EXPLANATORY NOTE

As previously disclosed, Caesarstone USA, Inc. is one of a number of defendants in a series of lawsuits alleging that fabricators contracted illnesses, including silicosis, through exposure to silica particles while fabricating the defendants' products.

On August 7, 2024, the jury rendered a verdict in one such case brought in the Los Angeles County Court, Gustavo Reyes-Gonzalez vs. Aaroha Radiant Marble & Granite Slabs, et al. The jury found all defendants liable and awarded the plaintiffs $52.4 million in damages. Caesarstone USA was apportioned 15% of this amount, or $7.9 million, if assessed without modification.

The Company strongly disagrees with the jury's verdict. It believes the verdict is not supported by the facts of the case, such as its failure to acknowledge the proactive measures the Company has taken over the years to warn and educate about safe fabrication practices. The Company intends to pursue its various post-trial remedies, including but not limited to overturning the verdict on appeal.

The Company does not expect the outcome of this claim to have a materially adverse effect on its consolidated financial statements due to the amount involved and the fact that the Company has insurance coverage. The Company is subject to over 45 other product liability claims in the U.S. alleging silica exposure causing silicosis that are in an early stage. While we plan to vigorously defend all these claims, we are unable to provide an estimate of their potential exposure, if any, at this time.
