forth in Section 8 (b). In addition, upon any such breach, the Company may seek equitable relief in such form as may then be available. The Executive and the Company further agree that the damages which would be suffered by the Company in the event that the Executive were to breach any of the covenants contained in Section 16(a) or Section 16(b) would be difficult, if not impossible to ascertain. Accordingly, the Executive and the Company agree that, in the event of a breach by the Executive of the covenants contained in Section 16 (a) or Section 16(b) hereof, in addition to any equitable relief which the Company may be entitled to as a result of a breach by the Executive of the covenants contained in Section 16(a) or Section 16(b), upon a final, non-appealable determination of a court of competent jurisdiction that the Executive has breached any of the covenants contained in Section 16(a) or Section 16(b) hereof, (i) the Executive shall be obligated to pay to the company, as liquidated damages and not as a penalty, an amount equal to the after-tax profits of any shares of Company common stock purchased by the Executive upon the exercise of any of Executive's Options more than 90 days after the Transition Date and later sold by the Executive (with any shares of Company common stock acquired upon exercise of any of Executive's Options that have not been sold at such time, to be sold within 30 days thereof and all such after-tax profits paid to the Company) and (ii) the Executive shall forfeit, without payment therefor, any Options then outstanding and unexercised.

17. No Disparagement . The Executive agrees that he will never make any negative or disparaging statements (orally or in writing) about the Company or its stockholders, directors, officers, employees, products, services or business practices, except as required by law.

18. Assignment . This Agreement will be binding upon and inure to the benefit of (a) the heirs, executors and legal representatives of the Executive upon the Executive's death and (b) any successor of the Company. Any such successor of the Company will be deemed substituted for the Company under the terms of this Agreement for all purposes. For this purpose, "successor" means any person, firm, corporation or other business entity which at any time, whether by purchase, merger or otherwise, directly or indirectly acquires all or substantially all of the assets or business of the Company. None of the rights of the Executive to receive any form of compensation payable pursuant to this Agreement may be assigned or transferred except by will or the laws of descent and distribution. Any other attempted assignment, transfer, conveyance or other disposition of the Executive's right to compensation or other benefits will be null and void.

19. Notices. All notices, requests, demands and other communications called for hereunder will be in writing and will be deemed given (a) on the date of delivery if delivered personally, (b) one (1) day after being sent by a well-established commercial overnight service, or (c) four (4) days after being mailed by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, prepaid and addressed to the Parties or their successors at the following addresses, or at such other addresses as the Parties may later designate in writing:

If to the Company:

Synacor, Inc.
40 La Riviere Drive , Suite 300
Buffalo, New York 14202
Attention: Jordan Levy

If to the Executive:

ATTN: Ronald N. Frankel, at the last residential address known by the Company.

20. Severability. In the event that any provision hereof becomes or is declared by a court of competent jurisdiction to be illegal, unenforceable or void, this Agreement will continue in full force and effect without said provision. In the event that a court of competent jurisdiction shall determine that any provision of this Agreement or the application thereof is unenforceable in whole or in part because of the duration or scope thereof, the parties hereto agree that said court in making such determination shall have the power to reduce the duration and scope of such provision to the extent necessary to make it enforceable, and that the Agreement in its reduced form shall be valid and enforceable to the full extent permitted by law.

21. Entire Agreement. This Agreement, together with any stock option agreements between the Company and the Executive, and the Proprietary Information Agreement, in each case, as such stock option agreements, and Proprietary Information Agreement have been amended, including any amendments to such stock option agreements, and Proprietary Information Agreement as may be provided for or contained in this Agreement represents the entire agreement and understanding between the Parties as to the subject matter herein and supersedes all prior or contemporaneous agreements whether written or oral, including without limitation, the letter agreement by and between the Executive and the Company dated as of July 25, 2007 and the Change of Control Severance Agreement between the Executive and the Company effective as of the effective date of the Company's registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission for its initial public offering of common stock to the public, which are amended, restated and replaced in their entirety by this Agreement. This Agreement may be modified only by agreement of the Parties by a written instrument executed by the Parties.

22. Waiver of Breach. The waiver of a breach of any term or provision of this Agreement, which must be in writing, will not operate as or be construed to be a waiver of any other previous or subsequent breach of this Agreement.

23. Headings. All captions and section headings used in this Agreement are for convenient reference only and do not form a part of this Agreement.

24. Tax Withholding. All payments made pursuant to this Agreement will be subject to withholding of applicable taxes.

25. Governing Law. This Agreement will be governed by the laws of the State of Delaware (with the exception of its conflict of laws provisions). For purposes of litigating any dispute that arises under this Agreement, the Parties hereby submit to and consent to the jurisdiction of the State of Delaware, and agree that such litigation will be conducted in the courts of Wilmington, Delaware, or the federal courts for the United States for the District of Delaware.

26. Counterparts . This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, and each counterpart will have the same force and effect as an original and will constitute an effective, binding agreement on the part of each of the undersigned.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, each of the parties has executed this Agreement, in the case of the Company by their duly authorized officers, as of the day and year first above written.
